Death of Dr. R. C. Tillery.

Our community was shocked on Wednesday morning last at the announcement of the death of Dr. R. C. Tillery, the very efficient Mayor of Rocky Mount. He had been in very bad health for several months, but was not taken seriously ill until last Thursday night. He was apparently in the prime of manhood, forty-seven years of age. There are but few citizens of our town who ever worked more faithfully and zealously for its interest. He had been Mayor for a number of years, and filled every position he ever occupied with credit to himself and satisfaction to the people. In his death the town of Rocky Mount loses a useful citizen, his chil-dren a kind and devoted father, and his friends and relatives a friend that they will miss. But he is gone. As a wind swiftly glides our life away.-Rocky Mount Reporter.

Dr. Tillery was the father of Mr. L city, a young man, who, by his urbanity, punctuality and uprightness, has won the respect and esteem of all who have had business with him or met him money that has been sunk in this enterat the social gatherings. He has the prise will not be attempted. The sum, sympathy of his many friends in this himself. One instance has just been city in this his hour of trouble.

Evangelical Alliance.

The concluding services of the Week Watson & Daniels' office yesterday It of Prayer will be held in the Presbyis about as large as the Journal of Com- terian church this Sabbath night, January 11, 1885.

> The sermon will be preached by Rev. L. S. Burkhead, D. D., pastor of the M. E. Church, South.

A collection will be taken up for the purpose of defraying expenses incidental to the series of meetings held during the past week.

For the general information of the public we publish herewith a summary of the Consensus of Christian faith, as eigh and used by H. A. Reams and the set forth by The World's Evangelical Alliance:

First. The divine inspiration, author-Second. The right and duty of private judgment in the interpretation of the Holy Scriptures. Third. The Unity of the Godbead, and the Trinity of the persons therein.

Bell the Dogs. The legislature is now in session Now, will it show, some wise progres# sion And bell the dogs-the worthless

While they, the Statute books are hinning Sulphurious curs, the sheep are killing Dod blast the dogs - the bloody dogs! Now for a pull, a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether in behalf of sheep culture. Let the touch of elbows forward of the vast army of sheep lovers warn the legislature that something solid is expected of it, in behalf of this much crushed industry, crushed by myriads of snarling, snapping, mangy, egg-sucking, sheep-slaughtering, starybench-legged, miserable, thriftless, ing, yaller, cursed, damnable curs.

Worse than the Egyptian plague. More countless than devouring locusts. Covering the country like a marrowlistering blight.

Sucking the sweet substance from a most important source of wealth and most important source or an an prosperity. What has the dog to counterclaim an offset this catalogue of inherent and revealed vices? Whether viewed in the abstract, or concrete, he is a nuisance of vast and immeasurable area—a curse of incalculable proportions in length, broadth and thickness. breadth and thickness.

How long, O, sheep husbandman, will our patience be abused!

How long will you struggle to better your own fortune and improve our feeding the people, with no help from your protecting(?) legislators, be conchased cloud, or a weaver's shuttle, so tinued? Legislators in North Carolina are free traders on dogs and dead against protection for sheep. There is no need at this time to recount F. Tillery, the telegraph operator in this the ravages of dogs on the sheep fold, nor tell the tale of disappointed and dispairing sheep culturalists who have been forced to forego their efforts. A conjecture as to the amount of f told, would astonish the statistician, related to the writer.

Dr. D. B. Batts, one of our worthiest farmers, and a county commissioner, found his pasture dotted on Wednesday morning with the carcasses of his sheep, killed by dogs on Tuesday night.

This gentleman, a short time since, was the happy owner of a flock of two hundred and sixty sheep. Fifty, now will cover his entire fold.

Two hundred and ten sheep, at $3 a piece, would be worth $630; at $2, their value would be $420.00. Just contrast the value of the dogs that destroyed them. Isn't it enough to make the heavens frown and flush the earth with indignation !

T. P. Braswell, of the Battleboro section, a most intelligent farmer and live man generally, has lost so many sheep by the destroying dogs, that he has been forced reluctantly to abandon the field. And this when North Carolina could easily add wool growing as one of our most profitable industries.

Kinston Items. Mr. E. A. Moye was in town on Thurs day.

Very healthy in and around Kinston at present. "The woods an full of them"-can didates for office under Cleveland.

The Chapel Hill boys have nearly al one back to their "midnight oil." Several buildings and other improvements going on along Yadkin avenue. A great dearth of items at present. Nobody does anything worth relating. Mr. Fayette McCullen has taken the place of Mr. Horace West at the depot, Mr. W. having resigned.

The Standard Dramatic Company played "My Partner" at Loftin's opera house Thursday night to a good house. The spring term, 1885. of Kinston College, will open on Monday, Jan. 26. The number enrolled for fall term, 1884 is 135.

Crab Grass Hay.

Mr. Gerret Vyne landed at the foot of Craven street yesterday morning fifty bales of crab grass hay which he sold readily at $14.00 per ton. He says there is more money in it than making Baptism and the Lord's tupper. cotton at twenty cents per pound. This is true when cotton is made on the "extensive" system, that is, when three acres are planted to make one bale. There is no money at all in making cotton under this system at the present price. But with the "intensive" system, where a good bale of cotis made to the acre. ton there is money in it at the present price, and at twenty cents per pound is in 1846, and by the American branch in about as good a money orop as can be January, 1867. made. But there is no mistaking the fact, that in diversifying the crop, hay should not be overlooked. Thousands of bales of Northern hay are sold here tion.

An Editor's Experience.

After trying numerous remedies for Rheumatism, but without permanent every year, and we cannot see wherein it is better than hay raised in this secwhich had given permanent relief to others suffering from rheumatism. After taking half a dozen bottles I found that the disease was entirely driven out of my system, and a permanent cure se-cured. This was over a year ago, and since then, even during the most severe weather, with sudden changes, I have never suffered a return of the old at tacks which disabled me from editorial work.

It is very seldom, indeed, that I rec-ommend anything to the public in this manner, but I feel it due to your valuable preparation, that has given me such long desired and much needed relief, to state these facts thus publicly. I am sure that but for your Specific, I should have been laid aside from journalistic work, as the severest attack was

Rainy Sundays.

I attend church on rainy Sundays because

1. God has blessed the Lord's day and hallowed it, making no exceptions for rainy Sundays.

2. I expect my minister to be there. I should be surprised if he were to stay at home for the weather.

3. If his hands fail through weakness. I shall have great reason to blame myself, unless I sustain him by prayers and my presence.

4. By staying away I may lose the prayers which may bring God's blessing, and the sermon that would have done me great good.

5. My presence is more needful on Sunday when there are few than on these days when the church is crowded. 6. Whatever station I hold in the church, my example must influence others. If I stay away, why not they? 7. On any important business, rainy weather does not keep me at home, and to take effect from and after January, church attendance is, in God's sight, 10, 1885." We think the ordinance very important.

8. Among the crowds of pleasure-seekers, I see that no weather keeps the delicate female from the ball, the party, or the concert.

9. Among other blessings, such weather will show me on what foundation my faith is built. It will prove how much I love Christ. True love rarely fails to meet an appointment. 10. Those who stay from church because it is too warm, or too cold, or too rainy, frequently absent themselves on fair Sundays.

11. Though my excuses satisfy myself, they still must undergo God's scrutiny; and they must be well grounded to bear that. (Luke xiii. 18.) 12. There is a special promise, that where two or three meet together in God's name, He will be in the midst of them. 13. An avoidable absence from the church is an infallibile evidence of spiritual decay. Disciples first follow Christ at a distance, and then, like

Peter, do not know Him. 14. My faith is to be shown by my self-denying Christian life, and not by the rise or fall of the thermometer. 15. Such yielding to surmountable difficulties prepares for yielding to those merely imaginary, until thousands never enter a church, and yet think they have good reason for such neglect.

16. By a suitable arrangement on Saturday, I shall be able to attend church without exhaustion; otherwise, my late work on Saturday night must tend to unfit me for the Sunday enjoytend to unit me for the Sanday enjoy-ment of Christian privileges. 17. I know not how many more Sun-days God may give me, and it would be a poor preparation for my first Sunday in heaven to have slighted my last Sun-day on earth.—Frances R. Havergal.

of January. We are reliably informed that such is not the case, and that the business will continue as heretofore.

A trip on the south side of Neuse shows the road leading to the new bridge to be in bad condition. It will be remembered that the making of these roads public met with strong opposition, and was defeated, but we learn that many are now regretting their action.

We learn that petitions are being circulated and extensively signed asking the Legislature to repeal the stock law. It would have been much better to have never passed the law than to repeal it. We believe that the passage of a stock law for the entire State would put the matter forever at rest.

Our town commissioners at their January meeting passed the following ordinance: "It is ordained by the mayor and council of the town of La Grange: That no deleterious, decomposing or offensive substance of any character whatsoever, such as oyster shells, fertilizers, etc., shall be allowed to remain within the corporate limits of the town longer than thirty-six hours after their arrival, under a penalty of two dollars and fifty cents for each and every ton, payable by consignee. Said ordinance right and proper, and while it might be disadvantageous to some. It will be of great relief to others. If any doubt this they should reside near the depot during arrival of the above mentioned articles.

Another lot of turpentine hands left here a few days ago for Georgia. We think this business is being carried so far as to require legislative remedies, just what kind we are unable to suggest, but the husbands and able-bodied ones should be required to provide for the wives and helpless ones. If the men Stockholders of the Neuse and Trent River will go, they should be required to carry the women and children or leave S. B. Co., at the BOARD OF TRADE ROOM, them free from want. A negro man in Wayne county left his wife and two THREE, P. M. small children a few days ago, and went South. Before leaving he sold all the provisions and wasted or carried off the proceeds, leaving the wife and chil-dren without clothing or food or shelter. The woman applied to Rev. G. W. Sanderlin for a house and employment, and with all the favorable circumstances she cannot keep herself and children from want. This is a free country, and we would not hinder any one from gowe would not hinder any one from go-ing where he may choose, but justice and humanity requires that the leaving of families in destitute condition, while the husband and father is splurging on big wages, should be stopped.
