Vessel Lost.

BEAUFORT, N. C., Jan. 11, 1885. EDITOR JOURNAL:-Last night about 9 clock the Ambrose, a vessel hailing from Newport, Rhode Island, and bound to Pensacola, Florida, was lost off Cape Look Out. The captain, Joseph Butler. and a portion of his crew are now in Cruelty to Animals.

Our attention was called yesterday to a steer, tied to a post at the foot of Craven street, which was landed from the schooner Susan from Bay river, on Saturday afternoon, having been shipped on board on Friday, with an insufficient supply of food even for the trip.

This was building within the past year, under the direction of a Swedish architect named Forgerson, and more than three thousand workmen were employed in its erection. The main town is very lofty and contains a fine chime of bells which peal forth many stirring tunes at different hours of the day. The building erected by the United States Government is very large, being eight hundred and eighty-five (885) feet long by five hundred and sixty-five (565) feet wide. Then there is Horticultural Hall six hundred (600) long, and one hundred and ninety-four (194) feet in width. This is a conservation of the display of the five bell.

has a broad open court in the centre with fountains in the middle, and adorned with the rich Mexican flora in great abundance. Europe, Asia and Africa are well represented and not a little interest is given by the fact that the exhibitors are in the dress of their respective countries. You wander around through miles of galleries till your brain whirls and your shanks ache, will give you a particular description of some of the most striking features; ed as officers of the New Berne Branch at present I am so embarrassed by the richness and vastness of the show that I do not know where to begin.

I have met with but few North Carolinians as yet and I do not much regret it as a good many of the departments by debtors, can issue a thousand policies are not yet fully arranged. I however met with Tom Matthews, sr., a few days

Busy scene at the wharf on Saturday. ago, and with him went to view the N. exposition and to see Tom Clarke. They have just got everything arranged to their satisfaction and you may rest assured that it is "gilt-edge" and ele-gant. The first arrangement did not suit Tom Clarke and Mr. Worth and they insisted on taking it down and rearranging it, though doing so entailed great labor upon them. Tom says that he worked continuously for twentythree days, Sundays and Christmas ineluded, ten and a half hours a day. He looks tired but says he will now have a little rest. His alligator mounted on a high platform covered with red plush seems to look down with open-mouthed astonishment on the astounding spectacle. Little do we know what may befall us. The monster saurian hatched in the swamps of Craven little thought of the eminence he has attained. You will be pleased to learn that Mr. Hornaday, of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington City, the most distinguished taxidermist in the United States, if not in the world, says that the three best pieces of work in the Exposition are: 1st. His (H's) piece "coming to a point" a setter and covey of birds. 2nd. Tom's alligator, and 3rd, Mr. Ward's restoration of the Siberian Manimoth. The Louisiana State Board have proposed to employ Tom when his engagement with N. C.

expires. I wrote you about our fish exhibit. It still takes the lead confessedly though South Carolina makes a very creditable show in that respect, and here I believe N. C. may claim some credit as it was prepared by a Mr. Huske, who I think is of the Fayetteville family of that name. I had almost forgotten to describe the Pavilion in the N. C. Department. It is twenty-five feet high surmounted by a light house. In the centre is a fountain three feet high and six feet in diameter filled with beautiful Japan fish from the State hatchery at Raleigh, while a fish-hawk with widespread wings, holding in its talons a king shrimp sails over it. The whole is festooned with nets which have a pleasant effect. These fish are of a beautiful reddish color and graceful form, and you will know just how they look when I tell you that they are acanre are s management in minor details but as for Capt. A. Dennis. Mast was blown they are observed they are corrected out in a storm in Cape Fear river some very soon everything will go on time ago.

Cruelty to animals like this is consumed be in those who inflict it and not commendable in a government which attains it, either from oversight or otherwise.

The regular, January, meeting of Lenoir County Teachers' Association was held in the chapel of the college on Saturday, 10th. One special good feature marked the proceedings—every member to whom duty had been assigned, performed it, and did it well. Miss Mollie Walsh read a well-written and beautifully-worded essay. Mr. E. M. Goodwin, Sup't of Kinston Graded School, and Prof. Thos. R. Rouse, of Kinston College, discussed the subject of "School Management." Their points were well taken and well discussed, showing thought and proper appreciation of the mportance of the subject. Prof. George Grimsley, of the Graded School, was the "orator" of the day, and handled his subject, "The New Education," with earnestness, exhibiting a zeal for his calling which showed that he was in full accord with the advocates of his subect. The orator for next meeting is Prof. T. R. Rouse. Subject for discussion by two leaders, to be appointed, is 'Primary Instruction in Numbers.' Place of meeting, in Kinston Graded School building. Arsenic by the Pint.

J. A. Smith, a Gainesville, Ga., merchant, says: "For years I was a victim to the combined effects of Erysipelas and an aggravated type of Eczema, that baffled all medical skill. I consulted the very best physicians in the United States to no good purpose. I gave every patent medicine that was recommended a faithful trial and received no benefit. I took large quantities of potash and a pint cup full of arsenic pills. The patent medicine, pills, and potash mixtures fed instead of curing the disease. They destroyed my appetite and wrecked my can be seen in close confab with anxious system—I lost flesh and energy—I lost three years from my business and spent $2,000 in a fruitless effort to regain my health. At last when I began to consider my case hopeless, I commenced taking S. S. S., and in a short time I was entirely cured. I waited a year after a cure was effected, and continued to take Swift's Specific off and on as a sort of safeguard, before I was willing to make public this marvelous cure. Being assured beyond the possibility of a doubt that the cure was permanent, I wrote this history of my case for the benefit of my fellowmen. My skin is now as smooth as it was when a boy. I weigh more than I ever did in my life, and my general health was never better. I passed through last winter (which was an unusually cold one) without losing a single day from my business.
