NATIONAL AID TO EDUCATION.

The Wilmington Star, with its usual ability, is discussing the constitutionality of "Paternal Pedagogy." It divides the question into three propositions and in Saturday's issue discusses the following:

Is it constitutional for the Congress to draw money from the people by taxation and to return it to the States for the purpose of educating the masses?

We will not undertake to discuss constitutional questions with so able a paper as the Star, but in our humble way of thinking, the above question should be put somewhat this way:

Congress has drawn from the people more money than was necessary for an economical administration of the government and thereby created a large surplus in the treasury. Now shall Congress return a portion of this money to the people for the purpose of educating the masses, and by so doing provide for the general welfare, or shall it remain in the treasury where it will be an everlasting temptation to Congressmen to pass extravagant measures?

When the question is thus stated, and we think this the proper way to put it, we unhesitatingly declare in favor of the money for schools, or, as the Star chooses to call it, "Paternal Pedagogy."

It is the people's money.

It cannot be appropriated for a better purpose.

The people who are in favor of educating the masses want it and demand it.

There is no danger to the country in returning this money, wrongfully wrong from the people, unless it be dangerous to lift the people out of the bondage of ignorance.

There is a precedent for it. If we mistake not, the larger portion of North Carolina's educational fund before the war came from the National government, and neither the State nor the United States suffered by it.

SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record, in its last issue, gives a complete list of the new enterprises and the amount of capital invested in the South during the year 1884. The total number of new enterprises, including some that were destroyed by fire and rebuilt, is 1,365, and the aggregate capital $105,289,500.

North Carolina is second in the number of enterprises, having 226, but stands tenth in the amount of capital invested—$4,110,000—which, we think, is evidence that the most of the capital invested is by our own people, as they are inclined rather to small enterprises, while Northern and Western capitalists combine to run larger ones.

This is a remarkably good showing for the South when we remember the great depression in business throughout the country during the year of 1884. If the long expected "revival" shall come soon we may expect still greater progress for the year 1885.

We hope to see North Carolina keep fully abreast of her sister States in the line of progress, and we do earnestly hope to see New Berne and this section keep along with other sections of the State. There are several enterprises that ought to be enlarged and others established. Not more than one-fourth of the rice produced in this section is milled at New Berne, but why not all of it? A guano factory ought to be established here, as many of the ingredients that help to make up a good fertilizer can be obtained in this section. Sash, doors, blinds, furniture, and many other things that are made of our lumber, large quantities of which are shipped from here annually, should be manufactured in this city. And with the introduction of these enterprises our railroad facilities should be extended. If the A. & N. C. R. cannot be made a part of the Yadkin Valley, then let the company extend it to Fayetteville or Sanford. It can be done without additional taxation to the people, then why not do it?

The president declared nominations for enrolling clerk in order.

Mr. King nominated Mr. J. M. Brown, of Montgomery county, who receiving 46 votes was declared elected.

Mr. Means moved that the bill in reference to school district No. 11, in Cabarrus county, be taken from the calendar and put on its various readings. There being no objection, the clerk read the bill; passed its third reading, and sent to the house, on motion of Mr. Means, without engrossment.

On motion of Mr. Buxton, the senate adjourned to meet at 11 o'clock to-morrow.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THIRD DAY.

FRIDAY, January 9.

The house was called to order by Speaker Holt at 11 o'clock a. m.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Messrs. Worthington and Patrick asked that their names be recorded as having voted for Speaker Holt.

RESOLUTIONS AND BILLS.

Mr. Leazar—Resolution in regard to reference of Governor's message.

Mr. King—Resolution to raise a fish and oyster committee.

Mr. Henderson—Resolution in regard to the repeal of the internal revenue law.

Mr. King—To amend chapter 50, section 2019 of the road law.

Mr. Stanford—To amend section 2334 of the Code.

Mr. Adams—To repeal sub-section 4, section 501, of the Code.

Mr. Pritchard—To prevent the importation and sale of pistols and other deadly weapons in North Carolina.

Mr. Leazar—To amend the law in regard to appeals to the Superior court.

Mr. Green—To promote the speedy trial of certain cases.

On motion of Mr. Womack, a message was sent to the senate proposing that the general assembly go into the election of enrolling clerk at 12 m.

On motion of Mr. Leazar, the rules were suspended and the resolution in regard to the reference of the Governor's message was taken up.

CALENDAR.

The bill to reduce the cost of obtaining marriage license was taken up and failed to pass its second reading.

Mr. Greene moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill relative to marriage licenses failed to pass; carried, and the bill was referred to the finance committee.

On motion of Mr. King, the bill relative to raising a fish and oyster committee was taken up.

Mr. Womack, by unanimous consent, introduced a resolution authorizing the keeper of the capitol to buy five settees for the use of the house. It was put upon its passage and adopted.

Mr. Murchison moved to reconsider the action in regard to the marriage license tax, and that the bill be placed on the calendar. He said that the reduction of the tax was, he understood, one of the issues in the campaign in that county, and that he further understood that a couple was now waiting in Johnston for the passage of this bill so that they could save two dollars, and he thought that the house ought to sustain Mr. Pou in the stand he took on that question in the campaign.

Pending the remarks of Mr. Murchison a message was received from the senate concurring in the house resolution to go into the election of an enrolling clerk at the hour of 12 m.

The hour of 12 m. having arrived, the house went into the election of enrolling clerk.

Mr. Womack placed the name of Mr. J. M. Brown in nomination. The chair appointed Messrs. Stanford and Bulla as tellers on the part of the house. The tellers announced 110 votes cast, of which Mr. Brown received 110.

Mr. Murchison resumed his remarks and pressed his motion, which was carried.

On motion of Mr. Pou, the rules were suspended, and the bill was placed on its passage.

Mr. Buxton moved to amend that the provision of this bill be limited in its application to Johnston county. The amendment was lost.

Mr. Pou said that the tax on marriage licenses was not in strict accordance with the constitution except such portion of it as went to the school fund; that he was in favor of the bill and in favor of marriage and until he met with the gentlemen of the legislature he had never found a man who was opposed to it. He hoped the bill would pass and that the whole State would enjoy the relief the bill afforded. After discussion the bill was referred to the committee on finance.

On motion of Mr. Miller, the bill received from the senate relative to the establishment of a graded school was taken up and passed its third reading.

On motion of Mr. Busbee, the house adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.
