Several farmers and merchants from Jones were in the city yesterday.

The market dock is full of boats with oysters and other market produce.

Schwerin & Ash have removed to Hart's old stand on the corner of South Front and Middle streets, where they will be pleased to see all who are in want of goods.

The City Marshal has two geese at the police station that the owner can get by proving property and paying charges. A wag says there is a lot of geese about the station all the time.

We call attention to the advertisement of Kinston College in this issue. This institution can now be classed among the old and reliable, and one that is indispensable in Eastern Carolina.

The steamers Shenandoah and Geo. H. Stout were in port yesterday with flags at half mast, in honor of and respect for Thomas Clyde, the senior member of the Clyde firm, who died in Philadelphia on Monday evening.

Joe Rayner, col., was taken in charge by a policeman at the depot yesterday morning for violating a city ordinance. He resisted the officer, but another policeman coming up in the meantime they took him to the station. He will have a hearing this morning.

From the Capital.

RALEIGH, January 12, 1884. The Legislature is now fully organzed and has settled down to business. People here say it is the finest looking as well as the most intellectual body that has assembled here since the war. And it is a fact that there are some strong men in both houses. Among those who will likely be leaders in the House are Col. Worthington, of Martin. L. S. Overman, of Rowan, and C. M. Busbee, of Wake. Among the Senators we find Mr. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, Mr. Connor, of Wilson, Mr. Thos. W. Mason, of Northampton, and Mr. Thompson, of Onslow, taking the lead. you hear the exclamation from all sides, There goes the ablest man in the Leg-" and we think it a true say islature, ing. Mr. Mason is a modest man and is not often heard to address the presiding officer of the Senate, but when he does take the floor, everybody pays strict attention to what he says.

Saturday Mr. Connor introduced a bill in the Senate amending the registration law, in regard to deeds and leases. The bill provides that such conveyances shall take effect from their registration. It is to be hoped that the bill will pass.

The young men seemed determined be reduced. Mr. Hill, the Senator from from Johnston, have both introduced thinks marriage, like the tariff, should be for revenue only.

The gentleman from Jones surprised his friends Saturday by appearing on the streets wearing a new silk hat and a hawthorne cane. We shall wait patiently for new developments.

The Rev. J. L. M. Curry, D. D., of Richmond, Va., preached in the First Baptist church Sunday. It is rumored that he will deliver an address to night is the hall of the House. Carl Schurtz is expected to lecture here on the night of the 17th inst. Great preparation is being made for the inaugural, which will take place the 21st of this month. A grand time is expected. No pains are being spared by the committee to make it one of the grandest events in the history of the R. J. State.

They desire to be of some use to the world and we think their example worthy of imitation.

He State can no longer be cast upon Raleigh as has herectofore, most justly, been done. But there is one thing of which the Raleigh people have a right to be proud, and that is their hospital, which, under the direction of St. John's Guild, is cherished and sustained by the contributions and work of every denomination of Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of New Berne held dogma, work ror the benefit of humanity as St. John's Guild is doing here? We had a better start than Raleigh had, the hospital that the present building was purchased. I visited it the other day, and, while my companion went up to the room of one of the paying pa-tients, sat in the parlor holding inter-course with the ghosts of the departed, who formerly adorned this, the hospitable mansion of Governor Manly, It seemed as if the portly form of the late master ought to meet me at the door with his cordial greeting of "Come in Honey, come in; the sight of you is good for my blind eyes!" The long parlor on the right of the entrance is now the men's ward, and the little sitting room to the left, where the Governor was generally to be found, is still a neat parlor for the reception of guests. His bedroom, and the one above it, are private rooms reserved for paying patients, while the large up-stairs room over the parlor is the women's ward, in which 1 found two old acquaintances who will for the rest of their lives have a comfortable home here, assisting when able in the care of the patients, and taken care of in their turn by a charity which When Mr. Mason passes along the street to them will never be cold. I thought as I sat there that could Governor Manly have had his choice this would have been just what his generous heart would have desired—that his home, when no longer needed by his children. should become a refuge for the sick and the poor. Drs. Hines and Knox give gratuitous medical aitendance to the patients, and the Rev. Mr. Rich, rector of the church of the "Good Shepherd," acts in the same way as chaplain. The hospital is open to all denominations. and is so well managed that persons able to pay seek its shelter in preference to lying sick in boarding-houses In such cases the patient can always be that the price of marriage licenses shall attended by his own physician if he prefers it, and can have the privacy of Duplin, and Mr. Pou the Representative a room to himself. My pen has run away; I did not mean to say so much, bills looking to that end. Mr. Pou but in the presence of this grand example of the possibility of forgetting religious differences and working for suffering humanity, it is impossible to be concise. M. B. C.

Mr. Creecy, the editor of the Economist, is in favor of taxing wheels that travel over public roads. Your head is level, Mr. Creecy; hope you may get the nomination for our next Governor. Any man that is in favor of such a just law as that will certainly receive my vote, provided he gets the Democratic nomination. Just think about it, I am acquainted with a man who has been working the public roads for over 20 years, who has never owned a wheel, a horse, nor a beast of any kind, and twothirds of which time he has been bare footed. Now is there any justice in a law which compells a man that is so poor that he can't afford himself shoes to do as much work on our roads as the man who owns 8 or 10 wheels.

I heard a gentleman telling a good joke on one of his neighbors at Trenton Saturday last. Some one, he says, gave his neighbor a couple of Roman candles with the injunction not to use them until the night of Christmas. Well, Christmas came, and with it several of his friends. While eating, he called for his new candles. All was happiness and mirth until these candles were lighted, which, at the first discharge the guest took the door to the outside of the house. #### Arsenic by the Pint.

J. A. Smith, a Gainesville, Ga., merchant, says: "For years I was a victim to the combined effects of Erysipelas baffled all medical skill. I consulted the very best physicians in the United States to no good purpose. I gave every patent medicine that was recommended a faunful trial and received no benefit. I took large quantities of potash and a ble dispatch and satisfaction to the ent medicine, pills, and potash mixtures fed instead of curing the disease. They destroyed my appetite and wrecked my system-I lost flesh and energy-I lost three years from my business and spent $2,000 in a fruitless effort to regain my health. At last when I began to consider my case hopeless, I commenced taking S. S. S., and in a short time I was entirely cured. I waited a year after a cure was effected, and continued to take Swift's Specific off and on-as a State vs. J. M. benefit of my fellowmen. My skin is now as smooth as it was when a boy. I weigh more than I ever did in my life, and my general health was never better. I passed through last winter (which was an unusually cold one) without losing a single day from my business.
