Petrons of Husbandry.

Mr. J. T. Eaton, of Coleburnville, Carteret county, called to see us on Tuesday and wanted to learn our views about farmers generally. But we soon changed the tactics on him, and instead of his interviewing us we interviewed him and learned his mission. He has been commissioned by the Grand Lecturer of the Patrons of Husbandry; and endorsed by the Grand Master, as a Deputy Grand Lecturer, and is now engaged in the laudable undertaking of trying to revive the Order in this section

Mr. Eaton mays he recently come to 30 cents for reserved seats—that all the conclusion that farmers needed an ought to go and have a hearty laugh at Gen. U. S. LETTER FROM RALEIGH.

RALEIGH, Jan. 26, 1885. I have just been looking at a beautiful collection of the birds of North Carolina, stuffed and mounted by Master James Busbee, the son of Mr. Charles Busbee, who is anxious to get a specimen of every bird in our State to complete his museum, and has already a large number of those found about Raleigh. He is self-taught, as is Master Charles Hervey, who also has some of his work on exhibition.

For the benefit of these young gentlemen, and others who like them may wish to practise this beautiful art, and make private collections of our birds to and placed on its shelves, "Couses' Key To the Birds of North America," which contains the best directions and instructions for the amateur taxidermist, besides a full description of every bird, living and fossil, in North America.

The cost of this work, $10.00, places it beyond the reach of most amateurs, hence my suggestion, some time ago in the JOURNAL, that it be purchased for the New Berne Academy library; fail-ing to get this done, I am happy to say I have secured it for the young people of Raleigh. It is to be hoped that Governor Scales will have the State Library

The feeling against Cunningham is kept open all the time, as it used to be; tentnea, where she has been stuck for Legislature, it is closed at 2 p.m. every sometime, yesterday with a full cargo of day; it is also most desirable that, as recently suggested in the News and Ob- arrested another man in connection with

I attended last week two juvenile performances, one by Raleigh young peo-ple, the other by professionals. The first was a play called "The Eleventh Hour," written by Mr. George Andrews, a grandson of Mr. Albert Johnson, so well known as a machinist, for the ben-efit of the Raleigh Debating Society and Reading Club. The actors were nearly all members of the club, and the proceeds of the performance are to go towards furnishing their reading half.

The play opens on the deck of the vessel in which he has taken passage; the vessel catches fire and is wrecked on an island inhabited by dwarfs, the two smallest actors, Master George Leland and Miss Jennie being its king and queen. The whole thing is a burlesque, admirably rendered, and King Rulo's demand of Gen. U. S. Whiz whether he was not the member from Cumberland

We learn from Dr. Hodges, the attending physician, that Mrs. W. T. Best, of our town, is having considerable trouble with hemorrhage of the lungs. The opinions and feelings of our people are divided as to the new county. Some are very anxious for it, others are somewhat indifferent, and a few are entirely opposed to any new county. Another meeting was held last Saturday night and a more thorough canvass of territory was determined on to commence at once. The list of petitioners is now quite large and it is believed can

LONDON, Jan. 26 .- The excitement over the explosions Saturday afternoon continues with unabated force. The approaches to all the public buildings are rigidly guarded. Nobody is allowed to enter without submitting to the closest scrutiny. The Tower and Parliament houses are surrounded with sentries and extra policemen. Col. Majendie, chief of the government de-partment of explosives, is minutely examining the scene of the explosions. Immense crowds of people continue to be attracted to the vicinity of the Tower and Westminster. Two policemen, Cox and Cole, who were injured by the explosion in Westminster hall, are making favorable progress and hope is entertained of their recovery. No further arrests had been made up to 1:30 to-day. The Irish newspapers denounce the outrage in vigorous terms.

The police have arrested another man on suspicion of complicity in Saturday's crimes. He will be examined this afternoon at the Bow street police court. James Gilbert Cunningham, who was arrested yesterday on suspicion of hav-ing had something to do with the Tower outrage, was examined to-day at the Bow street police station.

He declared that he was an English

The feeling against Cunningham is very bitter and if the crowd once get their hands on him there is no doubt he would be lynched. Shortly after noon it was learned that the detectives had received by the police officials yesterday is now believed to be a very importan document. In addition to other valuable information, it states that St. Paul's Cathedral and the office of the Daily blow up.

What a Minister Says.

Extreme weakness and general debility, produced by exposure and overwork attendant upon my duties, were gradually developing into an utter prostration of my system. Adopting the suggestions of intimate friends, who had experienced relief in similar cases by taking Swift's Specific, I now find myself restored to a perfect condition of health and strength. Accept my fervent wishes for your continued prosperity in your well chosen and successful method for relieving those who suffer.

Early marriages are popular at Ten-nant's Harbor, Me. A girl of 13 was married there Dec. 6. Most of the girls are married between 12 and 15 years of age, and it is said to be nothing uncommon to find in the same family parents and from one to four children drawing school money.

A horse car conductor in Newbury port. Mass., has a long memory. A man owed him for two rides, and disappeared for four years. Upon his return he started to ride home, and handed the conductor money for his fare. The conductor took out four fares, two of which were for the debt, and one for interest.

Far out at sea, along both the Gulf and Atlantic coasts of Florida, says the Savannah (Ga.) News, are several springs of fresh water. They are well known to the spongers and fishermen, who frequently visit them to replenish their water casks. On this same coast is an oil spring, which diffuses a calm over troubled waters, and affords a refuge to small vessels during a gale. Lord Bute has caused astonishment
