Didn't Keep It.
"Well, Mr. Slickers," said the doctor, to a patient he had not seen the day before, "how are you getting along?"
"Nearly starved to death."
"Why, didn't you have oysters?"
"No, I couldn't get them the way you said and I was afraid it would be dangerous to eat them any other way."
"Why that's odd. Couldn't get stewed oysters?" I told you you could eat stewed oysters with impunity."
"That's just it. I could get the stewed oysters easy enough, but I sent to all the restaurants in the neighborhood for the impunity, and the blazed fools said they never had such a thing on the bill of fare."

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES.
"Good evening, Tommy is your sister Clarissa at home?"
"Yes, sir, she's in the kitchen popping corn for you."
"Popping corn for me? Why, how very thoughtful! I like pop-corn very much."
"Yes, sir. She said she was going to put a pan of pop-corn under your nose, and, if you didn't take the hint, she'd give you the shake."—Chicago Herald.

THE GOVERNOR'S OLD FRIEND.
Gov. Porter, of Indiana, tells a very funny story on himself, acknowledging that for once in his life he was floored. During the recent campaign he went into a small town to make a speech. He began something in this way:
"My friends, I am glad to meet you again. I always like to come to Blankville, and to see, as I do now, so many old friends."
Just here a tall, gaunt Hoosier, in a coonskin cap, cried out in an inimitable voice:
"Name them, Governor, name them!"
And the Governor says he was so broken up by this untimely inquiry for details that he could not name a man. The Hoosiers laughed good-naturedly, and the Governor joined in, too. "Name 'em, Governor, name 'em!" has become a byword in the Hoosier State.

IT IS STILL KEPT UP.—When Pythagoras lived in Birmingham he made laws that the youth of that vicinity should go home late at night, thereby to cultivate personal courage. The custom is still kept up.—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Skin Diseases.
I have a little daughter seven years old, who for the last four years has been afflicted with a peculiar skin eruption on the face and one hand. I have tried seven or eight physicians, among them the best in California and in this province, but to no purpose. The child kept growing worse. Fortunately, I saw a statement in a St. Paul, Minn., paper, of a cure of a disease similar to that of my child. It was effected by Swift's Specific. I secured six bottles and commenced giving it to my little girl. In less than one week this terrible disease, which had baffled all the known remedies within reach, began to disappear. She has been taking it three months—is perfectly well, and her skin is as clear as wax.

What a Minister Says.
Extreme weakness and general debility, produced by exposure and over-work attendant upon my duties, were gradually developing into an utter prostration of my system. Adopting the suggestions of intimate friends, who had experienced relief in similar cases by taking Swift's Specific, I now find myself restored to a perfect condition of health and strength. Accept my fervent wishes for your continued prosperity in your well chosen and successful method for relieving those who suffer.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR YOUNG FOLKS.
ATTRACTIVE FOR 1884-5.

No printed periodical can take the place of parent, pastor, or school-teacher; but a good magazine can supplement their work and influence to a wonderful degree. In view of this, it is not extravagant to say that—instead of "Can we afford to take St. Nicholas?"—the question of every earnest household in English-speaking countries, to-day, should be "Can we afford NOT to take St. Nicholas?" The magazine, during its eleven happy years of existence, under the editorial charge of

MARY MAPES DODGE,
has grown familiar to hundreds of thousands of young readers; and their interest and intelligence have constantly inspired the editor and publishers to fresh effort. To-day, its strength in its wholesome growth, its sympathy with young life, its hearty recognition of the movement of events, and its steadily increasing literary and pictorial resources. The following are some of the good things already secured for future numbers of St. Nicholas:
"His Own Fault," a serial story for boys, by the popular author, J. D. Tewkside.
"Personally Conducted," illustrated papers on famous places in Europe. By Frank R. Stockton.
"Historic Girls," a companion series to "Historic Boys." By E. S. Brooks.
"Ready for Business," suggestions to boys about to choose an occupation,—based on personal interviews with prominent representatives of various trades and professions. By G. J. Hanson.
"Driven Back to Eden," a serial, by E. P. Roe.
"Talks for Young Folks," a series of popular papers, by H. H. (Helen Jackson).
"Among the Law-makers," recollections of a boy-paper in the U. S. Senate,—containing much political information, both instructive and amusing. By Edmund Alton.
"Davy and the Goblin," a very funny serial story by a new writer, Chas. Carryl.
"Short Stories by Louisa M. Alcott."
"The Progress of Invention"; descriptive papers, by Chas. E. Bolton.
"At Work for Young Folks"; papers on decorative handiwork, by Chas. G. Leitch.
"Sheep or Silver?"; a story of Texan life. By the late Rev. William M. Baker.
"A Garden of Girls"; being six short stories for girls, by six leading writers.
"Tales of Two Continents"; stories of adventure, by H. H. Boysson.
"Cautions for Boys and Girls"; funny pictures, by St. Nicholas Artists.
"From Bach to Wagner"; brief, pointed biographies of great musicians. By Agatha Tussie.
Special Papers by chosen writers.
The illustrations will be the work of the very best artists and engravers,—and there will be plenty of them.
The subscription price is $1.50 a year, and now is just the time to subscribe. Single numbers cost 15 cents. Buy the Great Christmas Number.
A free specimen copy of St. Nicholas will be sent to the first subscriber of this paper.
