Harper's Magazine, LLUSTRATED. .

With the new volume, beginning in December, Harper's Magazine will conclude its thirty-fifth year. The oldest periodical of its type, it is yet, in each new volume, a new magazine, not simply because it presents fresh subjects and new pictures, but also, and chiefly, because it steadily advances in the method itself of magazine making. In a word, the Magazine becomes more and more the faithful mirror of current life and movement. Leading features in the attractive programme for 1855 are; new serial novels by Jonatance Featungre Woolson and W. D. Howelis: a new novel entitled "At the Red Giove" descriptive filestrated papers by F. I. Millet, R. Swain Gifford, E. A. Abbay, H. Gibson, and others; Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Canager" illustrated by Abbey; important papers of Art, Science, etc.

THE JOURNAL.

NEW BERNE, N. C., MARCH 18, 1885

What is a Mahdi? Mahdi, or Mahadi, as D'Herbelot spells it, is an ancient title in the Moslem world which at first signified simply director of the faithful But in the course of Moslem history, had and especially Moslem history in Africa, it came to have another signification related to an accepted prophecy of Mohammed. It neces-sarily refers to the African part of Arabic history. By this secondary significance of the word the Mahadi is a certain ancient leader come again. His appearance is the "second advent" of a prophet who lived in the old days, and who, in all the meantime, has been with the immortals. Mohammed, the twelfth Imam, and the twelfth in descent from Ali, is the real original. He is the Mahadi who comes again every now and then. He was hidden from the world at an early age and communed only with his disciples through his lifetime, and finally did not die, but "went up," with the fixed intention of returning to revive the glories of Moslem. As in the Christian theory and even in Unger Ale, Pale Ale, Beer the history of several monarchies this legend of a prince who is to return has afforded a favorite pretex for no end of impostors, so it did in Islam. The most famous of these in past ages was Abulcassem Muhammed Ben Abdallali, the founder of the Fatimit dynasty in Africa. Mohammed had prophesied that in 300 years the sun would rise in the west, and as Abulcassem's glory was in 296 of the Hegira, it was held that the prophecy referred to him, and since then the idea of the Mahadi commonly had relation to a revival of the glories of Islam in that Western world of Moslemism, the provinces of Africa held by the Arabs .- N. Y. Herald.

HAD SEEN IT ALL .- One night while John McCullough was playing PATRONS of DETRICK'S SALOON are "Virginius" in Little Rock, a lean, old fellow from the hills, while they will be permitted to use POOL AND standing at the foot of the opera house stairs was accosted by an acquaintance, who asked:

"Uncle Billy, are you going to see the show?"

"What sort o' a show is it Lige?"

"One o' these here actin' shows. whar men an' women come out on a platform an' bow an' scrape."

"No, hosses in it, Ligat?"
"No hosses, Uncle Billy." "Then I don't believe I'll go up. when Abe Spiller's school shet down. We've seed all they can do. Come on here an' let's go 'round here whar that fellow is playin' a fiddle in a grocery."-Arkansaw SOCIETY NOTE .- Mrs. Snoberly a very aristocratic New York lady received a visit from a friend, who among other gossip said:—

"Do you know that your son has been seen several times in company with a seamstress? Everybody is talking about it."

"O, that doesn't amount to any thing," replied Mrs. Snoberly, smil-

"But I am told that the young lady is perfectly respectable."
"Horrible! Horrible! shrieked the agonized mother. "He may bring disgrace upon our family by marrying her."
