What is the difference in a bonded debt and a judgment debt drawing interest?

Dr. J. F. Long is fitting up a neat office at the Cooper building on South Front street.

The work on the new court house is moving along. The ceiling on the lower floor is finished, and Mr. Hay is plying the paint brush.

"Common Sense to City Bond Advocates" is the title of a printed circular that was being distributed in the city by Mr. John O. Gardner yesterday.

The cold is still rather severe for radishes. Usually this crop is shipped before this time, but we have not yet heard of a single shipment this season.

The Shenandoah arrived at 5 o'clock yesterday evening, discharged her freight and put back for Elizabeth City with a cargo of cotton, rice, potatoes, peanuts, etc.

J. T. Hall & Bro. have nearly repaired the damage of the fire to their building on South Front street. They were not insured, consequently did not have to wait for the adjusters.

Goldboro Messenger: Mr. Jos. E.
Robinson, for the past two years the city editor of the Messenger, and Mr.
Luther Nash, have bought Mr. Blakey's printing office outfit, and will shortly commence the publication of a new paper in this city. Mr. J. B. Whitaker, jr., will take the place of city editor on this paper now filled by Mr. Robinson.

Accidental Shooting.
Willie Boyd, while out hunting yesterday, on attempting to get into the boat to return, his foot slipped, and in the fall the gun was discharged, the load entering his left hand, tearing out the flesh, leaving an ugly wound but breaking no bones. Dr. Hughes was called to dress it; he pronounces it quite a severe flesh wound but no danger of losing the hand.

Information Wanted.
We very often have instructions from some of our subscribers to change their papers to certain offices without stating at what office they are already receiving it. It is important to always give the office at which you have been receiving the paper as well as the one to which you want it sent in the future, so that the mailing clerk can make the proper entry on the book. Our mailing clerk can, however, with the aid of our cansaving agent, who is pretty well acquainted with our list of over two thousand names, manage to find the offices of these after some considerable search. But here is a case that both have given up in despair. We received last night the following on a postal card:

NEW BERNE JOURNAL.
Change my paper to Bayboro, N. C.

The card was postmarked Bayboro, but who is he, and where is he from, that wants his paper changed to Bayboro.

of Tar will cure you. Only 25c. For who has been spending a few weeks in the city, left on the Shenandoah last night. He is well pleased with New fall.

More on the Railroad.
A correspondent to the New Berne JOURNAL, in a long letter on legislation, says: "There is a growing feeling in our eastern section that the Atlantic & N. C. Railroad should be so linked to New Berne and Morehead City, that its control can never pass into the hands of any person or corporation not connected with their welfare and advancement." There is a little different feeling in this place. The people here would not object to having an occasional man connected with the road that was identified with Kinston's interest.—Kinston Free Press.

Our correspondent was speaking of New Berne and Morehead City as shipping points, and in this respect Kinston is connected with both and identified with their welfare. The shipping of Kinston now passes through New Berne or Morehead City, and it helps to sus-tain the steamer lines here, making the interest of Kinston and New Berne the same. From the many complimentary notices given the management of the road by the Free Press, we would not suppose Kinston had anything to complain of. And furthermore are not Messrs. J. F. Parrott, J. C. Wooten and C. S. Wooten, Directors of the road, identified with Kinston's interest?

If the Free Press simply means that some one in Kinston shall have a voice in the management of the road, we agree with it, or at least we agree that Lenoir county shall have a voice in it, but we see no reason why there should be any clash in the interest of Kinston and New Berne in maintaining a line of steamers at New Berne or Morehead City.

North Carolina Agricultural Society, Fair 1885.
The State Agricultural Society, which has for several years been somewhat embarrassed, we are pleased to learn, has adjusted all its debts and is now on a solid financial basis.

We have been furnished with the following statement, which we with pleasure lay before our readers:

Some ten years since the Society purchased ground and erected large and commodious buildings for the annual fairs, costing some $60,000, for which the property was mortgaged. The heavy interest to be paid prevented the liquidation of the principal so rapidly as was desirable. However, the debt has from time to time been reduced until it is now only $20,550. Within the last few months the Society has issued bonds for the above amount, running twenty years, thus relieving it from any further embarrassment. These bonds bear six per cent interest, and, we are pleased to learn, have every one been taken at par. This is an exact statement of the financial condition of the Society.

The great success of the State Exposition has revived the interest of our people in such matters, and we are pleased to learn that, while the next Fair will not be as grand an affair as the State Exposition was, it will be one of the best ever held in the State. We trust our people, all over the State, will renew their interest in this great State institution and aid in making it an honor to North Carolina.

Cheap Lime, and How I Made It.
POLOKSVILLE, N. C., March 10, '85.
I went to the marl bed with five men and three horses and carts. We cleared the bed and dug and hauled out to the place I intended to burn at one hundred loads of about six bushels each. I bought of Mr. Geo. Allen a piece of heavy wire net 2 feet wide and six feet long, of which I made a screen similar to those used for sifting coal in coal yards. With this two hands separated the pile in a day, making about four hundred bushels of fine marl and two hundred bushels of clean shell.

I then laid three large logs side by side about two feet apart. On these I laid large split pine wood, cut long enough to reach from outside log to outside log, or about eight feet long.
About the center I set up pieces of wood on end to form a chimney. I then had my shell roasted and threw the cleaned shell on the wood from four to six inches deep. I then laid more wood, then shell, then wood, then shell, fill my pile was done. I then made my fires in the spaces between the bottom logs, using mostly dry pine limbs. I kept up my fires in this way under the heap till the bottom tier of wood had burned through and filled the spaces with the falling shells but by this time the whole heap was thoroughly heated up and on fire all through, and would undoubtedly have burned up if I had not fired it on a bad day.

I began my heap in the morning of Tuesday, March 17, with two men.
They roasted the shell and helped me make the pile and had it up so that I put fire to it as the bell rang for noon.
After dinner I took one man to help fire it and we finally quit about four in the afternoon. When we went to bed that night it was burning nicely, but long before morning the snow had put it out, as I supposed, but I went to look about 3 p. m. the next day, and to my surprise, found it still burning in the pile and almost all the shell in a fine crumbling condition, so that I shall have at least two hundred bushels of fair agricultural lime and four hundred bushels of fine sifted marl at a total cost of not exceeding ten dollars. And the fun of it is that any one who can get at a bed of shell marl can make in this way all the lime they want.

Now if land owners, instead of renting their lands to bad tenants who will not manure, will let them lay out and cultivate alternate years, using this cheap lime as a fertilizer freely, that is, about 25 bushels per acre, bad crop years will not come upon them so often, and if the other man wants land to tend let him buy wood land that is not in use and clear it for himself.

J. P.
The marl I have is coarse, yellow shells, very large. It is not too late to make lime for this year.

Kinston Items.

Where have all the fish gone? There are few here.

Coker, the shad king, is selling shad at 80 cts. per pair.

Snow-balling was the order of the day on Thursday.

It was an odd sight to see two locomotives drawing one train of cars, on the A. & N. C. R. R., on Wednesday.

Only one sleigh ventured out in Kinston, and that finding the earth rather too near the surface of the snow, soon retired from the field.

Commenced snowing in Kinston at 5 p. m. Tuesday, and ceased at 10 p. m. on Wednesday—depth of snow, nine inches on an average.

Miss Olivia Albritton, daughter of Mr. Elias Albritton of this place, died here on Wednesday and was buried in the town cemetery next day.

There is a contest among the professional young men here as to the exact date of the last total solar eclipse. The editor of the Wilmington Star, and Mr.
J. H. Ennis, the almanac man, are impious.

Miss Gertrude Hooker of Greene, and Miss Corie Winslow of Goldsboro, are visiting Miss Sebie Dunn. And Miss Sebie will give a party in their honor on Friday night, 20th.

Wild geese passed over Kinston on Tuesday night, making their usual cry of "honk," "honk." The weather prophets, "one of whom I am which," immediately foretold in joyful accents the near approach of spring and the death of winter. The snow next day knocked the prophecy into "pl."

Judging from a shipment of fruit received from Mrs. C. C. Keathly by her sister Mrs. Lewis Grady, of Kinston, last week, it would seem Florida produces something besides "mosquitoes, little niggers and alligators." Five barrels of very large, juicy and sweet oranges were received by Mrs. Grady last week, in good condition, the product of Mrs. Keathly's orange grove near Brooksville, Florida, to which place she emigrated from this State in 1870. It is very pleasant and agreeable to be thus remembered by distant relatives who are doing so well in the home of their adoption.

The N. C. Teachers' Assembly.
The session begins June 9 and closes July 8. The selection of Black Mountain as the place of holding the assembly is an excellent one. The newly furnished Mt. Mitchell hotel will be the headquarters of the assembly. The station is 16 miles from Asheville, three from Swannanoa tunnel, and in sight of Mt. Mitchell, which towers grandly to the northward. Very careful arrangements have been made for special trains and rates for teachers attending the assembly. The first train will leave Goldsboro on Tuesday, June 9th, and to accommodate teachers whose schools do not close by that date, tickets will be again on sale June 10. The regular work of the assembly will begin Thursday, June 11. Railroad tickets will be for the round trip and good for six weeks, purchasers having the privilege of stopping anywhere along the route in returning. The fare from Raleigh will be $7.85, with proportionately low rates from all other leading points throughout the State. A full table of rates will be shortly announced. The hotel rates at Black Mountain will be one dollar a day for any time under one week, and from one to four weeks six dollars per week of seven days. For the accommodation of teachers desiring to attend church in Asheville, a train will be run every Sunday morning and arrangements will also be made by which the teachers can visit prominent points of interest at low rates on the railroads.
At the close of the assembly there will be an excursion to Morehead City, thus affording the teachers an opportunity to enjoy the many pleasures of both mountain and sea.—News and Observer.

Methodists in the Cabinet.
"Hon. L. Q. C. Lamar, Secretary of the Interior, is a graduate of Emory College, Oxford, Ga., and is a member of the M. E. Church South."—N. Y.
Christian Advocate, of March 19th, 1885.

"Attorney-General Garland is the first representative Arkansas has ever had in the Cabinet. Both he and Secretary of the Interior, Lamar, are none the less worthy public servants for being firm and staunch Methodists."— Richmond Christian Advocate, of March

NEW BERNE, N. C., March 20, '85.
DEAR HUB:
Since writing you about the cheap goods at A. M. Baker's, I have heard of the great Slaughter of Agricultural Implements and Machinery at J. C.
Whitty's, and I think you had better come instead of sending me the money, and lay in your supply of Plows, Harrows, Cultivators, Shovels, Spades, etc., as you can buy them from J. C. Whitty 35 to 50 per cent cheaper than elsewhere, and you can be happy as well as myself. So come by the first train without fail. Your

The Peanut Crop.
The peanut outlook is not encouraging. Like almost everything else, over-production has hit the "goober" a hard blow, and the only hope now seems to be in waiting for the demand to catch up with the supply. The crop of our own State must be at least double that of former years, caused chiefly by the opening of new territory to its cultivation. The crops of Virginia and Tennessee are large; and the Eastern and Northwestern markets are said to be overstocked.

All this means low prices; and, under the circumstances, would it not be well for our planters to think calmly over the facts before deciding to plant another large crop? There are other crops that may pay better.—Wil. Star.

Latest from Washington.
WASHINGTON, March 19.—More than a hundred naval officers have applied to the new secretary of the navy for a revocation of the orders returning them to duty issued during the last month of secretary Chandler's administration of the navy department. They assert that they were for personal reasons assigned by the late secretary to disagreeable positions, and they ask to be detailed to other duty. Some of the older officers declared that boys in the service had been recognized in preference to them, and have been appointed to important places.

The President this morning signed the commissions of Edward D. Clark to be assistant secretary of the interior, and John C. Black to be commissioner of pensions.

A number of nominations were sent to the capitol to day, but arrived too late for delivery to the Senate, as that body had adjourned a few minutes previously. It is understood that they consisted of appointments under the state department, but particulars are not disclosed. Prominent Tennessee Democrats assert, however, that ex-Congressman Atkins was named in the list as commissioner of Indian affairs, and it is rumored that John B. Sloell, of Indiana, was named for the position of public printer.

It is reported that the Senate in executive session yesterday ratified the treaty with the Khedive of Egypt and the convention relating to the boundary lines between this country and Mexico. In the absence of any rule affirmatively providing for giving facts to the public, Senators and the executive officials of the Senate do not feel at liberty to answer any questions on the subject.

The treaty with the Khedive of Egypt extends to the United States the commercial privileges which Great Britain enjoys by virtue of the treaty between Egypt and Greece, made about a year ago. The treaty with Mexico recognizes the principles of international law in the settlement of disputes which may occur over the change of the bed of the Rio Grande river, which stream forms a portion of the boundary between the United States and Mexico.

Beware of Mercury and Potash.
Mercury is more destructive to human health and life than war, pestilence and famine combined. So said a distinguished writer many years ago, and it is as true to day as then. The poor victim of Blood Disease is drugged with Mercury to cure the malady, and then dosed with Iodides to cure him of the Mercurial Poisoning; but instead of any relief, the first breaks down his general health and makes him a cripple, and the other ruins his digestive organs. Mercury and Potash are dangerous even when administered by directions and under the eye of a good physician, and in when put up in nostrums, often by incompetent persons, are apt to produce evil consequences. Be careful of these poisonous mixtures or you may regret it. Swift's Specific is entirely a vegetable preparation, and should not be confounded with the various imitations, non secret humbugs, "Succus Alterans," etc., all of which either contain Mercury or Potash, or are composed of old remedies which have long since been discarded as of no value in the treatment of Blood Diseases, and none of them contain a single article which enters into the composition of Swift's Specific. There is only one Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and there is nothing in the world like it. Be sure to get the genuine.

Inflammatory Rheumatism.
I have been afflicted for nearly fourteen years with the severest form of inflammatory rheumatism. For a large portion of the time was confined to bed, and suffered the most excruciating pain, my legs badly swollen. My case was thought incurable by the physicians, and I have often hoped that death would ensue and relieve me of pain. Last month I secured, at the suggestion of a friend, one dozen bottles of Swift's Specific, and after using about six bottles I am entirely free from pain, the first time in nearly fourteen years. My joints are becoming more supple, and the swelling gone. I am ready to answer any inquiries as to the facts in the case.
