April.
April Fool.
All-Fools Day.

Peach trees are in bloom.

The Daily JOURNAL is three years old to-day.

There are fourteen prisoners in Craven county jail.

News Council No. 1, Order of Chosen Friends, meets to-night.

The M. E. Church Working Society will meet to-night at Mrs. E. M. Duguid's.

The Shenandoah took out the usual cargo of cotton, potatoes, eggs, fish, clams, etc., on yesterday evening.

The Democratic primary meetings for the nomination of Councilmen will be held in the respective wards Monday evening, April 15th.

Henry Dewey has refurnished his barber shop, which adds much to the comfort and appearance. Henry is a first-class barber, of which fact he will convince any one who is seated in one of his handsome chairs.

The brick office of Doctors J. B. and F. W. Hughes is being repaired. Its walls were left standing by the late fire, and the chimney also, but leaning considerably to one side. Lewis Washington, the house mover, was called into requisition and he soon put it straight.

Jacob Bell, col., was before Justice E. G. Hill on Monday charged with an assault with deadly weapon upon Mr. George Ash. He was required to give bond in the sum of one hundred dollars for his appearance at the next term of the Superior court, in default of which he was sent to jail.

North Carolinians Appointed.

President Cleveland has sent to the Senate the name of Thos. J. Jarvis to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Brazil, with a salary of $12,000 per annum; Clement Dowd to be collector of the sixth district, and David Settle to be marshal of the western district.

Wife Killing in Hyde.

A letter from Hyde county dated March 22nd, states that A. B. Daniels killed his wife, Manervia Daniels, with a piece of iron one-eighth of an inch in diameter, and that he had been arrested and lodged in jail. The letter was signed "S. D. & Co." of whom we know nothing, and therefore give this news for what it is worth.

Take the Risk.

It would be well enough not to be too eager to pick up lost packages on the streets to-day, nor to be gushing over any unexpected sending in of delicacies from your neighbor's tables. Its an old sell. But then, suppose you should pass a valuable package by, or turn a nice pie or pudding into the slop tub. What would that be—a prifool, or a pretty fool?

Personal.

Rev. W. H. Pucket and R. S. Hay, of Trenton, called to see us yesterday.

Miss Carrie Cole, who has been visiting relatives in the city, left on the Shenandoah yesterday for her home in New York.

Miss Mamie Hodges left on the Shenandoah for a visit to friends in Norfolk, and Miss Bennie Bishop to Washington, D. C.

Messrs. T. J. Whitaker, Clerk of the Superior Court of Jones, and his son, T. C. Whitaker, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. O. Marks has returned from the North and is wrestling daily with a large stock of goods, getting them in ship-shape before inviting a rush.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burrus have returned from a visit to Hyde county. Mr. Burrus reports the work on the Lake Landing Canal progressing, and says the benefit to the lands around the Lake is already visible.

Mr. Geo. Allen has returned from Henderson, whither he had been attending a meeting of Orange Presbytery.

Mr. J. F. Place, Manager of Sombart Gas Engine Co., of New York, called to see us yesterday.

E. H. Abbott, Esq., of Kinston, was in the city yesterday.

Settled by Arbitration.

The cases of Charles Toler et als vs. Stephen Toler, being a suit for recovery of lands; and of W. D. Toler vs. Stephen Toler for trespass on lands, were decided by arbitrators at the office of Green & Stevenson on Tuesday to the satisfaction of all concerned. The arbitrators were: S. W. Latham, chairman, V. A. Thomas, James F. Heath and James B. O'Neal. An umpire was selected but his services were not needed. Hon. C. C. Clark appeared for the plaintiff, Moore & Clarke and Green & Stevenson for the defendant. The plaintiff recovered in the trespass suit and defendant in the suit for the recovery of lands. Thus a tedious and complicated lawsuit was ended.

Judge Cries, Deceased.

The death of Judge Cries, which sad event transpired on the 31st ult., after a lingering illness of that slow but certain malady, old age, throws a gloom over the entire canine community, and shadows the doorway of many human habitations.

Judge Cries was the faithful watchdog of the late Sam'l Radcliff, and enjoyed the highest esteem and confidence of his master. His devotion to duty was remarkable. Dividing his time between the mill and dwelling as circumstances might require, or his inclinations direct, he was ever on the watch. From an instinctive sense of duty or from the advance of age he seemed to devote more of his time to the dwelling in later life, up to the cold weather of the last few weeks, when he took up his abode almost entirely at the mill, where his last hours were whiled away in feeble efforts to discharge the duties of night-watch as in his younger days. His remains were interred in the mill grounds over which he had so long stood a faithful guard.

The age of deceased is not correctly known, but was in the neighborhood of twenty years, which is a ripe one for the character of the animal he was. It will be gratifying to the humane to know that he never knew the pangs of intense hunger, and was snatched by death from a world of plenty, with a bone in his mouth, leaving an estate of a full day's rations unconsumed:

The following lines are respectfully dedicated to his memory:

Poor Judge Cries is dead and gone,
We ne'er shall see him more,
He used to lay on the front door mat,
Or on the naked floor.

His watchful eye we shall no more see,
Nor warning bark shall hear;
That eye is calmly glazed in death,
In ours the scalding tear.

A better dog was never known,
More faithful watch'er seen,
And of the mourners there is none
More sad than Miss Irene.

ORANGE PRESBYTERY.

HENDERSON, March 30.
As matters of public interest the following items may be mentioned:

Rev. Alex. Sprunt has accepted the call to Henderson Church, and arrangements have been made for his installation.

Rev. E. H. Harding, D.D., has been called to Graham, and is there at work. Licentiate R. B. Willis has entered upon labor at Oxford, and Licentiate R. P. Bell at Nutbush and neighboring churches in Granville county.

Rev. T. U. Faucette has accepted a call to Red House Church.

Delegates.
Rev. Messrs. S. M. Smith and T. U. Faucette, and Ruling Elders Sam'l Watkins and Orren Williams were chosen commissioners to the General Assembly in Houston, Texas, in May next.

Protracted Meetings.

Arrangements were made for efficient conduct of such services in all our churches.

Sabbath Schools.

Some increase is manifested in this work; the schools number in this Presbytery 320 teachers and 2,400 scholars. One hundred scholars have been received into the church, and nearly $1,000 raised in the schools.

Evangelists.

The reports of our three Evangelists in the Presbytery showed an advance in the good work for Christ, and the need for more labor.

Many plans for more efficient work were mapped out. Groups of churches were settled for the holding of Sabbath school convocations, and stimulating zeal in this great ministry of the Church.

The next meeting of Presbytery will be at Hardfields Church, in Alamance county, at 12, m., Wednesday before the 4th Sabbath in August, 1885.

Presbytery adjourned Saturday night, 28th inst. We had much good preaching during the meeting. L. C. VASS.

Rheumatism.

Although a practitioner of near twenty years, my mother influenced me to procure B. B. B. for her. She had been confined to her bed, several months with Rheumatism which had stubbornly resisted all the usual remedies. Within twenty-four hours after commencing B. B. B. I observed marked relief. She has just commenced her third bottle and is nearly as active as ever, and has been in the front yard with "rake in hand," cleaning up. Her improvement is truly wonderful and immensely gratifying. C. H. MOSTOSERT, M. D. Jacksonville, Ala., June 6, 1884.

Greenville Items.

Shad $1.00 per pair.
Eggs 15 cts. per dozen.
Quite a number of new buildings going up in town.

The snow has finally disappeared and our farmers have resumed operations with renewed vigor.

The boats daily bring up loads of fertilizers of different brands, and our wharves are radiant with the perfume. A friend has suggested the following query: Do lawyers cause the escape of more guilty criminals than they bring to justice?

The two Gaskins boys were tried on Monday last for the murder of a young man, all colored. Capt. Galloway had to contend with quite an array of legal talent, but stood his ground manfully. The jury brought in a verdict of murder. The prisoners will be executed at no distant day.

A good man has fallen. Rev. B. C. Phillips, of the M. E. Church, died at Durham a few days since. His death is mourned by many good people throughout the whole State. None knew him but to admire his piety, earnestness and devotion in his Master's work. The writer remembers him as a playmate in early youth. His afflicted widow, who has our warmest sympathies, is stopping with her brother, Mr. E. C. Glenn, of this town.

Allusion was made last week to the fact that a thief had been caught in the act of stealing money from a drawer by means of a pistol placed underneath the drawer which was fired when the thief attempted to pull the drawer. The prisoner, who was a white man, gave bond for his appearance at this term of the court in the sum of $500, and was to have been tried on Wednesday, but on Tuesday night he jumped his bond and "skipped." Doubtless his bondsman stood bail for him with the purest of motives, but they have inadvertently defeated the ends of justice, which can but have a bad effect upon the community. A guilty bad man has escaped punishment.

Jones County Items.

The spring term of our Superior court will convene on Monday, the 6th of April. I understand that there is a heavy criminal docket. Among them is a murder case, Black, col., who shot and killed Mark McCleese's wife some time since.

The farmers inform me that the acreage in cotton will be largely increased this year. The cry is "we are in debt and we can't raise money any other way; we are compelled to plant cotton; we can't see any other way to bridge over the difficulties.

We had a heavy rain on Saturday evening, also one on Sunday morning, which will put the river in good order for the steamers. Our merchants were badly disappointed in the steamer failing to make her regular trip to Trenton on Friday last, as several of them were in need of their goods.

Trenton has been visited by the insurance agents during the past week, also by a spring-bed agent, and on Saturday I met with a syrup and pill agent who very politely handed me his card. We are now on the lookout for a book agent. But just let court arrive and won't the agents be thick! Won't it be dangerous for a tree to fall, as these gentlemen will be so plentiful it can't miss them.

Died, near Swansboro, on Saturday, the 21st of March, Mrs. Susan C. Winberry, wife of Stephen Winberry, in the 41st year of her age. Mrs. Winberry was borne and raised near Trenton, Jones county, and was the daughter of John Stanley. She leaves a husband and four children, and one of them only four months old, one brother and a sister, together with a large number of relatives and acquaintances in Jones, Onslow and Lenoir counties to mourn their irreparable loss.

The farmers, notwithstanding the cold, backward spring, are planting corn in earnest, several of whom have planted their entire crop. I heard a farmer remark that the ground was too cold and wet to plant but says he "I am compelled to plant my whole crop the first week in April." I enquired of him why. Said he, "the moon will soon full and if I plant on the decrease of the moon my corn won't ear well." I told him that I never consulted about the increase or decrease of the moon but planted whenever I could get ready.

"Yes," says he, "you just take notice this year, if you plant your corn on the decrease of the moon, and you will surely find that your fodder crop will be a large one, while your ears of corn will be very short and small.

Rev. Israel Harding, an Episcopal minister of Kinston, held services at Trenton on Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Attendance was large considering the inclemency of the weather. There were many of the congregation who had never heard an Episcopal minister preach before. Mr. Harding is the first one, I suppose, who ever did preach here. I can recollect as far back as 50 years, and I have no recollection of one of that denomination holding services here. We sincerely hope that the reverend gentleman may find it convenient to visit and preach for us often. I have often attended church and have seen several of the congregation in some localities chew tobacco and spit on the floor during service. But I particularly noticed that not one of the congregation on Sunday took a chew of tobacco or spit upon the church floor during the service, which unmistakably proves the decency and respect which our church-going citizens of Trenton have for their house of worship. There is another little item which I took notice of, and that is how well behaved and how quiet the little boys and girls were during the services, which shows how carefully their mothers have trained them at home.

La Grange Items.

Fair, open weather. Corn planting will be in order soon.

Another theft near town last week. Some one stole Mrs. Mary Russell's potatoes.

Rev. George Joyner filled his appointment at the La Grange Institute here last Sunday.

We hear of a few of our farmers who planted corn last week; others will commence in a day or so.

The Primitive Baptists held their Union meeting here last Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Mr. Greenwood, of Wilson, was here and preached.

An egg with a crooked neck, resembling in shape a small gourd, was shown on our streets by Bunn Hardy last Monday, and was the product of one of D. M. Stanton's hens.

A count revealed the fact that twenty-eight men were on our streets last Monday, ready to join the firm of Doolittle, Setmore & Co. This firm expects to do a large business the coming summer.

There is now and has been during the past winter as little sickness in this section as ever known before. We have a remarkably healthy town, and this year has been a remarkably healthy year. It is a great blessing.

Hookerton Items.

Since I wrote before our town has greatly improved.

The milliners are receiving some of their spring millinery.

Rev. Mr. Herman, of the Snow Hill circuit, resides in our town.

Miss Sobie Dunn of Kinston is visiting Miss Gertrude Hooker.

Dr. Jordan is having built a very magnificent dwelling on Mill street.

Prof. E. Y. Perry has taken charge of the school, and has a very good school here.

Shad have been very scarce this season on account of the extreme cold weather.

The citizens have erected a large and commodious school building on the academy grounds.

Ransom's crew have been at work on Moccasin river again. The sound of the whistle is heard on our river at almost all times.

On the 4th of March, Mr. E. A. Parker and Miss Martha Taylor were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mrs. Fannie Albritton.

Stonewall Items.

Mr. A. H. Whitcombe has taken charge of the saw mill at this place and will soon have the buzz of the saw to welcome our ears.

Mr. C. C. Whorton had his hand terribly mashed on Monday by his horse biting him, getting his whole hand in his mouth. Mr. Whorton seems to be a bit of a luck; last fall he had one of his thighs broken, and not a great while before that, one of his ribs was dislocated. One misfortune follows another.

I have come to the conclusion, from reading the papers, that the business of farming and editing papers is kinder mixed, and would suggest that a change be made. The papers are incessantly telling the farmer what to plant and how. If I am a judge, the country needs no more corn, pork, cotton, peas or potatoes, for if any one has either to buy surely they do not wish to get them for less than they can be had at the present time; but those who take the papers think they could be had for a small amount less, and that if the editors would look into the causes of why the papers were not on time more punctual, they would serve their farmer patrons more acceptably than advise about what to plant, and for the following reasons: The last Thursday's Daily JOURNAL reached this office on Monday, 30th inst., and Saturday's has not come yet; Sunday's was on time Monday. Your P. M. surely must think that his chances are slim, or is impregnable, one or the other. Time will convince him. There seems to be no use in grumbling.

Skin Diseases.

I have a little daughter seven years old, who for the last four years has been afflicted with a peculiar skin eruption on the face and one hand. I have tried seven or eight physicians, among them the best in California and in this province, but to no purpose. The child kept growing worse. Fortunately, I saw a statement in a St. Paul, Minn., paper of a cure of a disease similar to that of my child. It was affected by Swift's Specific. I secured six bottles and commenced giving it to my little girl. In less than one week this terrible disease, which had baffled all the known remedies within reach, began to disappear. She has been taking it three months—is perfectly well, and her skin is as clear as wax. G. A. SMITH, Trenton, Ontario Province, Canada, March 28, 1884.

What a Minister Says.

Extreme weakness and general debility, produced by exposure and overwork attendant upon my duties, were gradually developing into an utter prostration of my system. Adopting the suggestions of intimate friends, who had experienced relief in similar cases by taking Swift's Specific, I now find myself restored to a perfect condition of health and strength. Accept my fervent wishes for your continued prosperity in your well chosen and successful method for relieving those who suffer. Rev. B. STROCK, D. D., Stillwater Place, Stamford, Conn. ## THE BEST BUILDING LIME IN THE WORLD.

The undersigned being satisfied that CARSON & SON'S CENTENNIAL MEDAL LIME is the best known in the world for building purposes, have accepted the sole Agency for New Berne, the Line of the "A. & N. C. R. R." and the territory tributary thereto; and are prepared to furnish it to builders, consumers and the trade at prices far below what it has ever sold at before in this market, either by the car load at points east of Best's on the "A. & N. C. R. R." or in lots to suit at New Berne. Gen. Meigs and Professor Baird place this Lime above all others; and from its purity (being absolutely free of magnesia) and the extra large size of its barrels, it is warranted to go one-third further than any other, thus making it the best and cheapest Lime ever sold in this market. Special freight contracts enable us now to offer this Lime very low.
