THE JOURNAL

J. S. HUNN, Editor. NEW BERNE, N. C., APRIL 10, 1883

The spring elections start out well for the Democrats. Michigan, heretofore Republican, rolls up a Democratic majority of over 10,000. But in Cincinnati, Ohio, bull dog pistols carry the day.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has suffered the little children to visit him at the White House. It was a picnic occasion—Easter Monday—and it is said the President enjoyed it hugely—they were not office seekers.

JEFFERSON DAVIS writes a letter of sympathy to General GRANT. This ought to serve as a severe rebuke to those sectional papers that made such a howl at Secretary LAMAR for paying the usual respect to the memory of JACOB THOMPSON.

GEN. LOGAN is getting fighting mad over the Senatorship of Illinois. He has carried the fight into the Mayor's election of Chicago and denounced Mayor CARTER HARRISON as a "vile, infamous liar, a poltroon and a coward." HARRISON had charged him with trying to secure a re-election to the Senate by crooked methods, and while LOGAN was thus denouncing him to a large crowd, the Mayor was proving his charges to another large crowd by reading an affidavit from a member of the Legislature. From the present outlook "Senator" LOGAN is a thing of the past.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY. While sectional haters and sectional papers continue to hurl venomous words at one another on account of the bitterness engendered by the great civil war, it is a pleasure to know that the rank and file of the Confederate and Union armies can rise above sectional animosity and reunite the Union upon the basis of brotherly love, as the following indicates:

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—The following resolution was offered by William Preston Johnston, son of Gen. Albert Sydney Johnston, at the reunion last evening of the Confederate Veterans of Louisiana, Division of the Army of the Tennessee, and was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That the Association of the Army of the Tennessee bear with deep regret of the pain and peril now endured by Gen. U. S. Grant. Twenty-three years to-day our soldiers met him on the field of battle, and found him then, as ever, a soldier without fear and without malignity. In his own suffering and the sorrow of his family we tender him our heart-felt sympathy, and ask for him the comfort and peace which come from Him who is not only Lord of hosts, but Father of us all.

Something About Peanuts. The Suffolk (Va.) Herald publishes some facts and figures concerning peanuts, furnished by a correspondent. The writer gives the average price in Smithfield, in that State, for each month in the year since July, 1878, and the number of bags sold there for the last four years, with the average price per bag each year. The average price per bag was: From Oct., 1880, to Oct., 1881, $2 15; From Oct., 1881, to Oct., 1882, $2 26; From Oct., 1882, to Oct., 1883, $2 73; From Oct., 1883, to Oct., 1884, $3 03.

The correspondent further says, in conclusion: "I think speculators will be surprised to find that the average price for January for the past six years has been nearly as much as any other month. The table also shows the lowest price last December, but only a fraction lower than our last Presidential election year, and if we consider how great a number of laboring people are out of employment and the general depression of business at this time throughout the country, owing to over production, we may feel surprised at peanuts selling as well as they do."—Wal. Star.

Our Oyster Mines Again.

What would the world be without the oyster? The gourmand would be undone. The society man, the bon vivant, the diplomat, the enterer of every class to the public taste and appetite would all be lost. Oysters have contributed as much to the advancement of civilization and the promotion of good fellowship as any other agency in the material world, the telegraph not excepted. It is natural then that men and brethren are dismayed at the prospect of the supply of oysters being entirely cut off or so diminished that they will only be accessible to the wealthy epicure. With this prospect before us wise men, snuffing the danger in the distance, are looking around to counteract by artificial means this tendency to destruction of the oyster supply. South Carolina is following North Carolina in her efforts by legislation to utilize her vast undeveloped oyster resources and both are following the lead of Connecticut and Rhode Island in gathering wealth from the oyster industry. North Carolina is peculiarly well situated for engaging in oyster culture. There are probably in our lower sounds, bays, rivers, creeks and estuaries, more than 600,000 acres of oyster bottom, land-locked and protected from foreign depredations which give our neighbors of Virginia so much trouble. In this 600,000 acres there is every variety of bottom adapted to oyster culture, differing in quality as much as our high lands differ in their adaptation to different vegetables. The adaptation can only be known by trial. Far Creek oysters differ as much in quality from Long Shoal river oysters, both in quantity and quality, as Tadmore corn does from corn raised on the sand hills. Lynn Haven bay oysters in Virginia, have a reputation beyond all others but there are other localities that produce just as good, which have not yet been discovered. Far Creek oysters are probably as good as Lynn Haven oysters. Core sound oysters in Carteret county stand high in the family. Broad creek oysters in Dare are growing in favor. Long shoal oysters are said not to suit the nose and are slightly copperish in taste, from some cause. The Winbury oyster of New river is better than any.—Ed. JOURNAL.] The quality of oysters in the various bottoms in North Carolina can only be discovered by exploration and trial, and the matter is well worthy of careful examination, for if the estimates and figures and experience are not erroneous there is a vast amount of profit in oyster culture. North Carolina is looking to the benefits of this business to our people. But already there is ample legislation. Any citizen of North Carolina can now enter and stake off ten acres of oyster bottom any where, with due regard to riparian rights, at an expense of about five dollars, and ten acres will accommodate from five to eight thousand bushels of plantings, which in twelve months will multiply the investment, with proper attention and cultivation, fifty fold.—Elizabeth City Economist.

Defying the Law.

It is evident that the time is coming when the question will have to be decided whether the monopolies or the people rule this country. No more just and equitable law than the Thurman Act was ever placed on the statute books. The Government had been induced by the experience of the war to aid in the construction of railroad communication between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts through the heart of the Union. The venality of Congress made this recognized public requirement a rich place for speculative adventurers. Pacific Railroad corporations were subsidized without regard to their expediency. The public lands were given away by the million acres. The Republican leaders in Congress grew from poor men to millionaires. It became evident that the sharpness of the lobby operators, who had quietly gobbled up the smaller speculative fry, had managed to get the Pacific Railroad into their grasp and were bent on cheating the Government out of the subsidies and the forfeited land grants. The Thurman Act was a fair and by no means oppressive law requiring the corporations to make provision for the repayment of the moneys advanced to them by the people. As soon as the law was passed the Pacific Railroad monopolies snapped their fingers in its face and refused to obey its provisions. They have been ignoring and fighting it ever since. A law was passed by our State Legislature requiring the telegraph and telephone companies to put their wires underground. This has become a necessity to the public convenience and safety. The large accumulation of posts and wires injures property, incommodes residents and is directly perilous to life and property in case of fire. No sooner was the law enacted than the telegraph monopolies signified their determination to ignore it and to violate its provisions. The Reagan Bill was before Congress last session and seemed to have a slight prospect of success. A high railroad official coolly expressed his indifference at the fate of the bill, giving as his reason the fact the Railroad monopolies intended to treat it as waste paper, and pointing out the manner in which they were prepared to evade the law if it should be enacted. It is about time to settle the point whether the wealthy monopolies built up under Republican rule, now that they can no longer control the Administration and Congress, are to be allowed to openly and defiantly refuse to obey the law.—N. Y. World.

The Earth a Great Magnet.

Everything on the earth and in the air above is permeated with the earth's magnetic force—it goes through your clothes, it penetrates your bodies, it saturates your brains—it is a part of life itself. Gauss, the illustrious German astronomer, has computed (taking as a unit of his measure a magnet, fourteen inches long, one inch wide, one-fourth inch thick, weighing one pound, made of the hardest steel and of the strongest magnetic force possible) the earth's magnetic force as equal to 8,464,000,000,000,000,000 such magnets. The attracting or lifting power of such a magnet is about ten pounds, which would make the attractive power of the earth 42,310,000,000,000,000,000 tons. If this magnetism were equally distributed throughout the mass of the earth, the magnetic intensity of each cubic yard would be equal to six of these magnets, or about sixty pounds attractive force. Prof. Meyer has shown that this magnetic influence, this invisible force, is a power filling space to an unknown distance and radiating in the lines of magnetic force very much as the rays of the sunlight, the lines of the earth's magnetic force being from south to north, as indicated by the compass needle.

NOT DEAD YET.

Atlanta papers are giving the public some curious and wonderful cases that are quite interesting. It seems that a young lady of Atlanta has been reported as dead, but it came to the ears of the Atlanta Journal that she was still alive, and being on the alert for news, a reporter was sent to the residence to learn all the facts. Miss Belle Dunaway, who had been pronounced dead, met him at the door, stoutly denying that she was dead. She said: "For four years, rheumatism and neuralgia have retarded physicians and all other treatment. My muscles seemed to dry up, my flesh shrank away, my joints were swollen, painful and large, lost my appetite, was reduced to 60 pounds in weight and for months was expected to die. I commenced the use of B. B. B. and the action of one half a bottle convinced my friends that it would cure me. Its effect was like magic. It gave me appetite—gave me strength, relieved all pains and aches, added flesh to my bones, and when five bottles had been used I had gained 50 pounds of flesh, and I am to-day sound and well."

IS IT A LIE?

Some one said that Potash was a poison; Who makes the assertion except those who desire to mislead and humbug you? He who denounces other remedies as FRAUDS, is quietly offering a vile compound of his own—beware of all such. Ask your physician or your druggist if Potash produces all the horrors claimed for it by those who are compelled to traduce other preparations in order to appear respectable themselves. We claim that Potash properly combined with other remedies makes the grandest blood remedy ever known to man, and we claim that B. B. B. is that remedy. If afflicted with any form of blood poison Scrofula, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Old Ulcers and Sores, Kidney Complaints, Female Diseases, etc., the B. B. B. will cure you at once. A REMEDY of which a prominent Atlanta merchant said: "I would have given $500 as soon as I would a nickel for what two bottles of your medicine did for my daughter." A REMEDY in regard to which S. J. Cassella, M. D., Druggist, Thomasville, Ga., says: "I can recall instances in which it afforded relief after all the usual remedies had failed." A REMEDY about which Dr. E. B. Ferrill, LaGrange, Ga., writes: "I have used for the last twenty years the medicine you are putting up and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the disease for which it is recommended." A REMEDY about which Dr. Joel Brannham, Atlanta, said: "I have examined the recipe, and have no hesitation in advising its use, and confidently recommend it." A REMEDY which the Rev. H. B. Johnson, near Marietta, Ga., says he has used in his family with the "utmost satisfaction," and recommended it to three families "who found it to be just what it is recommended." A REMEDY of which Pemberton, Iveson & Jenkinson say: "We have been selling it for many years, with constantly increasing sales. The article is a staple with us, and one of absolute merit." A REMEDY of which Lamar, Rankin & Lamar say: "We sold 50 gross in four months, and never sold it in any place but what it was wanted again." A REMEDY by which Dr. Baugh of La Grange, Ga., says "I cured one of the most obstinate cases of VICARIOUS MENSTRUATION that ever came within my knowledge, with a few bottles." A REMEDY of which Dr. J. C. Hass, Nottuliga, Ala., says: "I am fully convinced that it is unrivaled for that class of disease which it claims to cure." A REMEDY about which Mr. John C. Whittier, of Atlanta, well and favorably known all over the United States as a General Insurance Agent, says: "I used this remedy before the war, on a large plantation in a great number of cases, always with absolute success." A REMEDY about which Mr. J. W. Strange, of Cartersville, Ga., certifies that one bottle cured two members of his family of menstral irregularity of many years standing.
