NEW BERNE, N. C., APRIL 15, 1885.

Entered at the Post office at New Berne, N. C., as second-class matter.

THE TRIAL OF JAMES D. FISH.

President of the detinet Marine National Bank of New York, has resulted in a verdict of guilty of embezzling the funds of the bank.

The war cloud in Europe continues to thicken, but they seem slow to come to blows. Preparations are still being made on a gigantic scale in both England and Russia, and the clamor is such as to indicate that the masses have lost their reason and nothing but blood will satisfy them.

THE UNKNOWN PHELPS, who has been appointed Minister to England, turns out now to be the same that was counsel for the perpetrator of the famous Emma Mine fraud by which Englishmen and women were swindled out of $5,000,000. After all, the President will probably find it safer to consider the man with a long petition than to surprise everybody by appointing some one unheard of before.

THE COTTON MOVEMENT.

From Bradstreet.

The market for futures this week showed a decline on all months from the prices of last week. The war news of Thursday caused prices to drop suddenly, and spots also shared in the general depression. April delivery showed the smallest decline of any month. This month closed last week at 11.14c. On Monday it ranged at 11.12c, Tuesday it fell 1 point, and on Wednesday it sold for 11.09c. Thursday it fell to 11.01c, but recovered and closed Friday at 11.06c. The total sales of futures amounted to 256,100 bales, against 340,000 bales last week. The deliveries on contracts amounted to 3,300 bales, against the same number last week. Spots fell off during the week and closed at 11.16c, a decline of 1/2c on previous quotations. The total sales were 864 bales, against 691 bales last week. The receipts at ports amounted to 22,772 bales, against 25,773 bales last week and 30,363 bales the same week last year. The total receipts since September 1 were 4,574,744 bales, against 4,623,000 bales the same time last year.

The following is the week's movement at interior towns, with comparisons:

	This w'k.	Last w'k.	Last y'r.
Receipts	6,088	7,825	14,592
Shipments	20,780	19,767	27,376
Exports	119,943	124,003	102,819

The following comparative figures are given to April 10:

	1885.	1884.
Visible supply	2,637,788	3,944,201
Exp'ts since Sept. 1	13,433,487	9,843,180
Six days' receipts	18,263	24,198
Exp'ts Gr't Britain	23,664	12,071
Exports continent	9,930	10,321
Exports France	5,487	13,949
Stock, New York	347,845	346,102
Consolidated stock	632,879	648,739

Cotton at Providence is rather inactive but prices are steady, middling uplands fetching 11 1/2c, and middling gulf 11 1/2c. The Philadelphia market has ruled dull and closes weak at 11 1/2c for spot middlings. Cotton at Savannah shows but little of interest. At New Orleans owing to holidays, movement in cotton since last Thursday week being small, spots are unchanged, while futures have declined, April's 8 points, May's 19 summer's 21 and fall's over 15 points. Although stocks at the ports and the world's visible supply are a little less than last week. The addition to the port receipts in the National Cotton Exchange report about neutralizes the gain, and this together with prospects of increased acreage in next planting, as well as the favorable condition of the lands for planting and the strong probability of war between Russia and England is considered discouraging to the longs. The Memphis cotton market is very easy, and a decline is looked for unless more favorable news be received as to relations between England and Russia.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE IN THREE MONTHS.

The Industrial Progress in the South During January, February and March—An Excellent Showing Despite Dull Times.

Manufacturers' Record.

Notwithstanding the extreme depression in all business interests, and especially in manufactures, which has lasted so long, but which seems to be now giving way to better times, the South has made most excellent progress in the development of her industrial interests since January 1st, 1885. It is true that the scarcity of money and the lack of confidence have had much influence in preventing the investment of money in new industries, but despite these, the record for the first three months of 1885 is very gratifying. With the return of prosperity to the country at large, the South will make more rapid progress than ever before seen in that section. The wonderful material resources; the inexhaustible mines of coal and iron; the almost boundless forests of virgin timber; the never-failing water powers; the mild and genial climate; the millions of acres of cheap land, that under careful tillage will yield bounteous crops, are all attracting the attention of the world, and probably never before were the prospects so bright for a large emigration of manufacturers, mechanics, farmers and capitalists to the South, and nowhere in all the world, we feel quite sure, can advantages equal to those offered by the South for all these classes be found.

Proof that the prospects for business are growing brighter and that the investment of capital will soon become more active in the South, is seen in the statement made elsewhere that, four new furnaces are to be built at Alabama. None of these, however, are included in our list of new enterprises as published to-day, as the announcement of their proposed construction was not made public until after the 31st of March. Two of these furnaces are to be built at Anniston and two at Birmingham; still another furnace is to be built at Birmingham by the owners of the Mary Pratt furnace, and there are good prospects for a new furnace in Tennessee by Northern capitalists.

During the first three months of 1885 the amount of capital, including capital stock of incorporated companies, invested in new manufacturing and mining enterprises at the South, and in the enlargement of old plants and the rebuilding of mills after being destroyed by fire, aggregates nearly $21,000,000. These figures are based upon reports received directly by the Manufacturers' Record from the originators of these enterprises themselves, and in the case of private firms or companies do not include their capital, but simply the cost of their works or mills, or the amount expended in the enlargement of enterprises already in existence.

Among the new enterprises organized during the first three months of 1885 we find the following from North Carolina:

Asheville, T. B. & A. J. Lyman & others ice factory, Jordan & Haliburton grist mill; Blue Wing, Big American Reduction Co. copper mining; Charlotte, A. C. Hutchison & Co. carriage factory, etc.; Balt. & N. O. Gold Mine reopened gold mine; Company Shop, Alabama Tobacco Co. tobacco factory; Cumberland Co. Hope Mills Mfg. Co.; Durham, Wilkerson, Christian & Co. enlarged planing mill; Z. I. Lyon & Co. tobacco factory, Durham Fertilizer Co. new fertilizer factory; Edgecombe Co., Hopewell Mfg. Co.; Hancock Co., J. N. Plaster & Co. flour mill; Franklin, J. S. Joyner saw and planing mill; Goldsboro, Dewey Bros. machine shops and foundry, Cogdell & Barnes cracker factory, J. Strauss & Co. planing and rice mill; Graham, P. R. Hardee Tobacco Co. tobacco factory; Greensboro, John Barker tobacco factory, Coleman Brand tobacco factory, Greensboro Sash & Blind Co. saw mill; High Point, W. H. Snow handle & spoke factory, Gordon, Pegram & Co. tobacco factory, Snow & Cox spoke & shuttle factory; Kinston, Elias Albritton grist mill; Lexington, Grimes Bros. flour mill; Maiden, Carpenter, Sons &

Co. enlarged cotton mill McKee P. O., John P. McKee shuttle block factory; Mebaneville, J. E. Scott tobacco factory; Morganton, Morganton Furniture Mfg. Co. furniture factory, C. A. Shaping & Co. enlarged garnet mills, B. B. & Joseph Britain flour mill, R. Williams saw mill; New Berne, J. M. White & Co. fertilizer factory, Moore & Brady tanning factory, Peacock & Herring brick yard, S. H. Gray Mfg. Co. pulp mill; Oxford, W. S. Overbey carriage & wagon factory, White & McGuire planing mill; Raleigh, North Carolina Phosphate Co. phosphate works, North Carolina Car Co. enlarged works, Wm. Woolcott clothing factory; Rocky River Factory, Chas. Black flour mill; Salisbury, J. D. Stewart saw mill, J. D. Gaskill tobacco factory, Robertson & Miller tobacco factory; Tarboro, Royster & Nash fertilizer factory; Thomasville, Russell Gold Mine additional stamp mill; Troutman, G. M. Setzer handle factory; Wadesboro, P. Linehan & Co. stone quarrying; Wilmington, W. E. Worth & Co. ice factory; Winston, Joyce, Spangh & Miller planing mill.

Rebuilt after being burned.

Companies or firms in existence prior to January 1, but since that time have either enlarged their works or built new works, or increased capital. In most of these cases given in this list, reference is made to entirely new works built by old firms, as for instance, G. M. Setzer, Troutman, running a handle factory, will increase business by building a second factory, to cost $80,000.

Greenville Items.

Shad very plentiful and 50 cents per pair.

Will the railroad be built? It looks as if it might.

Our election for postmaster has not come off yet. No. of voters, 500; No. of candidates, 600.

Mr. A. Forbes is erecting three very elegant cottages in Forberville, which will add materially to the beauty of that part of Greenville.

The citizens of Greenville congratulate Gov. Jarvis on his appointment to a foreign mission, but regret the loss of him and his excellent lady as citizens of our town.

A colored man, whose name we did not learn, was accidentally shot and killed yesterday in the country near town by a very small colored boy. The boy attempted to hand him the gun, and accidentally pulled the hammer, when the cap exploded, the whole load entering the unfortunate man's mouth.

We promised to give the solution of our puzzle two weeks ago; not a correct solution has yet been sent. If B m t put: If B, putting: If grate be empty put coal on. If grate be full stop putting coal on. [We have the same solution from Goshen, Duplin county.—Ed. JOURNAL.]

Mr. A. N. Bryan disposed of quite a number of red and blue caps at 5 cents each, one of which could be seen one day last week on the head of nearly every boy in town. Prof. Ragsdale's school has quite a military appearance, and the boys yet continue to paint the town red.

Mr. L. V. Morrill, that rising young lawyer of our town, and editor of the Standard, was married on the 9th to Miss Jennie Brown, the handsome and accomplished daughter of Dr. Brown. The ceremony took place in the Episcopal Church, Rev. Mr. Hughes officiating. May their path be strewn with roses.

To any body who has disease of throat or lungs, we will send proof that Piso's Cure for Consumption has cured the same complaints in other cases. Address, E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

The Best in the World.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE, Deputy Collector's Office, 3d Dist. N. Y., New York, Jan. 15, 1885.

Mr. MORSELEY—Are you still alive? If so, can you make me a pair of dress boots, such as you made me about 12 years ago? Same size.

You make the best boots in the world. I wore the pair you made me (about 12 years ago) last night to a ball.

Yours, A. COATS, (Major Coats.)

The Man & the Monkey.

"What ails you?" asked the man. "I see you are a sufferer, and can scarcely get along."

"I best done used over sixty bottles one drug store medicine, and it no good. Money all gone and sore here yet. Some doctors charge heap money, but no good. One doctor told me to get a bottle of B. B. B. and before I will cure all sorts of sores, sore throat, itchy humors, catarrh, blood and skin diseases and Kidney Troubles."

"I be so thankful for your kindness, and will go get B. B. B. to-day," replied the monkey.

"Yes, yes," replied the man, "I see how it is. Your mother inherited her disease, scrofula, and your father caught his on the wing, and you inherited or was born with both complaints. But why pine away and die when you can be cured by using only one bottle of our medicine, and it no good. Money all gone and sore here yet. Some doctors charge heap money, but no good. One doctor told me to get a bottle of B. B. B. and before I will cure all sorts of sores, sore throat, itchy humors, catarrh, blood and skin diseases and Kidney Troubles."

"I be so thankful for your kindness, and will go get B. B. B. to-day," replied the monkey.

EYES OF FIRE.

"Oh, might I kiss those eyes of fire, Ten thousand kisses would quench desire! How would I steep my lips in bliss, And dwell an age on every kiss!"

That young dude needs something for his blood; he is utterly too fresh. B. B. B. is the best thing for him, because one bottle will cure him. But that dude is not all alone in his terrestrial glory—not by a jug full. Many others are considerably "rattled" just now about the blood poison business, but B. B. B. will cure for the least money and in the shortest time. The boom is coming. Purify, purify.

"Oh, Josie," said little gleeful Mand, "we are going to have some honey made at our home." "How do you know?" asked Josie. "Because mamma sent the servant after three B's, and I don't know what bees are good for only to make honey."
