A. L. Ormond, thought to have been stolen at the commencement, has been found and returned.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Cunninggim, which took place at the Methodist church here Monday, was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Mann, P. E. of this district officiated.

The committee appointed some time ago to make arrangements for the next session of the school at the L. C. I, in our place, met some days ago and elected Noah Rouse chairman and H. E. Dillon secretary. J. Y. Joyner was appointed to solicit correspondence from teachers who may desire to become Principal of the Institute. We are glad to notice a determination on the school to make it a first-class institution.

The commencement exercises of Col. Davis' school came off Wednesday, and notwithstanding the unfavorable appearance of the weather, a large crowd was present. The address of Wilson's gifted orator, W. H. Blount, Esq., was just what every one expected, full of wit, humor, logic, oratory and all else necessary to make an interesting, agreeable and instructive address. It is universally praised. The rain prevented the regular afternoon exercises an interesting part of which was the battallion drill. An opportunity would have shown that the cadets are throughly instructed in the manuel. The programme for the night consisted in speeches by the cadets, and many "rounds of applause" showed that their efforts were appreciated by the audience. When boys all do well showed that the by A. L. Ormond, of Greene, is es-pecially praised.

We regret that sickness prevented us from giving a more extensive account of the proceedings. Thus has closed the most prosperous and best patro-nized session of this school. Col. Davis has, by his untiring efforts, push and vim, built up in our place a school second to none in the State for thoroughness of instruction and discipline. A new building is to be erected in time for the fall session, large and properly arranged in every particular for the work. A "Business Department" will be added to the school, a more extend-ed account of which we will give hereafter.

Among the visitors we noticed more beauty than ever seen by us at any one time in our place. These beauties they could do. Messrs, L. Harvey, John Collins and J. H. Rouse, of Kinston, called to see us yesterday. It is always a pleasure to meet contender for the set of the Closing Exercises of Aurora Academy The closing exercises of this academy, on Friday night, June 12, was a grand success and reflects credit on Professor R. T. Bonner, the principal, a teacher of whom we feel justly proud. Also, Mrs. A. G. Lane as teacher of music. Mrs. Lane has been teaching a class here but two months, and her students performed exceedingly well, far beyond the expectations of her patrons. Just think of only two months, and that a class most of which never had any previous knowledge or practice, and to take them on the stage before a large and intelligent audience, and not/a sin-gle failure. Truly, Mrs. Lane is a good music teacher and deserves the patronage of all our people, which I think she will get a liberal share. And I tell you, with such teachers as Prof. Bonner and Mrs. Lane, Aurora offers educational advantages hard to beat.

The concert was opened with calis thenic exercises by the school, and music by Mrs. A. G. Lane. And the music was very good, as also the exercises. And oh! what an array of beauty, to see so many of the fair daughters arrayed in spotless white, amidst the beautiful decorations of the stage.

OBITUARY.

Died, in La Grange, N. C., June 7th. 1885, in the 66th year of her age, Mrs. Margaret Cuninggim, widow of Rev. W. H. Cuninggim, sr. The world has lost a precious treasure and heaven gained another saint. For 52 years she followed Jesus.

Many battles have been fought, and many victories won, by this faithful Christian. She has laid her trophies at the feet of the Lord, and her voice now mingles with the redeemed in glory. The life she lived on earth was fragrant with holiness. She was pure in heart, spotless in life, faithful unto death. Her life was a beautiful illustration of the religion of Jesus, her death tri-umphant, glorious. Infidelity stands pale and insignificant before the triumph of this humble Christian, Heaven was made glad when the "Old Ship of Zion" landed this soldier of the cross upon the shores of light. Bright is the crown and brilliant the
