Huckleberries, ten cents per quart.
Plums in the market in abundance.
Collector Hancock is looking out for the dog tax.

Railroad matters were very quiet in the city yesterday.

The report is that the early peaches are rotting on the trees.

The steamer Stout arrived yesterday morning from Baltimore.

No truck now going forward but potatoes; but lots of them.

Spring chickens, half grown, command thirty-five cents per pair.

The Shenandoah went out loaded with Irish potatoes yesterday evening.

The walls of the brick row on Middle street are nearly completed and the carpenters are pushing the work on the inside.

Another batch of the machinery—the wood chopper—for the pulp factory at Graywood arrived yesterday and was taken across to the grounds.

Meat—Cattle for the shipment of potatoes are now in demand, over two thousand having been received by steamer from Baltimore within the past few days.

"Are you a professional witness?" asked an attorney yesterday morning at the Mayor's Court, addressing City Marshal Harget. The answer was prompt, "Yes, sir; I am paid for it." "Stand aside."

Cold, root and little, chopped into pieces about an inch long, boiled and eaten with the water in which it is cooked, will cure the most obstinate cases of rheumatism. So says good authority.

The colored people had quite a time at Fowler's ferry last night; the steamer Trent being used as a ferry boat, making half hour trips. Fire-works, brass and string bands, dancing, etc., were features of the occasion.

New Berne is well represented at the Chataqua. We are glad to see our teachers taking a prominent part in the deliberations of the Assembly. Several prominent gentlemen are to deliver addresses during the session, among them Senator Vance.

The baseball fever has at last attacked our young men, and practice, limited to batting and throwing, is daily indulged in at the foot of Craven street. This we presume is preparatory to regular practice upon the grounds now being arranged at Fowler's ferry.

A "wheel of fortune" young man took in from one of his patrons the other night, two or three dollars, before the latter discovered that the game, like all others of its kind, was a fraud; upon discovery, however, the "wheel" man was obliged to disfigure and has since left the city in disgrace.

John S. Long, Esq., has been invited, and accepted the invitation, to deliver an address at Goldboro on the fourth of July. This is the third address Mr. Long has been called upon to deliver at distant points within three months; a high compliment to his eloquence and popularity.

Two fast drivers were before the Mayor yesterday. They were required to pay cost and contribute one dollar each to the city funds. One of the defendants was rather nonplussed when his attorney asked a witness if that horse was not poor, broken down, high hip bones and hunch legged. The witness answered in the negative, whereupon the attorney argued to the court that it looked very much like a case of mistaken identity—since other horses that was violating the city ordinance and not that of his client. The client preferred paying the fine and cost to having the reputation of his horse damaged, and it was so ordered.

Not a Good Day for Them.

Little Albert Willis, looking for steamboats yesterday, was unable to count but eight, in eight, from the deck of the Shenandoah, and returned up the street concluding it not a good day for steamboats either.

Consolidated.

The Farmer and Mechanic has consolidated with the Chronicle, of Raleigh. Both were good papers, and well edited and conducted when separate, and we have no doubt the two combined will have additional power for good and enhance their already well earned popularity.

The Post Office.

Mr. Manly yesterday forwarded his bond as postmaster to Washington, and designated to the Department the name of Mr. Horace E. Baxter as assistant P. M., a selection we feel assured that will give general satisfaction. The new officials will probably assume their duties July 1st.

Schooner Arrivals.

The Lenia, Capt. Joe Rose, from Fairfield, with cargo of corn to W. P. Burrows & Co.

The Mary S., Capt. Jim Berry, from Juniper Bay with cargo of corn.

The Havanna, Capt. E. H. Spencer, from Engelhard with cargo of corn.

The Potter, Capt. Nobles, from Middleton with corn to W. P. Burrows & Co.

The Elmira, Capt. Ben Payne, from Wysocking, with cargo of corn.

Meeting of the Press Association.

The Press Association of North Carolina met in their 13th annual session at Smithville, Brunswick county, on Wednesday, the 17th inst., continuing two days. Between thirty and forty representatives of papers were present. The regular routine of business was transacted satisfactorily to members present. All the fraternity seemed to have enjoyed themselves hugely and are under obligations for the many courtesies extended. J. A. Robinson was elected President for the ensuing year, Josephus Daniels retiring; J. H. Lindsay, Secretary and Treasurer.

More Appointments.

The press dispatches announce the appointment of W. F. Howland to be Collector of Customs for the district of Beaufort, and John A. Richardson for the district of Pamlico. These are both good appointments. Capt. John A. Richardson is so well known in North Carolina that anything said in his behalf would seem superfluous. For over twenty years he has been conductor on the A. & N. C. R. R., and his uniform courtesy and attention to passengers has won for him a host of friends. President Cleveland could hardly have made an appointment for this position that would have given more universal satisfaction.

Personal.

Prof. Brooks, of Johns Hopkins University, now engaged in scientific researches in Beaufort harbor, was in the city yesterday to meet his family, who arrived by the Shenandoah from Baltimore, en route for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Chas. M. Bushee, Esq., of Raleigh, was in the city yesterday on his return from a short trip to Morehead City.

Mr. Washington Bryan and John W. Hinsdale, Esq., left on the morning train for Raleigh yesterday.

Mr. A. J. McDaniel, of Jones county, called to see us Friday. He says cotton in Jones is looking much better than New Berne.

Dr. G. L. Shackelford returned from Baltimore last night. He says the thermometer was 96 on June 16th in that city. He further says "give me New Berne every time for cool weather or anything else."

O. H. Guion, Esq., left yesterday for Washington, N. C. Marshal Harget says his team made at the rate of twelve miles per hour Thursday evening. With such a speed he will not be long making the trip.

Among the passengers on the steamer Elm City yesterday was Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Ippock, who left for a short tour in Hyde and Barnstable counties.

H. B. Brown, Esq., returned from Raleigh last night.

The law requires that all taxables shall be listed within the first twenty days in June; a failure to comply renders one liable to be placed upon the delinquent list and subject to a double tax, hence we advise that such of our citizens who have the good fortune to possess property liable to taxation to call upon Squire Brinson today (it being the last) at his office on South Front street, and comply with the law.

Schwern & Ash make a new announcement to the public this morning. Seersucker coats, handsome pique scarfs and gents' furnishing goods are among the attractive things they offer. Go to see them.

Considerable corn in market yesterday and the trade brisk.

Cleverly Said.

A correspondent of the Rockingham Rocket has this to say of Mr. Long's speech at Laurinburg:

After a few prefatory remarks, protesting against the theory of Harvard's president, Elliot, to eliminate from the college curriculum the study of the ancient languages, he announced as his subject, "The Inspirations and Ideals of Youth." I wish it were in my power to lay before your readers the address in full, for the promulgation of such noble thoughts, clothed in such beautiful speech, could not fail to attract; and, attracting, could not fail to inspire higher aims and nobler resolves. But, were this possible, half its charm would be lost, separated from the matchless eloquence and magical grace of the speaker. To be properly appreciated it should have been heard.

Our Colored Firemen.

Two fire companies, the Rough and Ready, of New Berne, and the Reliance, of Tarboro, were entertained here yesterday by the Salamander Company, of this town. The New Berne Brass Band was also in attendance. They paraded the streets yesterday and made a very fine display. Mayor Warren delivered an address of welcome. An elegant dinner was served in the Clyde warehouse. The new Town Hall was tendered the visitors, and everything was done to make their stay as pleasant as possible. — Washington Gazette.

There is a serious error in the above item. The Reliance Company is from New Berne also, not Tarboro. The companies are well pleased with their trip and request us to thank the good citizens of Washington for the kind and hospitable reception given them.

The Injunction Case.

John W. Hinsdale, Esq., of Raleigh, was in the city yesterday morning and as attorney for Washington Bryan, Esq., accepted service of papers in the injunction case. The application to Judge Gudgey by the county commissioners of Craven county was for an injunction against the A. & N. C. R. R. Company, and a restraining order to prevent a meeting of the stockholders until the courts would rectify the manner of voting certain split stock in the meeting, also an injunction and restraining order to prevent Washington Bryan and others voting certain split stock. In the first case His Honor granted a notice to the A. & N. C. R. R. Co. to show cause why a restraining order should not issue, and in the case against Mr. Bryan the injunction and restraining order was granted. Both cases are to be heard before Judge Phillips at Tarboro next Tuesday.

State vs. O. H. Guion.

Defendant, just having purchased a thoroughbred animal, started out for a pleasant drive on Thursday evening. The horse, which is a high-spirited, noble-looking fellow, and having come from the country, (this being his first visit to town), naturally felt elated at the privilege of being allowed to preambulate the excellent shell roads of our city, and having been brought up in the liberty of the free air of Jones county, unencumbered by the shackles of law against fast trotting, had no compunctions against showing the "townies" how to raise the dust and show clean heels to all competitors. His driver and owner, O. H. Guion, Esq., being of a generous and magnanimous character, preferred to let his steed take his own course rather than deprive the penurious treasury of the ancient City of Elms of $3.40, the amount fixed by his honor, as a fair contribution, from so prominent a member of the legal fraternity.

Bell's Ferry Items.

Mr. S. E. Speir has bought of Mr. C. M. A. Griffin a site on which to erect a whiskey still. Won't we be happy when we have the pure article so convenient and fear no more the effect of poison.

Crops are looking very well, and we hope for a good yield of corn and cotton. A few weeks past the prospect for crops was very gloomy. It was raining every day. Farmers could not work, but for two weeks past everything is growing finely, and they begin to look cheerful again. Hope it may continue, and that there may be good crops realized.

Our village seems to be on the boom. The sound of the hammer is heard in almost every direction erecting new buildings. Mr. Jacob Mc. has his fine residence almost complete and contemplates becoming a citizen of our village ere long. Mr. Moses Spivey has also commenced building a fine residence here. W. B. Hellen & Bro. have in process a fine store, also Mr. Earnest Pittman is putting up a store to be used for a milliner store, and there are many other small buildings going up.

Our newly elected mayor, Dr. S. B. Wood, is starting up things. He has had the streets laid off and corner at the end of the street at the outside limits of the town. It seems that we made a good selection for mayor. Before we put on too many town airs we must have a church and a good school. Then we will flourish like a green bay tree. Mrs. Fannie Brooks has opened a music school, which is a step in the right direction. We have no church, but have preaching every month; Rev. Mr. McCullen from Kinston preaches, and is liked very much. He deals pretty heavy blows at drunkenness and liquor dealing.

LINES IN MEMORIAM OF LITTLE WILLIE COLLIGAN.

Who died June 17th, 1885, aged 2 years and 5 months.

O he was like a flower,
Like a lily tall and fair,
His eyes were blue as pansies,
And golden was his hair.
O Willie, thou wert dearer
To thy fond parents' heart
Than crowns, or gem-bright rubies—
Too dear, too loved to part.
Thy empty chair, thy pretty toys,
Still waken sorrow's voice,
But thou, upon the Saviour's knee
Dost sing, Rejoice! Rejoice!
Yes, with the joyous angels
Thine is a blissful home,
A star in heaven thou shinest
Near God's eternal throne.
— Mrs. H. MURPHY.

FOURTH OF JULY, 1885.

Selection of Orator—Outline of Programme, Etc.
(Goldboro Messenger.)

The movement inaugurated a few weeks since to celebrate the nation's birthday in this city, in a grand, before-the-war style, is meeting with success, and that such a celebration will occur is now an assured fact. The committee was very fortunate in the selection of an orator, having chosen Mr. John S. Long, of New Berne, than whom there is probably no more earnest and effective speaker in the State. Mr. Long has accepted the invitation, as will be seen from the following letter:

New Berne, N. C., June 13, 1885.
Messrs. H. L. Grant, J. A. Bonitz and Others:

GENTLEMEN:—I found your complimentary letter of invitation, so kindly prepared by Maj. Grant, awaiting me this morning. The more I have thought of your plan, in the magnitude and importance of its conception, the more highly I think of it. If you can carry it out, as designed, and no one who knows the men of Goldboro as I know them, will doubt it, it will reflect credit upon the whole State, as well as Goldboro. To be the orator on such an occasion would be a great compliment to anyone. I therefore cheerfully accept your invitation.

Very respectfully and truly,
JOHN S. LONG.

The programme has not yet been published, but in order that our readers may form some idea of what may be expected, we have secured from a member of the committee of arrangements an outline of what will probably be the order of exercises on that day. This, of course, is subject to correction and improvement.

The procession will form at the Court House green, and will be composed of the military and fire companies, civic and other societies, merchants, trade and other industrial representatives. The procession will march to the Graded School grounds, where the United States Declaration of Independence and the Mecklenburg Declaration will be read by W. G. Burkhead, Esq., and Capt. Swift Galloway, respectively, to be followed by the oration of John S. Long, Esq., of New Berne.

A grand parade through the principal streets of the city will then take place. After this it is proposed to have a number of amusing sports.

At 4 o'clock p. m., at Baseball Park, there will be a match game between the Tarboro Club and the Nationals, of this city.

At night there will be a grand display of fireworks, the finest and most elaborate exhibited here since the days of ante-bellum; the whole to conclude with a grand balloon ascension.

Everybody in Wayne and surrounding counties is invited to be present and participate in the hilarities of the occasion.

HE THOUGHT SO.—One of the professors at the University of Texas is one of the most absent-minded men in the State. Not long since a gentleman, who was only slightly acquainted with him, asked him:

"Professor, are you married?"

"The professor was absorbed in thought for a few moments and then replied: 'I know only of one of them.'"

"Yes, I think so, if I am not mistaken."

GEN. TOOMBS A CHRISTIAN.

A Letter Six Months Old Just Published.

(From the Savannah Morning News.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Dec. 12, 1884.
Mr. R. J. Loyal, 101 Cherry Street, Macon, Ga.)

MY DEAR FRIEND:—I received yours of Nov. 30 last with great pleasure, and intended to make an immediate reply, but I have not been well a day since its receipt.

Independent of my loss of sight, almost total now, I am severely afflicted, and my nephew, who is writing this letter for me, is so indisposed that I am unable to write all I intended. I have had the settled conviction from youth that the Christian religion was true, and that it was the duty of every man to pray to Him daily and to His Son, Jesus Christ, for forgiveness of sins. I feel an absolute conviction that all of God's creatures who will truly repent of their sins and pray for forgiveness will be pardoned and secure eternal happiness. I think I have felt—I know I have felt this truth, especially in the last year. I have always had the greatest confidence in your integrity and in your friendship for me, and I intended to have gone further in the interesting questions submitted by you, but my health will not permit this morning. As soon as my health will permit me to resume it, I will write you a fuller letter.

You write me that you have been a long time engaged, which I knew, in retailing spirituous liquors, and you ask my opinion as to whether it is sinful. I do not think of itself it is sinful, but I would advise you to get some other occupation as soon as you can find one to support your family.

The Lord's Prayer, which I have always considered the duty of every man to repeat daily, which has been enjoined upon the whole human race, requires us to pray to God continuously to "lead us not into temptation, but to deliver us from evil."

I send you a little tract upon the subject of seeking religion. I send it by express this morning. It is the clearest exposition of the subject I have ever seen. Be sure to read the introduction by the Rev. Edwin Parson Hammond. The book is entitled, "The Blood of Christ," by the Rev. William Reed, M. A.

It removes all mysteries from the true road of regeneration, and has given me more light and consolation than anything I have ever read—not even excepting the Bible itself.

God bless you, friend, and strengthen you to continue in your present course. Let me hear from you, especially if you have received my letter and pamphlet. I am very truly your friend,
R. TOOMBS.

A Little Gold Was Spent.

Mr. Z. A. Clark, of Atlanta, Ga., in speaking of $480.00 in gold, desires to say to the readers of this paper, that the whole of the above amount was spent in a fruitless effort in finding relief from a terrible Blood Poison affecting his body, limbs and nose—presenting ugly running ulcers. He is now sound and well, having been cured by the most speedy and wonderful remedy ever before known, and any interested party who may need a Blood Purifier will learn from him that three bottles of B. B. H. restores his appetite, healed all ulcers, relieved his kidneys, and added twenty-one pounds to his weight in thirty days.
