BUSINESS LOCALS.

WANTED.—A good shoe maker. Apply to J. MCSSOLEY, near corner of Middle and Pollock Sts., New Berne, N. C. In 14 m 5,000 yards of Burlaps for making barrel covers. At S. W. & E. W. SMALLWOOD'S, cor. Craven and S. Front Sts. 311d4w

Roasting ears in market in abundance. The stockholders' train returned from Morehead at 9 p. m. last night. It is rumored that ball tossing at the foot of Craven street will be interdicted. James W. Moore, Esq., is acting Mayor in the absence of Mayor Meadows. Plums, cherries, and other small fruits are more than usually plentiful this season? Justice Brinson is putting improvements on and under his store next to the Gaston House.

Capt. Matt. Manly's bond having been accepted, he has been commissioned as Postmaster at New Berne. There are ten brick buildings in course of construction on one square on Middle street, four of which are nearly completed. Capt. J. A. Richardson has resigned as conductor on the A. & N. C. Railroad. A good officer gone, and a good opening for some one. There has not been a single case tried by the Mayor this week; a fact that speaks volumes for the law-abiding character of our citizens. The sidewalk in front of Mrs. S. H. Lane's millinery store on Pollock street is undergoing repairs and will be, when completed, a great improvement. Rumor has now announced that H. R. Bryan, Esq., will be attorney for the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company vice C. C. Clark, Esq., resigned.

A wagon, with pasoches for sale was the centre of attraction on Middle street for a while yesterday. They were the finest of the season and literally robbed up by the eager crowd. Although a large number of our citizens went to Morehead City yesterday, there was left a sufficient number to earnestly, warmly and legally(?) re-argue the railway injunction case. Some of our young men are perfecting themselves in a knowledge of various instruments with a view to the formation of a good string band. A much desired and needed organization. The infusion of new blood in the New Berne Silyer Cornet Band results in more frequent practices and we may hope to see it soon attain its former proud position, "the best band in the State."

We are gratified to learn that Mr. Allen's Forty Lessons in Book-Keeping is receiving flattering comments from the Press, and that it is also favorably received by educators to whom it has been submitted. One of the first appearances of the handsome new seal just designed for the Department of State at Washington appears in a fine fac-simile in gold on the back of "How We Are Governed," one of Lothrop's latest publications. The every fine evening exhibition upon our excellent streets of fine pleasure horses, is very creditable to New Berne and no insignificant evidence of the material prosperity of our community in late years, let croakers say what they will.

Convalescent Steamer.
The steamer Defiance, burned here last winter has been sufficiently repaired to be able to take on the lumber trade, and left yesterday, towed by the Goldboro, for Baltimore, where repairs will be completed and she ready for the fall trade in about sixty days.

Results of the Injunction Cases.
The chairman of our board of county commissioners expressed himself yesterday morning as quite gratified at the results of the injunction cases on Wednesday. We did not get all that we wished, nor all that we asked, but we gained some very important points. We certainly frightened off the lease proposition which was to come before the stockholders' meeting and we forced enough of the split stock back to its proper value to hold the stock. Five hundred votes, and had we had the splitting process had been effectively stopped for the future.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

MOREHEAD CITY, 6:22 P. M.
Meeting organized temporarily; Faison elected chairman. Proxy committee asked till 7 p. m. to prepare their report. Recess. Everything quiet. 8:15 P. M.
The meeting assembled at 7 o'clock, p. m. The committee on proxies reported seventeen thousand six hundred and seventy-one shares represented, entitled to seventeen hundred and sixty-eight votes. Adopted.
The reading of reports was dispensed with.
Directors elected: Jas. A. Pridgen, John Gatlin, Eugene Morehead and Jas. A. Bryan. Mr. Bryan declined.
The meeting adjourned to 10 o'clock tomorrow. NUNN.

GATHERING AT MOREHEAD.

MOREHEAD CITY, June 25, 1885.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the A. & N. R. B. Co. brings the usual crowd of visitors, and being the time of the opening of the summer season, pleasure seekers are coming in on every train. The outlook is promising for a very successful season with the hotels and boarding houses. The Atlantic is sustaining the reputation so well earned last season, and no more delightful place could be asked for to spend the summer months than this admirably managed house.
The centre of interest today is the STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.
Will the old Directors attempt to break up the meeting by keeping out stock enough to leave it without a quorum, or will they deny the right of the Governor to appoint the Directors and try to hold over, are among the questions discussed and commented upon; a special train, however, arriving at 11:30 bringing the Directors, satisfied the curious that a meeting would be held. Who will fall heir to the place soon to be vacated by that old hero Capt. John A. Richardson is also an important question to many. The Captain has so many friends that he is unwilling to make a will and divide the estate, so does not recommend a successor.
THE NEW DIRECTORS ARE
Col. Paul Faison and W. C. Stronach, of Raleigh; Dr. W. H. Cobb, of Goldsboro; Jno. F. Wooten, Esq., and Mr. Dempsey Wood, of Lenoir; Washington Bryan, Esq., and Mr. C. E. Foy, of Craven; and W. S. Chadwick, of Carteret. T. B. Womack, of Chatham, is appointed State's proxy.
There is some growling in certain quarters about these appointments. Pamlico doubtless thinks she has been badly treated, being a large stockholder and having no representative on the board, while Wake, not a stockholder, has two, and Wayne, not a stockholder, has one; and it is thought, too, that the Governor could have selected a State's proxy from somewhere along the line of the road instead of going over into Chatham and selecting the man that figured conspicuously in arranging the new judicial districts to the great inconvenience and dissatisfaction of the people of Craven and against their earnest protest. It can be said, however, in defense of the Governor's action that the board of directors and proxy appointed by him, are to represent the State's interest and that he can, consistently with his duty, take these from any portion of the State without prejudice to any county or private stockholder. But whatever criticism may be offered in regard to the locality from which these have been taken, it must be conceded that the Governor has selected a board of directors with such business qualifications that make them eminently fit to manage the affairs of the road, and in Mr. Womack of Chatham the State's interest will be ably and honestly represented in the stockholders' meetings.

THE LEASE QUESTION.

It is now pretty well settled that no proposition for lease will be offered at this meeting. The reason given for this is that the Craven county injunction suits, and the circulation of rumors that the Governor had already bargained with the W. & W., induced him, the Governor, to ask that corporation to withdraw their bid. Contradictory to this rumor, Captain Jos. J. Davis, a man eminently conservative in his views, and of unquestioned honor and integrity, tells us that the Governor has made no bargain, has not intimated that he would accept any particular proposition, but wishes the State to be in a position, he thinks, the private stockholders ought to be, to consider any proposition that might be offered and accepted if a favorable one is offered. He further says that the Governor earnestly desires to make such a disposition of the property as will, first, rebound to the interest of the stockholders; and second, build up and develop the section through which it runs. This is the position the Journal has held since the adjournment of the General Assembly.

A Clean Sweep.

Whether Mr. Cleveland leans to the clean sweep theory or not, it is an acknowledged fact that the stockholders' train to Morehead each year does. The streets here yesterday had much of the Sunday air about them after that had passed down. Over two car loads of our citizens having obeyed the call of the conductor when he sounded "all aboard for Morehead."

The Prodigal Son.

The story of the prodigal son was right well illustrated in the injunction arguments on Wednesday. The prodigals were penitent and wished to return and share once more the paternal roof upon the basis of a fair representation with the other children. But plaintiff, like the other son in the parable said no, he has sinned and sin must be punished; he must not have any representation, because of his wrongs. But his Honor, like the forgiving father, took the penitents back to the fold, and while he did not throw his arms around him, bringing forth the finest robes, nor order the fatted calf to be slain, did bring out the ring, and, leaving the line of the parable, instead of placing it on the hand as an emblem of paternal favor, adopted a more homely simile and ordered it put in his nose, as a reminder of the past, and a standing admonition that he must root no more.

Personal.

Freeman Ernul, Esq., was in the city yesterday, and says the crops in his section are looking right well; he has kept the grass out of his.
Wm. B. Rodman, Esq., a young attorney of Washington, N. C., was in the city and present at the argument before Judge Phillips on Wednesday. He seemed to pay strict attention to the proceedings, as did the younger members of our own bar, Guion, Pelletier, Tuil, Lehman and Clark, catching ideas, no doubt.
Mr. O. S. Marks and children left yesterday morning on the train for New York.
Mr. Edward Pierce, agent of the steamer Elm City, left yesterday on the steamer Goldboro for a short visit to his relatives at Providence, R. I.
Misses Olivia B. and Fannie B. Waters, of Wilson, are visiting relatives in the city.

The Democratic axe swings slowly but it swings exceeding sure. Lieut. E. C. Clayton, Inspector of Life Saving Service for this (6th) district, was ordered by the department and went down to Roanoke Island yesterday to relieve of his office and take charge of its duties until a successor shall be appointed, Mr. Joseph W. Etheridge, Superintendent of the Life Saving Service of this district.—E. City Economist.

Phunny Phun.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Will you please insert the following and let me do the laughing? F. X.
During the reign of Mayor Moore it has rained more than it has in several days or more. More rain; more a-rest; Mayor Moore likes it best. Well a-pun my word! Yes but rain is good for the meadows down by the sea, you see—more'n a-pun by me soul. But meadows you know draws the rein when not by the sea. Do ye see?

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF JOHN T. WALSH, M.D. Edited by a member of the family.
A book of the above title is now in press and expected to be out about the 15th of September. It will contain over 200 pages and be sold at one dollar per copy.
Dr. Walsh was for a number of years a citizen of New Berne and a large portion of his life has been spent in the neighboring counties and his book will no doubt be interesting to readers in this section for that reason, aside from the fact that it will give the inside view of an active life devoted to a holy calling, and of much more than the usual length attained in our day.
A notice in Walsh's Living Age says: "Send in your subscriptions by mail, if no agent calls on you." The book will contain his portrait. His address is Kinston, N. C.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Wilmington Star: Mr. W. L. Formy-dual, writing from Ash P. O., Brunswick county, says the heaviest rain ever known, accompanied by terrific thunder and lightning, visited that section. It commenced raining at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and continued for four hours. The low lands are all flooded, and it is feared that the crops are much injured.
Raleigh News and Observer: General delivery clerk Barbee, at the post office, has simplified matters, saved himself much work and trouble by taking the addresses of callers for mail, and turning over their names and street numbers to the letter-carriers. People who used to call at the office two, three or four times each day for mail, and often get nothing will now have their mail delivered if anybody ever drops them a line.
Greenville Standard: On last Thursday morning a colored woman who lives on the farm of Mr. Theophilus Phillips, in Farmville township, was pouring kerosene oil on the fire to quicken it, an explosion occurred. In an instant the woman was enveloped in a mass of flames and it is said the injuries sustained are necessarily fatal. It seems if the many accidents that have occurred from the careless handling of kerosene oil would learn people to be more careful with it.
Wilmington Review: A sailor named Ole Sorensen, belonging to the Norwegian barque Inesula Capri, Capt. Danielsen, now lying at Sprunt's wharf, was drowned this morning under the following circumstances: He had been at work in one of the vessel's boats, and had started to get upon the wharf to go on board the barque for his breakfast, when a plank gave way from under him and he was precipitated into the water. He sunk immediately and did not rise again until his body was recovered about half an hour afterwards, when life was found to be extinct. He was about 25 years of age, was unmarried and had the credit of being an excellent sailor.

CLIPPINGS.

Three chromos, a bust of Longfellow, and a set of oil painting legally constitute an "art parlor" in St. Louis, according to the decision of a local Judge.
The redwood posts of a fence erected in Napa, Cal., thirty-two years ago were recently removed, and found in as good condition as when first put into the ground.
Prof. Burdon Sanderson, one of the ablest of English physicians, said, in a recent lecture on cholera, that if the disease intended to attack London this year it would long ago have been on the march.
A lad of seventeen, who was with the Egyptian army under Hicks Pasha, was an eye-witness of his death, and gives this account: "Hicks Pasha and the very few English officers left with him, seeing all hope of restoring order gone, spared their horses and sprang out of the confused mass of wounded, dead, and dying. These officers fired their revolvers, clearing a space for themselves. All the time the ammunition was expended. They killed many. They had not clear outside. They then took to their swords and fought till they fell. Hicks Pasha alone remained. He was a terror to the Arabs. They said he never struck a man with his sword without killing him. They called him Abou Derris Dougal, the heavy armed (or thick or brawny). He kept them all at bay, but he was struck on the wrist with a sword and dropped his own. He then fell."

Malarial Poison.
The drouth in Southwest Georgia last spring dried up the wells, and we were compelled to use water from the creek on the plantation. The result was that all were troubled with chills and fever. I carried with me several bottles of Swift's Specific, and as long as I took it I had perfect health. As soon as I ceased taking it, I like the rest, was afflicted with chills. When I resumed its use, I was all right again. We have used it in our family as an antidote for malarial poison for two or three years, and have never known it to fail in a single instance. W. C. FURLOW, Sumter Co., Ga., Sept. 11, 1884.

A Cripple Restored.

Some two years ago I received a boy (Lona White) into the Orphans' Home, near Macon, Ga. He was one of the poorest creatures I have ever seen—noting but skin and bone—crippled and deformed by Scrofula, which had attended him from his birth. About eighteen months ago I commenced giving him Swift's Specific. After several bottles had been taken and no visible results to be seen, I began to despair, but continued the medicine. At last signs of improvement became apparent, and from that date to the present there has been constant improvement of both mind and body. He is now about fourteen years old, and is one of the brightest boys I have ever seen. I honestly believe that he will ultimately outgrow the effects of this loathsome disease under the influence of Swift's Specific. The two cases of erysipelas which were treated some two years ago with S. S. S. show no symptoms of return of the disease. L. B. PAYNE, Sup't Orphans' Home, So. Ga. Conf. Macon, Ga., Nov. 1, 1884. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. The Swift Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga. For sale in New Berne at HANCOCK BROS.
