NO. 78.

LOCAL NEWS.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

WANTED—A good shoe maker. Apply to J. McSorley, near corner of Middle and Pollock Sts., New Berne, N. C. July 1st.

Last day of June.
Thermometer in the JOURNAL office yesterday at 3 p. m. 86°.

R. P. Williams offers 125,000 brick for sale, and is still making. See ad.

Mr. H. B. Duffy gives notice that he wants to make room for his fall and winter stock. Read his advertisement and see what he offers.

Plums are in abundance. Rev. S. H. Hunter, of James City, brought us in a very fine sample Saturday night, for which he has our thanks.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of New Berne Academy will be held at the office of the President this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Revising Tax List.

Mr. James A. Bryan, chairman of the board of county commissioners, gives notice that the commissioners will meet on the first Monday in July, instead of on the second Monday in August as heretofore, to revise the tax list.

At Morehead City.

A band of music, consisting of seven pieces from Columbia, Ga., passed down to Morehead City a few nights ago. It is said that it will furnish the best music ever given at Morehead. The crowd is rapidly increasing at the Atlantic Hotel, and for the next two months it will be the place for enjoyment.

Change of Schedule.

On and after July 1st a slight change will be made in the schedules of the passenger, mail and freight trains on the A. & N. C. railroad. The mail train going west will leave New Berne at 9:12 a. m., going east, will leave New Berne at 8:04 p. m. The freight train going east will leave New Berne at 5:15 a. m.

The First Blossom.

Mr. Willie Kirkman, near Maple Cypress in this county, sends us the first cotton blossom of the season. It is from a five acre patch which he says will average knee high, and is the result of home-made manure.

Mr. J. H. Stevenson sends us in one from Lenoir, which opened on the 27th, the first we have heard of from that county.

Fast Driving.

Acting Mayor J. W. Moore had before his court yesterday E. H. Meadows, E. W. Smallwood and J. H. Hackburn for fast driving. They were fined $1.00 each and cost. This was a pretty good representation at one meeting from the "fasters." They want to make these shilled checks pay for themselves.

Another case of disorderly conduct was before the court which added $3.00 and cost to the city funds.

A New Berne Boy Abroad.

At the Webster Scientific and Literary Institute at Norfolk, Va., we are gratified to see that Master James C. Kishan received a diploma of graduation in arithmetic, a certificate of distinction in various studies, testimonial with a prize for general proficiency and good conduct, and special credit in surveying. He is son of our former townsmen, T. J. Latham, Esq., and first saw the light in this city, his success is the more pleasing to us for these reasons.

The Saturday Night Trains.

Trains on the A. & N. C. R. R. for the convenience of persons of this city and vicinity, will leave for Morehead at 10:15 p. m. every Saturday and return on Monday in advance of the regular mail train. Reduced rates will be accorded to persons on the road and at the hotels to persons who take these trips. This arrangement will afford business men, clerks, and persons whose employment would prevent their taking the regular train earlier in the evening, an opportunity of visiting the sea side without loss of time.

A Good Director.

One of the new directors on the part of the State in the A. & N. C. R. R. bids fair to be very serviceable to that corporation. On the way up from the stockholders' meeting at Morehead, at the first wood station, he thinking the force rather slow or weak leaped from the car and dashed ahead to the tune of "The Good Bye." Whether he proposes to lead head in this way or not we do not know, but the example is a good one. We do not see the necessity of extra help, as it appears twice already in this item.

The Discussion at Morehead City.

Your report of the speeches at Morehead City don't show how Mr. Simmons stood on the lease," said one of our friends and fellow-citizens yesterday. No it does not show for the reason that we were compelled to cut short our report of his speech. After our report of the speeches of Messrs. Bryan and Womack had been put in type we were compelled to eliminate a portion of our report of the speech of Mr. Simmons. We give herewith that portion of Mr. Simmons' remarks which we had to omit on Saturday night for want of space.

On the subject of lease Mr. Simmons agreed with the Governor and he believed that nine-tenths of the people in this section were in accord with him. He showed that the private stockholders had repeatedly voted for it; in fact, there never had been a proposition or a batch of propositions before the stockholders' meeting but they accepted some one of them, and at the last meeting, when there was no proposition to lease, a resolution declaring that the road ought not to be leased was voted down by a large majority. In consideration of these facts he did not see how Mr. Bryan could be so frightened about the Governor's favoring a lease when he (Mr. Bryan) had always voted and advocated the same thing. In defense of Mr. Womack, in regard to the judicial district bill which had been incidentally brought into the discussion, he would state that he was one of the committee sent to Raleigh to look after the matter, and he knew that Mr. Womack favored Craven being put in a Democratic district, but the committee arrived at Raleigh too late to effect a change in the bill. (Here Mr. Busbee arose and stated that during the session of the General Assembly and when the question of forming the new judicial districts was being discussed, a communication appeared in the News and Observer proposing a plan for redistricting which placed Craven in the Democratic district; this communication was written by Mr. T. B. Womack.)

These are the points in Mr. Simmons' speech that we omitted in Sunday's issue for lack of space. We intended at the time to make a note in today's issue in regard to the Judicial District matter, as an act of simple justice to Mr. Womack, and as some seem not to understand Mr. Simmons' position in regard to the lease we publish both the items as they were originally intended to be published.

In justice to Mr. Bryan we will state that he was willing and anxious to explain his position in regard to leasing. He had favored it heretofore, but now there was a change in the causes and motives which prompt certain parties to desire a lease, and for this reason he could consistently oppose it. We regret that lack of space forbids our giving the speeches fuller. They were all good, and we thought the speech of Mr. Simmons very graceful and timely, coming as he did to the relief of his successor in office.

Injunction Denied.

In the case of T. H. Mallison and others against the A. & N. C. Railroad Company and others before Judge Phillips, asking that the company be restrained from leasing their road, the Judge being of the opinion that the company has the right and power to lease its road refuses to grant the restraining order or an order to show cause.

Personal.

Lieut. David H. Jarvis, of the U. S. revenue marine service, arrived last night and will relieve Lieut. Gooding on the cutter Stevens.
Dr. Charles Duffy's family left for Morehead City last night.
Dr. Wm. Pell Ballance and family left for Morehead City last night.
Capt. Alex. Miller's family are at Beaufort.
Mr. Joe W. Watson has returned from Baltimore.

Was It a Mistake?

The Washington correspondents of the Charlotte Observer and the Goldsboro Messenger, in communications to these papers, state that "Carraway, D. R. Walker, of Wilson, is in Washington."
Capt. Carraway, in a card to the News and Observer, denies this bit of news in the following words:

SATURDAY, June 30, 1885.

My attention has been called to an item in the Goldsboro Messenger's Washington letter, in which the writer (H.) states that "Carraway, D. R. Walker, of Wilson, is in Washington."
Now, this is what I have to say: I am a bona fide citizen of Lenoir county, reared and born in said county, and am proud of her. And if any one is fooling around in Washington seeking an office under my non de plume or name, hailing from Wilson or elsewhere, I hereby pronounce the same a fraudulent swindler. I have not been in Washington since December, 1880.

WM. W. CARRAWAY,
Of Lenoir county.
The only "D. R. Walker," of the News-Observer, Raleigh, N. C.

If you have a bad cold, Sina's Syrup of the will cure you. Only 5c. For sale by R. N. DUFFY.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Letter of an Old New Bernian.

BALTIMORE, June 26th.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—I have read with regret articles in your paper opposing the spirit and methods of the reform which you term "civil service nonsense." Some of your readers see no journal but yours, and may not be aware that this movement is led by many of the most disinterested patriots in the country. Nothing is plainer to a close observer of political events, than the absolute necessity of entirely removing the subordinate Federal offices from the arena of politics. The spoils system has so corrupted voters that in many places an election is a mere ignoble scramble for office, and men are chosen to responsible positions with no reference to their fitness, but because they are pledged to reward the party workers. It is as completely a system of bribery as if dollars were openly given for votes. And yet you prophesy that if the President do not make a thorough distribution of government offices among the members of the victorious party, "another Democratic campaign will be a quiet affair." What a commentary on the motives of voters! Patriotism is not to influence us; a desire for good government will be no incentive to action; the preference of one political creed to another will not bring us to the polls; unless we know that, in the event of success, every petty officeholder is to be of our own party. Public office is a public trust, and not a reward for partisan zeal; there is no more reason why a postmaster or Federal clerk should be a Democrat or Republican, than that we should inquire into the politics of a steamboat captain or a bank teller.

I was interested in examining the civil service in different countries of Europe, especially in Switzerland, which is a Federal Republic like ours. The elections there disturb no faithful officers, and the result is that none of them are partisans; the phrase "Democratic postmaster" would seem to them as much out of place as Democratic bookseller or fishmonger. They have, too, the strongest motive for good conduct, knowing that nothing but dereliction of duty will deprive them of their posts; while the government on the other hand secures excellent servants for a tithe of what we pay; because a man will accept a very small salary, if it be permanent, and he have the hope of promotion for ability and fidelity.

All offices of a political character will naturally be assigned to friends of the administration, and these changes President Cleveland is making as rapidly as possible. Wherever his method has been departed from, and the old party system followed, misfortune has resulted; some of Secretary Manning's appointments are scandalous. In the South many changes will be necessary, as for many years her Federal offices have been given to unscrupulous politicians, for the very reason that they were such. Every Southerner knows what a desperate struggle it has cost to resist this corrupt influence, and to restore the control of State affairs to men of intelligence and property. In this battle we laid aside personal and party considerations: Shall we now divide in a quarrel for places? Yet as long as office and patronage are regarded as a reward of victory, any party is in danger of dissension and degeneracy.

This question is more vital to the Southern States than to other parts of the Union; any mistake that they may make will inevitably restore the Republicans to power in 1888, and then may return some of the dark days which we trust we have left behind. It cannot be too often repeated that Cleveland owes his election to the Independents, who hold the balance of power in several Northern States, and are a rapidly growing class in the large cities. They are men of character and culture, who acknowledge no party allegiance, but vote in whatever way seems best for the interests of the country. They supported Cleveland distinctly on the ground that he is a thorough Civil Service Reformer, and they still uphold him for the same reason. Let these men believe that the Democratic party is determined that all spoils shall belong to the victor, and they will surely elect a Republican the next President; for it is not supposable that that party can again be so foolish as to bring forward a candidate as vulnerable as Blaine. If such a catastrophe come, we are responsible for it, and it is most unwise now to put a weapon into the enemy's hand, and enable him to say four years hence, "we shall do just as you have done, fill all offices with our partisans."

Newborn especially ought to comprehend the advantage of putting business matters on a purely business basis. Does any one doubt that the Atlantic and N. C. Railroad would be in a more prosperous condition, and party politics never entered into or controlled its management?

Most of the Federal offices are in their operation as completely affairs of business and finance as is a railroad, and nothing should be required of the incumbents but honesty and fidelity.

Truly yours,
EDW. GRAHAM DAVES.

Swansboro Items.

We have the swiftest saw reported last week, and will send it to the JOURNAL soon.

Our grub worm grew to about 8 inches high and has stopped growing a little, but we keep watching it and will report again.

Mr. Phil. Koone has shipped about 300 barrels of Irish potatoes from one acre of ground and has plenty more to get yet.

Schooner Gold Leaf is waiting for a load and has one more ready will perhaps load for New Berne next week. Bohr, Ezra, also waiting for a load. She will load for G. W. Smith with spirits and rosin bound for New York, we understand.

James Bloodgood, deceased, dropped a gun in the river, near here about nine years ago. Last week Capt. Nic. Moore, in fishing, caught the gun, brought it to the surface all right. The gun was loaded when lost, and fired clear, we heard, after putting on new caps. Almost equal to Rip Van Winkle of old.

Mrs. Sarah F. Marshall, wife of John H. Marshall, died at her home, of consumption, a few days ago, aged 31 years. She was a strict member of the M. E. Church and died in that belief, leaving an affectionate husband, one child, and numerous friends and relatives to mourn her death.

Crops looking well; some are about done showing their corn. Had considerable rain here, but not enough to injure the crops, but off a few miles from here several parties report drowned crops. Mr. C. J. Focus and Mr. J. F. Malde, from Jones county, were in town Saturday and report drowned almost with them.

Mr. Malde met with a severe accident last Sunday which caused him the loss of his right forefinger. He was leading his young horse to water, we believe, when the colt took fright and jumped and jerked Mr. M. down, with a line around his finger, breaking the bone. Mr. M. came here, accompanied by Mr. Focus, to see Dr. Moffett, whereupon Dr. M. and Dr. Blount amputated the finger. Mr. Malde was doing very well when he left here.

Everybody around here are sweet now on honey; about 15 or 20 people in this neighborhood took honey Saturday night. Dns. Rodgers took 15 gums, Arch. Green 12 gums, Jim Hall, Balam Hawkins and Bill Hawkins from 2 to 10 gums, and so on. We went to a bee taking Saturday night, accompanied by J. A. Pittman, West Mossy, Bill Hawkins, Ham Heady and others, and the way Bill, John and West on honey comb and fought mosquitoes was fun for lovers of fun. J. A. Freshwaters was the place we went to; he took 7 or 8 gums, and although they were pretty good, Mr. F. had to give them a little honey for the children.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The President today appointed Edward L. Hedden, to be collector of customs at the port of New York; Hans B. Bostick, surveyor of customs at New York; and Silas W. Burt, naval officer of customs at New York.

The President today suspended Joseph G. Brothman, of Illinois, an director of the mine and appointed James B. Kimball, of Pennsylvania, in his stead. The change will take effect July 1st.

Burchard said today, in regard to his suspension, that he preferred that the change should be made in that way, rather than to resign in the face of charges of inefficiency and of mismanagement, which had been made against him by personal enemies and which have been published in several newspapers. He did not dispute the President's right to remove him, but had some little curiosity to see the reasons therefor, which the President would give to the Senate. His relations with Secretary Manning had always been of the most pleasant character, and he regretted that a contrary impression had arisen since his removal had been spoken of.

Fish Sentenced.

NEW YORK, June 27.—James H. Fall, late president of the Marine National Bank, was sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Auburn prison this morning by Judge Benedict, in the United States court.

Startling Case.

Mr. R. B. Sauter, of Athens, Ga., says: "B. B. B. has cured me an ulcer which has resisted all other treatment for 50 years."

J. M. Ellis, of Atlanta, was cured of a stubborn case of Piles of 20 years standing by the use of B. B. B.

An Editor.
I have been almost entirely cured of nasal catarrh of several years standing, by three bottles of B. B. B. I have tried many other remedies, but none equal B. B. B. It is a quick cure, while others are slow.
