St. John's Lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M. meets tonight.

Several families have passed down to Morehead City during the week.

The steamer Stout arrived from Baltimore last night with a cargo of general merchandise.

The iron railing is being put on the new court house and adds much to the appearance of the building.

The county commissioners will be in session next Monday, July 13th, for the purpose of revising the tax list.

The Shenandoah made regular trip yesterday, taking out Irish potatoes, cucumbers and other vegetables.

A barrel of honey was brought in from Onslow county Tuesday by Mr. Wm. Basden and sold for forty cents per gallon.

A gardener in the city says the army bug has appeared and is playing the wild with garden truck. He is anxious for a remedy for them.

The mail carrier from Pamlico brought up the first cotton blossom from that county yesterday evening. He was unable to give us the farmer's name who grew it.

The steamer Elm City arrived from Hyde county yesterday morning, bringing a good number of passengers and a good freight. She left for the outward trip on schedule time.

The Belles Letters will hereafter be issued from Raleigh and published semi-monthly. This excellent work is devoted entirely to literature and worthy the household of every reader.

Our friend J. V. Williams says Goldsboro is certainly a progressive town; he saw while attending the celebration there last Saturday a bar room on wheels and drinks were dispensed while the procession moved.

The ginger ale made by our townsman James Redmond is pronounced by competent judges to be superior to the best imported, and is one of the best drinks for invalids and weakened constitutions in use. Families once trying it are sure to continue its use.

The county commissioners at their meeting yesterday refused to allow the account of Sheriff Hahn for expenses incurred in taking Randall Nelson to Warren county before Judge Graves upon a writ of habeas corpus. The sheriff will take steps to obtain a mandamus to compel them to pay it.

The speech of our townsman, John S. Long, Esq., at Goldsboro is spoken of in high terms by those who have read it. We intended to read it with a view of making some extracts, but some newspaper borrower, of whom we are sorry to say, there are many in New Berne, took, without leave, our copy of the Messenger containing it. We hope, however, to get another whack at it.

Mr. B. Shimek, C. E., of Iowa City, Iowa, was in the city yesterday and left for Beaufort in the evening, where he goes for the purpose of making scientific and geological researches which he has been engaged in along the coast in the interest of the State University of the above named place. He spoke of "Allen's Forty Bessons in Double Entry Book-Keeping" having found its way into the Iowa and merits much praise.

Maj. Hearse, in his communication in today's issue, gives some strong arguments in favor of Greene county's subscribing to the Goldsboro, Snow Hill and Greenville Railroad. We agree with him in many points, but there is one on which we cannot agree, with him, and that is the hope held out that money put in the road will pay, as an investment. Of course it will pay Greene county to give largely to the building of the road, but as to its paying a dividend on the investment it is useless to deceive the people by holding out any such idea.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Green and Mrs. E. R. Page, of Trenton, are at the Gaston Hotel.

Mr. Winfield Chadwick, of Beaufort, was in the city yesterday.

The following dry goods merchants have agreed to close their stores at 10 o'clock every evening except Saturday until September 1st. Messrs. O. Martin, A. M. Baker, Messrs. J. J. Jones, Wm. Saiton, M. H. Nelson, M. P. Patterson, H. B. Shook, S. B. Nixon and M. P. ...

A Wonderful Fourth of July Oration.

We published last week, from the New York Christian Advocate, the most extraordinary Fourth of July oration, in some aspects, that our hundred and nine years of history, since it began to be observed, has produced. Its author is Daniel Webster. When he was twenty years of age he taught school at Fryeburg, in Maine. The citizens of the town invited him to deliver the oration, which he did, in an ancient church. In his autobiography Mr. Webster speaks of this oration as unpublished. It was delivered on the Fourth of July, 1802, and slept in oblivion for eighty years. At the time of its delivery it produced a great excitement, and an enthusiastic farmer who read it said that "Daniel" might some day attain even the lofty position of "Governor of New Hampshire."

Speaking of this manuscript, the Christian Advocate says:

"This oration was discovered in a very romantic way. A large mass of Webster's private papers, including the manuscript of this oration, found its way into an old junk-shop at 252 Federal street, Boston, and there rescued from destruction by the proprietor, John Shea, whose keen eye fortunately happened to catch the name of Webster on one of the papers. From Mr. Shea the manuscript passed into the hands of a well-known Boston lawyer, and is now in charge of A. F. Lewis, of Fryeburg. It has been asserted that for beauty of style, profound thought, logical reasoning, and statesmanlike wisdom, the early history of the world's greatest orators may be challenged to produce anything which will bear comparison with this Fryeburg effort. Really, we think that this is not extravagant. We know that the Fryeburg Memorial, containing the oration and other facts, was published on the occasion of the Webster Centennial, we determined to present the oration to our readers. It would have appeared last year had not the editor been in Europe.

"Forty-eight years and thirteen days afterward, namely, on July 17, 1850, Daniel Webster, having made a place for himself by his transcendent abilities which no man has ever yet risen up to dispute, stood up in the Senate of the United States to deliver his last speech, and we consider it most remarkable that he closed that last speech with the peroration of this address, delivered by him when a boy of 20 years of age in the old church in Fryeburg.

"Religion, morality, patriotism, genius, expressed in a style pure and beautiful, were all at the command of this youth of twenty years."

The Body Not Found.
We are informed that the report of the finding of the body of the murdered woman, Betsey Branch, was premature as it has not been found. Her clothes and shoes which she was taking with her to New Berne, were found in a swamp which probably gave rise to the story which reached us and was published yesterday. Careful searches have been made but with no results further than to increase the mystery of the concealment, by the perpetrator of the horrible crime.

The affair occurred in Carteret county and not in Craven as we had supposed; it being in the new territory assigned to Carteret by a recent act of the Legislature, and Petteway was awaiting conveyance to Beaufort when he made his escape from the guards.

Lake Landing Canal.
Mr. W. P. Burrus, who was on a trip to Hyde county recently, reports that the work on Lake Landing Canal is progressing finely. The Elm City on her last trip went within a few yards of the bank at the mouth of the canal. An additional dredge will be put on in a few days and soon the canal will be ready for boats. The Elm City must have a mail contract when this is done, and then the long talked of steam navigation between New Berne and Hyde county will become a fixed fact.

Mr. Burrus also states that the opening of the canal has been worth thousands of dollars to the farmers in draining their lands.

Settlement of Estate.
Jack Dunn, a colored boy about 19 years old, living on Mr. Freeman Ernal's farm about nine miles from the city, while trying to swing a log was thrown some distance by the tongue of the carriage, and falling on a stump, the sharp point penetrated his right side and let out his entrails. Dr. Charles Duffy attended him and reported his condition as critical.

List of Letters.
Remaining in the Postoffice at New Berne, Craven county, N. C., July 4, 1885.

Anderson, Eva J.; Allison, Annie; Barnes, Mrs. Syntha; Bucka, Mrs. Puss; Bright, W. B.; Brimley, William; Dickins, Jno.; Forbes, Jesse; Grimes, Alexander; Hart, Wm. H.; Harris, Geo. & Co.; Hall, William; McCaffay, Miss Mary; Nelson, Mrs. Andy; Samwell, M. W. H.; Smith, Peter; Smith, Wm. P.; Simmons, Benj. H.; Simpson, Jere; Sponser, Theo. W.; Roberts, Stephen; Spiers, Willie T.; Thompson, Frank; Thomas, James; Thompson, John; Wood, Chas. H.; Willis, Harriet; Wilson, Sarah; Woodkin, Mary A. Persons calling for above letters, will say advertised, and give date of list.

Kinston Items.

Very little sickness in our section now.

The wheat of Lenoir has been harvested. Only an average yield.

It is fashionable now to make up parties for Seven Springs. A large party from here will go this week.

The election of cotton weighers comes off on the next Monday (Aug. 3d). There are many candidates in the field.

The corn crop of our county promises rich returns to our farmers. There seems to be a good acreage of that cereal this year.

The young widower who had advertised for "sealed proposals" till the 4th of July, has extended the time to September 1st.

There are four occupants of our new steel cells now. They have a cool, pleasant place during the heated term which is now on us.

We are indebted for our first taste of a luscious watermelon this season, to Mrs. Dr. J. T. Walsh. The melon grew in Florida but was eaten in North Carolina.

The county commissioners swore in the county board of education, on Monday, to-wit: Dr. H. D. Harper of Kinston, O. K. W. Howard, La Grange, and M. H. Wooten, Woodington.

An old crazy negro woman, who has been for several years a great nuisance in our town, by name, Clotia, was carried to Goldsboro on Monday and lodged in the insane asylum.

Mr. Jas. H. Rouse, who for several months past has been the efficient clerk of Mr. A. Slaughter, is now engaged in the gin-sharpening business. He begins work in Craven county this week.

A negro from La Grange was brought down on the freight train Tuesday in custody of Mr. Waters and lodged in the county jail. His offence was taking a hog and cow without owner's permission.

A lot of Kinston gents went off on a fishing excursion to Grindle creek, Tuesday. One of the party has promised two chubs and a jack to your reporter. Whether he will keep his promise, nous verrons.

Stonewall Items.
James W. Dawson had the first cotton bloom on the 2d inst. They are quite plentiful at this writing.

On my way to Vandemere a few days past I saw where General Green had carried the inner works of some of the farms and was in possession of the whole fort. Well, young farmers have to get initiated.

S. J. Lane and Will. Whitfield attended a picnic at Edwardsville on the 4th inst. and report a large crowd and a very pleasant time. Sid says the corn crops are pretty good but the cotton is like ours, quite small for the season.

At the residence of S. B. Lane the officiating J. P., Mr. Alex. Woodard and Mrs. Evaline Davenport were united for a double pull through this troublesome world. Well, there is nothing like good help in times of trouble.

The colored folks of this section had a picnic on the 4th and a Sunday school exhibition. The picnic was in C. H. Fowler's yard. The order of Good Samaritans had a turnout and procession. At night a lecture was given them by Rev. Andre Woodhall and if they will follow his advice their condition will surely be much benefited. It was truly commendable.

Pollockville Items.
Miss Willie Bell is visiting relatives in New Berne.

Mrs. Laura Foy has the finest cabbage of the season; it measures three feet across.

Misses Mamie Robinson and Mabel Grant, of Goldsboro, are visiting Miss Mattie Foy. We wish them a pleasant tour.

Our town was very lonely a few days ago, as quite a number of our young ladies and gentlemen were attending the commencing exercise of Prof. W. H. Rhodes' school.

Resolutions of Thanks.
At a special meeting of the Reliance Fire Company No. 1, held at their room on Wednesday evening July 1st, 1885, the following resolutions of thanks were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, At no time since the existence of our organization have we been more highly entertained, and our every want to complete our happiness anticipated, as we were by the Salamander Fire Company No. 1 of Washington, N. C., on our recent visit to their town. Also the honorable aidmen, represented by the honorable mayor who delivered the address of welcome which welcomed us to their town, and the good citizens generally, and especially those of the fairer sex, who did everything to add to our pleasures. The bouquets presented will not soon be forgotten. Now, therefore, as a pious expression of our feelings, be it

Resolved, That we will ever hold in grateful remembrance the kindness and hospitality at their hands.

Resolved, That our hearty thanks are tendered to them and we hereby extend to them an invitation to return our visit and we promise to receive you with open hearts and hands.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the captain of Salamander Fire company, also spread on the minutes of our company, and also a copy be sent to the New Berne Daily Journal with the request that they be published.

GOLDSBORO, SNOW HILL AND GREENVILLE RAILROAD.

A Line of Great Interior Development and Important Connections.

NEW BERNE, July 7, 1885.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Deprived, as they were, of direct railroad facilities by the failure of the A. & N. C. R. R. to penetrate the rich and populous county of Greene, the people of that county have addressed themselves to no wiser or better task since the "central route" first planned from Beaufort Harbor to Paint Hook, than the present effort in behalf of the Goldsboro, Snow Hill and Greenville Railroad.

It was most unfortunate for the A. & N. C. R. R. and for Greene county, that the road was not made to run through Snow Hill, thence to Kinston, as first projected, and after thirty years of inconvenience, deprivation and loss of the general benefits participated in by others, and neighboring portions of the State, it will be still more unfortunate for the people of Greene if they shall not now embrace the opportunity for securing the railroad connection from Goldsboro to Greenville.

It will open up the heart of the county to trade and travel, develop resources, create new and better markets, enhance the value of land, increase the products of the county, and give to producers the choice between stronger home markets, and the better markets of other portions of the State, and the markets of other States.

It will bring the people of central Greene within two hours of Goldsboro, with its active, bustling business, grand trunk lines of railway leading North, South and West, affording all the advantages and privileges common to this advanced age of rapid, busy progress.

It will bring them within two hours of good river navigation at Greenville, where they come in connection with cheap steamer transportation by the inland route for Norfolk, Baltimore, New York and all Northern ports.

It will place Greene county on a highway of commerce, causing business property to rise up along the route, villages and towns to grow, affording the people the great and innumerable social advantages derived from the modern facilities of intercourse and communication.

It will make Snow Hill, the county town, what Kinston is to Lenoir; it will improve Hookerton, proportionately, and create other centres of business in the county. Greene county will be progressive, prosperous, its people thrifty and contented, in proportion as it shall contain rising and prosperous towns and villages within its borders.

It will be the shortest and most direct route connecting the Albemarle and Pamlico waters with the Piedmont and Pee Dee regions of North and South Carolina, and the interior of Georgia, thus affording the best facilities for carrying to points of distribution the grain products of the "North counties," and the fish of the Albemarle waters.

It will place Washington within the same distance of Goldsboro as New Berne, with the advantages in favor of Washington as a point of concentration, owing to the shorter distance and smoother seas from any point on the Pamlico Sound, thus giving to the Goldsboro, Snow Hill and Greenville Railroad, terminating at Washington, advantages superior to those of the A. & N. C. R. R. at New Berne, enabling the Greenville and Snow Hill route to compete for business going by the route of inland navigation.

From its initial point at Goldsboro to a terminus at Washington every mile is through rich and productive sections, insuring a local business, from the counties of Wayne, Greene, Pitt and Beaufort, four banner farming counties of the State, more than ample to sustain a railroad above the paying point. Therefore, investment in the Goldsboro, Snow Hill and Greenville Railroad is perfectly safe and secure, and neither corporations, counties nor individuals need hesitate about investing therein; and having once reached Greenville, they may be practically in possession of the advantages of a terminus at Washington, for the twenty miles of river navigation is good the year round.

The resulting increase in property values, the property which the road itself must have in the county for taxation, and the saving in the cost of transportation will, in the aggregate, amount many times more to the people, as a whole, than the tax and subscription for building the road across this county.

Railroad benefits are too well understood now by the people at large to require argument or elaboration; nor are the people of one section to be deterred from assisting in such enterprises, because of the unwise expenditure of money and exceptional expenditures.

While the people of Craven county are bearing a weighty burden in consequence of the county's subscription to the A. & N. C. R. R., Lenoir is not to be lost sight of in the advantages she has reaped from the same, recompensing her many fold. Carteret is also a conspicuous example of the benefits of railroad communication; while Craven, though she has not wisely and prudently directed her affairs regarding the road, would be in a deplorable condition without it.

The A. & N. C. R. R. in its relations with Craven county does not afford an example for fair presentation. The county debt, if fairly managed, would not now be burdensome, while the railroad could and should have been a source of profit to all its stockholders.

The Goldsboro, Snow Hill and Greenville Railroad, if built, will undoubtedly extend on to Washington, a distance of twenty miles, where it will come in connection with the Jamesville and Washington Railroad, soon to become part of an unbroken line of railroad from Norfolk to New Berne, and finally extended to Wilmington.

Such a line of railway across the State, intermediate between the line of the W. & W. R. R. and the coast, was early foreshadowed by the great internal improvement men of the State; it is now absolutely demanded, and the forces have been at work for some time creating it.

The people of Wayne, Greene and Pitt are wise to set about this early for connecting themselves and their sections with this coast system of rail and water transportation, and the interior systems of the State, alike for the public benefits and convenience and private profit in the enterprise.

Yours truly, Wm. A. HEARNE.

Swansboro Items.

We have so much news this week that we can't get it all together so as to make good sense for we are all—except myself, and we are included. Our Fourth of July is progressing finely and our fleas are doing the same. A big crowd in town. Our worthy Superior Court clerk is here among the rest of the visitors, enjoying himself on fine fish and clams. Gus says he loves hog-fish the best because they are named after Joe High—that means hog meat. Caleb Morton is in town and he loves fresh water fish because he is a dry man. Well, we are having a good time, and we will let you hear and know all about it next week. We can only tell about the entertainment Friday night and the July pole dance Saturday. The tragedy "Murder Will Out," and the farce "Betty Bobbitt," could not be excelled by any modern theatrical troupe. Miss Alice Russell and Miss Minnie Ward displayed that talent due only to those more worthy of fame, and Mr. Mallett, our school-teacher, well, he cannot be more than any one of a human form, but as an instructor, actor and teacher, he deserves more credit than he gets by long odds.

Schr. Gold Leaf left this week for New Berne with naval stores to A. R. Dennison. Schr. Etta, Martin Bloodgood, left last week for New York loaded with spirits and rosin for G. W. Smith. Schr. Packet, Joe. Bloodgood, is in port repairing. Schrs. Willie B. and May Queen are both busy filling truck and turpentine to Morehead City.

As I said, our fleas are biting nicely, and our flea man is all right and still feeds his hogs in his house; he says fleas don't bite him. One lady actually beat the soles off her shoes in three days stamping fleas. This is a fact, as told by the lady herself.

Will send the saw of the big saw-fish to the JOURNAL by Capt. Ed. Hill next week, and the JOURNAL can send it to the Raleigh National exhibit if he wishes to.

Our grub-worm is dead; he only grew to about 6 1/2 inches. So many people handled it that it died, but it was a grub-worm tree just the same, and I have it here to show for itself.

Our crops are good, but we need rain very badly now to finish filling out the corn buds and cotton blooms. We have a few of these, of course.

We are ready to take summer visitors now. Come down and see us, and get a crab or cone.

The July-pole dance was a success. All who saw it pronounce it splendid.

To any body who has disease of throat or lungs, we will send proof that Pisco's Cure for Consumption has cured the same complaints in other cases. Address, E. T. HAZELTON, Warren, Pa.

if you have a bad cold, Sine's Syrup of Tar will cure you. Only 25c. For sale by R. N. DUFFY.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Humanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty we owe to suffering humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of Mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of Blood and Skin Diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons; he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, Mercury, Antimony, and Iodide of Potassium are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all POISON. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, and with it you will have Mercurial Rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. The Mercury seems to sink into the bones, and the Potash drives the Poison into the system, only to lurk there and attack the tender organs of the body, as the lungs, the throat, the nasal organs and the stomach. Hundreds of people have been made deaf, and a great many blind, by the use of Mercury and Potash. Beware of Mercury and Potash Mixtures gotten up in imitation of our Specific. A few grains of sugar of lead dropped into a glass of these imitations will cause the poisonous drug to fall to the bottom, and show the danger of using them. Swift's Specific is entirely vegetable, and is the best tonic for delicate ladies and children and old people in the world.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.
