The citizens of Trenton have organized a debating society with J. A. Smith, President. I understand that they had a spirited debate on Friday night last which every one present was highly delighted with.

Mr. F. McDaniel says he has growing in his cornfield a stalk of corn which after getting about 2 feet, branched off into two stalks; thrifty and vigorous and bids fair to yield at least a good ear of corn to each branch.

Provisions of every kind are exceedingly cheap at Trenton; corn sells at 50c, per bushel; bacon 10 to 13c. per pound; spring chickens 20 to 25c. per pair; eggs 8 to 10c. per dozen; fodder 60c. per cwt.; honey 25c. per gallon; vegetables nearly at the buyers' own prices.

We again say a few more just such.

The gentlemen chosen by the commissioners and magistrates to serve as the educational board, failed to qualify, except Mr. E. M. Foscue. Mr. Rhodes ex plained his reasons to the commission plained his reasons to the commissioners; said that his school demanded his whole attention. Dr. R. A. Whitaker said that he must decline to serve, though he regretted it very much. The commissioners then proceeded to elect their successors, and Benjamin Brock and Jas. B. Stanly were unanimously elected by the board.

Many years ago an old gentleman in Many years ago an old gentleman in the town of Trenton was relating to a crowd of listeners what great feats he had accomplished with his old gun "Sukey." "Why," says he, "I was up Crooked Run, (Page's mill stream now) and in the highest tree and in the very top sat a squirfel. I leveled Sukey at him and whispered to her to do her best. Sure enough she rolled him out, and," continued he, "I looked up 15 feet higher and there sat another squirrel, and to my surprise she rolled him out." When the old gentleman had finished telling of his remarkable shots and was looking around to find out what the When the old gentleman had finished telling of his remarkable shots and was looking around to find out what the crowd thought of it, Mr. H., a quiet old citizen, said he did not doubt his good shots, but he had a kind of curiosity to learn what his last squirrel was sitting on, if he was, as the gentleman related, 15 feet higher than the first, which was in the top of the tallest tree in the swamp. I am somewhat in the same condition concerning your Swansboro itemizer. I am a little curious to enquire of him about the item of that gun that was fished up from the briney waters near Swansboro after having layed there for 9 years fired immediately upon the application of a new cap. What I desire to learn is, has not this wonderful old gun which our hero succeeded in accomplishing such wonderful shots with been found at last, as no other gun could have accomplished such unheard-of feats except our old hero's old Sukey herself?

THE WILSON NORMAL SCHOOL.

When we left the Assembly at Black Mountain, July 1st, 1885, we thought, naturally, that we had had every advantage from a pedagogical stand-point, in the way of instruction in the theory and practice of teaching that experience and ability could give us (for, truly, we had "giants in those days" at the Chautauque), but we must say, with all sin-cerity, that in our humble opinion the work done here in the Normal School work done here in the Normal School is, by all odds, more practical and valuable than any we have seen anywhere, not excepting that at the Chautauqua. To what is the success of the Wilson Normal due? Mainly to its corps of instructors, which, for power and success in the several departments, cannot be excelled, if equalled in the South. We take the liberty of commenting, sometake the liberty of commenting, some-what at length, upon each member of the faculty, as we have seen him in ac-tual work. No one can fail to see the intense interest and enthusiasm of the superintendent, Prof. E. C. Branson. who for the past year has conducted the Wilson Graded Schools with such marked success. Supt. Branson is quite a young man, but we must say that we never knew before so old a head in so young a body. For power of expression and force of reasoning Mr. Branson has few equals. His work is of a very varied character—from the most simple explanations of the uses of apparatus for the primary classes, to the most profound problems of mind phenomena, he passes, easily and naturally, showing his thorough acquaintance with all the subjects embraced in the broad field of teaching. It is with inexpressible pleasure that we see this young man, a dear friend of our boyhood, climbing the hill of usefulness and success, thus demon-strating to our youth that it is not

An author of considerable prominence is Prof. A. P. Southwick, superintendent of city schools, Ellicott City, Md. Prof. Southwick has given us much valuable instruction in "Methodology,"

Physiology, and General History.
History and Literature have afforded us a rare literary feast under the splen-did catering of Dr. Henry E. Shepherd, president of Charleston College. We have never heard any one who had a more thorough control of the English language than Dr. Shepherd; in fact the unceasing flow of words, the rapid con-catenation of ideas, and the strict regard for style, was, oftentimes, completely bewildering.

Prof. Putnam, of Lima, N. Y., has wonderfully simplified Elecution, and given the teachers much valuable ormation in the matter of teaching this difficult subject in our common schools We have here an array of native talent that would do credit to any Stateyoung men and young women who are making themselves felt as an educational power in our good old State.

Prof. Price Thomas, so well and favorably known as superintendent of the Graded Schools at New Berne, has already won the esteem and confidence of the teachers in attendance, by his ge-niality of manner, and the happy and effective style of presenting the subjects assigned to him (Mathematics and English Grammar). Those of us who know Prof. Thomas are not surprised to hear that he is a success in Normal work, as well as in the school-room; for one possessing the powers and experience of Prof. Thomas could not be other than a success at anything which he under-

Reading and Geography by Prof. P. P. Claxton have received great light. Prof. Claxton is a young man of great individuality and power as a teacher, and has, to perfect himself in his profession, taken a course of training at the Johns-Hopkins University at Baltimore.

We have never seen Geography and the kindred subjects, Map Drawing, designing, moulding, as illustrative of the forms of continents, etc., so intelligently and beautifully taught as we have seen them here in the Wilson Normal, by Prof. Collier Cobb, of Wilson Graded School, whose name is familiar from his map of North Carolina, a work second to none, in point of accuracy of measurements and location of places. Some of the sweetest music that we have ever heard has been furnished by Miss Lily Gay, teacher of music in the Wilson Graded School. Miss Gay is a devoted student of music and a fine toacher.

Calisthenics is an important branch of knowledge, and recognizing this fact, the managers of the Normal here have secured the services of a most excellent instructor in this department, Miss Janie Ward, of Raleigh, a young lady of high culture, a teacher second to none in the South, as an instructor of calisthenics. The daily exercises given by this estimable lady are among the most enjoyable we features of the Normal work. We feel safe in saying that the Normal here is the most successful one that has ever been held in the State of North Carolina. We are not alone in this opinion, as the following extract from Major Bingham's address, delivered here, last wednesday, will show: That the large attendance upon all the sessions, morning, afternoon and evening, surprised him; and meant just this, that the best Normal work in the State is being done here in Wilson. The Wilmington Staris; quite outspoken in its praise of the work done here. If any one doubt the truth of what we say, let him come here next week, and he will be convinced. All the teaching here is eminently practical—we see the actual work done, as it should be, in the school room; the instructors, in every department, teach their respective subjects according to the latest and most approved methods, using plain and logical language for their demonstrations, and not covering up the principles of teaching by a multitude of theories as absure as they are useless. Several very instructive lectures have been delivered by Majors Bingham and Finger, Professors Bouthwick, Branson and Winston, Irs.

The BROS. devoted student of music and a fine

Pool and Shepherd; and others may be expected during the coming week. We cannot close this hastily written sketch without saying a word in praise of the town of Wilson. We think it is one of the most pleasant and sociable places in the State, and has as many pretty women in it as any town to its size anywhere. We, as a teacher, can say with perfect candor, that we have never spent a week of greater pleasure, and derived more real benefit from any other Nor-mal we have ever attended before this; and it is the opinion of all, who have seen the works, that too much praise cannot be given to Prof. Branson and his able corps of assistants for the success of the work and the great good accomplished.

OCEAN HOUSE, MOREHRAD CITY, & July 13, 1885. The last ten days of hot weather have told perceptibly on the amount of visit-ors at the hotels here; three or four families have engaged board for the season within the past week with Dr. Howerton, while the crowd at the Atlantic has swelled perceptibly, though there is still at both houses room for more. New Berne is well represented here, Mrs. Sophia Jones and Mrs. Mary Ann Moore with Dr. Duffy's children, and Mrs. Charles Hancock and little ones are at the Ocean House, which is also brightened by the presence of Miss Hatchy Harrison, but the plank walk between the hotels makes communication so easy that the young people of both houses are constantly together, while the sober-sides, who prefer the quiet of the Ocean House for a permanance, can take homeopathic doses of gaiety whenever so inclined by a trip to the Atlantic. I spent the morning there in company with many old acquaint-tances, both from home and abroad, and listened to the planning of an entertain ment in which the musical talent now here will be ably sustained by the dramatic; Mrs. Bessie Dewey, of Charlotte, was spoken of as the musical director and I believe Mr. Clement Bessie Dewey, of Manly will be the dramatic manager, assisted by an efficient corps of ladies in getting up some effective tableaux. I suppose due notice will be given of the time when the affair will come off; the proceeds are to go to purchasing a silver cup, to be the prize for the winner of a regatta which is in contemplation On Sunday there is always some re

On Sunday there is always some re ligious services; yesterday the Rev. Dr. Skinner of Raleigh preached twice, in the morning in the Baptist church, and in the evening in the ball-room of the "Atlantic," assisted by the Rev. Mr. Jackson, an Episcopal divine from Richmond, Va.. whom he called on for prayers. I have just returned from the ten-rin alley, where I went to witness a ten-pin alley, where I went to witness a game between these two Rev. gentlemen and Mr. Charles Bryan of New Berne. I bet on Dr. Skinner, but lost, as Charlie beat both divines. I could not help thinking, as I watched the game, how much better it would be, for both sides, if the clergy of all denominations would oftener meet with the young men in this genial way, and enter into their amusements and athletic games of skill with a zest which can only come from personal enjoyment in the exercise of brawn and muscle. I sadly missed one landmark in the absence of Dr. R. B. Haywood, of Raleigh, for so many years resident physician at the "Atlantic." Doubtless the sick peeple will be as well taken care of by his successor, Dr. James McKee, of Raleigh, but the well ones, particularly the young ladies, will long wish for the genial smile of "Doctor Dick," who was always ready for any fun but never in that fun forgot those who needed either his skill or his kindness. Would that be could be carried down to his "old stamping ground," and be revived by the sea breezes he so loved and the kindly attentions of the old friends who so love him.

Willacoochee

Is the name of a flourishing village in Coffee county, Georgia, on the line of the Brunswick and Albany railroad. Mr. D. E. Gaskin, a well known citizen of that village, writes under date of December 22d:

Soon after my marriage, about four years ago, my wife was stricken with some trouble peculiar to her sex, which broke down her general health. In this condition she was soon after attacked with Inflammatory Rheumatism of such a severe type that it made her a cripple. She was reduced in flesh to sixty-five pounds, and came very near losing her life. She was attended by three good life. She was attended by three good physicians who treated her with some benefit, but the swelling in her joints never left her. Last summer the kheumatism returned in a still more severe and painful form which seemed to defy the skill of all the doctors. She would almost go frantic with pain, and would lie and scream all day. A friend of mine, who is an engineer on the Brunswick & Albany Railroad, suggested that I should use Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), which I did. After she had taken one small bottle she was up and able to walk over the house, and after taking the six small bottles she is now able to do any kind of house work; the swelling has gone, all the pain has left her, and has gone, all the pain has left her, and she is in better health than she ever was. The treatment before using the Swift's Specific cost me between $350 to $400, and six bottles of S. S. S. cost me six dollars.

It is certainly the most wonderful medicine and the best blood purifier in the world. The proprietors should let the world know about it.

Nors.—The S. S. S. Company wish to caution purchasers in regard to the numerous imitations of their goods. Some carry the lie on the face, purporting to be vegatable remedies; when, in fact, they are really strong solutions of poisonous minerals—as Mercury, Potash etc. Be careful to get the genuine.
