North American Review.

The American nation has a double birthright-liberty and land. Its liber ty it has guarded jealously, but until very recent years it seems to have been indifferent to the loss of its landed estate and ignorant of the methods by which it has been diminished. A veteran legislator, the Hon. George W. Julian, who has given special attention to the acts disposing of our public lands, tells the story in brief in a contribution to the North American Review for August. In the same number five medical authorities discuss the question, "Can Cholera be Averted?" Felix L. Oswald contributes a suggestive article.

Our mayor and commissioners are down his old marble yard shop on doing excellent work in the hygienic Saturday in order to make way for a line. And our little city can boast of being one of the cleanest towns in the State. The continued good health of our community is doubtlees owing in perity to see business men tearing out great measure to this attention of the city fathers.

Adjutant Taylor, of the JOURNAL staff, attended our Inferior Court this week. By his personal appearance we judge him to be in good keeping. He showed his appreciation of the good things of Kinston by carrying home with him a bushcl of Lenoir's good apples.

On Monday and Tuesday the A. M. E. Church of this district held their con-ference in this place. Rev. Geo. W. Hunter presided, with Rev. W. H. Smith as secretary. Several delegates were in attendance. They had a harmonious meeting and transacted their business promptly.

An upstart gave an order to a Paris artist for a picture for his diming room. The painter made him a picture repre-senting a rabbit hanging on a nail over three partridges and a woodcock. "How much for the bunch?" said the man of means. "Five hundred francs." "That's too much for so little. Chuck in another rabbit or two into the bargain?"

Mr. Shillaber, the "Mrs. Partington," is over 70 and a cripple. For thirty years rheumatism has fortured him, and he has completely lost the use of his lower limbs. Locomotion, save in a wheeled chair, is impossible with him. He can neither stand nor walk, but while in these respects he is as helpless as a babe, his general health is sound. his appetite generous, and his spirits are unclouded. Some of the funniest of his sayings have been written when he was in acute pain. Ex-President Arthur is an ardent fisherman, and President Cleveland also uses the rod and line while off on his annual vacations. These two facts wrought in the mind of Bije Jarman. the owner of Jarman's Falls, a plan to get Arthur and, Cleveland together for a spell of fishing. Jarman controls a stretch of salmon stream in Canada, and he would like to popularize it. He has assured Mr. Cleveland that a sure surcease from the politicians could be fishing. A radical Socialist entered a fashionable restaurant in Paris and ordered a sumptuous dinner. "How is this? said a brother Communist who apd him. "Ah, my friend," said the champion of frugality and economy. "I am now about to give myself some ides of the vile existence of the infamons rich classes who have the heart to feast sumptuously while citizens are starving." "And I, too," said the other, "have come here with precisely the same intention." So they united their appetites and gained a crushing victory over the aristocratic meal.

This view is concur-red in by a number of officials who are not charged with not faithfully execut-ing the law. At least one member of Arthur's Cabinet, who belped to frame the rules now in operation, doubted very much whether their operation was not contrary to the Constitution. Rea-sons accumulate for looking for a con-test next winter over the law, in advo-cates being opposed by two factom-one for its total repeal, another for its material modification. Recent occur-rances are likely to bring the Commis-sioners under fire, if half of what is threatened is attempted. The latest charge against them is "offensive par-tisanship," which is grafted upon a prior one against the Chairman of dis-criminating in favor of Republicans in conting condicates in the service.
