If you are in need of any printed stationery, call at the JOURNAL office and have it done before the busy season arrives.

Mrs. JERKIN has still several vacancies in her SCHOOL, which she would be pleased to have filled by the 1st of October.

Warrantee deeds and real estate mortgages for sale at this office.

Fires were comfortable last night.

Cotton squeezed up to 8.95 yesterday.

Yesterday seems to have been a bad day for children in the city.

The beautiful sunsets, that so illuminated the western skies last fall, have reappeared.

There was a partial eclipse of the moon, this morning beginning at 1 o'clock. How many New Bernians saw it?

The first oysters arrived yesterday.
The cargo was very small being about one hundred brought up by Capt. Derry Dishman from Broad Creek for Mr. W.
H. S. Turner. They were tolerably fair for the season.

The Board of City Council was in special session last night to consider a communication addressed to the Mayor by Appleton D. Kinneth, touching the right of the city to lease the property at the foot of Pollock street. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

Capt. J. M. White was in the city yesterday and appeared to be in a good humor over the prospects of plenty of water in the future. He has just launched a flat boat at Kingston which draws only four and one-half inches of water and will be prepared to take cotton though a dry fall should come.

A beautiful yacht is on the Old Dominion wharf, the property of Mr. L.
Pike of New York. She was brought in by the tugboat Jon Thedley, and Mr. Pike is having her put in trim for these waters. New Bern is a delicious place for pleasure seekers during the fall and winter. They can have their pleasure boats, fine horses with splendid drivers, dogs, guns, etc., and can find plenty of game.

The testing of the well at the corner of Pollock and Middle streets yesterday by the fire engine drew out a large crowd. Though there was no excitement, two accidents occurred. Jimmie Hester, a little boy seven or eight years old, was run over by the Excelsior hose carriage and his foot badly hurt, and a little colored boy received a blow on the head from a hose coupling. The wounded were taken off the field and cared for at their respective homes.

Mr. John Maus of Hyde county is in the city and will return on the 25th City way.

Old H. Solman has returned from the North and is getting in a big stock of goods.

A new ordinance goes into effect for the city of New Bern today. By this change the city will have New Bern hereafter be Adams street, Bayboro, Stoneville, Vandewater and Lake Landing on Monday and Thursdays at 10 A. M. Returning will leave Lake Landing Wednesdays and Saturdays at 9 A. M., arriving at New Bern Thursdays and Sundays at 1 A. M. See corrected schedule elsewhere.

A runaway.
Mr. W. B. Gardner and another gentleman were driving yesterday evening when the horse took fright on Broad street and ran away, upsetting the buggy, smashing it to pieces and throwing the riders some distance. Two children were run over and badly hurt, one of Mr. F. M. Bowden's, whose arm was hurt, and one of Mrs. Helen Salter's had several teeth knocked out. Badly hurt and frightened, but it is hoped not seriously.

Committee.
The following standing committees of the Young Men's Christian Association have been appointed for the ensuing year:

Committee on Spiritual Exercises—R. O. Tull, Chairman; J. J. Wolfenden and C. E. Hancock.
Committee on Finance—C. E. For, Chairman; R. J. Dickey and T. J. Crowder.
Committee on Missionary Work—Ray, Ed. B. Chairman; H. B. Lane and A.
E. Denison.
Committee on Entertainment—D. R.
Wills, Chairman; W. C. O. Boyd and C. B. Hollister.

Well Tested.

The well near the corner of Pollock and Middle streets which Mr. Samuel Cook has been engaged in deepening, was tested by the fire department yesterday and pronounced sufficient to meet the demands in case of a fire in that vicinity. It has been bored to the depth of fifty-five feet. The Atlantic engine gave it a fair test for twenty minutes and only succeeded in reducing the surface water. The Button engine was then put in and both worked to their utmost capacity for twenty-five minutes, when the water sank below one suction hose, the other continued for some minutes but did not exhaust.
In eight minutes after the engines quit work there was seven feet of water in the well.

When the test was over, Dick Hilton, the Button engineer, said, "Gentlemen, it's a good well." Jno. C. Green, the Atlantic engineer, came up, looked in and said, "Gentlemen, you can say what you please, but that is a good well." For several minutes gentlemen continued to pass and, looking in, would say, "Gentlemen, that's a good well." So the general opinion is, it's a good well.

The Canning Business.

We copy below an article from the Baltimore Business Advocate on the canning business of that city. It will be seen that Messrs. Moore & Brady, the proprietors of the canning establishment in this city, are among the leaders in the business. We hope their operations may become as extensive in this city as they are in Baltimore:

"Among the many important commercial industries of Baltimore there is no one particular branch that claims more attention, or in which more capital is employed than the canning business.
On the introduction of the process of canning in this city, some years ago, oysters only were canned. But as time progressed the canning of fruits, vegetables, meats, poultry, fish, etc., were introduced, and today large canning establishments, giving employment to thousands of men, women and children, are in operation throughout this city.
The rural districts are largely engaged in this important industry, thus affording a ready market for almost every article produced in or on the soil or taken from the water. Notwithstanding the large number now in operation throughout the country their products find ready sale, not only on the American continent, but throughout Europe and the East.

Of those engaged in this business in Baltimore we know of no firm who has a higher reputation or whose goods stand higher or command better prices in the market than that of Messrs. Moore & Brady, foot of Montgomery street. The building occupied by this enterprising firm is 97 by 335 feet, giving employment to about 700 persons. The machinery in this establishment is of the latest and most improved pattern, run by an engine of one hundred and seventy-five horse power. This is probably one of the largest establishments of the kind in the country, as well as the most successful. This firm is also engaged in packing saw systems, which have an immense sale throughout the country.
They use none but the best articles, and great care is observed in the handling.
The quality of goods turned out from their house have made for it a reputation unsurpassed by any other house in the city; and the demand for their products is rapidly increasing. The gentlemen composing the firm are active, energetic, intelligent business men who stand high in business circles, and whose mode of honorable dealing has made for them a record of which they may justly feel proud.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I submit for the consideration of the city council the following:

AN ORDINANCE RESPECTING FIRES.

I. Be it ordained: That, hereafter, when a fire shall occur within the limits of this city, it shall be the duty of the Mayor, forthwith, to institute an inquiry into the causes of said fire; and he shall be authorized and empowered to summon, any and all persons he may consider necessary, to appear before him and testify respecting the same; and he shall make a full report, in writing, of the origin and extent of such fire, with such remarks respecting the same as he may deem expedient, to the next meeting of the common council, which shall be held after such investigation.

II. All persons failing to appear before such court of inquiry, who have been summoned; or appearing shall refuse to testify, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty dollars, or to imprisonment thirty days; or both, at the discretion of the Mayor.

III. The Mayor shall be allowed, as a compensation for his services in this behalf, three dollars ($3) for each day, or part of a day, necessarily occupied in such investigation.

The propriety of this enactment is so obvious that it is scarcely necessary to say anything respecting it. But the fact that the origin and particulars of a fire will be strictly examined and recorded, will have a great tendency to prevent the horrible crime of arson; and the public will not be left in doubt whether it was accidental or intended.
If accidental, or the result of culpable negligence, the fact will be shown. And further, it will greatly facilitate the collection of insurance policies, as the Insurance Companies will have a full, fair and authoritative statement respecting every fire; and a strong prima facie case would be made out either for or against them.

SELECTIONS BY S.

"Is it worth while to jostle a brother, Bearing his load on the rough road of life?

Is it worth while that we jeer at each other?
In blackness of heart, that we war to the knife?
God pity us all in our pitiful strife.

God pity us all as we jostle each other; God pity us all for the triumphs we feel.

When a fellow goes down beneath his load, on the heather, Flashed to the heart: words are keener than steel.

And mightier far, for woe than weal.
Were it not well in this brief life's journey.

On, over the lethargy, down into the tide.
We gave him a fish instead of a serpent, Ere folding the hand to be, and abide Forever and aye, in the dust at his side?

Look at the roses, saluting each other;
Look at the herds, all in peace on the plain.

Man, and man only, makes war on his brother.

And laughs in his heart at his peril and pain.

Shamed by the beasts that go down on the plain.

Is it worth while that we battle to humble
Some poor fellow down into the dust?
God pity us all! Time, too soon, will tumble

All of us together, like leaves in a gust, Humbled indeed, down into the dust."

CHEAP—PLEASURES.

A poor widow lives in the neighborhood who is the mother of a half dozen children. Send them a peck of sweet apples and they will all be happy. A child has lost his arrow—the world to him—and he mourns sadly; help him to find it, or make him another, and how quickly will the sunshine play over the sober face! You employ a man, pay him cheerfully, and speak a pleasant word to him, and he leaves your house with a contented heart to light up his own hearth with smiles and gladness.
As you pass along the street you meet a familiar face, you say "good morning," as though you felt happy, and it will work in the heart of your neighbor.
We can make the wretched happy, the discontented cheerful, the affected resigned at an exceedingly cheap rate.
Who will refuse to do it?

A Sad Calamity.

The many friends of Deputy Sheriff W. R. Bordeaux, of Fender county, were shocked yesterday to hear of the painful death of this estimable gentleman. It seems that Mr. Bordeaux stopped a few moments at Clayton, Johnson county, last Saturday morning on his way from Raleigh, where he had been to convey some prisoners to the penitentiary. While Mr. Bordeaux was conversing with some friends the train on which he was going home started off and was moving rapidly when he tried to board it, and was thrown under the cars, his left arm being broken in two places, and he besides receiving several injuries on the head.

His injuries were not at first thought likely to be fatal, but after lingering until yesterday he died. Mr. Bordeaux was well known here and was respected by all who knew him. He was a young man of good habits and was a member of the Presbyterian Church.—W. L. Star.

New York Republican Convention.

SARATOGA, Sept. 22.—At 12.30 Mr.
James D. Warren, chairman of the State committee, called the Republican State convention to order. Rev. Dr. S.
V. Leach, of Albany, invoked the Divine blessing upon the labors of the convention. He implored that the hands of the President and the other members of the Federal government might be upheld by grace from above. The reverend gentleman also alluded to the delegates present as the representatives of a party which blotted out the irreligion of slavery from the nation.
The roll having been called, chairman Warren announced that the State committee had agreed upon Senator Warner Miller for temporary chairman of the convention. (Applause.) The chair appointed Hon. A. B. Cornell and United States Senator Elbridge M. Lapham to escort him to the chair. Mr.
Miller was received with much enthusiasm.

dent has appointed W. T. Weaver postmaster at Asheville, N. C., vice H. L.

Death of a Good Woman.

On the 22nd inst., at 7 o'clock p. m., at her home in New Bern, died Cynthia Sanderlin, colored, aged seventy-six.
She was connected with some of the most estimable and worthy families of the respectable colored people of the olden time, and during her long and active life was the household servant of several families of repute and distinction in this community. Her character was unimpeachable for honesty and integrity, and those who knew her best accorded to her the reputation of a good christian woman. She was of that class of her race who, during her term of service maintained towards those whose wants she administered to, a confidential relation, and with it, a respectability that proved the dignity of her character.
This character was not disturbed in the hour when freedom came to her people, and all who knew her mourn now with sincere grief, her passing from among us.

You can not expect your children to thrive when they are being destroyed by worms. Give them a few doses of Shiner's Indian Vermifuge and they will be restored to health.

CLIPPINGS.

Up in Vermont $11,000; skating rinks are offered for sale.

The refusal by a teetotal tailor to make clothes for rum-sellers is a new cause for temperance discussion in London.

The penalty for selling a cigarette to a boy or girl under 16 years of age in New Hampshire has been made $20 for each offence.

India women do not like to be doctored by men. Lady Dufferin is President of a society to educate women for An agitation to change the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church South choice of Episcopal Methodism.

The ill-feeling in France toward England is indicated by the fact that one issue of a leading Paris daily journal contained five articles abusing the Britons virulently.

The medical periodicals contain numerous paragraphs and letters complaining of physicians who, it is urged, selfishly force themselves upon public attention.

The Emperor of Russia travels in railroad cars that once belonged to Napoleon III., but they have been thoroughly improved, and are said to be the finest in the world.

A New Haven beggar with a swollen hand and a story of awful suffering from rheumatism, has been exposed.
He produced the pitiful symptoms by binding his arm with cord.

Oysters are cheap food, and yet a steward explains that they are unprofitable for the hotel tables, because guests never think of letting them take the ing coal. The case is reported by a phy-parent disease, and no inconvenience.

Boston is astonished by its first big and gorgeous apartment house. It is in the Black Bay district, its tenements are $2,000 to $8,000 a year, and its convenience draw wondering sightseers.

The increasing masculinity of English girls is a topic for many London essayists. In dress, talk, and manners it is the fashion with daughters of wealth and refinement to be as much like their brothers as decorum will allow.

The modern beverage in cheap taverna in Normandy is cider that tastes like vinegar and water, and is sold at juice would delight and astound a native.

Julia Smith, the Connecticut woman who got fame by refusing to pay taxes to a Government that would not let her vote, remarks to those who predicted unhappiness from her marriage five years ago, aged 85, that she is extremely happy.

Superiority in American hotels over those of England, as judged by Blackwood's, lies in the fact that whatever the guest wants is ready for him at all hours. From the posing of a letter to the eating of a meal he finds the facilities in readiness.

The Western Reserve University, after letting girls into its medical department many years, now excludes four candidates. The President says that the best opinion now is that feminine pupils in medicine or surgery ought to be in separate institutions.

Charles G. Leland writes that the niggers in France believe that our civil war was between the Spaniards of South America and the negroes of North America. He affirms that as fast as Frenchmen learn that we are very much like Englishmen their feeling changes to hatred.

Somebody has been talking through a hundred miles of wire would become common, and that ocean steamers on a voyage would keep up communication electronically with the shore. The first prediction having come true, the second is hopefully regarded, though regarded as wild when made.

Resolutions of Respect.

TRENTON, N. C., Sept. 22, 1885.
At a meeting of Zion Lodge No. 81, A. F. & A. M., the following resolutions were passed and ordered to be published in the New Bern Journal.

J. L. KIRNEY, Sec'y.
Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe to summon from his labors upon earth our beloved Brother, Jas. M. Pollock, calling him by His Omnipotent will to that judgment which awaits all who are toiling in this earthly temple; and

Whereas, The Masonic ties which have so long bound us in mutual friendship and enjoyment to our departed friend are severed, no more to be reunited until the day when the grave shall yield up its dead; therefore Resolved, That we sincerely mourn this disruption of covenanted friendship, bearing in tender remembrance his fidelity to Masonry and his devotion to the principles it inculcates.

Resolved, That we earnestly sympathize with the relatives and friends of our deceased Brother, and tender to them consolation which the world can neither give nor take away; and that we will wear the badge of mourning for the space of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions be forwarded to the family of our deceased Brother and inserted in the New Bern Journal and Goldboro Messenger.
