Our Cotton Market. The buyers for New Berne market are all at their posts now, and are waiting for the cotton to come along. The price paid here is now fully equal to that paid at Norfolk, being within freight of that market. We do not care to assert that New Berne is the best cotton market in the State, because nearly every newspaper in the State has already claimed that for their respective towns and we don't care to accuse any of them of falsifying. All we can say is, we have plenty of buyers who are anxious to buy, and they are paying about within freight of Norfolk market, and we think freights are very reasonable.

The re-union will be held at the Armory of the Goldsboro Riffes, 4th door south of H. Weil & Bros. West Centre

It is earnestly desired that all of the members now living be in attendance. All who purpose attending will please address either W. F. Kornegay or A. B. Hollowell, Goldsboro, N. C.

THE WAR DRUM IN EUROPE.

Sixty Thousand Servian Troops Called into the Fleid

BELGRADE, Sept 22.—The Servian army is being mobilized, and troops are being sent to protect the southern frontier bordering on Macedonia and Alba-nia. Fears are entertained of a rising in both the latter places, and grave troubles are anticipated in the event of such an occurrance. It is stated that King Kilan, in an interview with a number of diplomats, stated that if the Macedonians rose in revolt against Turk-ish rule, he must act with them, as otherwise he would be deposed

The first summons issued today mobilizes 60,000 troops. The inhabitants have demanded that old Tervia and Macedonia be protected. The Skuptohina has been convoked to consider the im-portant questions arising out of the dis-turbed condition of affairs in the Balktemporarily curtailed.

PHILIPPOPOLIS, Sept. 22.—The Te Deum was sung in the garden surrounding the palace by an immense crowd of people in honor of Prince Alexander of Bulparace by an inmense trowd of people in honor of Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, who has arrived in the city. The Bulgarian national flag has been hoisted everywhere. A levy of all the ablebodled men in Bulgaria between the ages of 18 and 40 has been ordered.

Gen. Dragalski, commander of the Roumelian militia, has been arrested.

VINNA, Sept. 22.—Frequent Cabinet councils have been held today regarding affairs in the East. The Reichsrath has assembled, and the Emperor Francis Joseph will, address the members on Saturday next.

The Folitical Correspondence says that Prince Alexander of Bulgara, has sent despatches to the signatory powers of the Berlin treaty explaining his action in regard to Roumelia.

THE STATE FAIR.

Advance Notes of the Twenty-fifth

Twenty-five times have the farmers, the mechanics, the men of capital and enterprise, the leading spirits of our State, been called together at the capital, for the annual gathering, which for want of a better title we name the State Fair. Whatever shortcomings or defects it may have had at any period; whatever methods may have been unsuited to this taste or that; whatever results may have been gained or missed suits may have been gaired or missed in any particular direction; there are few reflecting men who will not acknowledge that the Fair has been a acknowledge that the fair has been a great power for good in the advancement of the State to her present high position among her Southern sisters. Indeed, wherever a fair is regularly and faithfully held, throughout our borders, there you will find progressive agriculture and increasing thrift. In the great increase of blooded stock, in more intelligent manipulation of menuros and retation of crops; in the introduction of lation of crops; in the introduction of labor-saving appliances of every description, and especially in free and agreeable intercourse among the farmers of various sections, the State Agricultural Society has led the way. Indeed, were no other benefits to be derived, it would be sufficient to bring together, with a common purpose, once year, the progressive citizens of the Commonwealth, to take counsel how to secure and best maintain our material prosperity. We need to know one another better. Go to the State fair and meet your distant cousin, exchange fruits and seeds, and stock, and above all, ideas with him, and return with warmer and more intelligent love for North Carolina.

WHAT DOES THE FAIR OFFER? It is to be held from the 12th te the 17th of October, inclusive, and it offers six thousand dollars and upwards in premiums. The courteous and hardworking secretary, John Nichols, Esq., of Raleigh, will be glad to forward a premium list of particulars on applica

No entry fee whatever is charged to ladies exhibiting articles in the depart-ments of pantry supplies, ladies' work and fine arts.

We call the attention of the ladies to the splendid cash premium of $25 for the best ten pounds of butter. Those who compete for this must furnish a certificate that the butter is of their own production, stating the time of its manufacture, number of cows milked, the breed, and manner of feeding and keeping the stock; also the manner of setting the milk and time of the rise of cream; the candition, temperature and age of cream thin churned; coloring matter, if any; I ad of churn, length of time churning the of salt and amount used to the posture of salt and amount of to the po ter; manner of work ther excellent premiums are offered for butter, and we hope to see the dairies well represented. The FARMERS' PAIR.

This is emphatically the fair of the farmers this year. We call the attention of our active and intelligent sons of the soil to such premiums as the fol lowing, offered by the State fair, with the aid of the State Agricultural Department: For the largest yield per acre of cotton, for five acres (one bale, not less than 450 pounds, to be exhibited), the sum of $50; for largest yield, one scre, $25; for best bale of cotton, $50; for second best, $25, with valuable spe-cial premiums, for which see premium list.

The society has offered all that any man could reasonably ask, and we think it will be liberally met by our thriving

Horns, Holsteins, and grades or natives, the society offers $25 for the best bull over three years, and $20 for one to three years; for the best cow over four years, $25, and from two to four years $20, in each division, besides fine premiums to calves, to herds, etc. The best yoke of oxen will take $25, and the best pen of fat cattle, not less than five, will receive $25 also.

Hors are not forgotten, boars of each courses, and they were written in a courses, and they were written in a courses, and they were written in a

Hogs are not forgotten, boars of each breed receiving $10, sows $10 and sow and litter $10. Sheep and poultry are also appropriately remembered, and if owners of live stock will meet these liberal provisions with corresponding liberality of time and effort we shall have the grandest display in this division ever witnessed in the State.
BRING UP YOUR BORSES

Nearly six hundred dollars is offered the State fair in premiums for the best horses exhibited, outside of and al-together apart from the offers in the trials of speed. The best thoroughbred stallion of four years and over gets $25; of two years and under four years $15 best brood mare, four years, $25; best $15; best colt under two years, $14.

Premiums of the same value are offered for trotting and road horses also for heavy draft horses, and of nearly the same value for light draft and sad dle horser.

There are also many admirable mis cellaneous premiums, such as $25 for the best carriage team not under sixteen hands high, and $20 for the best car riage team not under fourteen and half hands; $25 for the best jack owned in North Carolina, and $20 for the best pair mules, open to the world. TRIALS OF SPEED.

Many lovers of the enjoyment derived from this time-honored feature of the fairs have their appetites whetted for the pleasures of the week, which they have missed for two years. A brillian series of races have been arranged for the week, winding up with a grand trotting race for a $500 purse, and a running race for $300.

These are a few of the attractive fea tures offered visitors to our next fair. Accommodating rates have been re-ceived on all the railroads of the State, and excursion trains will be run from all points. Ample accommodations will be offered by our hotels and boarding houses for all who may come, at liberal rates, and no one need remain away for fear of lack of accommodations.

Come up, North Carolinians, and let us have a great State fair.

New York Democratic Convention.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The hall was densely growded when the hour arrived for opening the session of the Democratic State convention. Fully one-half the spectators were ladies. The delegates were all in their seats half an hour after the appointed time for business to begin. Temporary chairman Raines called the convention to order. The committee on contested seats re ported, recommending that the contesting and regular delegations from West-chester be admitted, with half a vote also that the contesting delegation from Chautauqua be admitted as a rightful delegation. The contest in Livingstone county was reported settled and withdrawn. The report was adopted. The committee on permanent organization recommended that temporary chairman Raines be made the permanent chair man. This was agreed to, with applause D. Cady Herrick, from the commit-tee on resolutions, stated that ihe com-mittee had been unable to complete its report and requested to be allowed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. There were murmurs of disappointment from Senator Ecclesine, of New York, then offered the following: "Re-solved, that this convention proceed at this session to nominate a candidate for Governor and a candidate for Lt. Governor." Senator Ecclesine said: "It is somewhat unusual, I know, to proceed to nominations until a platform is adopted; but, sir, the distinguished stateman who will in all probability adopted; but, sir, the distinguished statesman who will in all probability receive the nomination of his convention for the head of the ticket (applause) will be a platform in himself, and I think we can safety proceed to nominate the man who is to ably second him and who is to be the second in command." Hickey, of Cattaraugus, said the calm judgment of the convention ought to prevent this attempt to railroad a ticket through without a discussion of the views of the candidates, not even of the candidate for the first position. He moved to adjourn. There was great confusion, derisive shouts, hisses and cries of "No" when the name of Abram S. Hewitt was called. On this motion to adjourn the delegates, excepting Tammany, arcse and gave three rousing cheers. The motion to adjourn was lost, ayes 148; nays 281;. This was a test vote. The nays represented the strength of Gov. Hill.

Rev. George Joyner departed this life on Thursday, 17th inst., at 11:15 a., m., of typhoid fever., complicated with acute bronchitis. He was the youngest son of John Joyner and Clara, his wife, whose maiden name was May. He was born October 16th, 1828, and was baptized by Elder Josephus Latham and united with the church when he was 27 years of age. He commenced preaching four years after, and has been in the ministry about 32 years.

Mr. Joyner was from one of the best and most respectable families in Eastern Carolina, and received the chief part of his education at Wake Forest College. He was a young man of very exemplary life, and was esteemed for his uniform integrity of character. He married three times. His first wife was a Miss Speight, of Greene county. His daughter, Mrs. May Beaman, is the fruit of this marriage. His second wife was Miss Henrietts Parrett, daughter of the late Jacob Parrott. She died having no children. His third wife, when he leave a widow, was a Miss Blount, of Washington, Beaufort coun-

age. He uniformly read his dis-courses, and they were written in a chaste style and adapted to the most cultured audiences. He was more than an average elecutionist, and made a fine impression on all who heard him. He always seemed to be delicately constituted, and had been in rather poor health for some time. He expressed himself as willing to die, only he regretted to leave his family.

The burial service was read in Kinston, in the church for which he preached, by Dr. Walsh, to a large and sympathizing audience, and his body remained in the church until Friday morning, when it was conveyed to Farmville, and buried near Antioch meeting house, in the presence of many grieved and sympathizing friends and brethren.

Had he lived a few weeks longer h would have been sixty-two years old. He has gone to his rest, and may his good works follow him. J. T. W.
