The new engine "A. M. Scales" was brought out of the shops yesterday evening and worked admirably.

The Shimondook arrived on schedule here yesterday with a cargo of goods and took out a full cargo of cotton in the evening.

Messrs. S. H. Rountree, B. Frank Sutton and John H. Dawson of Lenoir, visited our new court house yesterday morning and pronounced it a fine building.

Jones Superior Court convenes next Monday. We respectfully request our delinquents in that section to meet our agent, C. C. Taylor, on Monday and Tuesday and get their receipts for the JOURNAL.

The vicious dog announced some time ago as having bitten the little son of Engineer Beckwith of the Revenue Cutter Stevens, was approached yesterday by city marshal Harget with a double-barrelled gun and the canine received his eternal quietus. Let this example be followed by the city authorities in regard to all bad dogs and the community will be benefited.

It will be a pleasure to the many friends of L. J. Moore, Esq., to know that he has sufficiently regained his health to be in attendance of the District Court. He appeared with his partner, W. E. Clarke, Esq., on the first jury case yesterday and argued it to the jury for the defendant with his old-time force and eloquence, and secured a verdict for his client.

Yesterday about the time the U. S. Court opened, a couple of men staggered up to the entrance of the court room and interrogated some gentlemen there standing and wanted to know "if this was the New Nited States Coat House." Upon being answered in the affirmative they, arm-in-arm marched up the stairs as though they purposed capturing the Court. Their costumes were unique and they gave every outward and inward sign of being "Moonshiners."

Sense Potato.
Miss Eleanor Carraway showed us a huge potato yesterday. It was a Spanish yam, was grown on Major Gordon's Egypt farm, and weighs six pounds.

Personal.
Messrs. Clement Manly, M. DeW. Stevenson and H. R. Bryan are attending Carteret Superior Court.
Dr. G. L. Shackelford will leave this morning and will be absent until Friday morning.
Our friend Benj. Sutton, once the popular treasurer of Lenoir county, came in yesterday and renewed his allegiance to the JOURNAL, and upon receiving his receipt declared the country safe for another year.

Welcome Visitors.
A large crowd of our old friends from Lenoir county are in the city attending court. Many of them have called and left substantial proof that the JOURNAL is still popular in Lenoir. We return to them our thanks for the interest they feel in the JOURNAL and extend to them a hearty welcome to our sanctum during their stay in the city where they can read the Daily JOURNAL and such of our exchanges as they desire.

Sugar Case.
Mr. H. Bergeron, of South creek, Beaufort county, sends us a very fine stalk of sugar cane. A gentleman was in to see us yesterday and wanted to know something about it, but we were unable to give him any more information than the stalk speaks for itself. This gentleman grows the amber cane, which he says is very good, but would not object to having better if he can get it. Will Mr. Bergeron give us some information about this cane?

Snatched from the Grave.
Mrs. Helen Pharris, No. 331 Dayton St., Ill., is now in her sixty-eighth year and states that she has suffered with Consumption for about ten years, was treated by nine physicians, all of them pronouncing her case hopeless. She had given up all hopes of ever recovering. Seven bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption completely cured her. Doubting ones, please drop a postal and satisfy yourselves that it is a true and reliable medicine.

The Boys Are Going to Quit.

There are quite a number of men in attendance of the District Court who we understand have been engaged in illicit distilling and have voluntarily surrendered themselves with the understanding that they are to be let off by paying cost and promising to quit the business. Among the witnesses in these cases we met yesterday an old fellow-soldier, George Turner, who is now farming near Seven Springs, Lenoir county. He says the boys all in his section have resolved to quit if they can get out this time. He also says that he is living on his own expenses and wants us to "raise him off a nice copy of the JOURNAL" and send him with the court proceedings. We will endeavor to comply with his request.

Next Friday Night.

A singing class from the Oxford Orphan Asylum will give a musical entertainment at the Theatre next Friday night. The entertainment will be such that no one will regret having spent his money for it without reference to the noble object which it is to benefit. The children, the asylum, and the number is large, need winter clothing. This class is on the road for the purpose of raising money to supply them, thus endeavoring to make the Asylum, as far as possible, self-sustaining.

It is to be regretted that the necessity exist for resorting to this method of raising money for this institution, but people soon forget the orphans unless there is something to constantly remind them, and we know of no more forcible reminder than to take a class through the country and let the people see how they are being trained and cared for; let them see what bright intellects are being saved from the curse of ignorance and vice placed on the road to good citizenship.

Let every man and woman then, who has one spark of charity left in their bosoms secure a ticket for the Theatre next Friday night. Reserved seats will cost only 35 cts., and will be on sale at Meadow's drug store Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Gallery seats 25 cts.

United States District Court.

Court was called to order yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by marshal J. B. Hill.

Besides the local bar there are in attendance, District Attorney F. H. Busbee, Assistant Willis Bagley, W. T. Cahoon, Esq., and D. L. Ward, Esq., of Wilson.

The following grand jurors were drawn: John Pearce, W. T. Davis, Wiley Whitehead, Calvin Debruhl, Deatur Jarvis, Benj. Brock, Henry Cherry, Jesse Hollowell, Daniel Lane, S. H. Rountree, Thos. L. Gibbs, I. H. Parker, Wm. McKeel, W. W. Richardson, David Sanders, Jos. W. Powell and F. B. Beeton, Stephen Lane.

Mr. John H. Pearce, of Pollockville, was appointed foreman, and after being sworn His Honor, Judge Seymour, proceeded in a brief and pointed manner to charge them as to their duties. He impressed upon them the importance of sure and speedy punishment for crime, declaring that crime would cease if punishment was sure to immediately follow its commission.

When the grand jury retired F. M. Simmons, Esq., introduced to the court D. L. Ward, Esq., a bright looking young gentleman from Wilson, and he was sworn by the Clerk, Mr. Lehman, as an attorney of the court.

Solicitor Busbee has not that ferocious countenance means an easy road for them. In the case of U. S. vs. N. P. Robinson for illicit distilling, which by the way is his first jury case since his appointment before the District Court, he insisted that jurors, in the trial of cases, should discard whatever prejudices they have against the internal revenue laws and try them as they would any violation of a State law.

The following cases were disposed of: U. S. vs. N. P. Robinson, illicit distilling. Busbee and Bagley for the Government, Moore & Clarke for the defendant. Jury empanelled; case argued by Moore for the defendant, Busbee for the Government; not guilty.

Court adjourned to 10 o'clock this morning when the cases from Lenoir county will be taken up.

Rapid Delivery.

The rapid delivery letters ought to be very popular the first day of April. Imagine the feelings of a fellow who is aroused from his slumbers about 11 p. m. by a special messenger of the P. O. D., who in great haste delivered a letter marked "important." The letter is opened with trembling hands, and the "important" words "April Fool" meet the eyes of the excited holder. It is not difficult to conclude that with decided emphasis he will declare that the special delivery system is an unmitigated humbug and ought to be abolished immediately. We charge the Wilmington boys nothing for posting them in this important matter.—Wilmington Star.

La Grange Items.

Col. Davis will take the cadets of his school to the Weldon Fair next month. Church services at the Baptist Church last Sunday by Rev. Mr. Hires, the pastor.

The cotton crop about here is nearly all out. Proof positive that the crop is a short one.

The fourth quarterly conference of the M. P. Church for La Grange Mission meets at Hickory Grove next Saturday.

Two accessions to the Baptist Church last Sunday. The ordinance of baptism was administered to one candidate in the afternoon.

It has been discovered that buying cotton is not the only attractions to our place of one of Kinston's cotton buyers. He comes on Sunday.

J. M. Kibbler, a well-known citizen of our town, died at his residence here last Wednesday. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn their loss.

"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do with all thy might," must have been in the mind of the ringer of the third bell at the Baptist Church last Sunday night.

State Inspector General Cameron paid a visit to Davis' School a few days ago, and we are glad to hear he was well pleased with the order, arrangement and discipline of the school.

Cotton had a black eye here Monday. Eight and a half cents per pound is the price offered. Last week, from information received from farmers who tried the markets, our buyers were paying above the neighboring markets.

A certain horse in town is an unlucky one to drive to "big meetings." A few Sundays ago the driver was thrown from the vehicle and came off with a sprained ankle; last Sunday the driver came up with a borrowed buggy wheel.

A notice posted at the postoffice in our town, tells of the stealing of a horse and buggy from the livery stable of J. P. Clark, of Wilson, N. C. It is believed that the thief, horse and buggy passed through our place a day or so before the notice was posted. A man answering the description was in town trying to sell a horse and buggy at such price as to create suspicion.

Robt. Bynum, from near Marlboro, Pitt county, was in our place Saturday returning with a horse stolen from him sometime. The horse was four near Warsaw, Duplin county, where the thief deserted him when caught stealing corn from the field of a Mr. Faison. The rogue in the route from Marlboro to Warsaw stole a cart, which was also left, and for which no owner has been found.

We suspect that we had a visit from the interesting La Grange itemizer of the Messenger a few days ago. Newspaper itemizers, like editors, thought on a much smaller scale, have their critics and fault finders. One time they are censured for not writing and accused of wilful neglect, at another for writing and charged with doing one injustice. If it is thus with itemizers, what a glorious life an editor's must be!

Col. Davis is occupying his new school building. It is one among the best and most conveniently arranged buildings for the purpose in the State. Col. Davis certainly deserves great credit for his energy and vim, and for the great amount of good he is doing for the people in this section of our State. The business department, a new feature added this session to an already highly and deservedly popular institution, cannot fail to give it a wide field of usefulness and commend it to the patronage of those who have sons to prepare for business life. We see no reason why boys cannot be as well prepared here, and at much less cost, as at older business schools. We take great pleasure in recommending this school to the people of our State, and especially to those in Eastern Carolina.

Death of an Ursuline Nun.

Shortly after 12 o'clock Sunday night Mother Mary Ann Josephine died of consumption at the Ursuline convent in this city after a long illness. The deceased was christened Sallie Vail Washington, and was descended in a direct line from the first President of the United States. At the time of her death she was 29 years of age. She was the daughter of the late Hon. John N. Washington of New Berne, N. C., a niece of the late Dr. Jas. R. Washington of this city, and sister of Dr. John N. Washington, was a member of Congress from North Carolina in the fifties, and her father was mayor of New Berne in 1866; both were graduates of Yale College and were distinguished lawyers. Her uncle, the late Dr. James R. Washington, was a prominent physician here and his widow and son, Dr. N. C. Washington, still reside here.

All the members of the Washington family were Episcopalians except the father of the deceased, who was converted to Roman Catholicism in 1861. The deceased was educated by the Ursulines and had been a member of the order eleven years. She had taught at the convents at Portage des Sioux, Perryville and Arcadia as well as in this city and was noted for the earnestness and faithfulness of her labors. Her health had been failing for a long time, but she was still able to attend to her duties until about a month ago. The remains were removed yesterday to Arcadia, Mo., for interment. Attached to the convent there is a cemetery which is watched over by the nuns, who never leave the convent to visit other cemeteries.—St. Louis Republic.

Never Give Up.
If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by all druggists.

Prightful Catarrh.
PIECES OF BONE.
For four years I have been afflicted with a very troublesome catarrh of the head. So terrible has its nature been that when I blew my nose small pieces of bone would frequently come out of my mouth and nose. The discharge was copious, and at times exceedingly offensive. My blood became so impure that my general health was greatly impaired, with poor appetite and worse digestion.

Numerous medicines were used without relief, until I began the use of B. B. B., and three bottles acted almost like magic. Since their use a symptom has returned, and I feel in every way quite restored to health. I am an old citizen of Atlanta, and refer to almost any living on Butler street, and more particularly to Dr. L. M. Gillam, who knows of my case.

Mrs. ELIZABETH KNOTT.
For sale wholesale and retail by H. N. Duffy. Cash to accompany the order.

Gum Branch Items.

Mrs. J. Venters, mother of Silas Venters has some crockery-ware that is over 100 years old it was owned and used by her grandfather, and Mrs. V. is near 80 years old herself.

Considerable sickness in our community. Mrs. Jennie Franks, wife of E. L. Franks, jr., is very low and not expected to live long. Miss Katie, daughter of S. W. Venters, has been very sick, but is improving.

Mrs. Minnie Grimsley from Snow Hill is visiting her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Murrill, here. The Misses Annie and Eliza Ward daughters of Dr. R. W. Ward have been visiting here; they are lively young ladies and we wish to see them again. Come, for there are others who wish to see you beside ourselves.

The liveliest sensation we have seen lately was two of our beautiful young ladies somewhat disguised and riding double on a horse bareback along the main road creating quite a merry laugh by those who saw and recognized them. Miss R. said, "Hold that bridle tight L.; or old Tom will stumble and spill us;" but Tom didn't stumble and all went well. One of the girls was seen on top of a high house after that, walking upright near the ridge beam. Them's the kind of girls we like.

The farmers are getting in their crops, and complain of a good deal of rotten corn, I notice some around here with considerable rotten and short corn both, and cotton very short indeed, but as the majority of the farmers in our community are good ones, and large ones too, we will have plenty and some to spare; bread we mean, as to meat if the cholera will leave us what hogs we have now on hand we shall have enough meat to keep us from starving, but our chickens have gone by the board—nearly all dead or dying. Some have lost the last one they had. Mrs. Julia Stephens lost over 300. She had to cart them out of her yard mornings by dozens and twenties at a time, and Mrs. Eliza Franks about the same.

Eggs are booming in Trenton. Merchants are enquiring of the farmers for them and are trying to get them to bring over every one they can spare, for which they are paying 15 cents in cash per dozen.

Jones court convenes next Monday. I learn there will be a heavy criminal docket; one murder case, Lott Murrill, who murdered Alex. Simmons, and one burglary case; I have forgotten the name of him.

I have this year planted a small crop of ground peas, which I find is a real paying crop for boys, paying much better than chufas. I am indebted to an Onslow man for his advice in raising a successful crop. Every farmer can raise them who has sandy land proved he will put a small quantity of lime or marl on it.

As the JOURNAL is a kind of an indispensable necessity with us, I am confident that the most of your old subscribers will be ready to meet you and renew their subscriptions and pay up all former dues, while many more who are not subscribers now will come forward with kind encouragement and add their names also.

Trade is improving at Trenton; every one appears to be busy now taking the shining metal from the vender of tin horns and Jew's harps to the vender of dry goods and groceries. Would not Trenton be a "glorious" place, provided that times were to remain just as they now are? You can see good humor on the face of everything, even the little darkey in smiling while he is purchasing tin horns and musical packages; and the mothers, too, are smiling while they are laying in their winter supplies of shawls and other indispensable needs. Don't we all wish that these good times could last always? But the recollection that it won't is what hurts.
