BUSINESS LOCALS.

FOUND—A small bright key that seems to have been repaired at one end. Call at this office.

Meat—Buckwheat, White Beans, Steam Cooked Oat Flakes, Grits and Sump at C. E. SLOVER'S.

A solid black walnut bedroom set, sideboard and wardrobe, marble top; for sale CHEAP at BLANKS.

JUST RECEIVED—A large lot of SUGAR CURED HAMS, which we are offering at 10 cents per lb. Call and try them before they are all sold, as they are going off very rapidly.
25ct. HUMPHREY & HOWARD.

The City Council will be in session tonight.

Two schooner loads of seed cotton arrived yesterday.

The Goldsboro Messenger will be issued daily during Fair week.

Hon. O. Hubbs offers a valuable truck farm for sale or rent on good terms. See "ad."

Sheriff Hahn, as will be seen from a notice in this issue, wants taxes and says money can be saved by paying on or before the 15th inst. Read what he says.

Many were the surprises on Sunday night when the services were concluded at the churches and the congregations stepped out into a brisk shower of rain with no umbrellas.

The Goldsboro Fair opens today. The A. & N. C. R. will sell tickets, so we are informed by the Messenger, for one first-class fare for round trip. The Fair promises to be a grand success.

Elections in several States today. Interest is concentrated on the States of New York and Virginia. The JOURNAL, of tomorrow morning will contain the news from these States up to the hour of going to press.

The supply of postal cards at this office has been short for some time on account of having to send 15,000 to Richmond. Postmaster Manly informs us that a full supply of cards, one cent stamps, etc., have arrived.

Cottage Prayer Meeting under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, conducted by the Missionary Committee, at Mrs. Hargett's, corner of Pollock and Spring streets, this (Tuesday) night, at 8 o'clock.

Our Journal was mistaken in announcing in Sunday's issue the arrival of Mr. Brady, of the firm of Moore and Brady. It was Mr. Thomas H. Conkly, the efficient superintendent of the business in this city that arrived with his family.

The Star of Saturday announces the death of Mr. Joel Hutchins Muse, for fifteen years city editor of that paper. Many of our citizens remember him, and will doubtless endorse every word of the beautiful tribute paid him by the Star, which we copy today.

Jones Superior Court convened yesterday but Judge McKoy failed to appear on account of sickness. He is at Goldsboro suffering with carbuncle on the back of his neck, and will not be able to attend during the week, consequently there will be no court.

Business in the police court is picking up somewhat. Three cases yesterday, two for disorderly conduct and one for allowing mule and cart to run at large on the street. The last named was let go on payment of cost, the other two were required to contribute $1.00, and $2.00 respectively to the city treasury before paying cost.

New River Oysters.
Mr. William Ervin has just received a cargo of New river oysters and salt mussels. The oysters are pickled and very delicious. He expects to cater to the appetites of the people throughout this section, and we know of nothing that will fill the bill more perfectly than New River oysters.

Personal.
Judge Thomas and family have returned from Beaufort.

Dr. G. L. Shackelford has returned from a trip to Onslow.

Mrs. M. G. and F. S. Koonce of Jones are in the city and report an extra fine potato crop this year.

A Fraud.
We learn there is a tramp in the city claiming to be a printer and an attaché of the Journal office, and has endeavored to beat the saloon keepers out of drinks upon this fact. It is our pleasure to state that we haven't got a printer that drinks liquor, at least no one of them has ever appeared under the influence of liquor while working here, and we know they would not be a drink. Any man who visits a saloon and wants a drink furnished free on account of his being an attaché of the Journal office can safely be set down as a fraud.

Capture of a Desperate Character.

A negro by the name of Sherman Mitchell, who has been wanted at Wilson for some time to answer to the charges of burglary and highway robbery, was arrested in this city about 2 o'clock Sunday morning by Sheriff Hahn's deputies and sent to Wilson yesterday morning. He had been lurking in this community for several weeks, and it was only with the utmost diligence that the sheriff was able to capture him. When about to leave for the train yesterday morning he begged a cigar of the sheriff and very coolly informed him that he had nothing against him personally, but if he ever got free again he was coming down here and settle with several parties and wanted the sheriff to have a first class gallows on which to swing him. The sheriff replied that if he should ever have to perform that duty for him, he would be sure to make a good job of it.

Complaint From a Farmer.

A prominent farmer who was in the city yesterday asks us to call attention to the fact that farmers bringing cotton to market here are often unnecessarily detained to get their cotton weighed. He says that the buyers select certain weighers to weigh their cotton and the seller must wait his turn for this particular weigher while another weigher is doing nothing.

It was undoubtedly the intention of the law-makers to have regularly appointed, sworn and bonded weighers in order that justice might be done to both buyer and seller. We do not know that the buyer has any more right to select the weigher than the seller, and we are satisfied it makes no difference, so far as giving honest weight, which one of the weighers in New Berne weighs, but there may be something in the complaint made about delay, especially on days when there is considerable cotton in market. We hope the buyers will remedy the matter as far as possible in the future.

Left for Fayetteville.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Rev. C. B. W. Gordon, of Petersburg, Virginia, left yesterday morning for Fayetteville, N. C., where he will be the guest of Prof. E. E. Smith, principal of the State Normal school. He has won during his stay in the city the best wishes of our people.

Aurora Items.

Big crowd in town Friday.

Mr. W. E. Hooker and Mr. Hunning, of Bayboro, in town.

Dr. W. H. Peterson has been sick but is up again. Glad to see him out.

A big bear was killed Friday night on Campbell's creek; weight 347 pounds.

Messrs. Harrison Roberts & Bro., also Mr. Geo. Hill, of Washington in town.

Our fire company is having a festival to help equip them, so our streets are lively with the colored population coming to the festival.

Miss Jennie Whitty, of Pantego, in town visiting her sister, Miss Martha Whitty, the accomplished assistant teacher in Aurora high school.

Lively times. Our school is booming trade is improving. Everybody seems to be busy. Our carpenters are so busy that we can't get an old gate hung on new hinges.

Cotton is coming in rapidly. The bulls and bears are getting fired up and the "old hat man" helps to make them pay for it. And oh! don't we buy chickens and eggs.

As the time approaches for Rev. Mr. Pell to leave us we feel more regret, for he is universally beloved by all this people in and out of the church. Hope the N. C. Conference will return him to us again.

The stewards of the M. E. Church at this place met Friday and they made a good showing of the church finances. Bro. Pell's salary is almost all paid, and they think all will be paid before he leaves us.

The schooner Cobb, Capt. Satterthwait, is making regular trips from Aurora to Washington, heavily laden with cotton, etc. She runs in connection with the Clyde line and gives bills lading accordingly. So you see we have some competition with steamboats, high freights, etc.

Some of the newspaper correspondents seem to be in trouble over the low price of quinine, and intimate that it is "just out." I would say to all such send in your orders and try the Aurora market and see for yourselves. We are ready to back up all we say. The only thing our merchants like is more printers' ink.

Mr. John Bell, from Washington, was in town a few days ago looking for land to rent or buy. He is a very nice gentleman and we say to all such come along, we are glad to have such men among us. We would refer men in search of land to that clever and obliging gentleman Dr. A. B. Chapin, who is one of our largest real estate owners in Aurora.

The Doctor's Secret.

Probably no new development will more surprise the public than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. When they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it dissolved in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured, and they get the credit. Sold by all druggists.

Joel Hutchins Muse.

At 23 minutes to 7 o'clock p. m., on 30th October, 1885, this good man died. We have never been called upon during a long journalistic experience to write a sketch of the life of but one other person with whom we have been associated. In all the years of our editorial life we have never been moved by profounder sympathy and sorrow as we take pencil in hand to pay a brief tribute to our departed friend. Naturally there was not a better man in Wilmington and his relatives and friends have the sweet consolation of believing that he was fully prepared by the grace of God for the final summons. Although he had never connected himself with the church, those who know him most intimately can testify to the great interest he took in religion and all that concerned the church, and that he reposed in the infinite mercy of God as youchsafed in the death of his dear Son, the Redeemer of sinners.

Mr. Muse was one of the most amiable men we have known. For over nine years the writer sat close to him in the Star office, working at separate tables, and in all that time we never saw him manifest any temper but once, and that of a very mild sort. He was very kind, sympathetic, and genial in his relations with his fellowmen, and with those he loved he was all that husband, father and friend could possibly be. He was as gentle as a woman, confiding, unsuspecting, ready to hear good always, and reluctant to hear evil. A man of perfect honor, of strict veracity, of most obliging nature, he was esteemed by all and disliked by none. A man who could dislike him ought to examine his own heart and see the evil that is within. We do not believe in all his life he ever wronged or outraged the feelings of man or woman, or ever inflicted the slightest pain upon any designedly.

In his early manhood he resided at New Berne, where he did good service for the Democratic party in publishing the Journal. At a later time he worked at Fayetteville, and after that at Raleigh. In 1865 he removed to Wilmington, and first worked on the Herald, edited by Thomas M. Cook. He next worked on the Dispatch, and finally became the editor of the Star. About the year 1870 he entered upon his duties as City Editor of the Star. In that capacity for more than fifteen years he has been a most faithful, obliging, diligent worker. All are familiar with the hundreds of local articles he has written through these years of severe trial. No man was more devoted to duty, and no man worked harder to fill his department on the paper with interest, usefulness and fidelity. He wrote with much facility, and had a clever knack at verse writing. Some of his occasional "Carrier's Addresses" on Christmas, which the readers of the Star have often admired, were pleasant efforts of that kind of writing. Some of his contributions to the local department of the Star within the last several years were unusual clever, and one or two impressed us as rising into no little elegance and even eloquence of expression.

A good man has fallen. Last Sunday he pulled his pencil from his pocket and said with melancholy cadence to a friend and neighbor, as he looked at it, "I reckon my work is about done." Yes, the labor is ended and now it is rest. At home at last with the good and glorified, the toiling editor rests from his labors, and the memory of a good name remains to cheer and console his friends. He passed away at his own home, surrounded by some of his own family and two friends, in the 54th year of his age. How painful it is to see a friend die. How small, how powerless man appears in the presence of kingly, mighty Death! How dumb the soul is in the agony of such a supreme moment! But when the struggle is ended, and the spirit of man returns to the God and Father who gave it, and all is well, how the soul then reposes safely upon the mercy and goodness of God as manifested in the redemption wrought by the Divine Redeemer. Mr. Muse leaves a devoted wife, three sons and two daughters, to mourn his departure and to treasure his rare merits. He was born on the 4th of April, 1832, in that part of Craven county that has been erected into the county of Pamlico.

The Star is now in its nineteenth year, and Mr. Muse is the first person to die while connected with it, of the many who have served it from time to time. This is remarkable. Whose time is it next? Be ye also ready.—W. Star.

A Word of Caution.

As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters, that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by all druggists at 50c.

Honey.

Mr. Jero Perry took the honey from 4 bee-hives one day last week, and reports the largest quantity the writer has ever heard of being taken from that number of hives. They netted him 243 pounds of honey. If others who have been could get such returns as Mr. Perry (and no doubt they can if proper care is taken) honey-raising would be a paying investment.—Louisburg Times.

HE ASSERTS GEN. LEE'S LOYALTY.

Congressman McMillan Denies the Saddle and Confederate Uniform Story.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Congressman McMillan, of Tennessee, arrived here this afternoon from Virginia. He has been campaigning with Gen. Lee, having ten appointments with him. He went with him from Bristol to the sea. He says that there never has been such a campaign in Virginia since the war. There is much more interest and enthusiasm this fall than there was in the Presidential election. There is now no doubt whatever about the election of Gen. Lee by a very handsome majority. The only question that the Democrats have had to confront in the campaign has been the possible control of the Legislature by adroit and fraudulent tactics practised by Mahone, who has staked everything on the Legislature. He makes very few speeches. He has devoted all of his time to organizing. He has enforced very rigid discipline among his followers. Formal commissions upon parchment stamped with huge seals are given to trusted colored men to act as Presidents of councils. These councils are made up of well-disciplined men. None of Mahone's lieutenants are permitted to act unless able to show one of these commissions.

Mahone's plan has been by hook or crook to gain a majority of one in the lower house. If he can make that point he will then proceed to unseat enough members to give him a majority in the Legislature on a joint ballot. Mr. McMillan says that Gen. Lee's meetings have been very large. Throughout Virginia he has not seen a single military demonstration in any of the Democratic parades. The story of cavalry parades is a lie. In many parts of Virginia the mountaineers go everywhere on horse. Their processions have been civic. He has not seen anywhere anything but the United States flag. This flag is used at all Democratic meetings in the most lavish and patriotic manner. He says that it is not true that Gen. Lee has used the saddle of his uncle, Gen. Robert E. Lee, in his riding about the State. The story was a deliberate lie. The only Confederate uniform that he saw while he was in the State was worn by a negro. In Petersburg, Mahone's own town, Gen. Lee's reception was of the most enthusiastic character. Three hundred negroes took part in the Democratic procession, wearing Lee's badges. Mr. McMillan was asked to explain why there was so much enthusiasm this fall in a State campaign greater than in a Presidential year. He replied:

"The people are fighting Mahone. They feel that the future prosperity of the State depends upon his being put down. He has wrecked her railroads, debased her credit and used the most infamous political methods to carry his purposes. The honest people of Virginia have risen up because they feel that Mahone is making his last desperate fight and that it will tax their energies to the utmost to break his hold upon the State. They wish to make his defeat crushing and overwhelming, so that Mahone will never be able to hold up his head in Virginia again." Mr. McMillan is confident that the Democrats will accomplish this task.

NEWS BY MAIL.

DECISION IN REGARD TO THE CLASSIFICATION OF BROKEN RICE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Acting Secretary Fairchild today issued the following circular to customs officers in regard to the classification of broken or granulated rice. The Department hereby prescribes, first: that on and after Nov. 30, 1885, the ruling of June 25, 1855, sec. 6985, and all other decisions of the Department affecting the classifications for duty under the tariff act of the commodity known as broken or granulated rice shall be considered as cancelled and annulled, and on and after that date such commodity shall be classified in accordance with the size of the granules composing the importations by assimilation either as "cleaned rice," at a duty of 21 cents per pound, or as "rice flour," at a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem, under the special provisions therefor in schedule G, in pursuance of section 2499 of the revised statutes, as contained in the act of March 3d, 1883. Second: that no substance claiming to be broken or granulated rice shall be admitted to entry by assimilation to rice flour, as aforesaid, unless it is found upon careful examination of customs officers, to be composed of the same sized granules or smaller, as the official samples marked "C K," of 300 lbs. of so-called granulated rice, which were imported into New York by the Fowler Rice Company, per steamer Elbe, on the 30th of June, 1885; it being distinctly understood that any such commodity composed of larger granules than those represented by such samples shall be classified as cleaned rice.

FERRY WARD SENTENCED TO THE STATE PRISON FOR TEN YEARS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Ferdinand Ward was sentenced by Judge Barrett today to the State prison for ten years.

The Atlanta Constitution.

In a long article relating to the B. B. B. of that city says:

The Blood Balm Company started one year ago with $102, but today the business cannot be bought for $50,000!

The demand and the satisfaction given is said to be without a parallel, as its action is pronounced wonderful.

We are glad to announce that our druggists have already secured a supply, and we hope our readers will supply themselves at once.

It is said to be the only speedy and permanent blood poison remedy offered, giving entire satisfaction in all cases before one bottle had been used.

For Blood Diseases, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, old Ulcers and Skin Diseases, try one bottle of B. B. B.

For sale wholesale and retail by R. N. Duffy. Cash to accompany the order.
