A good crowd of Jones county farmers were in the city yesterday.

The Shenandoah carried out a full load of cotton yesterday evening.

The steamer Neuse made a trip to the New Berne and Beaufort Canal yesterday.

Yesterday was the biggest day of the season at the Cotton Exchange. Prices reached 8.85.

The steamer Stout carried out a full cargo of cotton, shingles and naval stores yesterday.

Raleigh had a very enthusiastic meeting on Wednesday night on the industrial school question.

One gentleman offers to be one of twenty to pay $50 for a Fair. We already have five down for this amount.

Messrs. Moore & Brady are about ready for operations at the cannery factory. The oystermen can begin to bring on their oysters.

Cotton futures for November advanced fourteen points in New York yesterday, and a similar advance is noted in New Berne spots.

A large rabbit appeared on South Front Street yesterday evening and created considerable excitement and amusement until he was captured. It was fun for the captors but death to the captured.

Personal.

Dr. Charles Duffy, Rodolph Duffy, Esq., Messrs. Ed. Murrill, S. W. Venter, Marshburn and others of Onslow county, were in the city yesterday.

Miss Nellie Seymour has returned from New York.

Messrs. Joel Kinsey and A. E. Wadsworth, two of Craven county's energetic farmers, were at the Exchange yesterday and are enthusiastic for a Fair at New Berne.

Tobacco.

We have a sample of bright leaf tobacco raised in Sampson county by Mr. J. L. Carroll and cured by Mr. B. F. Mebane, an old tobacco grower from Caswell county. It took the first premium at the Goldsboro Fair. Mr. Carroll, we are told, raised enough of this tobacco on fifteen acres of land to bring him $2,800. This would seem to be sufficient proof that tobacco growing could be made profitable in Sampson.

Fire.

Last night about 10 o'clock a lamp exploded in the East room of the second story of W. P. Burrus' residence on Pollock street and set the room in a blaze. Miss Myra, eldest daughter of Mr. Burrus, in attempting to arrest the flames was badly burned, though it is hoped not seriously.

The fire department was out in a remarkably short time, but the timely arrival of the neighbors with a few buckets of water stopped the fire without a stream from the engines.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrus are absent in Hyde county.

The furniture in the room was considerably damaged.
Dr. Chas. Duffy was called to Miss Burrus, but we go to press before we can ascertain the extent of her injuries.

More Fairs.

Some think there are too many fairs in the State. The Free Press thinks differently. They all do good—more than one could possibly do. Let us have more we say. The farmers need to be brought together as often as possible so that they may learn from each other. That is the greatest work of a Fair, we believe.—Kinston Free Press.

Yes, this is the work of the Fair, and the more accessible to the farmers the more interest they will take in them. The Pamlico section needs a Fair to bring the farmers together with their exhibits; bring them together so that they may have an opportunity of interchanging views and learn what is being done in other neighborhoods besides their own. New Berne is a central point for a large section of country. It is accessible by the A. & N. C. R. and numerous creeks and rivers to several adjoining counties. If these counties would join us we could have the best Fair in the State. One that would be a grand success financially and in the exhibits.

Special Gold Dust.

The appearance of "Special Gold Dust" on our streets yesterday did not frighten the silver man. In fact the champion of the "Dollar of the Daddies" admired "Special Gold Dust" and is not afraid that his appearance will aid in demoralizing silver.

"Special Gold Dust" is a fine horse owned by Joel Kinsey, Esq., of Cobton. He is only three years old and weighs 1,100 pounds; is a fine figure and can easily make a mile in three minutes. We have promised to publish his pedigree as soon as Mr. Kinsey will furnish it.

Mr. Kinsey is a very successful stock raiser as well as farmer. He has one of the finest year-old colts in the State, and pays special attention to breeding fine horses. He is anxious for a Fair at New Berne and he promised to help liberally towards inaugurating it. We believe every farmer in Craven county and a great many in adjoining counties will take a great interest in a Fair at New Berne. We must have one next fall, and perhaps we might as well announce that silver will be taken without discount, notwithstanding the appearance of "Special Gold Dust."

Sanders' Store Items.

Fine fall weather now—and the health of the community almost perfect.

The fishermen of Bogue sound had had bad luck seine fishing, though the net fishing during the summer was good and the prices for fish were high.

The steam whistle and plashing of our new steamer has not been heard lately; she is losing time for our crops are being marketed and soon there will be no freighting to do.

I have not heard from Mr. Aman since court—but hope that he is well, and that his alarm dream has not raised any antipathy against our legal fraternity; but I am afraid the ill success of the Margie and the annoyance of her debts are now creating will bounce him to lose all his enthusiasm for steamboating, and cause him to long for the olden ways. It is better, however, to have had luck at first than at last—and we all have heard that a bad beginning makes a good ending.

Mr. Geo. Dennis says he never saw better times than these—that he can now live on cakes cheaper than he ever could on corn and pork; that $5 will almost make a cake as high as the moon and is so happy that he has to keep up his breeches on his hips more than a hundred times a day in his jolly happy laugh over the joyful times. His only trouble is a little extravagance in tobacco—having to renew his chew more often on account of blowing it out of his mouth in his happy side-splitting. This is the result of living within his income—making no debts. He is the champion economist of our community. It is said he and one of his economical neighbors own farming tools in partnership and work on alternate days with them—yet both are successful in making crops.

Hog cholera has about ceased, exhausting the material it had to draw upon.

The year is drawing to a close fast; I wonder what proportion of our farmers here have credits exceeding their debts! Yes, I wonder! wonder!! wonder!!!
J. W. S.

We Must Have It Again.

Craven county is talking of holding a Fair next fall, and thence on every year. It has been many years ago, but Craven, we are told, used to have the finest Fairs of the State, and we dare say she could do likewise again. Her old Fair grounds on the banks of the Neuse, near New Berne, were as pretty as a picture, overlooking as they did the city and the surrounding country and the beautiful river even to afar off.—Goldsboro Argus.

Who's the Best Physician?

The one that does most to relieve suffering humanity of the thousand and one ills that befall them, bringing joy to sorrowing thousands, is certainly the best of all physicians. Electric Bitters are daily doing this, curing hundreds that have tried all other remedies and found no relief. As a spring tonic and blood purifier they are a perfect specific, and for liver and kidney complaints have no equal. In the strongest sense of the term, they are positively the best and cheapest physician known.—Daily Times. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents.

NORTH CAROLINA AND THE BAPTISTS.

Dr. Hufham's Lecture—Physical Features of Palestine, by Prof. Potent, Etc.

[News and Observer.]
WAKE FOREST, Nov. 10, 1885.
Rev. J. D. Hufham, D. D., of Scotland Neck, spent last night here, being on his way to the meeting of the Baptist State convention at Reidsville. According to announcement, he appeared on the rostrum yesterday evening at seven o'clock, and was greeted by a large audience. In beginning his address Dr. Hufham indulged in some of his inimitable pleasantry, in which his comparison of president Taylor and Achilles was prominent. The subject of the lecture had not been announced, but those who were aware of Dr. Hufham's familiarity with the early history of the State and of the Baptists in it were not surprised when he said he would speak first of what North Carolina owed to the Baptists and then of what the Baptists owed to North Carolina.

He loved the old State, from mountain to seaboard; his remaining days should be spent within her borders, and he wanted to sleep at last in her soil. North Carolina owed to the Baptists—1. Preparation for the civil and religious liberty which she now enjoys. The first settlement of the State, before its erection into a colony, was made by Quakers and Baptists, seeking to escape the intolerance of Massachusetts and intervening colonies. The principle of soul liberty was not recognized by the first charter. The only Baptist settlers bore the chief part in the proclamation of this doctrine and in opposition to the State church established by the charter, as they did also in the measures that led to the war of independence. And after the war was over it was by the firm opposition of the Baptists of the State that a constitution containing no guarantee of religious liberty was not adopted. By their influence mainly the great principle was incorporated in the constitution.

It is largely due to the Baptists that North Carolina is today a Christian State. The leaders of thought in State aid society after the revolution were infected with the prevalent French infidelity. The ministers of the Episcopal church, with some honorable exceptions had little influence on the side of religion. The Quakers remained in their old settlement in the east, the Cape Fear, and the Moravians around Salem. Yet the Baptists went all over the State preaching the gospel and founding churches, otherwise the infidelity of the upper class would have penetrated the masses of the people.

The Baptists owed it to North Carolina: 1. That they should stand by and proclaim the principles which had so much benefited her in the past.
2. That they take a larger share in the government of the State.
3. The State owed much to the Baptists educationally. The indirect influence of Baptists in the example of their ministry and in their organization had been as almost as potent in this direction as their direct influence in establishing and endowing with $100,000, before the war, Wake Forest college, in the founding of Murfreesboro female college, and in the positive labors of Dr. Wingate and others who traveled through the State and aroused interest in the subject of education.

4. The State had obtained from the Baptists the noblest examples of Christian character and consecration. And that since the late war. An example: Out of their poverty the Baptists of North Carolina have raised not less than $300,000 for higher education since the war.

In concluding the lecturer said that the future of the North Carolina Baptist depended largely upon the men whom Wake Forest should educate. The lecture was as inspiring as it was full of information. It bristled with historic names and incidents. It is hoped that Dr. Hufham will give the world the benefit of his researches into the early history of our State.

On Sunday afternoon, the 8th inst., Prof. Potent made a lecture to the young ministers of the Yates theological society, on the physical features of Palestine. That society numbers thirty-six. Other students, as well as citizens, were present.

I saw this afternoon the weighmaster put the number on the 1,415th bale of cotton sold in this place this season.

The Rice Crop.

The Gazette has heretofore said that the rice crop in this section was almost a failure. This fact is emphasized by Mr. Wallace, proprietor of the steam threshing machine. He says last year he threshed about fifteen hundred bushels at the Head of Pungo, and this year he has threshed only four hundred bushels, a fall off of eleven hundred bushels. This is the report from nearly the whole rice section.—Washington Gazette.

New Lake Canal.

Gen. Lewis, of Goldsboro, took passage on the steamer Washington last week for Hyde county to examine the New Lake Canal, for which the State has appropriated 150 convicts. Gen. Lewis thinks by deepening the canal it will be of great benefit to the farmers along the lake and open up lands that are now almost worthless on account of overflow. We are glad to see that the East is getting some benefit from the convict labor. Gen. Lewis thinks it very probable that work will begin early next spring.—Washington Gazette.

NEWS BY MAIL.

LABOR TROUBLES AT PITTSBURG, PA.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 12.—The boycotting of the firm of Kauffmann Bros. clothiers, which has been in progress for some time past because the firm refused to employ union labor, has assumed a new form. The firm had placed signs on street cars and the workmen attacked the drivers and conductors and endeavored to compel them to remove the signs. The indications are that there will be a serious trouble, as some of the drivers refuse to take out the cars, being apprehensive of violence. In one instance stones and mud were thrown at the cars, but no one was injured.

CONFESSION OF A MURDERER IN THE STATE PENITENTIARY.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—An interview with ex-Recorder Thomas J. Ford, now in the penitentiary, was published this afternoon. In it he confesses that it was he, and not his brother "Pat" Ford, that killed police captain Murphy. He said: "I fired two shots before he fell, and he was not exactly down after the first two shots were fired. As I reached him I fired the last shot, but how many I was so excited I cannot tell."

SUDDEN DEATH OF DR. J. L. CRAVEN.

HIGH POINT, N. C., Nov. 12.—This morning, at Trinity College, Dr. J. L. Craven dropped dead from apoplexy. He was a prominent physician and son of Rev. B. Craven, late president of Trinity College.

STRIKE OF FREIGHT BRAKEMEN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Nineteen crews of brakemen on the Illinois Central Railroad struck yesterday for an increase of five dollars per month in salary, and payment for all over time and Sunday work. Some of them claim to be compelled to be on the road twenty hours at a stretch. It is expected many other crews will strike today.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The strike of freight brakemen on the Illinois Central Railroad has assumed large proportions. The men have asked for pay for over time and Sundays. A number of trains arrived last night and came in at 7 o'clock this morning. The crews of the arriving trains have all joined the ranks of the strikers. The tracks in the yards are full of cars.

Gum Branch Items.

Corn all housed; cotton all picked out and most all ginned; potatoes all dug and money all spent.

Christmas coming and the mortgage not paid. What will become of us, we don't know, but guess we will "worry through," as the man said when he wanted to make it appear by his actions that it was nearer to come by way of Kinston to this place from New Berne.

Well, it is said the Quaker Bridge road is getting pretty rough to travel on now, especially the Jones county part, and we hope the people will work on it soon; but it is about 60 miles round by Kinston, and only about 30 through by Quaker Bridge road, and if we go there will try the latter.

There was a very large crowd at Jacksonville Monday, and some red eye was made use of, but we saw no blood, only a few "cuss words" now and then. Solicitor O. H. Allen was on hand, also Messrs. H. E. Bryan, Clarke, Pelletier, Guion and Clem Manly. All seemed ready for business, but none came.

We have two young women in our community—we say young because they are not over 30 years old—who are over six feet high and wear No. 14 shoes, are large in size in proportion, both sisters. They have a brother who wears a No. 18 shoe and is not grown; and their mother wore a still larger shoe than either of her children. We will say that they are colored people, and seem to have a good deal of understanding, as well as being remarkable in other various ways, industrious, etc.

We were at Jacksonville Monday the 9th inst., but no court and we saw some dead and some sorry people. The commissioners we understood, petitioned for an extra session on the 13th Monday in January next. Saw friend Taylor of the Free Press, and Cobb of the Messenger; but don't think they were glad much because of no Judge. Saw Burgess of Norfolk, one of our old 27th Regiment, but he is not a newspaper man if he is a drummer boy. Was at the funeral of Mrs. E. L. Franks, jr., and heard a good sermon by Rev. A. G. Gaunt from Jer. 15:9. Mrs. F. was a daughter of Dr. E. Sandlin, Esq. This was the largest funeral attendance we ever saw in the county, we believe. The funeral was held at the residence of the father of the deceased.

A Remarkable Escape.

Mrs. George C. Clarke, of Port Dalhousie, Ontario, states that she has been confined to her room for a long time with that dreadful disease, Consumption. The doctors said she could not escape an early grave, but fortunately she began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and in a short time was completely cured. Doubting ones, please write Mrs. Clarke, and be convinced. Sold by all druggists.

Scrofula.

Are any members of your family thus afflicted? Have they scrofulous swellings of the glands? Have they any scrofulous sores or ulcers? If so, and it should be neglected, the peculiar taint, or poison, may deposit itself in the substance of the lungs, producing CONSUMPTION. Look well to the condition of your family, and if thus afflicted, give the proper remedy without delay. Buy that which makes absolute cures in the shortest space of time. The unerring finger of public opinion points to B. B. B. as the most wonderful remedy for scrofula ever known. You need not take our word—you need not know our names—merit is all you seek. Ask your neighbors, ask your druggist, ask or write to those who give their certificates and be convinced that B. B. B. is the quickest and most perfect Blood Purifier ever before known.

A RARE CHANCE For a Good Farmer.

The plantation known as the CALVIN PERRY PLACE, two and a half miles from New Berne, on the Trent road, is offered for sale on reasonable terms. It contains eight hundred acres, seven hundred of which are cleared. It is well adapted to the growth of corn, cotton, and every variety of truck. A splendid dwelling and out-houses beautifully located. Two tenant houses; a fine orchard and vineyard, which alone, owing to convenience to market, will support a small family. This plantation is drained by Trent river and Jimmie's creek, and extends to Trent road, a splendid opportunity for stock raising, and a rare chance for investment.
