It is related on the late Judge Black that, in 1857, just after he was appointed Attorney General of the United States, ne was staying at the Aster House, New he was staying at the Aster House, New York. Scores of leading politicians called upon him. One day a small, gray-haired man arrived at the hotel, and registered himself as Judge J. Williams, Iowa. On seeing the name of Judge Black on the book he took a card and wrote: "The Supreme Judge of Iowa presents his compliments to the Attorney General of the United State." He sent this up to Judge Black 's room, together with a half sheet of paper on which he had written: which he had written: Oh Jerry dear Jerry, I've found you al-last!
