All who have tried our 10c. hams say they are as good as any in market. HUMPHREY & HOWARD.

Wood is in demand.

The steamer Shenandoah carried out a full load of cotton yesterday evening.

Many farmers at the Exchange yesterday, and many of them remembered the way to the JOURNAL office.

Messrs. M. DeW. Stevenson, F. M. Simmons and H. W. Wahab arrived from Hyde court yesterday. They had a rough time in Pamlico sound on Thursday night.

A hoghead of green moss and a number of cotton stalks filled with open bolls were forwarded on the Shenandoah yesterday by Capt. E. B. Roberts to New York to be used in decorating a church on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. W. T. Ormond, formerly of Greene county, now of Texas, called to see us last night. He has spent twelve years in Texas and seems to be satisfied with having cast his lot there. He says the Old North State has outgrown him so far that he would hardly feel right to come back to her soil again to enter the race of progress and enterprise to be seen on every hand. He says he finds many "Tar Heels" in Texas and every other Southern State he has been in.

A colored boy was before the Mayor's court a day or two ago for disorderly conduct and was fined two dollars and cost. The nature of his offense, we learn, was shoving some of the children on their way home from the Graded School off the sidewalk, an offense which had been committed frequently by children from a colored school on Hancock street, so often that it was necessary to send a policeman to that quarter of the city, who detected this boy in the act. For the sake of peace and harmony we suggest that one school or the other change the hour of dismissal so that the children will not meet in crowds on the sidewalks.

Accident at a Saw Mill.

Clayton C. Bell, a young man at Harlowe, while standing at the edging saw of R. W. Bell's mill last Wednesday, had the thumb and forefinger of his left hand cut off and the hand otherwise badly mutilated. He is doing very well.

Fine Cotton.

Col. J. N. and Hardy Whitford had at the Exchange yesterday a lot of about 40 bales of cotton which classed good middling and sold for 94, the best price brought in this market for some time. This cotton was ginned with great care, water power being used and only two bales per day ginned, when the capacity of the gin is from six to eight bales.

Charter Extended.

As will be seen in an advertisement elsewhere, the Comptroller of the Currency has extended the charter of the National Bank of New Berne for twenty years. This has been done after a most rigid and thorough investigation of the condition of the bank by an agent of the government. This speaks well for the management of this institution in view of its recent heavy loss on account of the failure of the Exchange Bank of Norfolk. The examination required in order for extension of charter, we learn, is such that but few can pass, yet we are glad to know the National Bank of New Berne has passed and has another twenty years of usefulness before it.

The immense preparations of Turkey for war mean a good deal more than protection of her frontier against invasions of Servians. It is evident that the Turk has not the slightest confidence in the friendly professions of Russia and Austria.

Nine Physicians Outdone.
It is generally considered a pretty difficult task to outdo a physician, but the following will conclusively prove where nine were completely outdone. Mrs. Helen Pharris, 331 Dayton st., Chicago, Ill., was treated for Consumption by nine physicians, and all pronounced her case incurable. Seven bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption completely cured her. Doubtless ones, please drop her a postal and convince yourselves. Sold by all Druggists.

Boom The Fair.

"Boom the Fair," said Mr. M. B. Wilkinson, of Italia, Beaufort county, as he handed us his two dollars for the JOURNAL yesterday. "I cannot," said he, "do without the JOURNAL and nothing would please our people better than a Fair at New Berne."

This is the tenor of the conversation we have with farmers from every direction, and we have talked with many on the subject. We have made inquiries enough to satisfy us that the farmers in this section would be glad to meet at New Berne annually to exhibit their farm products and stock, provided New Berne will furnish grounds and proper buildings for such exhibits. Will it pay New Berne to have three or four thousand people visit us for four days next fall? Will it pay to have strangers come among us, see our truck farms, our manufacturing industries, our schools, churches, shelled streets, etc.? If we are content to remain as we are; if we have as many farmers and as many factories as we want in this section then, of course, it is no use to make an effort to move forward with our sister towns in their progress and enterprise.

We occasionally hear it said there is a lack of enterprise in New Berne. This is no more true than of any other town in North Carolina. All our people want is to be convinced that a proposed enterprise is a good thing and necessary for the welfare of the community. They were enterprising enough to put steamers on every navigable river and creek tributary to Pamlico sound, south of Pamlico river; they were shown the necessity of establishing a Graded School for the education of the children in the community and they did it at once; they were afterwards convinced that a building was needed for the school and the public can see as they pass the Academy Green evidences of enterprise and good works.

We want now to convince them that a Fair will pay as an investment, and we know when we do this we will have it. Every one of our citizens who believe it will pay ought to say so by giving us his name and the amount of stock he is willing to take in it. The farmers will soon begin to prepare crops for another year, and if they know that New Berne will have a Fair next fall they will prepare land to make something to bring to it. Why delay the matter? Let an organization be effected at once so that estimates may be made of the cost.

More Manufacturing.

Messrs. Moore & Brady, we learn, are considering the question of adding other industries to their canning establishment, so as to utilize the steam power and the space they now have. We have been asked to suggest something that might be successfully inaugurated, give employment to the people and consume raw material of which we have an abundance. There are many industries that might be successfully conducted at New Berne, if properly managed. Our forests abound in material for making hubs, spokes, rims, handles, etc.; the ash, maple, poplar and pine in our swamps ought to be worked up into furniture, in New Berne, instead of being sent North in its rough state. The hides of all our beef cattle are sent North to be manufactured into shoes and boots which are brought back and sold, in many instances, probably to the original owner of the beef. Thousands of buckets, pails, tubs and other woodware are brought and sold here annually, while our swamps have plenty of juniper, cypress, and other woods that ought to be worked up here.

There is no lack of material to work on in order to start almost any industry in the wood line. All that is lacking is capital, skilled labor, and some man with brain, energy and enterprise to conduct business of that kind. Hands can be worked as many hours in the day and as many days in the year, so far as climate is considered, in New Berne as in any portion of the U. S. It has great advantages in its accessibility to the raw material along the creeks and rivers both above and below. Then why cannot a man with the same machinery, and the same skilled hands make a bedstead, table, bucket, tub, shoe, boot, or anything else that we have material for, with as little cost in New Berne, where any one can live as cheaply as anywhere in this country, as anywhere North. The truth is it can be done, and it only lacks capital and brain to do this.

Messrs. Moore & Brady now have a plant in this city, they own the property, and in a very short time will make it a valuable property. They have already done much good in giving employment to many of our needy people, and we hope they may see their way to adding other industries to the one already in operation. We know nothing of the amount of capital necessary for such enterprises, but common sense would seem to teach that any of the industries we have mentioned would pay as well in New Berne as anywhere else.

Stonewall Items.

Well, I have seen long, short, and no-tail cats, but until lately I never saw or heard tell of a forked tail one. C. B. Midyett says he has one.

R. H. Baxter and Miss Florence Hamlin were married on the 18th inst., as predicted sometime since, in the church in this place. Rev. Mr. Reider officiating.

Mr. H. H. Muse, who has been afflicted for the past month or more, is reported to be slowly improving, and there is strong hopes of his friends that he will get well.

Jas. O. Baxter has a Japan persimmon tree very full of fruit and they are very nice; some of them as much as half a pound. They are about the color of an orange and as large as common sized ones.

I see your Carteret county itemizer advises folks to plant at least one pecan tree. My advice would be to set their entire groves with them, and if any person wish a few, Jas. S. Lane, of this place, can supply as many as four dozen at $1 each, delivered on board the steamer Elm City properly packed for transportation. From now until March is the proper time to transplant them.

A Glance at the Future.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—If the Democratic party is to continue in power, it is of the first importance that the House of Representatives to be elected next fall, should have a Democratic majority. That election will be regarded as a test of party strength, midway in the Administration, and as an expression of the popular will regarding the Presidency.

Harmony in the councils and in the action of the party during the coming session of Congress, both on the part of the Administration and of the present House, is absolutely necessary. If there are elements of discord between Congress and the Executive as to any question of public policy, the duty of both is to seek a common ground of understanding before issue is joined, and if possible to remove the cause of disagreement.

The recent election in New York has seriously alarmed the Republicans and correspondingly encouraged the Democrats. It will probably cause the former to reconstruct their line of battle for 1888, and to drop all the candidates who have made themselves conspicuous as advocates or agitators of the old sectional policy. The bloody banner of strife between North and South can no longer be waved with profit.

Prosperity will have revived, and commercial intercourse with the Southern States, which are every day developing their hitherto untapped resources and growing rich upon new industries, will dissipate any lingering prejudices as to the true sentiments and purposes of that section of the Union.

In this situation the Republican leaders will direct their efforts to Congress to make every possible breach between the Administration and the majority in the House. They will profess great regard for the President's courage in any act likely to lead to divergence from his own friends. They will praise his intentions, and then vote against nomination that may vex them personally or locally.

These devices have been practiced heretofore, and they ought not to deceive Democrats who have passed through similar experience, or who are familiar with political history. John Tyler was captured and carried away by false professions. Millard Fillmore was misled by the seductions of faction. Andrew Johnson was conquered by the delusions of ambition. These memorable examples are full of instruction and admonition. It is not supposed that President Cleveland requires either for the guidance of his conduct. But they may be cited for the benefit of politicians who are spreading their nets to entrap him.

The next House of Representatives will not only be important in the sense already described, but if a new element should enter the Presidential contest in 1888, as is now proposed, by giving a larger consequence to the Prohibition party, and an election by the people should fail, that House would determine the result by a majority of States.

In 1880 Garfield carried nineteen States and Hancock nineteen, though the former had a majority of fifty-nine in the Electoral College. On the popular vote his majority was 9,466 over Hancock, in an aggregate of 8,899,368. In 1864 Cleveland carried twenty States and Blaine eighteen, though the former had a majority of thirty-seven in the Electoral College. On the popular vote Cleveland's majority was 62,683 in an aggregate of 9,759,351 cast for the two candidates.

These figures and facts are not to be slighted. They show very plainly that neither side can afford to indulge in internal dissensions, and that he is an enemy to the success of the Democracy who in any way incites disorder in its ranks.—N. Y. SUN.

The War in the Balkans.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 19.—The Independence publishes a dispatch from its correspondent at Sofia stating that the Servians attacked the third Bulgarian regiment escorting an ambulance train and bayoneted the wounded soldiers which it contained. The correspondent also states that Prince Alexander submits to the terms of the Sultan, embodied in the latter's reply to the Prince's appeal for help, and begs the Sultan to aid him at once.

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—An official Servian report received this afternoon, says: "Accounts telegraphed yesterday that the Servian troops menacing Slonitz were repulsed by Bulgarians under the immediate command of Prince Alexander, are false. The Bulgarians succeeded in approaching the Servian positions under cover of a heavy fog, but after sharp fighting were repulsed. The Servians drove the Bulgarians to Slavinji entrenchments, and in the whole engagement had 500 men killed and wounded. A reconnoitering force sent in the direction of Slavinji skirmished for two hours with the Bulgarians and then retired within the Servian lines."

SEMLIN, Nov. 19.—Trustworthy reports received here state that the Servian loss at Slavinza yesterday was three times greater than that given in the official account, and actually exceeded the previous total loss since the outbreak of hostilities. Prince Alexander was in the thick of the battle from the beginning to the end. The Servians noticed that he first rode a white horse and afterward a brown horse. It is believed the white horse was shot from under him.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—British Consul Lascelles, who is at Belgrade, and who keeps Lord Salisbury informed of everything in connection with the war, makes no mention of the reported capture of Widdin by the Servians. It is, therefore, believed that the Bulgarians still hold Widdin. It is noteworthy that almost all the war accounts so far have emanated from Servian sources, and the Servian authorities forbid war correspondents to accompany the Servian forces.

Plain Questions.

Mythical ideas are fanning the public brow with the breath of prejudice, ignorance and humbuggery. Have you the remotest idea that your scrofula was created by the use of potash and mercury? No matter what the cause, B. B. B. is the peer of all other remedies. Do you presume that your troublesome catarrh is the result of mineral poisoning? B. B. B. is the quickest remedy. Are your chronic ulcers and boils and sores the result of potash and mercury? Medical gentlemen will not tell you so, but B. B. B. is the only sovereign remedy. Were your terrible kidney troubles created by mineral poisoning? Not a bit of it, but B. B. B. has proven to be a reliable remedy. Are your skin diseases, your eczema, dry tetter, etc., the effect of too much potash and mercury? The medical profession are the best judges, and they say nay, but B. B. B. makes more pronounced cures than all other preparations combined.

Better than Real Estate

There are very few investments better than real estate, but we know of one that is, and that one is a policy in

THE FIDELITY MUTUAL LIFE ASSOC'N OF PHILADELPHIA.

The policy can be bought at the rate of $22.50 for $50,000. It needs no cultivation or repairs, and the yearly tax on it, levied tri-annually, is not as much as the tax on real estate of like value. Upon the death of the owner, the policy does not require appraisers, administrators and lawyers to diminish the value, but is PAID IN FULL AND AT ONCE without expense to the beneficiary named therein.

The payment of each policy is guaranteed by nearly $10,000,000 assessable insurance with a reserve indemnity of $200,000, and cash assets of nearly $50,000.

The Association owns its own building, and rents enough offices to have its rent free. Its expenses are limited to fixed annual dues.
