Collars and Cuffs.

When cupid wears the DIAMOND shirt, His conquest's sure of hearts so tender, For when they see this manly guise, The ladies always quick surrender.

Surely the ladies are attracted by neatness of dress, which adds so much to the general elegance of one's appearance. What's more vital to a well-dressed man than a perfect-fitting, smooth-setting shirt?

Snap Fifty.

"Snap Fifty" is a very attractive home game; all the family can participate in it, and it may be made very merry, without danger of exciting unpleasant feelings. The players sit about any smooth table, the cloth of which is removed, and each one receives the same number say five, of checker men. Kernels of corn or flat counters of some sort will do, and all the better if they cannot roll, though checker men are the best for expert players. The men belonging to each player must be distinctly marked with his initial or otherwise. The game proceeds in this way: An inverted tea-saucer or flower-pot saucer is placed in the middle. Then one after another, going to the left around, the players each snap one man or counter from the edge of the table, or from a certain line, towards the saucer. When all the counters are played, the one whose man is closest counts five for game; if two or more of the same player's men are nearer than others, he counts ten or fifteen—five for each. If a counter lies up partly off the table and upon the saucer it counts ten; if one has landed upon the top of the saucer, fifteen. Every player is at liberty to make a strong shot and knock away a man of one of his opponents. If he knocks it off of the table it counts five; if his own man goes off or if he knocks off one of his own men, it counts five to every one of the other players. A player may by shooting at one of his own men push it up close to the saucer, or he may even knock it quite up upon the saucer. The game is fifty.—American Agriculturist.

A Little Gold Was Spent.

Mr. Z. A. Clark, of Atlanta, Ga., in speaking of $480 00 in gold, desires to say to the readers of this paper, that the whole of the above amount was spent in a fruitless effort in finding relief from a terrible Blood Poison affecting his body, limbs and nose—presenting ugly running ulcers. He is now sound and well, having been cured by the most speedy and wonderful remedy ever before known, and any interested party who may need a Blood Purifier will learn from him that three bottles of B. B. B. restored his appetite, healed all ulcers, relieved his kidneys, and added twenty-one pounds to his weight in thirty days. For sale wholesale and retail by R. N. Duffy. Cash to accompany the order.
