Many cases were disposed of in the Superior Court yesterday, but there are still several in jail awaiting trial and it is not likely that the criminal docket will be cleared this week.

"Old man," said Judge Phillips to El. Hill, an old colored man who was indicted for selling liquor on election day, "You got off on a technicality."

"Yes, sir, yes sir," replied the old man. "Do you know what that is?"

asked His Honor, "Not exactly, sir, not exactly." Well, it means this, there was a fence all around you, but there was a little gap on one side and you slipped out. Now don't you sell any more wine on election day. You said you squeezed the juice out of the grapes three days before the election in November." Yes, sir, "Do grapes ripen in this section at that season of the year?" "Yes sir, yes sir, I sweetened it myself," and the old man made a polite bow and retired.

Pensions Allowed.
Yesterday final action was taken in the matter of the allowance of pensions. They were allowed to 1,089 widows and 979 soldiers. They each receive $14.75. The board of pensions has reserved, of the $80,000 appropriated, $235, to meet extreme cases which could not be approved by reason of the fact that the evidence required was not supplied before the close of the fiscal year ending November 30.—News and Observer.

Serious Accident.
On Wednesday night at Mr. A. Hahn, brother of Sheriff Hahn, was descending the incomplete stairway that leads to the bar in the new court house, and not being familiar with the turn which it makes about midway, and there being no railing to the steps, he walked off, falling about eight feet to the floor, breaking his right arm just above the wrist, severely injuring the left and inflicting other bruises. It was a very dangerous fall and the wonder is how he escaped without even more serious hurts than he received. He is doing very well under the circumstances. The commissioners have had a temporary railing placed in order to prevent similar accidents.

Court adjourned at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

Hahn and Stinson Factions.

It developed during the trial of State vs. L. H. Smith, indicted for an assault and battery on Phillip Wiggins, yesterday, that the Hahn and Stinson factions still maintain their identity. Council for Smith argued to the jury that the character of his client was not good in the estimation of the witness who passed upon it simply because he, Smith, was a Stinson man. To the credit of the witness, however, it must be stated that he declared emphatically that politics did not influence him in the least.

Ere the spring time comes the factions will be in full bloom, and local politicians that have been lost sight of for about one year will again appear on the stage of action—that is if the candidates agree to furnish the soap.

Letter from Florida.

ROCK LEDGE, INDIAN RIVER, Fla., Nov. 20th, 1885.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—It is with pleasure that I go to the postoffice and get your valuable paper, for while I peruse its columns I am for the time being at home. Oh! how sweet home. Even in far off tropical Florida, it carried me back to the dear old place, home and friends. But on opening your last issue almost the first thing that I cast my eye on chronicled the death of one of my dearest friends, Mrs. Jennie Frankish, and my eye rivets on the paragraph, my mind in a moment goes back fifteen years, when first we met. She was then quite young, and the many happy days we have spent together in those our happiest days I seem to live fifteen years before I gather strength to read all the paragraph. Then, and not until then, since I have been here, have I wished to be home, if only for a short hour; but such is the wanderer's lot; he must sit and read of home and friends and hide his grief from strangers, who know nothing of him or his grief, or drop a tear in silence, with no one for companions but the stately palmettos which line the banks of the beautiful Indian river. There is still a duty for me to tender my most heartfelt sympathy to her bereaved husband, father and mother and all her family; and in this far off State when I retire to my lonely couch I will pray that He who doeth all things well will seat her among the angels, and when life's ramblings are over and my tempest-tossed bark has steered safely over life's stormy sea and safely moored in a haven of rest where storms never enter and trouble never comes, I hope to meet her again.

I have refitted my boat, the North Carolina, for a three month's cruise down amongst the keys, to Key West, and from there to Tortugas and Cape Sable, and then among the Ten Thousand Islands, in the Gulf of Mexico.

I have only been down the river as far as the St. Lucies river, seventy miles below this place. Spent three days there and saw while there two manatees captured, or sea cows, some call them; considerable cow fish, I would call them. Those I saw would have weighed twelve hundred pounds each. The St. Lucies river is the only place in the United States where the manatee can be found. The sea cow eats and lives on the manatee grass, which is found nowhere else, and grows in immense quantities in St. Lucies river. Perhaps it would be better to try to give a description of manatee before I go any farther. It is a difficult task, as he is neither fish nor animal. He is an awkward-looking creature; his mouth is shaped somewhat like the cow's; small black eyes; jaw teeth; no front teeth. They have flippers at shoulder, something like turtle, heavy black skin half an inch thick; make good gum belting I think. He is provided with a heavy fan-like tail, somewhat on the lobster order; and that is all the propelling machinery he has; no back or belly flukes. They are very swift. They possess one sense, that is of hearing; perhaps it is the most acute of any animal; so much so that you cannot handle an oar in the water half a mile away so careful as not to alarm them. They rise to the surface and blow like turtles—just stick his nose out. They eat them here and down on the keys. Meat is worth 10c. per pound. Tried some. I can't say I like cow fish. I commenced on a mouthful and soon had enough for two so I threw the whole overboard.

We are progressing slowly with the hotel at Rock Ledge, due to unforeseen trouble in money matters in the commencement. I don't think we can possibly be ready with the building this season.

Orange crops fine. They are abundant on the river, due to fine seasons. The growers have commenced shipping. I think too soon, as the oranges are not full ripe, and it will no doubt injure prices of Florida fruit in Northern markets. Though we are here like some other places—scarce money with us like orange crop brings money with us like your cotton does with you. The pine apple crop is over for this year. I see only a few shipped now.

The only thing that I regret now is that I did not come here twenty years ago, or some point in South Florida. I can look back now and see where I just missed it. So it is through life.

We are having cool spells occasionally; the thermometer gets down as low as 50, and then an overcast comes in at night and feels comfortable if you are on the river. I begin to feel about as well satisfied here as the Average Cracker; that is what we call the Original Floridian. The Crackers and Tar Heels like each other. L. D. H.

The Old Men of Jones County.

BY OUR ITEMIZER.

I promised last week to tell some of the good traits of the parent and patrons of this good old-time school. The first good gentleman I will speak of was Mr. Jas. Merritt, sr., who resided where Mr. J. B. Banks now resides. He was a kind, good-natured gentleman who was loved by us all for his many kind attentions towards us; besides, our parents held him in high esteem and respect and love him. We all considered that Mr. Merritt was too good a man to commit an error or do a wrong of any kind. Several of the school boys boarded at Mr. Merritt's and would often speak of his kindness and fatherly care toward them. The old gentleman at that time was not a member of any church, but would always attend; he was certain to attend whenever there was any preaching at the Beaver dam church. We could always tell he was coming by the coughing of his horse long before we saw him. The old gentleman had several good horses, but was afraid to drive them; always took a seat near the pulpit, and if it was cold weather, would pull out his handkerchief and tie up his head; as you recollect, it was very bald. Would raise the tune every time; no matter how difficult it was to do, he would wade through in some manner. Mr. Merritt was very kind and hospitable to strangers and travelers; the string of his door latch was always hanging on the outside of his door; all travelers had to do was to pull it, walk in and share his hospitality without money or price. I heard a young man several years ago relating a good one on himself; said that the old gentleman took a candle when it was time to retire to sleep and escorted him to his room. After arriving there the old man went peeping all over the room to see if everything was in such condition as to make his guest comfortable. While the old man was doing this he commenced getting in readiness to get to the bed, and that he had a fine linen false shirt bosom which he had taken off and placed on the back of a chair, as he desired it to appear starched and neat on the morrow. He then had turned his back to the old man, when he heard him say "I have told my people to quit leaving things in this room," and bid him a pleasant good night and withdrew, and when he concluded that he would take his bosom and place it on another bed where he knew it would not get rumpled, when to his surprise, it was gone. The old man was down stairs with it enquiring of his old lady what it was and why she had left it in the gentlemen's room. Mrs. Merritt advised him to carry it back that she knew nothing of it. The old gentleman returned it to our hero with many apologies; out of the shirt bosom had passed in and out of the old man's pocket and contained any amount of rumples and wrinkles.

Mr. Merritt was not a learned man, but was a great lover of it and used his money freely to support schools, and also to build churches; he always subscribed to both liberally. As I have before stated, he always attended church; would prepare good dinners; always invited every one who came there, if he resided any distance, to call and share his hospitality. A few years before he died he joined the Free Will Baptist, and was baptized by Elder Jeremiah Heath.

I will, in my next, say something of a gentleman whose name is revered and loved by all citizens who knew the good man, who was a friend to all, and all were his friends. Having said this much of him it is almost useless to name him as my school-mates, I know, are aware, when I mean Lemuel H. Simons, the poor man's friend and benefactor, is the man.

The Doctor's Last Happy Resort.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Jan. 11, 1883.

I recently had a very difficult case of Consumption. I treated it in the most scientific manner possible, but to no effect; patient grew gradually worse. Rather than give her up, and as a last resort, I decided, much against my wish, to use a remedy that had cured one of my former patients. Greatly to my surprise, the patient began to gain, and in a much shorter time than I dared to ever expect, she was completely cured. The name of this remarkable remedy is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. I now use it altogether in my practice.—Leading M. D., Evansville.

A Little Gold Was Spent.

Mr. Z. A. Clark, of Atlanta, Ga., in speaking of $480.00 in gold, desires to say to the readers of this paper, that the whole of the above amount was spent in a fruitless effort in finding relief from a terrible Blood Poison affecting his body, limbs and nose—presenting ugly running ulcers. He is now sound and well, having been cured by the most speedy and wonderful remedy ever before known, and any interested party who may need a Blood Purifier will learn from him that three bottles of B. B. E. restored his appetite, healed all ulcers, relieved his kidneys, and added twenty-one pounds to his weight in thirty days. For sale wholesale and retail by B. N. Duffy, Cash to accompany the order.

NEWS BY MAIL.

SUIT AGAINST EX-PAYMASTER HODGE.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—A suit was entered today by the District Attorney for the United States against John Hodge to recover $441,100, with interest from May 21, 1875. The action is based on an account with Mr. Hodge as a former Paymaster of the United States Navy.

THE CHINESE IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Gov. Squire of Washington Territory, in his report to Secretary Lamar, says that by the Territorial census of 1885 there were 3,276 Chinese residents in the Territory, and "during the business depression a strong popular agitation has recently sprung up in a few of the large places, having for its object the expulsion of Chinese. The hostile feeling against the Chinese has been greatly increased by reason of failure on the part of the Government to adequately enforce the Restriction act, large numbers of Chinese having stolen into the Territory from the neighboring province of British Columbia, in violation of law. It is often difficult to identify them, and the customs force in this district is evidently too small to prevent the wholesale smuggling both of goods and Chinamen." The report suggests the necessity of increasing the customs force, and in view of the feeling among the people, and especially the laboring men, the Governor recommends the necessity of protective legislation, such as the revision of the Restrictive act, and also advises the reviving of repeal of the Burlingame note.

FOREIGN.
LONDON, Dec. 2.—The German bark Fidelio, Capt. Mayer, from Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 9, for Walgust, was found on her beam ends in the channel. She had been cut down three staves below the copper on the starboard side. She was towed to Dover. The bark was partly righted after her masts had been cut away. One dead body was found on board. The Norwegian bark Ocean, Capt. Hendrickson, from Mobile September 14, for London, has been totally lost near Quiberon, France.

LONDON, December 2.—Up to 6 o'clock this evening the liberals had elected 238 members, the conservatives 192 and the nationalists 45. The Tory net gain has been reduced to 38 seats. The liberals have become jubilant over their late success.

RANGOON, Dec. 2.—The King of Burmah personally surrendered himself to Gen. Prendergast, commander of the British force, and has arrived in British territory.

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—There was a sensational scene in the Reichstag yesterday when the president read the Emperor's message, which was countered by Prince Bismarck. After Bismarck's speech, which created still greater surprise, Dr. Windthorst, who was greatly excited and hardly able to speak, moved to discuss his interpellation. The motion was carried, the whole house, with the exception of the conservatives, voting in its favor. Thereupon Prince Bismarck, followed by all the members of the Bundesrath, left the house. Dr. Windthorst then moved to withdraw the interpellation in order to consider the Emperor's message. The progressives, led by Herr Richter, wanting the immediate discussion of the message, challenged a division on Windthorst's motion, which was carried. In the discussion of the budget, when the item of Bismarck's salary was reached, Dr. Windthorst renewed his question regarding the expulsion of the Poles. Prince Bismarck, who re-entered the chamber while Dr. Windthorst was speaking, refused to discuss the matter. The salary item was then voted.

THE FIDELITY MUTUAL LIFE ASSOC'N OF PHILADELPHIA.

The policy can be bought at the rate of $22.00 for $200.00.
It needs no cultivation or repairs, and the yearly tax on it, levied tri-annually, is not as much as the tax on real estate of like value. Upon the death of the owner, the policy does not require any special administration and lawyers to diminish the value, but it PAID IN FULL AT ONCE without expense to the beneficiary.

The payment of each policy is guaranteed by nearly $10,000,000 assessable insurance with a reserve indemnity of $250,000, and cash assets of nearly $3,000,000.

The Association owns its own building, and rents enough offices to have its rent free. Its expenses are limited to fixed annual dues. Incorporated, December 18th, 1863. Home Office, 911 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Aside from the excellent material used, and the superior quality of the CIGARETTES observed in the manufacture of my goods give them a great pre-eminence over the Tenement House made Cigars of the large cities so generally smoked by the thinking, and so often the cause of serious ailments and disease.

In connection with the Factory is a handsomely appointed
