Don't forget to stop at the Auction Sales Room, and examine the home-made Thomsville chairs and rockers at factory prices. C. H. BLANK.

All who have tried out 10c. hams say they are as good as any in market. HUMPHREY & HOWARD.

The schooner Geo. A. House, Capt. Clark, is in port from Philadelphia with a cargo of kaint.

Turner's almanac predicts plenty of snow and storms for January; therefore prepare wood and coal.

The sidewalk in front of Messrs. John Suter's and Smith's stores on Middle street, is being laid with brick.

It is a question with Col. Nowitzky whether he or Judge Phillips brought the bad weather we have had for the last two weeks.

Hand lanterns are becoming quite fashionable. They are absolutely necessary on dark, rainy nights to avoid the mud holes on the sidewalks.

Remember the meeting of the New Berne Improvement Association tonight at the Board of Trade rooms at 8 o'clock. Business of importance on hand.

"It is Winberry's oysters that makes you gentlemen so anxious to get this case removed to Onslow," said Judge Phillips to the attorneys who were pressing the removal of a case on the civil docket.

The Paragon recently wrecked off Cape Fear, was said to be the oldest vessel trading in North Carolina waters. Will not some one acquainted with the history of this venerable craft give us a sketch of her eventful career?

Three cases before the Mayor's court yesterday, one for draying without license, two for disorderly conduct. The drayman was fined two dollars and cost. The disorderly men were fined, one two dollars and the other one dollar and cost.

We are indeed delighted that our friend Rev. Dr. Milburn, was elected chaplain of the Democratic House. Col. Harrison, of Illinois, endorsed him as "a man who feared God, loved his fellow man and voted the Democratic ticket."

The recent rains have swollen the streams in all directions from this city. The Washington mail was late reaching here this evening in consequence of high water in the streams on the route, while wagons from Onslow were nearly flooded from the running gear by the floods in their passage of travel.

Personal. Mr. J. M. Hines, Jr., of Lepoit Institute called to see us yesterday. He is considering the question of removing to our city with his family. We extend him a hearty welcome.

Mr. Albert Way and lady have arrived in the city, and will remain during the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Way have spent several winters here, and a host of friends always welcome their return after the summer's absence.

The President's Message. We reproduce our editorial page today in a condensed form of the President's message. It is the first message from a Democratic president since 1861, and will doubtless be read with interest. It dwells at length on Civil Service Reform, economy, reduction of the tariff, and measures with our friend, Mr. Oliver, on the coinage of silver. It's reading before the Senate and House, received the reported, marked attention.

Inhatched from the Grave. Mrs. Helen Pharris, No. 331 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill., is now in her eighty-eighth year, and states that she has suffered with Consumption for about ten years, was treated by nine physicians, all of them pronouncing her case hopeless. She had given up all hopes of ever recovering. Saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption completely cured her. Doubting ones, please drop her a postal and satisfy yourselves. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

A Mountain Pink. Remember the Theatre Monday night. Read what the Louisville Courier-Journal says of the play and Miss Bella Moore:

The story of the plot is a very pretty little romance, with the usual amount of love and dramatic situations. There are moonshiners and abducted girls and Southern planters, with a villain and a hero. The play runs along very smoothly and is full of interest from beginning to end. Miss Bella Moore, the pretty little star, won every heart by her beauty and her acting.

The Superior Court. The criminal docket has been disposed of for this term of the court and yesterday, after hearing the Craven county injunction case the civil issue docket was called for the purpose of hearing motions. Of fifty four cases called on the criminal docket, a not pros was entered in fifteen; verdicts not guilty were rendered in fifteen; verdicts of guilty in fifteen; seven submitted and there were two mistrials. Six were sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary and four in the county jail.

Injunction Continued. When the Superior Court convened yesterday morning the case of John O. Gardner for himself and all other taxpayers of Craven county vs. the County Commissioners of Craven county was taken up. The case came up upon an order granted by Judge Connor restraining the Commissioners and Sheriff from collecting taxes for completing the court house, for bridges and all of the taxes for general county purposes in excess of the constitutional limit, and an order for the Commissioners to show cause why the injunction should not continue. The case was set for hearing before Judge Phillips at Tarboro on the 28th of October, and was removed to New Berne.

The case was ably argued by Green & Stevenson for the plaintiff and H. R. Bryan and C. C. Clark for the defendants. Motion to continue the injunction granted. Defendants gave notice of appeal.

A Notable Vessel. The old steamship Frolic, which for the last two years has lain at Messrs. Agnew & Co.'s shipyard, in Alexandria, Va., has been metamorphosed from a rusty hulk into a four-masted ship, with new deck and house work, and fitted up in every way as well-arranged and commodious packet. She is no longer known as the Frolic, but is now the Maude McLean. She will leave Alexandria for Baltimore today, where she will be loaded with coal for Galveston, Texas. Upon arriving at the latter port and after discharging her cargo, she will be placed on the route between Galveston and New Orleans. It is said her present owners will eventually convert the vessel into a steamship. She was built in England about twenty-two years ago and figured during the war as a blockade runner, finally being captured and taken to the Washington Navy-yard. There she was sold and fell into the hands of her present owners.—Baltimore News, 4th.

Many of our readers will remember the above vessel as the blockade runner Advance that was so successful in running the blockade off Cape Fear and bringing in to Wilmington supplies for the North Carolina troops.

Encouraging. Last Sunday afternoon the assembly room of the Y. M. C. Association was crowded, and it was very gratifying to the members to see that the greater part of those present were young men. A gentleman from Brooklyn, N. Y., brought in by an invitation left at his hotel by the committee in conversation with a member, after the prayer-meeting, said that he had never seen so large a number of young men in attendance upon the religious services of the Y. M. C. A. in Brooklyn, the "City of Churches," as he saw here.

In the city of Brooklyn, the young men have a building worth $600,000, well equipped with everything that can contribute to the mental or moral advancement of its members, and built by the voluntary contributions of the people.

Yet, with all these inducements held out to the young men of Brooklyn, our little town of New Berne can bring more young men into its Y. M. C. A. services than the great sister city of our metropolis. Such a report ought to make every member of our association more earnest in his work to support this organization here, and also the noble generosity of the citizens of Brooklyn should encourage our people here to lend a helping hand to this new adjunct of the church of God in this city of New Berne.

"We must save the young men if they secure salvation. We need the help and encouragement of the public—come over and help us!"

Inhatched from the Grave. Mrs. Helen Pharris, No. 331 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill., is now in her eighty-eighth year, and states that she has suffered with Consumption for about ten years, was treated by nine physicians, all of them pronouncing her case hopeless. She had given up all hopes of ever recovering. Saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption completely cured her. Doubting ones, please drop her a postal and satisfy yourselves. Pollokville Letter. POLLOKVILLE, Dec. 9, 1885. EDITOR JOURNAL: You doubtless have many readers who never had the pleasure of visiting our quiet little village on the banks of the Trent, therefore a few lines from us and about us may not be amiss. Pollokville is admirably situated to make a first-class town. We are in the midst of a fine agricultural country, and with every facility for doing business. We have a daily mail to Trenton and New Berne and ample mail routes to Mayeville, Palo Alto and Swansboro. We are just thirteen miles from New Berne and about seventy-five miles from Wilmington on a direct line of the proposed Wilmington, New Berne and Norfolk Railroad. The Neuse and Trent River Steamboat Co. runs a regular line of steamers here; they have first-class warehouse and wharf accommodations, with Mr. D. S. Barrus as their agent, who attends to the business of their steamers with promptness and dispatch. Mr. Barrus is also doing a thriving mercantile business. We have several prosperous merchants, among whom we would mention Messrs. Bell, Ward, Shepard, Hudson, Barrus and Whitty. We have three steam cotton gins, owned and run by Messrs. H. A. White, John Pearce and Samuel Hudson. We are connected with New Berne by a private telephone line, which is a great convenience to our community. We have a new Baptist church, and the Masons are erecting a new lodge building, the lower rooms of which are to be used by Prof. St. Clair's school; and above all things we have a temperance town. The prohibition law has been in existence here over ten years, and our people do not regret it. I can remember when whiskey was sold in Pollokville nearly every Saturday; the negroes, and often times some of the whites, would come in and get drunk, curse, swear and fight, and many of them neglect their work and go in filth and rage. Several cases would be sent up to our Superior court at each term and cost to the county and tax to the people. The people of Pollokville have much to be thankful for in this one thing of Prohibition; our population has increased, our town has improved, and we have slowly but surely been making a steady advance; our lands will raise a variety of crops, and are rich and productive, settled up by a thrifty, industrious and energetic people who are destined to make this one of the most prosperous sections of Eastern North Carolina. Our people enjoy good health though should you require a physician for any cause our clever Doctor, N. H. Street is always prompt in administering relief to the unfortunate ones. We hope some day to start some manufacturing interest here which will add greatly to our already prosperous little village. Town lots can be bought at reasonable prices and we have good comfortable residences. Builders with every opportunity of purchasing cheap building material, and we extend a welcome to all good people who wish to secure cheap homes in a growing little village surrounded by a rich and fertile back country.

Yours truly, MILL CREEK.

CAMILLA URSO. Camilla Urso, the famous violinist, appeared before one of the largest audiences ever gathered in this city. Madame Urso, although only down for three pieces on the programme, was obliged to render double that number in response to the encore. Her playing is something wonderful, and shows not only her rare power over the instrument, but her intimate acquaintance with its every feature, and mastery of its inmost art. In her hand a violin is a thing of life. It speaks, it sings, it weeps, laughs, and sighs. All the varying notes of life are woven into the chords, and brought out by the hands of the magician. It is needless to say that Camilla Urso's execution is faultless, but it is far more. It is wonderful, miraculous. Blended with her magnificent playing is a deep sentiment and appreciation and the spirit which must breathe through all successful playing. All shades of melody seem equally within her power. If she excels in any, it is in the soft and plaintive notes, as given in her two last encores, "The Swanee River" and "The Last Rose of Summer." This last is Camilla Urso's selection. She always reserves it for the final encore, and the audience which allows her to leave without playing it, loses the very gem of the evening. Sweet and delicious in its strains, it is the very perfection of music, and the most intense silence pervaded the hall as the great violinist bent over her instrument, and the closing notes whispered from the strings. With this piece Camilla Urso made her farewell to the audience, but no one who heard her does not cherish the hope that she may soon return.—N. Y. Times.

Rheumatism. Although a practitioner of near twenty years, my mother influenced me to procure B. B. B. for her. She had been confined to her bed several months with Rheumatism, which had finally resisted all the usual remedies. Within twenty-four hours after commencing B. B. B. I observed marked relief. She has just commenced her third bottle and is nearly as active as ever, and has been in the front yard with "rake in hand," cleaning up. Her improvement is truly wonderful and immensely gratifying.

NEWS BY MAIL.

THE LONDON PRESS ON PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE.—THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Daily News says: "President Cleveland's message seems to place him in true succession to the greater men who have occupied the Presidential chair, rather than to the late Democratic line."

The Post says: "Some of the old world's statesmen might ponder with benefit over some of Mr. Cleveland's reasons touching the Nicaragua treaty. The Standard says: 'The message is temperate and dignified, and goes far to justify Mr. Cleveland's election.'"

LONDON Dec. 9.—An estimate of the final result of the election gives the coalition of Tories and Parallels a majority of ten over the Liberals. Apart from the Parnellite vote the Liberals have a majority of 72.

HOW MR. VANDERBILT'S DEATH AFFECTED THE NEW YORK AND LONDON STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The stock market opened weak and lower. The following shows the decline in the leading stocks: Lake Shore 3 per cent lower; New York Central 2; Northwestern 1; St. Paul 1; Erie 1; Union Pacific 1; Western Union 1; Reading 1; Missouri Pacific 1; Northern Pacific 1, and do, proffered 1.

10:30 a. m.—The market has become steadier, and an improvement in tone is noticeable. Lake Shore and New York Central have each recovered, and there is an entire absence of anything like a flurry.

11:30 a. m.—The excitement on the Stock Exchange has entirely subsided. LONDON, Dec. 9.—The death of Mr. Vanderbilt had a depressing effect on American securities at the Stock Exchange. At the opening the American list showed a decline of 1 to 3 per cent, as compared with the closing prices last evening. At 12:30 o'clock New York Central was quoted at 106 1/2, a decline of 1/2 from yesterday's closing quotations.

1:30 p. m.—The prices of American securities are improving.

4 p. m.—The stock market in the earlier hours of the day was excited, and there were wild fluctuations in the price of American securities. Since the receipt of the opening prices in New York there has been a general advance, low-priced stocks are strong.

THE FIRST HUNGARIAN CHURCH IN AMERICA. HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 7.—St. Joseph's Hungarian Catholic church was dedicated here Sunday by Right Rev. Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton, assisted by Rev. Fathers McManus, or Archbold; Warren, of Audenried; Buxton, of Beaver Meadow, and Cummiskey, Phillips and Fitzmaurice of this place. High mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock, during which the Bishop preached a powerful sermon. The pastor of the church, Rev. Ignatius Jaskovitz, also preached in the Hungarian language. This is the first Hungarian church established in the United States. The congregation numbers two hundred families, and the priest in charge has jurisdiction over 4,000 people. The building cost $12,000, is of brick, and will seat 600 people.

Better than Real Estate

There are very few investments better than real estate, but we know of one that is, and that one is a policy in THE FIDELITY MUTUAL LIFE ASSOCIATION OF PHILADELPHIA.

The policy can be bought at the rate of $2.40 for $500.00. It needs no cultivation or repairs, and the yearly tax on it, levied tri-annually, is not as much as the tax on real estate of like value. Upon the death of the owner, the policy does not require appraisal, and the beneficiaries are not liable to diminish the value, but in PAID IN FULL AND AT ONCE without expense to the beneficiary, who will receive it.

The payment of each policy is guaranteed by nearly $10,000,000 of assets and a reserve fund of $2,000,000, and cash assets of nearly $50,000.

THE ASSOCIATION OWNS ITS OWN BUILDING, and rents enough offices to have its rent free. Its expenses are limited to five annual dividends. Incorporated, December, 1853. Home Office, 911 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Send name and address for treatise on plan.
