

H. B. DUFFY'S
Bargain Store!

We are happy to announce to our customers, and the trade generally, that at last, after many efforts, we have succeeded in getting sufficient time from the rush of trade, to write up our advertisement. It is loaded with Bargains; be sure to read it through. Not by favor, but by merit alone, will we maintain and increase our unrivalled reputation. Big prices will not do in these hard times when even the wealthy cannot afford to waste their money, and the poor require double value for every dollar and penny they spend.

Bills on Life Insurance.

I look upon life insurance as a great comfort, not only to the beneficiary, but to the insured, who very rarely lives to realize anything peculiarly from his venture. Twice I have almost raised my wife to affliction and cast a gloom over the community in which I lived, but something happened to the physician for a few days so that he could not attend to me, and I recovered. For nearly two years I was under the doctors care. He had his finger on my pulse or in my pocket all that time. He was a young western physician, who attended me Tuesdays and Fridays. The rest of the week he devoted his medical skill to horses that were mentally and physically broken down. He said he attended me largely for my society. I felt flattered to know that he enjoyed my society after having been thrown among horses all the week that had had much greater advantage than I.

My wife at first objected seriously to an insurance on my life, and said she would never, never touch a dollar of the money if I were to die; but after I had been sick nearly two years, and my disposition had suffered a good deal, she said that I need not delay the obsequies on that account. But the life insurance slipped through my fingers somehow, and I recovered.

I have built up two life insurance companies and placed them on their feet since that. I hope they will not forget it when I come to call on them for a favor. One of them is an "old-liner," and the other is an assessment company. I took a policy in the assessment company because I had been in politics some, and when I went out I missed my assessment sadly. I had become a slave to the assessment habit, and so I had to do something in order to supply its place. I now feel first rate. When I get my assessment notice I imagine I am an office-holder, and that it is a bullet-throw from the central committee, so it is like old times, almost.

Life insurance is a good thing. I would not be without it. My health is greatly improved since I got my new policy. Formerly I used to have a seal-brown taste in my mouth when I arose in the morning, but that has disappeared entirely. I am more hopeful and happy, and my hair is getting thicker on top. I would not try to keep house without life insurance. Last September I was caught in one of the most destructive cyclones that ever visited a republican form of government. A great deal of property was destroyed and many lives were lost, but I was spared. People who had no insurance were moved down on every hand, but aside from a broken leg I was entirely unharmed.

Since insuring my life I sleep better nights, and my neighbors are getting more reckless about leaving their watermelons and clothes-lines out over night. If I had a voice that could be heard on the other side of the Jordan, it would still be for good, solid life insurance. In these days of dynamite and roller-risks and the gory meat-axe of a new administration, we ought to make some provision for the future.

1885. POCOMOKE 1885.

POCOMOKE Super-Phosphate

Is Unrivalled for all Fertilizing Purposes, and especially adapted to the growth of EARLY TRUCKS.

A trial of all this is needed to convince any one of the unrivalled excellence of POCOMOKE, and our references are the planters of this section, as well as our patrons generally, throughout the South.

The following are a few of many Testimonials:
"I have used POCOMOKE for the past three years on my truck farm, and have received a great result. It has made my soil more fertile, and more so when used under the store and garden. I expect to use it again on the next crop."
