HUMPHREY & HOWARD.
Secure seats for the musical concert tonight.
Our Buckleberry friends received the top market for their cotton yesterday.

About 1,500 bushels of rice on the market yesterday, the best lots brought $1.05.
The steamer Defiance arrived yesterday with a full cargo of general merchandise.
The Shenandoah made a regular trip yesterday, bringing in and carrying out full freights.
Schwerin & Ash are again to the front with a new message to people who want clothing and shoes.
The musical concert at the Theatre tonight will have one of the greatest violinists in the world.
The JOURNAL returns thanks to the Star Band for a serenade last evening. They make good music.
The steamer Experiment sailed for Baltimore yesterday with a full cargo of cotton, sugar, stores and rice.
Deputy Sheriff Hahn has taken the six prisoners convicted at the late term of the Superior Court to the penitentiary at Raleigh.
The merchants of New Berne are making a grand display of Christmas goods, and they are offering liberal inducements to customers. Country merchants would do well to give them a trial.

There is a decided conviction among many of our citizens that the county commissioners should sell the new court house to the U. S. Government, provided they can get $50,000 for it. The first thing to do is to show Congress the necessity of a government building and get an appropriation.

The city treasurer informs us that he has already paid back half the money borrowed to run the city government through the summer. By borrowing and paying cash for all work and salaries he has saved at least seventeen percent on the expenditures. This is the most economical way to run a city or county government, pay as you go. If you can't pay don't go.

Miss Bella Moore made her second appearance upon our stage last night in the grand Western Drama "Danites," and fully sustained her reputation as won the night before. The audience was not as large as the play merited but it was highly enjoyed by those present. We think it can be safely said that Miss Moore is the equal if not superior to any actress that has been among us for many years.

It is a real treat to visit Clarke & McKnight's hardware shop on East Front street. Their business is assuming huge proportions. Birds, fish, snakes and animals of all description are brought into regulation and ornaments and useful household articles of almost every conceivable description, from the tiny brooch to a fine screen, are made and offered for sale. We had the pleasure yesterday of examining some elegant fire screens ornamented with birds, raven and snipe. Their work is a credit to the city, and we are proud to note their success.

Our citizens will have an opportunity tonight of hearing a musical concert rarely equaled by any that visit this section of country. Madame Camilla Uro's concert is receiving the highest encomiums from the press wherever they have appeared. On Monday night they performed in Washington. From an extended notice by the Star we clip the following paragraphs:
"As yet, the 'best of the evening,' Madame Camilla, then appeared and literally kept the audience spell-bound in her wonderful performance of Mozart's 'Hedwig Concerto' in D. The high intelligence which she combines in her work so impressively impressed the audience as to enlarge upon it. Her playing was of a character that was as truly artistic and as admirably conceived as any we have ever heard of, and it obeys her like something human."

Difference of Opinion.

The guesses made on the number of seed in the pumpkin at Patterson's shoe store is a fair illustration of the difference of opinion entertained by people in so small a matter as a pumpkin. About five hundred have ventured to say how many seed this pumpkin contains, and they range from five to eight thousand five hundred. One little boy beat them all by saying there were no seed at all in the thing.

Road Working.

We have been importuned by many lately to say something about the condition of the Quaker Bridge road, especially the Jones county side. It is alleged that the hands assigned to the road will not work it, and it is getting in bad condition for want of attention. We hardly know how a newspaper can induce unwilling hands to work any public road. The law provides a remedy in such cases, and those who are interested should see that the law is enforced. The Quaker Bridge road was made a public road by an act of the General Assembly, and when once completed as provided by that act we presume it became subject to the laws in relation to all other public roads in the State.

The JOURNAL insisted that the authorities should comply with the act of the General Assembly that provided for the construction of this road; it cannot do less than insist that the laws be obeyed in keeping it up as all other roads are kept in repair. But it is not our business to enforce the law; we are not a part of the machinery of the government constituted for that purpose.

Personal.

Mr. Isaac Tull, of Philadelphia brother of H. G. Tull, Esq., is in the city visiting relatives.
Mrs. Rowena Tull, of Kinston is visiting friends and relatives in this city.
George Rountree, Esq., of Kinston, was in the city yesterday.
Mr. A. L. Rountree, of the firm of Rountree & Co., of New York, was in the city yesterday.
Mr. W. I. Newman, who has been engaged for the last ten months in putting up the pulp mill at Graywood leaves this morning for his home in Providence, R. I., and will at once take charge of the plans and specifications of a large pulp mill in the West. He has given entire satisfaction in his work here and made numerous warm friends who regret his departure. He was given a serenade at Capt. Gray's residence last night by the Star Band. The JOURNAL wishes him success in his new field of labor and a long life of usefulness.

La Grange Items.

C. C. Taylor was representing the JOURNAL here, last Saturday.
W. F. Kornegay, of Goldsboro, was in our town a short time last week.
The rainy weather for several days prevents farmers from sowing wheat.
Services at the M. E. church last Sunday by Rev. A. B. Morgan, Principle of the C. I. I.
Mr. Cobb was here last Friday for the purpose of giving Messenger receipts for greenbacks.
We learn that Rev. Mr. Rose will be here this week and preach at the M. E. church in this place next Sunday.
Our town is getting back to its usual healthy condition. We have heard of no case of sickness for some time.
Kirby E. Sutton is at home for the Christmas holidays. We suppose he will return to Chapel Hill about the 1st of January.
Sheriff Sutton was here last Saturday for the last time, this time tax-gathering, collecting taxes. Cists are to be added to all those who have not paid.
Cotton seems to be dropping; it took a good article to reach 81 cents last week. Farmers are, some of them, holding for a better price, which they hope will come.
Rev. Bishop Watson preached here last Monday night in the school building formerly occupied by Col. Davis. Rev. Mr. Harding of Kinston was here in company with the Bishop.
A lot of cotton from Buckleberry has been, or will be shipped to New Berne this season. We hope the shippers will receive the top of the market. Buckleberry cotton usually brings good prices.
Demasco Sutton, son of Jerre Sutton, left here last Tuesday for Florida. It is supposed. His parents knew nothing of his intentions until after his departure, and feel some anxiety about the matter. Too much big talk about good times in Florida, in our opinion. But few who leave here return rich, is our observation.

The Gypsies have departed, and left for some other locality. While in our vicinity they were busy as traders as fortune tellers, horse swappers, dog wrappings or any other swapping claimed their attention, always getting boot. Jim Williams traded dogs with one, and lost the dog traded for. Jim was sad when he learned there was no law to reclaim his lost "possum dog."

Onslow County Items.

No marriages or deaths this week, but something is coming next week, and we will try and let you know it.
Mr. Sandlin, D. E., could give the JOURNAL readers some good topics on farming. We asked him to do so, and he promised to do so soon.

C. D. Newbold is with us yet from the convict. He will return this week to Warsaw, so we hear, to take charge of the commissary department of the camp.

Big time at Jacksonville first Monday. We were there two days and saw a host of our old friends; among them were friends G. W. Winberry, the oyster king, who let us sample some of his fine ones.
We hear Mr. R. Whitford, from New Berne, has been surveying our New river and along the sound to Beaufort. We hope he will accomplish some good, as we know him to be the right sort of man at that sort of business—engineering.

We are having some heavy rainfalls this week. It is still raining and everything is under water. The roads are very rough now, especially the Quaker Bridge road on the Jones county side, which is almost impassable. We thought the road was turned over to the commissioners; if so, they ought to attend to their duty; gates are put across the road in several places on the Jones county side. Is that right? We think not, and hear that parties who pass through them have the right to leave them open and will do it if they are not attended to soon and taken away.

D. E. Sandlin, Esq., is one of our model farmers. He makes this year 300 barrels corn, 18 bags cotton, has about 90 fine hogs, and says he has lost by cholera over 150 head; made on less than one-half an acre of ground 175 bushels large Spanish potatoes; has been farming 35 years, never bought a dollar's worth of fertilizer; makes his own manure with marl, stable manure and cotton seed by composting; has on hand now three barrels old pork, nice and free from rust; 23 large bacon sides; 18 fine hams and shoulders, nice and free from bugs; says if he has had a bug in his bacon for the last ten years he don't know it; has not bought a bushel of corn nor a pound of meat in 20 years. That is what we call a farmer in truth.

Jarvis is Solid.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Philadelphia Press, returns to a subject that was more talked about twenty-five years ago than now:
"Mr. Cleveland's Minister to Brazil, ex-Gov. Jarvis, of North Carolina, writes from Rio that he is taking lessons in the language of that country three days each week. Rather an expensive schooling—$10,000 a year, and Uncle Samuel pays the bill. Of course it is not necessary for many of the foreign Ministers under a Democratic Administration to speak the language of the countries to which they are sent. Signs and motions will get liquids, but in Brazil there is no sign for a cocktail, and poor Jarvis is athirst. He must learn the language or die of exhaustion."
It is not necessary that any minister to a foreign country should speak the language of the country for the purpose of discharging his official duties.

Our Philadelphia contemporary is also mistaken in saying that the United States have to pay for the Portuguese lessons which Gov. Jarvis is now getting. The United States pay him for being Minister, and if he chooses to devote a large part of his salary to studying Portuguese that is his affair.
By the way, how does the Press know that Mr. Jarvis is a drinking man? The temperance cause has of late made great progress in North Carolina, as in other Southern States, and it is highly probable that Mr. Jarvis is one of its partisans. It is wrong to accuse him of drinking cocktails without positive evidence of the fact.—N. Y. Sun.

The Royal Baker and Pastry Cook.

A Royal addition to the kitchen library. It contains over seven hundred receipts pertaining to every branch of the culinary department, including baking, roasting, preserving, soups, cakes, jellies, pastry, and all kinds of sweetmeats, with receipts for the most delicious candies, cordials, beverages, and all other necessary knowledge for the chef de cuisine of the most exacting epicure, as well as for the more modest housewife, who desires to prepare for her lord and master a repast that shall be both wholesome and economical. With each receipt is given full and explicit directions for putting together, manipulating, shaping, baking, and kind of utensil to be used, so that a novice can go through the operation with success; while a special and important feature is made of the mode of preparing all kinds of food and delicacies for the sick. The book has been prepared under the direction of Prof. Rudmann, late chef of the New York Cooking School, and is the most valuable of the recent editions upon the subject of cookery that has come to our notice. It is gotten up in the highest style of the printers art, on illuminated covers, etc. We are assured that every can of the "Royal Baking Powder" contains an order for one of these valuable books.
Starting Cases.
Mr. R. E. Sautler, of Athens, Ga., says: "B. B. B. has cured on me an ulcer which had resisted all other treatment for 50 years."
J. M. Ellis, of Atlanta, was cured of a stubborn case of Eczema of twelve years standing by the use of B. B. B.
An Editor.
I have been almost entirely cured of nasal catarrh of several years standing, by three bottles of B. B. B. I have tried many other remedies, but none equal B. B. B. It is a quick cure, while others are slow.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Four hundred and seventy bills and nine joint resolutions have been introduced in the Senate, but only two committees have yet held their first meeting, and no measures have been reported back to the Senate, and no calendar has therfore been made, beyond the probable discussion and possible passages of the Presidential Succession bill, to be reported on Monday, and the adoption of Mr. Fry's resolution, embodying the code of joint rules. No programs for legislative business during the week can be indicated. Four hundred and fifty-six nominations have been sent to the Senate, and many of them will probably be reported at the first Executive session. A considerable portion of the latter half of the week is likely to be spent with closed doors.

Although the Committee on Rules of the House of Representatives has completed its labor of formulating the new code of rules for the government of the House and will submit its report tomorrow, it is not thought probable that the discussion will then be begun. It is expected that the debate will be postponed until Tuesday, in order that members may have an opportunity to see the proposed revision in print.

There is a desire on the part of many members to have a call of States on Monday, for the introduction of bills for reference to appropriate committees when appointed; and in deference to this desire it was informally agreed, by the members of the committee on Rules yesterday, to make no opposition to such a call. There are, however, members of the House who express an intention to oppose the introduction of bills until the House shall have finally determined by a vote on the Morrison Code, the jurisdiction of the various committees, and who hold that it would be useless to inundate the Speaker's table with a flood of bills until some proper outlet is provided for them. As the House is not governed at present by any definite system of rules, these members contend that it will require unanimous consent to order a call, and assert that this cannot be obtained.

The discussion of the rules will consume the remainder of the week, and the contest over the scheme to distribute the labor of the Appropriations Committee promises to be sharp and interesting.

There is talk of an adjournment for the holiday recess before the end of the week, but no definite plans have been arranged, and it is probable that an adjournment will not be reached until the week following.

A Word of Caution.

As is usually the case where an article of true merit has attained a world-wide reputation by its wonderful results, as the celebrated Electric Bitters have done, certain unprincipled parties have endeavored to imitate them, and expect to induce an unsuspecting public to purchase their fraudulent wares. Ask your druggist for the genuine Electric Bitters; that are guaranteed to cure, and take no others. Sold by all druggists at 50c.

The Doctor's Secret.

Probably no new development will more surprise the public, than to learn the secret of success of certain leading physicians. When they have a difficult case of throat or lung disease that baffles their scientific skill, they prescribe Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, having it disguised in a prescription bottle, with their own directions and name attached. The patient is cured, and they get the credit.—Tribune. Sold by all druggists.

DID NOT WAIT FOR A SECOND WARNING.
CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 13.—Several days ago two Mormon elders, who gave their names as W. G. Crayon and Jos. Thorup of Salt Lake, appeared in Anderson county, one of the most progressive and intelligent sections of this State and began proselying among poorer classes of whites. Their mission being known they were called before a meeting of citizens of Belton today and told that if they were in the county after twenty-four hours they would be whipped out of it. They left on the next train for Spaulding, where there are several other missionaries.

CRITICAL CONDITION OF DR. TOOMEY.
