Then we sell The "DIAMOND SHIRT,"

Collars and Cuffs.

Collars and Cuffs.

When cupid wears the DIAMOND shirt, his conquest seems of hearts so tender, For when they see this manly guise, The ladies always quick surrender. Surely the ladies are attracted by neatness of dress, which adds so much to the general elegance of one's appearance. What's more vital to a well-dressed man than a perfect-fitting, smooth-acting shirt?

POLLOCK STREET, NEW BERN, N. C.

THE JOURNAL.

NEW BERN, N. C. JAN. 7, 1886.

Kinston Items.

Mrs. Joyner has moved into new town. Mr. Alex. Carr has moved to his farm near Bell's Ferry.

Kinston Graded school has enrolled to date 248 pupils; 18 since the holidays. Mrs. H. C. Bowen spent Christmas with relatives at Catherine Lake, Onslow county.

Mr. A. C. Stewart of Icard, N. C., is teaching a full school at Sharon, a few miles from town.

J. B. Pollock has moved into the Bell house, in new town. Levi Mowborne, chief of police, takes his place.

Kinston College opens with several new pupils and a full attendance for the spring term, notwithstanding the "hard times."

Schools are being taught in almost all the districts of the county, and J. L. Hartfield finds it difficult to keep on hand a full supply of books.

Mrs. Leggett, of Farmville has spent Christmas at her brother's, Mr. Thad. Askew. We get our information from a certain Lenoir widower and it is reliable.

At least one more marriage license left, but they are not for sale. Hope to have a new supply soon. Do not stop marrying just because Christmas is over.

Prof. G. A. Grimsley is again at his post in the Kinston Graded School, after an absence of several weeks on account of sickness. He has had three attacks of fever.

Why should North Carolinians oppose the Blair bill? The first school funds the Old North State ever received were one and a half million from the United States Treasury in 1831. Andrew Jackson, a Democrat, was President.

We have the sad news to tell you that Mr. John Williams and wife of our town are dying and have been for some time, but still they live. I mean, they can dye an old suit and make it look like a new one. Success to every new enterprise.

J. B. Pollock says the Peoples' Mutual Assurance Fund is growing in favor with our people. You can draw a part of your money while alive, and this is just what all the Kinston bachelors will want to do. Why not save something for old age?

J. I. Vance, near this place, lost an excellent horse last Saturday morning. He was in hot pursuit of a fox, and his horse plunged both fore feet into a hole and broke its neck. He came near being badly hurt, but fortunately received only a few small bruises. Haven't heard how it was with the fox.

The board of education met last Monday. They found the total number of children of school age in Lenoir county was 5,879. There are 67 cents to each child. The board will meet again on the third Monday to appropriate the one-third of the school fund left to their disposal. They ask the presence and help of all who desire any part of this money.

ST. NICHOLAS.

An illustrated monthly periodical for boys and girls, appearing on the 25th of each month. Edited by Mary Mapes Dodge. Price, 25 cents a number, or $3.00 a year, in advance.

Booksellers, newsdealers, postmasters, and the publishers take subscriptions, which should begin with the November number, the first of the volume.

St. Nicholas aims both to satisfy and to develop the tastes of its constituency; and its record for the past twelve years, during which it has always stood, as it stands today, at the head of periodicals for boys and girls, is a sufficient warrant for its excellence during the coming season. The editors announce the following as among the Leading Features for 1885-'86. A Serial Story by Frances Hodgson Burnett. The first long story she has written for children.

A Christmas Story by W. D. Howells. With humorous pictures by his little daughter.

"George Washington," by Horace E. Scudder. A novel and attractive Historical Serial.

Short Stories for Girls, by Louisa M. Alcott. The first—"The Candy Country"—in November.

New "Bits of Talk for Young Folks," by "H. H." This series forms a gracious and fitting memorial of a child-loving and child-helping soul.

Papers on the Great English Schools, Rugby and others. Illustrations by Joseph Pennell.

A Sea-coast Serial Story, by J. T. Trowbridge, will be life-like, vigorous and useful.

"Jenny's Boarding House," a serial by James Otis. Dealing with new-boy life and enterprise.

Frank R. Stockton will contribute several of his humorous and fanciful stories.

"Drill." By John Preston True. A capital school story for boys. The Boyhood of Shakespeare, by Rose Kingsley. With illustrations by Alfred Parsons.

Short Stories by scores of prominent writers, including Susan Coolidge, H. H. Boyesen, Nora Perry, T. A. Janvier, Washington Gladden, Rosseter Johnson, Joaquin Miller, Sophie May, Hexekiah Butterworth, W. O. Stoddard, Harriet Prescott Spofford, and many others.

Enterprising Sketches by Alice W. Rollins, Charles G. Leland, Henry Eckford, Lieutenant Schwalka, Edward Eggleston, and others. Poems, shorter contributions, and departments will complete what the Rural New Yorker calls "the best magazine for children in the world." The Century Co., New York.

Harper's Magazine, ILLUSTRATED.

1886. The December Number will begin the Seventy-second Volume of HARPER'S MAGAZINE. Miss Woolson's novel, "East Angles," and Mr. Howells' "Indian Summer," being the foremost pieces in current literature, will run through several numbers, and will be followed by serial stories from R. S. Hackwood and Mrs. I. M. Craig. A new editorial department, discussing topics suggested by the current literature of America and Europe, will be contributed by W. D. Howells, beginning with the January number. The great literary event of the year will be the publication of a series of papers—taking the shape of a story, and depicting characteristic features of a American society, each of our leading pleasure resorts—written by Charles Ludley Warner, and illustrated by G. B. Reinhart. The Magazine will give special attention to American subjects, treated by the best American writers, and illustrated by leading American artists.
