His feat of jumping over four or five men lying side by side on the ice was followed by the more difficult feat of Mr. Clem Manly's trying to jump a two-inch board. This was accomplished by Mr. W. W. "To him that hath shall be given and from him that hath not shall be taken away the little that he hath." After considering the queshim, but just as they were ready tion of the whole amount of money in use in the world, Mr. Vance went on to show that growing commerce and increasing population required increased money facilities. The incresse of our population, he said, was 3 per cent. per annum, and our manufacturers 2; perthe present money supply, yet we were told that we must obliterate 54 per cent. of the money supply that the cent. ratio of silver in the world's stock of coin. The success of the efforts against silver would result in the greatest industrial calamities. Every species of property would shrink; the only exception to that result being gold and debts, which would be increased to the extent to which property would have shrunk. Every public creditor, Mr. Vance said, took our silver dollar gladly, except only the class that distinctly and sol-emnly agreed in writing to take it. But we were told that silver had gone down. This was not so much true as that gold had gone up. Mr. Vance read from the late financial reports of Havana markets to show that American silver dollars were at a premium over the silver coins of England and France. In the course of all his economic reading, he said, from Moses to Sunset Cox [laughter], he had never met a case so weak as that now made by the enemies of silver. He had heard many cases argued in school-boy clubs and cross roads debating societies: heard pleas made from the tail end of gingerbread rbread carts, and endless platitudes Congressional Record the he had never met or seen worse abuse of logic, or a feebler attempt to outrage common sense, than the arguments used by our bankers, bondholders and gold men generally, in the discussion of this silver question. The rapacity of avarice, he said, was so repugnant to the moral sense of mankind that it always sought to disguise its ugliness by assuming the garb of virtue. So the they wanted silver coinage stopped, not for their own advantage-oh no!-but for the sake of the poor workingman. whom they preferred to their own chiefest joy. Mr. Vance ridiculed this pretension, and said that the war on silver was in the interest not of those who labor, but of those who speculate in money. In renly to the statement that people would Aiken, S. C., has had a $40,000 fire; not take the silver dollar, and that when issued it had always come back to the Treasury, Mr. Vance contended that the law required our officers to pay it out, and if it came back to pay it out with the laws there would have no difficulty with the silver dollar. They had refused to pay it out. There never had been another instance in our history in which our officers had boldly taken on themselves the absolute dis cretion as to whether they would or would not execute the law. The money lords of the time were the real control lers of our monetary affairs. THE IMMIGRATION OF NEGROES ATTRACT ING ATTENTION.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 13.—The immigra tion of negroes from North and South Carolina to this State is attracting attracting attention. The new-comers have generally chosen Chicot, Desha and Drew counties, in Southern Arkansas, as places of abode. The negro population is very large in that section, particularly in Deaha and Chicot counties, where Republicans have a majority and choose county officers, dividing offices with the blacks. In the past three months hundreds of negroes have settled in these counties. A gentleman in this city received a letter from Char leston, S. C., stating that the writer, a leading colored man, desired to locate forty or fifty families, comprising five to eight persons in each family, in this State during January. Others letters from different parts of the Carolinas indicate that at least one thousand negroes will come to Arkansas between this date and May.
