The little boy who found the Franklin Pierce pipe, proposes to place it in the JOURNAL office with a good stept inserted and a bag of tobacco by it, and extends an invitation to all the o'd time people who voted for President Pierce to drop in and take a whiff just for the days of Auld Langsyne.

As an offset to this kind consideration of the old Democracy, he offers to the old Scott and Graham men this little extract from one of their campaigu songs of that day:-

"The compromise, he loathes, he hates, As well as all the Southern States; And he would faint as sure's you are born.

To see a nigger a hoeing of corn." The point if not the pathos in this verse is to be found in the fact that the compromise measures introduced by Mr. Clay had passed the year before (1851) and entered into the campaign. Then the war record of Mr. Pierce is hinted at as it was charged that on one occasion during the Mexican war General Pierce had fainted while engaged in battle.

The Difference.

New Berne, Jan. 21 '86. EDITOR JOURNAL:—I noticed a piece in EDITOR JOURNAL.—I noticed a piece in your paper headed "The Difference" in regard to the beef of our market and that of the Balt market. The difference is this, the Balt beef is fed on grain food, and is consequently much tenderer, and of finer flavor, while the beef here is allowed to run at large and get what they can to eat, (judging from the quality of it, they only get broom sage and a small share at that). If the cattle men would feed their stock they would find their beef of better quality and prices much higher.

We all know the beef here is very inferior, simply because it is not fed properly while in the young state. Mr. editor, the reason I bought the "Bear Killer's" beef, there are some sporting men who come here for meat for their dogs, they prefer the beef we get in this market, because it is much harder to digest than the Balt. beef, and the dogs don't need to be fed so often, consequently a sporting man can keep four dogs on this beef here while he would have to dispense with two if he fed on > Trouble Expected in the Coke Regions.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 20.—A special from Mount Pleasant, Pa., says the situation assumed an alarming phase in the coke regions this morning. Three hundred strikers armed with bars, coke forks and revolvers started on a march and drove men from work at the Alice mines and charged upon Warden's cole yard at this place. The Mayfield and Council mines, a mile west of here, were next visited and a boy named Meutzor was terribly beaten and Yard Ross Macbeth chased and assaulted. Every oven front was crushed in. The rioters have gone accross the country toward the Rising Sun works. Great trouble is yet to come. Saturday is pay day, and on Monday ten days will have expired since the notice to quit the company's house was given to all of them pronouncing her case hope-the strikers. SENATE .- WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. -Mr. floor of the Senate, was laid before the Senate, Mr. Vest yielded to no man in courtesy to political or personal opponents, but people had acted against the deliberary parliamentary action of Congress, and had taken action that Mr. Vest declared o be revolutionary. Mr. Saulsbury moved to amend Har-rison's resolution by the addition of the words "but courtesy hereby extended ment a very proper one.

Mr. Saulsbury did not want the courtesy extended to Mr. Mendy to be misunderstood in Dakota. It was not to be taken as the prejudgement of the application of Dakota for admission.

Mr. Saulsbury's amendment was best -yeas 22, nays 29.

The resolution admitting Mr. Mooly to the courtesy of the floor was then agreed to.

Mr. Ingalls' resolution of yesterday was placed before the Senate, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to what proportion of the ten million bond call for February 1st was held by national banks, and how much by each bank?

Mr. Ingalls modified his resolution by withdrawing the clause requiring the naming of specific banks. Mr. Ingalls offered a resolution, which, without debate was agreed to, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate what amount of silver bullion the same had been purchased in each case, and from whom and the price paid. Also, whether in any instance all bids had been rejected, and if so for what reason and in what money or our rency the payment for such silver bullion had been made.

The Presidential Count bill was placed before the Senate, but informally laid aside.

Mr. Teller then addressed the Senate on the silver question, and in favor of the free coinage of silver.

Mr. Morrill gave notice, "refuctantly," he said, of his intention to ask the Senate to listen to him for a short time tomorrow on the subject of silver. subject," Mr. Morrill ironically re-marked, "which seems to attract so en-

Adjourned. House-A large number of executive ommunications were laid before the House by the Speaker; among them a letter from the Chief of Engineer, ask ing for the immediate appropriation of $50,000 for the general work of survey on the Mississippi river. The communications were appropriately referred.

Mr. Bragg, from the Millitary Committee, reported back a bill for the revided that Fitz John Porter shall receive no pay compensation or allowance whatsoever prior to his appointment under this act. The committee adopts the report submitted to the last Congress but adds that it has carefully considered the objections made to the bill in the veto message of President Arthur, and is clearly of the opinion that they are not well founded and should not interrupt the course of justice. The report is signed by all the Democratic members of the committee.

Mr. Hammond, of Ga., from the committee on judiciary, reported back the bill to prevent claims of war taxes under the act of August 5, 1861, the United States being set off against States hav-ing claims against the United States. In was placed on the House calendar.

Mr. Bragg, of Wis., made an attempt to have the Fitz John Porter bill made the special order for Saturday at 2.34 o'clock, but Mr. Durham, of Illinois, o jected.

The House then adjourned.
