HUMPHREY & HOWARD.

W. C. Mayo, of the Winston Advance, is in the city.

The revenue cutter Stevens is on Howard's ship railway.

The Twin-City Daily is revived and is a newly little sheet.

This is no common wolf but a genuine above the Chapel on George street, Saturday at 4 p. m.

Cotton continues to boom, but the farmers have quit bringing it in. We fear the boom has come too late to profit them much.

The old Singer Sewing Machine office next to Meadows' corner is being fitted up for a store which will be occupied by Mr. Geo. Howard.

Our graded school report shows five new students during the past month.
The total number enrolled during the present year is now 493.

A few boat loads of oysters arrived at Moore & Brady's yesterday. The windy, disagreeable weather has somewhat retarded the oystermen in their operations for the last week.

The heavy freights brought on every steamer to this city rather contradicts the cry of "hard times," that is now so universal, more on account of a grumbling disposition than from real cause.

Wilmington with a population estimated at 20,000 had thirty-five deaths during the month of February. New Berne with a population of 7,000 had seven, one white and six colored.

We call attention to a change, or rather additional notice, in the Elm City schedule. The manager of this line is endeavoring to build up a "home-line" and will use every effort to advance the interest of his shippers.

The Goldsboro Argus predicts that if the present administration of the A. & N. C. R. continues the road will, at an early day, be second to none in the State. There is no reason why the road should not in a few years pay a dividend.

Gardner & Son give notice that they are prepared to manufacture buggies, harness, carts and drays, and employ the very best workmen. Our traveling agent, C. C. Taylor, has been using one of their buggies for near two years and can testify as to their merits.

We complete today the review made by the Board of Agriculture of the charges recently made against the management of the Department. After reading it carefully and comparing it with the recent returns of the Chronicle, the vindication of the Board would seem to be complete. "The King of France marched up the hill with ten thousand men and marched down again."

Removals.
Mrs. S. F. Teiser has moved into his new store on the corner of Hancock and Broad. It is a spacious building and he will go North in a few days for the purpose of filling it with goods.

Mr. J. W. Smallwood has moved the Singer Sewing Machine office to South Front street, next door to Watson & Street.

An Important Question Decided.
The colored debating society in this city discussed the question at their last meeting, "When is an engine the best heaviest, while standing on the track or while in motion?" After debating with the question for three hours, it was decided that she was the heaviest when doing nothing. Railroad men will now know how to convert heavy engines into light ones—put them in motion and the faster she goes the lighter she will be.

A Fire Destroys Much Cotton.
New York, March 3.—A fire that broke out at midnight on the cotton-laden barge, George W. Dale and Chase, Whitney, lying at the National steamship company's dock in North river, did $30,000 damage to cotton and the boats are damaged about $5,000. The cotton came from Charleston steamship dock and was consigned to the Guion line.
It is owned by a number of shippers and was insured in various marine companies.

BRIEFS.

One hundred and eighty more Chinese have been driven from Oregon.

Trans-continental railroad companies are still cutting freight rates.

Three hundred railroad laborers are on a strike at Fort Worth, Texas.

A ten thousand dollar race is booked for the St. Louis races to come off June next.

President Cleveland's message to the Senate in regard to furnishing that body with information about removals from office is an able document and a complete vindication of his course. The Republicans very naturally pronounce it out of order.

One more victim is claimed by the great falls of Niagara. He was a stranger there, and while crawling over some of the rocky cliffs above the falls, lost his footing and slipped into the stream, from whence he was conveyed over the falls.

Sec. Whitney has ordered Capt. Chester of the U. S. steamer "Galena," at Key West, to deliver to the U. S. Marshall at that place the steamer "City of Mexico" which was seized on suspicion of being engaged in filibustering expedition against Honduras.

A bill has been introduced in the House by Wolford of Kentucky to give to every soldier in the Confederate army, who lost a leg or arm in the war, an artificial leg or arm at the expense of the government. Mr. Wolford says: "We vote pensions to the soldiers that were wounded by Confederate bullets, now let us do something for the soldiers wounded by Union bullets."

NEWS BY MAIL.

FORD'S AND MURPHY'S DEATH WARRANTS SIGNED.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—Gov. Mo-Eney today signed the death warrants ordering the hanging of Patrick Ford and John Murphy on Friday, March 13, between the hours of 12 m. and 6 p. m., within the enclosure of the parish prison in this city.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION OF POWDER.

DAYTON, O., March 1.—The dry-house of the Miami Powder Company, near Xenia, blew up this morning, killing three men and blowing the building and machinery to atoms. The shock was distinctly felt here all over the city.
There were 2,400 twenty-five pound casks in the house when the explosion occurred. The explosion was caused by the explosion of the boiler used in drying the powder. The victims were Henry Franklin, Christy McCann and Michael Haney.

DRIVING OUT THE CHINESE.

PORTLAND, OR., March 1.—Between midnight and 2 o'clock this morning eighty men, divided into squads of twenty each, visited the Chinese back of East Portland and Albina and drove them out. There were 180 Chinese, all of whom were engaged in wood chopping and grubbing. Some of the men were masked and some had their faces blackened, while others had sacks over their heads with holes for their eyes.
All were armed. They went to the camps where the Chinese were asleep, routed them out, and ordered them to pack up and leave at once. The Chinese offered no resistance, and allowed themselves to be driven to a ferry boat, which brought them to this city.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WISELOW'S SOUTHERN SYRUP should always be used for children coughing. It soothes the child, softens the cough, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Congressional Work.

SENATE.—March 2.—At one o'clock the Senate took up the Education bill and Mr. Call addressed the Senate in opposition to Mr. Allison's amendment.
He characterized it as a reflection on the States, and abandonment of one of the principles of our Government. Mr.
Call read educational statistics of several States and compared figures of school attendance in each with similar figures relating to Florida, to show that Florida had proportionately as large a school attendance as other States for a certain number of months each year.

Mr. Call said the school taxes of Florida were now applied to schools without distinction of color. If this money was distributed on the color principle of "the distinction" it would be violated.
Senator Salisbury opposed the bill, whether with or without the Allison amendment. There was not only no constitutional authority for it, he said, but not even the slightest necessity for it. The Southern States were amply able to educate all their illiterates. The South had extra ordinary resources. It had a monopoly of the cotton crop, an enormous tobacco crop, and a monopoly of the sugar crop and rice crop. Their great mineral and manufacturing resources were rapidly developing. Why the difference in the cost of labor alone between the South and the North was enough to pay for the education of all the illiterates of the South. The general welfare clause of the Constitution never contemplated such schemes as this. It was public alms-giving, without any authority whatever.

Senator Riddleberger opposed the Allison amendment. It would give three dollars to colored children for every dollar going to white children.
It would destroy the bill and would destroy the public schools of Virginia. He appealed to the Republican party to consider what harm it was doing to the colored people, whom they were seeking to help. It would absolutely destroy all chance of their education, as the white people would destroy the school system through which the money was to be paid.

Mr. Hampton said he was a sincere friend of the colored man and would be very sorry to see the Allison amendment adopted. As it would do the colored people more harm than almost anything that could be done. The white people of South Carolina, he said, paid 97 per cent of the school fund of the State, leaving only 3 per cent to be paid by colored people; yet the constitution and laws of the State provided that the school fund should be distributed according to the number of children attending public schools.

Mr. Hoar said the Allison amendment would be an invitation to the States themselves to make discrimination in favor of white children. The truth might as well be told—namely, that Senators were unwilling to trust the authorities of the States with the administration of the fund. The Zach Montgomery argument was the trouble —the argument that we could not trust the American people.

The debate lasted without interruption until 6 o'clock. The remaining speakers were Messrs. Hale, Harrison, Platt, Blair, Edmunds, Logan, Dolph and four. Several amendments were presented and ordered printed, when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The morning hour expired without action being reached upon any measure. The House then went into committee of the Whole on the Pension Appropriation bill and general debate began.

Mr. Wilson, of W. Va., made a stirring speech in reply to one made a few days ago by Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, in which he defended the Commissioner of Pensions and retorted upon Mr. Henderson's charge that by their vote upon the increase of widows pensions Southern members had unfurled again the bloody shirt. He said that this had been done by Mr. Henderson himself, in his inference he drew from his analysis of that vote, and by Mr. Boutelle, recently, in criticizing Southern people for raising a few modest monuments to their friends who had died in defence of their opinions.

Mr. Materson, of Ind., also defended Commissioner Black and the House Pension Committee.

Mr. Hammond, of Ga., said that it had been the principle of the Democratic party when in power, that when a man became a public officer he might think what he pleased, say what he pleased and do what he pleased, but that his services must be given to the public and not to his party. The President of the United States stood today inviting the American people to come back to the old paths and "in them you shall rest." Referring to the question of widows' pensions, he said that that question had been up a half dozen times since the war, but it had never been proposed to increase them until now. This fact answered the argument of the gentleman from Iowa, (Henderson) when he arraigned Southern members for voting against the increase. The stuff in his speech that the Constitution had been invoked to protect that vote did not need reply. The bitter gall against men whom he took daily by the hand as his friends, he said, was in the fact that the speech, not only in manner but in content, was a caricature of the argument of the gentleman from Iowa, and needed no more reply than when he consigned the Confederates to hell, and then intensified hell by a promise to go there with them. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Butterworth closed the debate in a long speech full of humor and sarcasm, and generally very wide of the question under consideration. It took in the whole range of recent political events, and partially dwelt upon the Ohio election.

At 5:15 the House adjourned, and a Democratic caucus was announced for that evening.

secretary for Ireland, in the House of Commons this afternoon indicated, by his answers to questions about the distress in Ireland, that the government would start relief works in all the western islands.

LONDON, March 1.—Lord Randolph Churchill has written a letter to the grand master of the Orangemen of Belfast, eulogizing last Monday's demonstration in the writer's honor against home rule. Lord Randolph describes the demonstration as "imposing," and says he believes that "in the general nature and scope of its effect it will prove unequalled by any other event in recent political history."

SNOW-STORM IN GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, March 1.—A snow-storm pre-valing throughout Great Britain. In many places the snow has drifted in great piles on the railroad tracks, seriously impeding traffic. The sufferings of the poor are greatly increased by the storm.

The trains conveying the Irish and English mails are snowed in at Bangor, Carnarvonshire.

During the heavy snow storm which prevailed on the coast the British steamer Missouri, Capt. Poulton, from Boston, Feb. 19, for Liverpool, stranded

The cattle were thrown overboard to lighten her.

New York Cotton Futures.

NEW YORK, March 3.—C. L. Green & Co.'s report on cotton futures says: Surprised by the strength developed by Liverpool and further stimulated by the upward turn on contracts at New Orleans, the bears have been very nervous all day, leading to a liberal business and a sharp advance of 13 1/2 points. Covering was general, but was especially noticeable on the near months, and many of the orders indicated that the South was re-investing against the recent unloading. Two or three prominent local operators have been constant and liberal sellers from the opening to the close, but the market appeared to absorb all they had to offer and left off steady.

The following is the experience of a bad headaches for years and have tried many remedies without obtaining relief. I was advised to give Salvation

The Lynchburg Strike Adjusted.

80 Day Seed Corn.

Dear Editor:—I have a limited amount of a very superior quality of extremely large field corn which has recently been originated and which will mature in from 80 to 90 days. Ears are from 10 to 14 inches long, and has a slender cob and very fine large grains; is a marvel of beauty; 134 bushels of shelled corn has been raised per acre. I am very anxious to know what this corn will do in other climates, before advertising it for sale and will send a large sample package free to any farmer who will take good care and report his success with it and will enclose 25 cents in silver to pay postage, packing, etc., on same. Address, W. F. RUSSELL, Springfield, Ohio.
