Cool weather for April.
Bon-Bon at Stanly Hall tonight.
The Bon-Bon party is a success; again tonight at Stanly Hall.

The steamer Goldboro arrived yesterday from Baltimore with a cargo of general merchandise.

H. R. Bryan, Esq., has been appointed by the Governor as one of the board of visitors to the University.

Mr. John Dunn offers a store on Middle street for rent. It is a new brick building and a splendid stand.

A large crowd attended the Bon-Bon party last night and all enjoyed themselves very much. Tonight the fun will be had.

Deputy sheriff Rodgers has been appointed jailer by the sheriff, and parties who have visited it say it looks like a new place.

Herrings are coming in rather slow. The fishermen say the freshest in Neuse river will probably prevent a big run for several days yet.

The preparation for changing the gauge on the A. & N. C. R. is being pushed forward vigorously and the change will be made in time for the truck.

J. M. Bonnot, nurseryman and florist, has located on Middle street, next to Detrick's, for just one week, with a lot of evergreens and roses. He has quite a variety.

A load of pea boxes passed up Pollock street yesterday. The buzz of the saw at the mills and the sound of the hammer warn us that pea picking time is close at hand.

Yesterday a warrant was issued by Justice E. G. Hill, upon the affidavit of W. G. Brinson, Esq., for the arrest of M. Hahn, sheriff, and Norris Green, jailer for allowing prisoners to escape. The warrant was made returnable this morning at 9 o'clock.

Some of the Republican voters have hoisted the name of Charles E. Nelson for Register of Deeds. There will doubtless be many candidates in the field, but the early bird catches the worm. We are ready to make announcements, cash to accompany the order.

Wilmington Star: The wreck of the schooner Crisie Wright, which lies off Shackelford beach, near Beaufort, N. C., was blown to pieces by the heavy winds of the past week, and a lot of rigging came ashore on Wednesday, also the body of a man supposed to be one of the sailors of the ill-fated vessel. He had a rope tied around his waist, both of his hands were cut off and his head was skinned.

The farm of Messrs. Dunn & Willett near the city is a model of neatness, thorough cultivation and diversification of crops. Their cabbages and peas are promising; potatoes and beans are coming up; asparagus is shooting out and shipments have already been made; pumpkins are growing in hot beds; the fruit trees are thrifty and in bloom, and in fact everything looks promising. E. R. Dudley, who owns a plot of ground extending across this farm, also has a fine prospect for peas.

The Democrats hold their ward meetings tonight for the purpose of nominating candidates for councilmen to be voted for on the 1st Monday in May. Notices of the meetings appear elsewhere in this issue. In the 1st Ward the friends of Jos. Schwerin are putting him forward, while Dick Williams is putting a keen edge to his axe. In the 2nd the contest is between Messrs. E. W. Smallwood and F. W. Hancock, M. C. members of the present body. In the 3rd Jimmie Moore seems to be solid. The 2nd Ward seems to be solid.

Welcome the Physician.
The North Carolina Medical Society will meet in this city on Wednesday, the 19th of May and will remain in session for three days. The Society is composed of gentlemen of prominence from all sections of the State, and we hope they will be received in such manner as to make a favorable impression for the city. The last number of the Medical Journal says in reference to the society meeting here:
New Bern has a state-wide reputation for the hospitality and superior cultivation of its people, and we look forward with great pleasure to the week we will spend there.

We hope to sustain the reputation and give them a hearty welcome.
"Think naught a trifle, though it small appear." Just remember for instance how you would be dancing around with toothache, if you hadn't bought a bottle of Salvation Oil—Yes! think of that.

Personal.
Mr. C. H. Fowler, of Stonewall, is in the city.
Mr. J. P. Brogden, of Trenton, is in the city.

New Berne for Spring Trade.
New Berne never offered better advantages to buyers of spring goods than at the present time, nor was ever cotton sold here so near the New York and Norfolk markets. Cotton for the last week or two has brought within a quarter of a cent of the New York market, owing to the low freights and the disposition of our buyers to buy on close margin. And our merchants enjoy the same advantages. They are buying in depressed markets and obtaining low freights; there with the sharp competition in the trade enable the farmers and laborers to purchase more goods and groceries here for the same money than any previous time. Our dry goods, clothing, hardware, grocery and provision dealers have laid in their spring stock and consumers and country dealers will find it to their advantage to come to New Berne and examine. Our millinery stores are setting things in order and will display elegant stocks of the latest fashionable goods at the proper time. Bring your cotton to New Berne and get bargains in goods.

HOW GERONIMO ESCAPED.
FORT BOWIE, Ariz., April 4.—Lieut. Maus and his scouts arrived yesterday afternoon, bringing two more bucks of Geronimo's band, one a brother of Kichahna, and the other a brother of Kottanai. They had followed Maus and surrendered voluntarily. He thinks more hostiles are likely to do the same. He had to abandon the trail of Geronimo after following it sixty miles to near the frontier of Sonora. After leaving his camp, on the night of the 29th, the hostiles hurried through the most impassable mountains, stabbing their only horse after going a short distance, and breaking their trail on the rocks. In all the sixty miles they did not camp once. Near the frontier they scattered in every direction, making for old strongholds in the Sierra Madre. Lieut. Maus had only four days' rations. Men and stock were worn out, and he had to drop the trail. There will probably be no more operations until Gen. Miles arrives.

THE NAVAL DRILL AT PENSACOLA.
PENSACOLA, Fla., April 4.—Admiral Jouett's squadron, which was expected here Friday, was sighted in the offing at noon today. Lieut. Emery, commanding the United States steamship Despatch, fired a gun and got under way immediately to meet the Admiral and deliver the accumulated mail. A committee of citizens accompanied him to extend the freedom of the city to the visitors.

The latest freak in the way of masquerades, is a costume that is intended to represent an orator. What next? Why the future masqueraders will have a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup moving among them.

BRIEFS.
The spring drive of cattle from Texas is expected to exceed 300,000 head.
Richmond, Va., is to have a new Masonic Temple, to cost not less than $120,000.
Four inches of snow are reported at Loudon, Tennessee, and three inches in Northern Mississippi.

A magnificent hotel is under construction at St. Augustine, Fla. It is to be 800 feet long and will cost over $1,000,000.
Engineer Melville, not satisfied with his last experience in seeking the North Pole, is again taking steps toward making another search.

Near Frederick, Md., a freight and stock train collided, demolishing one of the engines and three cars. Fourteen horses were killed and a number wounded.
Huron county, Michigan, boasts of a natural curiosity, in the person of a woman who has been married forty-five years and has had only three new bonnets in that time.

A New York commercial agency estimates that there are at present in this country not less than 60,000 workmen idle on account of strikes as against about a third of that number this time last year.
Julius Von Stavenow, inspector of the New York custom house, died on the 24th, ult., aged 71 years. He was a German, and in his school days, was a classmate of that country's greatest statesman, Bismarck.

The following is taken from an exchange: "Gov. Scates has begun the laudable work of collecting portraits of the Governors of North Carolina. He has received letters from relatives of nearly all the Governors, to the effect that they would be pleased to furnish photographs or crayons. A member of the Morehead family writes that an oil portrait of the distinguished Governor Morehead had been ordered from William Garle Brown, the well-known artist."

Congressional Work.
SENATE.—April 5.—Mr. Platt submitted an amendment to the resolution introduced by him some days ago relating to open executive session. The amendment went over. [It simply specifies the rules which it is proposed to amend.] Mr. Platt said he hoped to address the Senate on the question on Wednesday or Thursday next.
The Army Efficiency bill was then placed before the Senate and Mr. Plumb took the floor, continuing his remarks in opposition to the bill. Mr. Plumb hoped that the bill of the Senator from Illinois, for the equalization of bounties, would be passed before the salaries and emoluments of the regular army were piled so high that there should be found no more money in the Treasury.

The Senator from Illinois, Mr. Plumb said, would not need to make insulting references to his (Mr. Plumb's) calling in order to secure his support of a bill to do justice to the volunteer army of which Mr. Logan thought so much. Referring to the expense of the proposed increase of the army, Mr. Plumb cited figures to show that it would call for $6,000,000 annually.

Mr. Cockrell then took the floor in opposition to the bill. Mr. Cockrell contended that the strength and perpetuity of our institutions depended not on a standing army, but on the respect of the people. State governments were the best defenders of those institutions, and in every State there would be found enough patriotic citizens to sustain the State authorities.

Mr. Cockrell asserted that a greater fraternity of feeling existed in the United States today from the lakes to the gulf and from ocean to ocean than had ever existed in our history, and never had the sentiment of peace and good will among our people been held in higher regard than it was held today.

Mr. Logan replied, but at 4:45 yielded the floor to a motion by Mr. Allison that the Senate go into executive session. The motion was agreed to, and the Senate accordingly, at 4:40, went into executive session.

At 5:30 p. m. the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.
Before adjournment Mr. Sewell gave notice that on Monday, the 19th of April, he would call up the Fitz John Porter bill.

HOUSE.—Chaplain Milburn in his prayer this morning in the House referred to the deplorable degeneracy of the times as evidenced by the masses drifting farther and farther from the church, when educated men were asking, "Is life worth living?" and teaching the doctrines of despair, pessimism, agnosticism and atheism, when leaders in great cities were putting up their votes for sale to the highest bidder and bartering the franchise of the people, and when our boasted civilization was stained with blot as dark as death.
Under the call of States, bills and resolutions were introduced as follows:
By Mr. Henderson (N. C.)—To reduce letter postage to 1 cent, and the price of postal cards to 1 cent.
Mr. Belmont's (N. Y.) resolution directing the Committee on Ways and Means to report a bill for the creation of a board of three experts, to be appointed by the President, to whom shall be referred by the Secretary of the Treasury all questions arising on protests and appeals made by importers against the liquidation of entries, or the levy of duties or fees.
By Mr. O'Neill (Mo.)—To legalize the incorporation of trades unions.

At the conclusion of the call of States Mr. Morrison, from the Committee on Rules, reported amendments to the rules repealing the clauses which forbid the amendment of any bill by an amendment containing the substance of any other pending bill, and which require the calling of the yeas and nays on the passage of general appropriation bills.

The report went over for one day under the rules.

The House then, by a vote of—yeas 188, nays 68—under a suspension of the rules, passed the Mexican Pension bill. The bill directs the Secretary of the Interior to place the names of the surviving officers, soldiers and sailors who enlisted and served in the war with Mexico for any period during the years of 1845-46-47-48 and were honorably discharged and their surviving widows on the pension roll at the rate of $8 per month from and after the passage of this act during their lives. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and directed to make such rules and regulations as are necessary to carry the act into effect, provided that where it shall appear that a discharge is lost, secondary evidence may be permitted, and where it shall appear that an applicant has received a land warrant that shall be sufficient evidence of an honorable discharge unless the evidence shows that he procured it by fraud. It is provided, further, that this act shall not apply to persons under political disabilities.

The rules were also suspended for the passage of the bill for the erection of a Congressional library building on the site east of the capital.
The bill creates a commission consisting of the Secretary of the Interior, the architect of the Capitol and the librarian of Congress, who shall make contracts, &c., and appropriate $500,000 to begin the construction of the building. A further appropriation of $550,000 is made for the purchase of the lands.

An End to Bone Scraping.
Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by Hancock Bros.

Kinston Items.
The river is up, and still rising.
Rev. A. J. Hires baptized Mr. Levi Dawson and wife, and Mrs. Frank Cox last Lord's day morning.
Five members were received at the Disciples' Church on Sunday morning, who have recently been baptized.
The board of education was in session last Monday, and adjourned to meet again on Tuesday, April 13th, when they hope to complete the business under consideration.
The county commissioners were in session the first Monday in this month. They granted a petition for an election on the 1st Monday in June, appointed tax assessors, and did the usual routine business.

Mr. C. W. Crabtree, who has been absent about four years, has lately returned. He has travelled many thousand miles and visited almost all parts of the world. He has been engaged in the government service, taking deep sea soundings for the benefit of the science and commerce of the United States. He is surrounded by a group of eager listeners wherever he is seen on our streets.
The Teachers' Association met at Kinston College on Saturday, 11 a. m. Mr. J. R. Tingle was elected a member, and appointed orator on the next meeting. "The importance of a University in the State for young ladies" was the question selected for discussion at the graded school building on Saturday before the first Sunday in May. Dr. R. H. Lewis and Rev. I. Harding were appointed leaders of the discussion. Miss Sallie Whitfield was appointed essayist.

The question of vocal music in the public schools was freely discussed by Prof. Mears, Prof. Grimsley and Rev. I. Harding, all taking strong ground in favor of making it a part of the school course. They argued that it has a refining, moral order effect upon the school. Dr. Lewis, orator of the day, gave some excellent thoughts on "Why?" specially suitable to teachers. The President and Secretary were requested to draft resolutions on the Blair bill and present to the next meeting.

On Monday night, April 5th, the thieves made a raid upon the stores of our town. They broke the glass in the front windows of Walter LaRogue's, Messrs. B. Albritton's and E. L. Miller's, making a hole large enough to slip each place for a person to pass through. As well as can be estimated, they took about $30 worth from the first and $15 from the second, in money and dry goods. They did not seem to desire anything to eat. It is supposed that they broke into E. L. Miller's by mistake, intending to enter Mr. Becton's or Dr. Miller's. E. L. Miller's store was almost empty, and nothing was missed.

Speculations as to Mr. Manning's Successor.
WASHINGTON, April 6.—While Secretary Manning is now considered as having passed the danger line and is in a fair way to recover, still it is acknowledged on all hands that his complete restoration to health will be slow, and can only be assured by absolute rest. In this view of the case it is doubtful if he will again assume charge of the Treasury Department. Speculation is therefore rife as to who his successor will be. It is conceded that he will be taken from New York, and the names of Mr. John Bigelow, August Belmont, and ex-Senator Kernan, are most prominently mentioned.

CINCINNATI FOR REPUBLICAN.
CINCINNATI, April 6.—The election yesterday resulted in an overwhelming majority for the entire Republican ticket, ranging from 4,000 to nearly 7,000.

INQUEST ON THE ST. LOUIS HOTEL VICTIMS.
ST. LOUIS, April 4.—An inquest was held today on the bodies of the four servant girls who lost their lives at the Planter's House fire yesterday. The jury visited the scene of the fire, and in their verdict stated that the quarters for the servants were so arranged as to be virtually a fire-trap when the employees are asleep. The hotel is nearly half a century old, but on account of its favorable location and reputation has always had a large patronage.

Good Results in Every Case.
D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes, that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this wonderful discovery. Trial bottles free at Hancock Bros.

Cotton Was 73-4c.; Selling Now at 9c.
Good morning! I had called to ask you if you were not joking about what you said in the JOURNAL yesterday? I don't subscribe to the JOURNAL but I heard what you said and went out and borrowed the paper and read it, and am astonished. Is that the reason that so much cotton has been coming to New Berne lately? Did you say freight only 25 cents a bale? Are all the cotton buyers shipping by the ELM CITY? Do the merchants realize what great advantages you are giving them? Was the ELM CITY loaded down when she went out? What are you going to do on truck? What can beat other lines nearly 24 hours to Philadelphia and New York? Ahem! Won't you give me and my family and nurse and one or two of my neighbors a pass to New York and return? What can't give me meals too? Guess I'll go to see the O. D. and will return your pass if I can do any better with them. Are you going to ward meeting tonight and vote for my friend Mr. Dolittle? Going to the Bon-Ton party? You look like it, don't you? Good-bye. Good-bye.
Griff, when you see that fellow coming again, let me know. I want to do like the fellows on "Robbers' Row" when the ladies come around to collect missionary money—go to hide.
Come along with your freights and give me less taffy.
J. V. WILLIAMS,
Gen. Man. Str. ELM CITY.
