BUSINESS LOCALS.

Job-work executed with neatness and dispatch at the JOURNAL office.

The truck farms keep our vegetable market well supplied with cabbage and kale.

Thomas P. Wilson, alias Tom Britt, says there was frost in his garden yesterday morning.

We are informed that there was considerable frost in the country near the city yesterday morning.

Meers, Dunn & Willett and Mr. J. L. Rhem made shipments of asparagus yesterday per steamer Shenandoah.

B. Swert has slaughtered another fine beef for today. Why not give us stalled every day? It seems that we can only get it for Sunday.

A colored lunatic, Demos Hargett was brought down from Tuscarora last night by Thos. Ipoek, a special deputy, and lodged in jail. It required considerable force to capture him.

The brick work on Mr. Clement Manly's new residence on East Front street is being done by Mr. G. B. Anderson, who was adjutant general of Scales' Brigade during the war. He seems to be master of his trade.

Col. Jno. N. Whitford had at the Exchange yesterday a lot of very fine cotton which sold for nine cents per pound. The Colonel always tops the market as he takes special pains in preparing his cotton for market.

Messrs. T. B. Cox and T. J. Forlaugh are in the city offering a useful article called the puzzle key ring. They have a large number of different shapes and sizes upon which is engraved the purchasers name and postoffice.

The Goldsboro Argus greeted its readers on its first anniversary with an eight page issue handsomely printed and containing a write-up of the business interest of Goldsboro. The Argus is a live, progressive paper and worthy of a hearty support from the citizens of Goldsboro.

A colored Republican gives elsewhere in this issue the political stock market of Craven county. These stocks are more subject to fluctuations than the Wall street market. Black Friday will appear on the day of the county convention when the bulls and bears will show their hands.

Our attention has been called to the fact that sheriff Hahn was in New York visiting his children when the prisoners escaped from jail, and that this fact ought to be known and considered by the public who may think that he has been negligent. We are also informed that the sheriff is very attentive to the keeping of the jail when here and that he has appointed a new jailer who keeps the prison in a decent, cleanly condition.

Steamer Movements.

The Shenandoah took out a full cargo yesterday evening, which consisted of cotton, rice, clams, terrapins and truck.

The Carolina arrived from Snow Hill yesterday evening with a cargo of 74 bales of cotton. She made the trip in eleven hours, the quickest time on record from that point.

The Kinston left for Kinston yesterday evening with a full cargo of general merchandise.

The Goldsboro sailed for Baltimore with cotton, lumber, shingles, rice, naval stores, and canned oysters.

Personal.

Dr. G. K. Bagby has returned from a professional visit to Smithfield.

Col. J. Wilder Atkinson, of Wilmington, was in the city yesterday and left during the day for Washington, N. C.

Mr. Alford Gallup, of Oresco, Conn., registered at the Gaston House. He has purchased a tract of land at Slocumb's creek in this county, and is taking steps to erect a saw mill.

Rev. N. M. Jurney, of Kinston, arrived last night and is the guest of Mr. J. V. Williams.

Mr. A. M. Baker, accompanied by Mr. C. L. Ives, left on the Shenandoah yesterday evening for the Northern markets. He is going to look for the place where they are anxious to exchange goods for money, and will tell the people of his success when he returns.

Mr. Isaac Brown, of Tuckahoe, Jones county, called to see us yesterday. He is of the opinion that "hard times" will remain in the country unless the newspapers will drive him out.

Mr. E. O. E. Lodge made a business trip to Goldsboro yesterday, returning last night.

F. M. Simmons, Esq., left for Trenton yesterday evening on professional business.

The Ninth of April.

Yesterday was the anniversary of an event in the history of this country, equalled by but few, if any. When the electric wires flashed the news that the shattered ranks of the army of Northern Virginia had, after a week of unparalleled marching, fighting and starving, filed into camp, stacked arms, and that General Lee had surrendered, the ninth of April became a day to be remembered so long as patriotism has a name or self-sacrificing gallantry an admirer.

Memorial Day.

The Ladies Memorial Association has secured the services of Col. E. D. Hall, the Mayor of Wilmington, as orator for the 10th of May celebration this year. Col. Hall's subject will be, "The Battle of New Berne," and as he was one of the participants in that disastrous engagement, he will make it interesting to all survivors. A cordial invitation is extended to all soldiers who were present on the day of the battle, and all citizens who feel an interest in the matter. Col. Hall is a very forcible speaker, and will not only entertain the crowd on that day but will give them some facts about the battle of New Berne that ought to be preserved. And this reminds us that the memorial services of last year containing Capt. Graham's admirable address on the life of General Pettigrew, a photograph of the Confederate monument in Cedar Grove Cemetery and the proceedings of the unveiling, have been published in pamphlet form and can be had on application to the Ladies Memorial Association at fifty cents per copy. It is a neatly printed pamphlet and well worth the money.

Col. Hall, during his stay in the city, will be the guest of Mayor Meadows.

Political Stock Market.

MR. EDITOR:—Your many readers are ready to read of any interesting matter concerning the Republicans in politics of Craven county.

Hahn's stock has fallen 50 per cent within the last week.

E. W. Carpenter's stock is worth 99 per cent.

Joseph Nelson's stock is worth 73 per cent.

D. N. Kilburn's stock is worth 59 per cent.

O'Hara's stock is worth 43 per cent.

W. E. Clarke's stock is worth 85 per cent.

E. Merrick's stock is worth 60 per cent. These figures are correct; one wishing to become an aspirant to a position aspired to by any party named, can estimate the amount of steam necessary to move the locomotive.

BRIEFS.

A fraudulent Blind Tom has been detected at Johnstown, Pa.

Two American professors have been engaged for the proposed university in Osaca, Japan.

Telegraphic dispatches from Buenos Ayres announce a complete defeat of the revolutionists.

Moody and Sankey, the revivalists, are at Lynchburg, Va. They will remain there four days.

The boiler of the British steamship "Enchantress," ashore off Frying Pan shoals, exploded on the night of the 7th inst., badly scalding three of the wreckers.

A dreadful accident occurred on a Massachusetts railroad Wednesday. An express train went over an embankment 200 feet high, killing a number of persons.

General Master Workman Powderly is being spoken of for Governor of Pennsylvania. They think he would carry the labor as well as the Democratic vote, which would insure his election.

A Dakota man who was running for the magistracy announced that if elected he would charge only one dollar for marrying a couple, and would wait until there was a "christening" for his payment. The rival candidate was left in the shade.

A volume entitled "Avant la Bataille," devoted to the ability of France to cope with Germany, has been discovered in Paris. The revenge that France holds towards Germany can never cease until the lost territory of Alsace-Lorraine has been recovered.

"Thou troublest me—I am not in the vein," he said when invited to make a Fourth of July oration. But he bought a bottle of Salvation Oil, and the National Holiday heard from the Eagle.

The Republican voters of the 5th Ward are requested to meet at the Samaritan hall on Queen street, near the corner of West street, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, April 26, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for city councilman for the ensuing year.

J. W. HARRRELL, Chm.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this wonderful discovery. Trial bottles free at Hancock Bros.

Congressional Work.

SENATE.—April 7.—After some unimportant routine business, Mr. Call addressed the Senate on his resolution instructing the Committee on Public Lands to report a bill declaring the forfeiture of all unearned railroad grants. At the conclusion of his remarks, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Hawley then took the floor and spoke in support of the Army Efficiency bill. If we should be fairly prepared for war we would have no war. If we were so defenseless as now we invite a war.

Mr. Teller thought that Mr. Hawley's argument went to show that the army was to be used as a police force, and denied that such was the proper use for the army.

Mr. Hawley warmly repelled the suggestion, which he said, was implied by the remarks of Mr. Teller. He did not want the army used for police purposes, and did not thank the Senator from Colorado for endeavoring to put him in the wrong in this matter, and endeavoring to array against him (Mr. Hawley) the prejudices of demagogues.

The Senator from Colorado, Mr. Hawley said, had endeavored to create the impression that he (Mr. Hawley) would use the Federal army to interfere with the will of the people. He emphatically denied that he had said anything of the kind.

Mr. Teller disclaimed any intention of saying anything unfair or anything personal toward the Senator from Connecticut (Mr. Hawley).

Mr. Van Wyck said the secret of this whole matter was to be found in the idea of using the army again as a great police power to keep the slaves in slavery. Jay Gould and his confederates, and Vanderbilt and his confederates, who had been allowed to steal millions just as men, under the old interpretation of the Constitution, had been allowed to steal from the black man his birth rights. "You have raised," said Mr. Van Wyck "another class of slaveholders just as unrelenting and determined, and steeled against the institution of humanity as the old slaveholders were, and I think, a little more so."

The debate was prolonged, and finally the bill to increase the army to 30,000 men was defeated by a vote of 19 to 31, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Holman (Ind) called up the bill providing for the appointment by the President of an Indian Commission to consist of six persons to inspect and report on Indian affairs generally. The bill provides that three of the members shall be detailed from officers of the army and the remaining three detailed from officers of the Interior Department.

Pending action, the morning hour expired, and debate on the silver bill was resumed.

Mr. Bland (Mo.) entered a motion to recommit the bill which will be voted upon at the close of the debate. He then proceeded to argue in favor of free coinage. Whoever thought that free coinage was going to make money cheap, he said was mistaken.

Mr. Norwood (Ga.) in a dry, sarcastic manner defended the standard dollar from the charge of "dishonesty," and maintained that the wisest course was to allow the existing law to remain unchanged.

Mr. Bayne (Pa.) favored a suspension of silver coinage, and strongly denounced the proposition to open the mints and stop free coinage of silver.

It was agreed that a vote on the silver question should be taken tomorrow evening.

The House, at 5 o'clock, took a recess until 7 o'clock, the night session being for debate on the silver bill exclusively.

The debate on the silver bill was continued at the evening session, the members on the floor and an equal number of spectators in the galleries composing the audience that was called to order by the Speaker. Mr. Daniel (Va.) took a stand against the suspension of silver coinage, declaring that the standard dollar was the only bulwark between the people and monopoly. "The banks hold the gold, the Government has its hand upon the greenback, and the people were told that silver was not wholesome for them. If the coinage of silver was stopped, contraction would follow and after contraction came bankruptcy and ruin. The silver dollar was not only a honest dollar, but the most honest dollar that had emanated from the Treasury. The tendency of free silver coinage would not be to carry gold to a premium but to put both metals on the same level. The argument that the free coinage of silver would drive gold from the country was but the second edition of the old prophecy made in 1873, that even a limited coinage would drive out gold. The present situation of the country, contrasted with its condition in 1873, showed that the United States had an increased volume of $300,000,000 of gold, and $312,000,000 silver.

Mr. Crisp (Ga.) opposed any proposition to increase the amount of silver in the standard dollar for the reason that the bullion value of that dollar was greater than that of any like coin issued by any other nation of the world. He opposed also the proposition to suspend the silver coinage.

Mr. Worthington (Ill.) announced himself as in favor of free coinage of silver.

Speeches in favor of the continued coinage of silver were made by McRae (Ark.), Skinner (N. C.) and Symes (Col.) and in opposition by McAdoo and Buchanan (N. J.) and at 10 p. m. the House adjourned.

At the residence of Mr. A. G. Wallace, in this city, on Thursday evening, April 8th, Mrs. Sarah A. Wallace, in the 68th year of her age. Her remains will be taken to Smyrna, Carteret county, today for interment.

Mrs. Wallace was the stepmother of Mr. Anson G. Wallace. She was stricken with an apoplectic fit and died almost instantly.

Mrs. Wallace was the stepmother of Mr. Anson G. Wallace. She was stricken with an apoplectic fit and died almost instantly.

NEWS BY MAIL.

AND YET ANOTHER STRIKE AT EAST ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—The men working for the East St. Louis rolling mill, the Tudor iron works and at the grain elevator all declined to work today, because the mills use coal from cars handled by non-union switchmen, and these establishments are all shut down. Deputy sheriffs and United States marshals, armed with revolvers and Winchester rifles, are on guard at the several freight depots in East St. Louis. Several trains have already been sent out. No interference has been attempted by the strikers.

DRILL OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC SQUADRON.

PENSACOLA, April 6.—The weather today was fine and the North Atlantic Squadron commenced the drill at sea off Santa Rosa Island at 8 o'clock. The exercises include practice with shot and shell from the great gun, steam tactics, and torpedo practice. The Brooklyn's firing was especially good. The novel sight was witnessed by crowds on the pleasure boats, and the spectators from Santa Rosa Island, with intense interest. The sea drill will continue several days before commencing the inside exercises and landing of the naval brigade.

THE NEW CHINESE AMBASSADOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—His Excellency, Chang Yon Hoon, the new Chinese Ambassador to the United States, accompanied by twenty attendants, arrived here from Hong Kong today on the steamer Graelic. He will remain here one week, and then go direct to Washington.

WRECK OF A STEAMSHIP.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—The English steamship Brinkburn, of London, from Carhagen for Philadelphia, with 2,100 tons of iron ore, went ashore in a fog today on Fenwick's Island Shoal, south of Cape Henlopen. She will be a total loss. The sea is breaking over her six miles from shore. The vessel and cargo are valued at $150,000.

THE NAVAL CRUISERS.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—It is said at the Navy Department that the cruiser Atlanta will be ready for her officers and crew in about a month, and that the cruiser Boston will be ready in June. Considerable work remains to be done to the cruiser Chicago, and it is not expected that she will be ready for a year.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by Hancock Bros.

FOR

H. B. DUFFY'S

"ADV."

Will Appear

IN

To-Morrow's

ISSUE.

Live and Let Live.

I propose to take freight at the following rate hereafter, and not a cent less:

Cotton per bale to Norfolk,	$ 1.00
" " " Baltimore,	1.50
" " " New York and Philadelphia,	1.75
Truck per bbl to N. Y. and Phila.	.40
" " " half crates,	.20

No truck taken for Baltimore.

The above rates are much less than you have been paying, and I shall expect to see you. Are we going to continue? Yes; you may always look for the "clipper" ELM CITY. She belongs to New Berne; and, of course, this fact will cause us to secure the patronage in future as we have in the past. Have you been benefited by the low rates? If not, send me your picture; I want it to adorn the saloon of the ELM CITY. "Prohibition does not prohibit," but 50c. freight on a barrel of kale when it is only selling in New York for 60c. per barrel, does prohibit.

Will the truckers have to send money to New York again this year to pay freight on truck that did not sell for enough to pay the freight? We hardly think so.

Now, the war is all over and Dick took the cake. You can come down and see the ELM CITY and sympathize with me. Only one word to the JOURNAL now. You must not have me "Gen. Man." any more, for I am afraid that some of my patrons will take me for a Confederate General and consider me disloyal to the "Old North State" as well as to the "Old Dominion."

J. V. WILLIAMS,
General Manager.

Steamer for Sale—Cheap

A very light-draught, stern-wheel Steamboat, double engines, carrying fifty to seventy-five bales of cotton, besides passengers; boiler nearly new machinery and boat in perfect order, is for sale cheap. This boat draws about two feet, runs seven miles per hour, requires but three men—Captain, Engineer and Cook—burns half-cord of wood in twelve hours, and runs at expense of $2.50 to $1.00 per day. She is exactly adapted for work on the Trent or Contentnea rivers, and will be sold to responsible parties on the easiest terms, and delivered at New Berne free of expense to purchaser.
