Stall fed beef at Swert's.
The steamer Carolina will leave New Berne on Monday morning at 6 o'clock for Trenton. For freight and passengers apply to DAIL BROS.

Two cases of disorderly conduct before the Mayor yesterday. Fined two dollars each and cost.

Mr. Charley Bryan launched a handsome row boat at the Old Dominion wharf yesterday evening.

Mr. W. B. Boyd gives notice of insurance. He is a reliable gentleman and represents none but safe companies.

The damage to Mr. W. G. Bryan's store by the wind sometime since has been repaired and the front newly painted.

Rev. A. D. Betts, of Trenton, called to see us yesterday. He is hopeful that Trenton will vote for Prohibition on the 1st Monday in June.

Mr. M. H. Sultan asks a very pertinent question in his new advertisement. Those interested should read and govern themselves accordingly.

Swert says he will swing out more stall fed beef today. He seems to think we all want something good to eat for Sunday if no other time.

The change of gauge begun yesterday morning immediately on the arrival of the train from Morehead City and was completed to Havelock. Today the work will be continued to Morehead City.

A case of borrowing a silk dress and gold bracelets, without permission, by a small servant, was before the Mayor yesterday, and the matter was duly arbitrated by the mother's agreeing to put on a liberal flogging.

Several large boxes were in front of H. B. Duffy's store yesterday filled with goods ready for shipment to a country merchant. Country merchants will find it to their interest to examine the stocks of our wholesale merchants in this city before going North. They buy immense quantities and can supply the trade on most favorable terms.

Mr. George Ash is a man of taste and good judgment in the selection of goods. He has opened a store next door to Cutler's on Middle street and in making his announcement tackles the question of depreciated currency and tells what his goods are worth and what he will sell them at.

The expected services at the M. E. Church were not held last night for causes reported elsewhere in this issue by the pastor. The occurrence is to be regretted as the series of sermons by Rev. Mr. Crawford on the last six days work of the Saviour while on earth were very interesting and attracted large crowds. He will continue the series in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning.

Steamer Movements.
The Stout for Baltimore with cotton, naval stores, shingles, etc.
The Shenandoah—regular trip—bringing in merchandise and taking out cotton, asparagus, radishes, etc.
The Kinston for Kinston with a cargo of merchandise and fertilizers.
The Carolina from Snow Hill with a cargo of cotton.

Runaway.
A horse attached to a wagon started from Mrs. Ellis' rice mill yesterday morning for a first-class runaway, but the corner post at the corner of Craven and South Front streets served an injunction on the proceedings by snatching the body of the wagon from the running-gear and placing it on the opposite side of the street for the receiver when he should be designated. A portion of the running-gear also became detached and the kind wheels halted in front of Maxwell & Crabtree's shops, when the frightened animal, finding himself non-suited, trotted leisurely up to the express office and was taken up. Results—small damage with considerable dust.

Roster of North Carolina Troops.
In the clerk's office of the Superior Court of this county is a roster of North Carolina troops engaged in the war between the States. The effort to make and preserve a complete list of the North Carolinians who served the State in that memorable conflict is a commendable one on the part of the General Assembly, but the present roster is so incorrect that it is not really of much value. With the aid of this, however, a correct list or at least one far more correct than the present, of each company can be made, and should be done while there is some one living who can do it. There is doubtless some one of every company still living who can take the present roster and make up nearly a correct list, and we hope the matter will be brought to the attention of the next General Assembly, with the view of having a revised and correct roster made.

Protect the Walls and Fences.
There is a habit among boys or thoughtless persons in this city of defacing and injuring the fences and walls around private lots, that ought to be broken up. We have heard of several instances, some of them recently, where new fences have been scratched with a hatchet or knife, and when newly painted the paint is hardly dry before some thoughtless scrub has daubed it with dirt, besmeared it with tobacco spit or otherwise marred its appearance.

Neat fences and walls are not only gratifying to the owners of property but they add greatly to the appearance of the city, and we think it the duty of every good citizen, whether he owns a lot or not, to aid in breaking up this wanton and injurious practice. Let every one who has a pride in the appearance of the city watch for the offenders. If a mischievous boy, take him before his parents and see that he is properly dealt with; if a thoughtless man, take him before the proper authorities and let him pay the penalty.

Pensions Allowed.
The following persons of Onslow county have been allowed pensions under an Act of the General Assembly, ratified March 11th, A. D. 1885, entitled "An Act for the Relief of certain Soldiers of the War between the States:"

They Bagged Six Murderers.
SOMERSET, Ky., April 13.—Some sentiment was caused yesterday by the arrival of twelve men, six of whom were armed with needle guns, and who had the other six in charge as prisoners. The captives were implicated in the murder of Ben Wilson, which occurred on Indian Creek, this county, on April 1. The prisoners were in charge of B. A. and J. R. Wilson of Bell county, brothers of the murdered man, and Calvin Cummings, Sam Hicker, John Inman and Sam Vanover of Whitley county. The Wilson brothers, who live near Pinesville, heard of their brother's murder, and immediately organized themselves into an avenging committee of two. On their way to the scene of the murder they picked up four friends, and swooped down upon the six murderers unawares, capturing them without any trouble.

Fresh wounds and cuts can be healed by a few applications of Salvation Oil. All druggists sell it for 25 cents a bottle.

Secretary Manning to Resume Work.
WASHINGTON, April 13.—Secretary Manning is today reported to be progressing favorably toward a complete recovery, and it is believed by those nearest to him that if he has no set-back he will be able to resume the general direction of the Treasury Department before the hot weather begins, and to take up his daily office work again immediately after a summer vacation. These favorable anticipations were confirmed on Sunday by Dr. T. A. McBride of New York, whom Dr. Lincoln had invited to pass the day in Washington to consider with him the treatment of the case. Secretary Manning has lost a great deal of superfluous flesh since his confinement, but Dr. McBride thinks this very favorable to his general health, as well as to the plan of treatment adopted, in which horseback exercise is to follow the Swedish movement cure, together with a careful regulation of the diet for about two or three months.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. jan34dtuhatwly

BRIEFS.
The Dutch Ministry has resigned.
Rev. Sam Jones is preaching at Louisville.
Steps are being taken to prosecute boycotters in Chicago.

Accusations of the engagement of President Cleveland to Miss Folsom, a pretty Buffalo belle, are numerous.

Under the present administration there has been a reduction of 227 in the clerical force of the Treasury Department, resulting in an annual saving of $232,600.

The Legislators of Connecticut have unanimously passed a resolution expressing sympathy with Ireland in her struggle for Home Rule, and indorsing Parnell and Gladstone.

The car drivers on some of the lines in Baltimore are on a strike. There has been but little disturbance so far, though a general strike is feared. They say they wish to do no violence but want better pay for their twelve hours labor.

At last divers have been able to make a thorough examination of the sunken steamship Oregon. Some of them remained down over half an hour and state the sinking was caused undoubtedly by collision. On the side of the vessel ten feet below main deck a hole six feet deep and three feet long was found. The heavy iron plating was crushed in almost to the bridge like an egg shell and she was broken in two. A diagram of the vessel as she now lies is being made and work to rescue her cargo will at once commence.

Proctor the astronomer has been predicting the world would go to smash this year, but this should not deter people from keeping on hand Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the great household remedy for coughs and colds.

Congressional Work.
SENATE—April 14.—The chair laid before the Senate a letter from Senator Jackson saying that he had accepted the Tennessee judgeship, and his seat in the Senate had therefore become vacant. He requests the President to permit the Senate to so inform the Governor of Tennessee. The chair also laid before the Senate a memorial from the Wool Growers' Convention, held at St. Louis, complaining of the proposition to place wool on the free list. Referred.

Mr. Gorman reported favorably from the Committee on Commerce a bill to construct a first-class light ship and establish it off the entrance to Chesapeake Bay. The ship is to cost not to exceed $80,000, and is to have a steam gun signal, and to be built in the American shipyard.

The bill was at once passed.
Mr. Butler then addressed the Senate in support of the open executive session resolution. After a careful examination of the subject he had reached the conclusion that the rules providing for secret sessions ought to be abrogated, and there never was a time when the abrogation of those rules was made so plain as at present. His (Mr. Butler's) experience in the Senate convinced him that there was no use and no necessity for secret sessions, except, perhaps, in considering treaties with foreign nations. The Senate of the United States was the only legislative body in the world, except one, that now had any provisions for secret sessions.

Mr. Riddleberger submitted a substitute for the pending resolution relating to executive sessions, a resolution providing "that all matters other than those relating to treaties be considered and acted upon by the Senate in open session."

On motion of Mr. Blair, the Senate took up the bill reported by him from the committee on pensions "for the relief of soldiers of the war honorably discharged after six months' service, who are disabled and dependent upon their own labor for support, and of dependent relatives of soldiers who died in service or from disabilities contracted therein."

The amount the bill would add to the pension liabilities of the Government, as nearly as Mr. Blair had been able to turn an estimate, would not be more than $25,000,000. The bill included, he said, every soldier who having been honorably discharged from the army was now suffering from disability and was besides dependent on his own labor for support. There was a very strong feeling throughout the country, Mr. Blair said, that something like justice should be done to the class of persons who would be benefited by this bill.

Mr. Van Wyck submitted an amendment providing that no soldiers pension under this act should be less than $8 a month.

At 3 p. m. the matter went over for today and the Interstate Commerce bill was laid before the Senate.

Senators Cullom and Palmer spoke in favor of the Interstate Commerce bill.

At 5:20 the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the consideration of the Hurd-Romeis contested election case.

Mr. Hale (Ia.) declared that he had reached the conclusion that there had been no legal election in Tenth District of Ohio.

Mr. Ely (Mass.) supported the claims of the sitting member, Romeis.

Mr. Green (N. C.) denounced the Republican side of the House for deciding election cases on party grounds.

Mr. Pettibone maintained that no reliance could be placed upon Mr. Gerstmann, Mr. Hurd's principal witness.

Mr. Breckenridge (Ky.) made a strong speech, in which he endeavored to point out that Mr. Romeis was not entitled to the seat.

The floor was then accorded Mr. Hurd, the contestant, to speak in his own behalf. He reviewed the election in a very eloquent manner, occupying just one hour, and at the conclusion of his remarks received long-continued applause from the Democratic side of the House.

Mr. Turner (Ga.) spoke in support of the majority report and dwelt upon the necessity of the House deciding election cases without partisan bias. The vote was taken on the resolution of the minority declaring Romeis is not entitled to his seat. Defeated—yeas 105, nays 168.

The majority resolutions, confirming Mr. Romeis' right to the seat, were agreed to without division. There was then a contest for precedence over the consideration of the appropriation bills.

Mr. Willis (Ky.) in charge of the River and Harbor bill, steered it around the obstructions presented by the Military Academy and the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bills, but his course was delayed when the obstruction of the Agricultural Appropriation bill was reached. The delay, however, was but temporary, for in half an hour the latter was taken up and passed.

The only discussion of the measure arose over an amendment offered by Mr. Price (Wis.), proposing the reduction of the employees in the Department of Agriculture. This gave Mr. Skinner (N. C.) a chance, of which he availed himself, to attack the Commissioner of Agriculture for retaining in office "Republican pets," who did not come under the Civil Service rules.

The River and Harbor Appropriation bill was then taken up and left as unfinished business, when, at 5 p. m., the House adjourned.

Notice
TO THE MEMBERS OF CENTENARY METHODIST CONGREGATION OF NEW BERNE: On Friday morning, the 16th instant, while work was being done on the windows, a section of the moulding over head gave way and fell. On examination it was deemed best to have all the moulding over head taken down at once so as to prevent further uneasiness and risk.

In consequence the series of meetings now in progress will be suspended and the church closed for a few days until the work is completed.

The fifth sermon of the series, "The Trial and Execution of Jesus" will be delivered in the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock on Sunday, the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations uniting.

L. W. CRAWFORD.

CONFIRMATIONS MADE KNOWN.
WASHINGTON, April 14.—Eighteen Collectors of Internal Revenue in seven different States were confirmed by the Senate on March 29th; but the announcement has been held back on a motion to reconsider, and which was withdrawn today. Only one was in the South, that of W. H. Yarborough, of the Fourth North Carolina district.

Saved His Life.
Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle, and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Hancock Bros.
