Biblical Information.

A friend, who is a Bible reader, furnishes us with the following bit of information which is worth pasting in the scrap book:

The learned Prince of Grenada, heir to the Spanish throne, imprisoned by order of the Crown for fear he should aspire to the throne, was kept in solitary confinement, in the old prison at the place of Skulls, Madrid. After thirty-three years, in this living tomb death came to his release, and the following remarkable researches taken from the Bible, and marked with an old nail on the rough wall of his cell, told how the brain sought employment through the weary years.

In the Bible the word Lord is found 1,853 times; the word Jehovah 6,855 times; the word Reverend but once, and that in the 9th verse of CXI Psalm. The 8th verse of CVII Psalm is the middle verse of the Bible. The 9th verse of VIII chapter Esther is the longest. The 35th verse XI chapter St. John is the shortest. In the CVII Psalm four verses are alike—the 8th, 15th, 21st, 31st. Each verse of the CXXXVI Psalm ends alike. No names or words with more than six syllables are found in the Bible.

The XXXVII chapter of Isaiah, and XIX chapter of 2nd Kings are alike. The word girl occurs but once in the Bible, and that in the 3rd verse of 'chapter III of Joel. There are found in both books of the Bible 3,586,483 letters, 773,693 words, 31,373 verses, 1,189 chapters and 66 books. The 26th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles is the finest chapter in the Bible. The most beautiful chapter in the Bible is the XXIII Psalm. The four most inspiring promises are John, chapter XIV, verse 2nd, John chapter 6th, verse 37th, St. Matthew XI, verse 28th and Psalms chapter XXXVII, verse 4th. The 1st verse of the LX chapter of Isaiah is the one for new converts. All who flatter themselves with vain boasts of their perfection should learn the VI chapter of St. Matthew. All humanity should learn the VI chapter of St. Luke, from the 20th verse to its ending.

Professor D. B. Johnson.

A correspondent of the National Journal of Education, who has been traveling South, spent some time at Columbia, S. C., and after giving a description of the work done, in the public schools of that city by Prof. D. B. Johnson, who will ever be remembered in New Berne as the man who so ably and successfully organized and superintended our Graded School in its infancy, says:

"Does one ask, What of all this? Are there not hundreds of schools all over the country of which as much might be said? Listen and hear the 'what of it.' These public schools in Columbia are but two years old. When one considers that, the growth and ripeness of the undertaking is little less than marvelous. A Northern or Western Superintendent has not much idea of the difficulties of such an undertaking, where work has to be done with one hand and public sentiment created with the other. The financial part alone is a problem enough for one man to solve. And the teachers! Consider for a moment their want of familiarity with public schools, the current of all their former lives turned in other directions, and the all-powerful effect of custom and early influence. Then to face completely alone often stepping from high social positions, and enter the public school room with such a willingness to learn, and such an energy in mastering methods and principles, that it becomes a pleasure to help them, and you have the great mass of Southern teachers, challenging one's admiration and even the competition of our best teachers in the other parts of the country. The teaching ability in this Southland urges the necessity of training schools in every city of sufficient size. When Columbia shall have added this foundation-work to her other 'building for the children,' then shall the superstructure stand firm as a rock, supplying its own demands. Then shall its increasing army of children, already amounting to nearly 1,400, be taken up in the heights by a skilled leadership of which any city might justly be proud."

A correspondent of the Chicago Times who has also been traveling South, writing up reminiscences of the reconstruction epoch, and gathering facts on the education of the negro by the Democracy, took in Columbia and visited the schools. He says:

THE SOUTH CAROLINA SCHOOLS are organized on a peculiar plan, by which each incorporated city is a law unto itself, and Columbia is probably ahead of any other city in the State. This is due to the admirable work of Prof. David B. Johnson, who was invited here three years ago from Memphis to organize the school. He has not only made the schools, but to make a sentiment to sustain them, and he has done both so well that now, in their third year, they are the pride of the city, and opposition has practically ceased.

It is a pleasure to note the success of one who served New Berne so acceptably, and it will doubtless be a pleasure to him to know that the Graded School in New Berne which he helped to organize and felt such a deep interest in, is still flourishing and doing good work.

Congressional Work.

HOUSE.—April 15.—Mr. Will, of O., from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill for the organization of the Territory of Oklahoma. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Cobb, of Indiana, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill repealing the pre-emption timber culture and desert land laws. Placed on the calendar.

Senate bills were passed extending to Key West and Tampa, Fla., the provisions of the law relative to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods.

At the expiration of the morning hour the House went into a committee of the whole on the river and harbor appropriation bill. All general debate on the bill being limited to two hours and a half Mr. Willis, of Ky., briefly reviewed and explained the provisions of the bill which he contended called for no appropriation which was not demanded by the interests of the country. A most critical scrutiny of the measure would show that rivers and harbors enumerated in it were worthy of improvement and were of public importance.

Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, characterized some of the appropriations as prodigal, wasteful, and throwing away of the people's money. He especially opposed the Galveston harbor appropriation, on the ground that the plan for the improvement of that harbor had been shown to be defective. He also criticized that appropriation for the lower Mississippi river. Mr. Jones, of Ala., replied to what he termed blank cart-ridge attacks made on a bill whose object it was to furnish cheap transportation for people. After some further discussion of this nature the bill was read by sections for amendments, and some little progress was made before the committee rose. The House then, at 5:30, adjourned.

SENATE.—Mr. Logan took the floor in support of open executive sessions. He preferred his own resolution, he said, because it provided broadly for open sessions on all matters of nominations and confirmations, without going into a history of secret sessions. Mr. Logan would simply promise by saying that there was not now, and never was any necessity for secret sessions of the Senate.

It was nearly 2 o'clock when the secret session discussion ended; the remainder of the time until 2 o'clock was consumed in a wrangle on the Pension bill. At 2 o'clock the Inter State Commerce bill came up, and Mr. Camden secured the floor to speak on it. He at once yielded, however, to Mr. Morgan, who according to the notice given yesterday, moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business. The motion being agreed to, the Senate at 2:12 o'clock went into executive session; at 5:45 the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned.

It having come to my knowledge officially that certain persons are holding public meetings in different parts of the State in the name of the Knights of Labor and teaching communistic and revolutionary doctrines, contrary to the principles of our order and dangerous to the people of our common country, this is to warn all people against them, as they have no authority to speak for the Knights of Labor or to call any meeting in its name.
