CONGRESSIONAL MISMANAGEMENT.

REPUBLICANS MAY GAIN A DOZEN SOUTHERN DISTRICTS -- MISSOURI'S DELEGATION.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A prominent Democrat said to me the other day that the leaders of the party must not count positively upon a solid Democratic representation in the House from the South. He said that the situation at Washington was so discouraging to the party in the South that it is possible for the Republicans to carry from twelve to fifteen districts. He said that two districts were to be lost in Texas if the lumber features of the tariff bill were adhered to. There is a prospect of three being lost in Louisiana, one in Mississippi, from two to three in Missouri, two in Tennessee, one in Kentucky, one in North Carolina and one in South Carolina. There is a further prospect of losing two in Virginia.

These facts are important for the Democrats to consider. The present majority in the House over all is forty-four. A loss of twenty-three districts would pass the majority over to the Republicans. The present management of the business affairs of the House is very unsatisfactory. The record that is now being made up for the next campaign is one that is not at all encouraging. The first blunder of the Morrison management was the change made in the House rules. This was done with the avowed purpose of improving the methods of doing business in the House. In reality it was done for the purpose of weakening the authority of Mr. Randall as Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. It was evident from the first that such a change would result in an increase of expenditure. The distribution of the appropriation bills had opposed to it every sound business principle. In any private business no good manager would think of intrusting the various expenditures of his business to different sets of men. He would keep them all under one guiding and directing mind, otherwise there would be no means of knowing just how much money was spent, and therefore the wildest extravagance would be certain to be incurred.

Those who opposed the distribution of the appropriation bills on the ground of economy alone did not think that the worst anticipations which they had concerning the new plan would be developed so early. It was thought that all of the committees would work together during the first year of the change, to secure a reduction. The opposite result, however, has prevailed. Of the appropriation bills already reported there is an increase over last year of twenty millions. The work on the appropriation bills is not more than half done. Taking the lowest possible average of increase this Congress promises to increase the expenditures of this year over that of last to the amount of thirty millions. That will be a terrible load for any party to carry in a convass. Missouri is one of the solidly Democratic States. Until this session it had sent thirteen Democrats out of fourteen Representatives to Congress and there are only two Republicans in the delegation now. Members of the Missouri delegation say that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction among Democrats in Missouri and it is possible there will be some changes. Bland's is a close district and the silver dollar has lost many of its charms. All of Bland's strength lies in Callaway County and Callaway County has had no offices yet. Dockery, Burns and Hatch live in close districts, with a constantly increasing population. In the Kansas City District, which sent a Republican to the Forty-ninth Congress, an effort is being made to untie the two Democratic factions, but without much hope of success.

"It is possible that there will be some changes in the Missouri delegation," said Col. Hale, the member from the Second District, today. "In the South there is no doubt that a great many districts will elect Protectionists, but I think they will be Protectionist Democrats."

She Is Not Dead.
 It has been reported that I was dead—but I am not. For four years I have been afflicted with a severe case of Blood Poison, Rheumatism, and Neuralgia. My flesh shrank away, my muscles seemed to dry up and form into little knots, joints were swollen and painful and all concluded I must die. I have used five bottles of B. B. B. and I have gained 60 pounds of flesh, and am now as sound as any woman.

1886. Harper's Magazine, ILLUSTRATED.

The December Number will begin the Seventy-second Volume of HARPER'S MAGAZINE. Miss Woolson's novel, "East Angels," and Mr. Howell's "Indian Summer"—holding the foremost place in current serial fiction—will run through several numbers, and will be followed by serial stories from R. D. Blackmore and Mrs. D. M. Craik. A new editorial department, discussing topics suggested by the current literature of America and Europe, will be contributed by W. D. Howells, beginning with the January number. The great literary event of the year will be the publication of a series of papers—taking the shape of a story, and depicting characteristic features of American society as seen at our leading pleasure resorts—written by Charles Dudley Warner, and illustrated by C. S. Reinhart. The Magazine will give especial attention to American subjects, treated by the best American writers, and illustrated by leading American artists.
