Job-work executed with neatness and dispatch at the JOURNAL office.

May.

Mr. Wm. Dunn is putting a new fence around his yard on Middle street.

Three car loads of truck went forward on the A. & N. C. R. yesterday evening.

Several barrels of cabbages were shipped per Shenandoah yesterday.

Mr. George Bishop announces in a card elsewhere that he has not authorized the use of his name for councilman of the 3rd ward.

Yesterday was a lively day with the truckers. Several thousand boxes of peas were picked and forwarded to Northern markets.

The owners of sail boats complain that the keeper of the draw in the railroad bridge across Trent river does not open the draw sufficiently for them to pass without injury to their sails.

We learn that the ladies connected with the various Sewing societies of Christ Church have determined on holding a Bazaar for the benefit of that church on the 19th and 20th of May.

Cedar Grove cemetery is being put in order for the 10th of May. The walks are being cleaned up and private lots are receiving considerable attention. Cedar Grove is a pleasant place for an evening stroll.

Mr. A. M. Baker is out this morning with his new "ad." He calls special attention to quality of his goods this season. He struck the market towards the close of the season when jobbers were anxious to close out. Read his double column and go and examine.

A horse and buggy was stopped in front of the JOURNAL office yesterday until the owner could step in for a few chattel mortgages. The horse started down the sidewalk in a walk, but every time the owner shouted "Whoa!" he got faster until he got into a pretty good run, the buggy coming in contact with every tree and post until reaching the police station, where he broke loose from the buggy and halted at the foot of Craven street. The buggy was pretty badly smashed up, especially the seat and one of the fore wheels. But the owner had purchased goods enough to make him a seat; so he hitched up and drove out, having only about thirty-five miles to travel.

Personal.

The Elm City G. F.

The repairs on the Elm City will be completed in time for her to leave on schedule time tonight at 10 o'clock. The new schedule appears in this issue and will be run. The management informs us that truck sent out tonight will be put in Philadelphia and New York on Tuesday next.

Important Decision.

The decision of the Supreme court in the Durham graded school case renders it impossible to longer maintain our graded school by taxation. But the discontinuance of the school does not, by any means, necessarily follow. The public school funds and the receipts from the Griffin and Academy property will probably maintain the school up to and including the fifth grade.

The four upper rooms in the new building might be rented, leased or given to some energetic teacher who would establish a collegiate institute. New Berne cannot afford to take steps backward in the matter of education. Parents should not be under the necessity of sending their children abroad for a thorough education. We have suitable buildings and grounds, and the health of the city will compare favorably with that of any town or city in North Carolina. Our board of trustees of the Academy will doubtless prove equal to the emergency and see that the school does not retrograde, but take an advanced step.

Parents must remember that children have more need of friendly monitors than of censorious critics; instructors who would advise them to never be without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the only pleasant remedy for croup, diphtheria, and sore throat.

Notice to Truckers.

We are requested by the O. D. S. S. Co., agent to state that the Shenandoah will sail early Sunday morning for the purpose of carrying off the early truck for our farmers. They handle no other freight but early garden truck on this trip, and they wish it distinctly understood that no truck will be received after 12 o'clock Saturday night. The gate will be closed at that hour.

The Pea Market.

Messrs. Hughes & Primrose furnish us the following quotations for peas yesterday:

New York, Phillips, Henry & Co., $3.00 to $3.50.

Philadelphia, G. J. Broadwater & Co., $3.00 to $4.00.

A Lively Scene.

The Old Dominion wharf presented a lively scene yesterday. The Shenandoah, having to come by way of Washington, did not arrive until the evening. But early in the morning the pea boxes began to come in and the carts and wagons continued to come until dark; the Clyde dock was full of canoes and boats from the other side of Trent and when the Shenandoah arrived the rush began. The rolling of trucks, marking packages, buying and selling and continual arrival of carts and wagons made one of the busiest scenes we have witnessed for sometime. At about 8 o'clock the gang plank was drawn in and she cut loose with over four thousand packages, mostly peas.

Memorial Day.

The tenth of May is near at hand and the Ladies Memorial Association are perfecting arrangements for an excellent service as all that have gone before have been.

The subject of the address will be the "Battle of New Berne" which in itself will interest everyone in this section and especially as the address will be delivered by Col. E. D. Hall who was a participant in that memorable engagement. One who canvassed the State eighteen years ago and made speeches from the mountains to the sea shores, as Col. Hall did, needs no commendation as an orator from us. He will on this occasion literally speak for himself as he was an eye-witness to the scenes he will describe.

Let our country friends then take a spring holiday and come to town on the tenth, and let us show by our numbers that while we revere the memory of the dead soldiers, that we also know how to do honor to one living. When New Berne needed defenders, Col. Hall was among the earliest to come, and with the last who left, therefore let the multitude express our appreciation of him and the cause.

To the Boys in the City:

MR. EDITOR:—Although the problem submitted to the boys a week ago in regard to the number of the small egg required to make the equivalent of the larger one, has not yet been solved, I am nevertheless induced to ask them for another question, viz:

"What is a hen's egg?"

To him who first gives the answer, in full, I will present a thoroughbred game hen, now, or a choice cock as soon as young chicks become large enough to select from, whichever may be preferred. The answers must all be in writing and handed to Maj. Carraway at the Cotton Exchange, previous to six o'clock this afternoon. They will be numbered in the order in which they are received. The answer will be published in Tuesday's issue of the Daily.

You who belong to the grammar classes, will confer a favor by informing the public, how many violations of grammar you find in this communication.

Respectfully,
J. H. BECTON.

To the Citizens of New Berne.

I desire to inform the citizens of this city that the placard distributed in this city a few days ago with my name at the head of it for councilman of the 3rd ward, was without my knowledge or consent and not authorized in any way; and had I known that it was the intention of any one to use my name in such a way, I would have forbid it. I have never expressed a wish, nor desired to fill any public position within the gift of the people, nor do I feel complimented in having my name brought forward for such positions.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.

BRIEFS.

The late Father Ryan was a musician as well as a poet.

$19,000 has been raised for a monument to the memory of Peter Cooper.

The catch of herring in the Susquehanna river is reported to be immense.

Teemer has accepted the challenge of Hanlan to row at Rockaway in June for $1,000 a side.

Hon. James R. Thigpen of Edgecombe county, and one of the largest planters in the State, has just died at Baltimore where he had been for medical treatment.

Secretary Manning has informed the President of his intention to retire from the Cabinet, but that he will give him ample time to look around for a proper successor.

The effects of Baron Schaeffer, the Austrian Minister, has been sold at Washington, and diplomatic relationship no longer exists between that country and the United States.

The annual State Fair will be held this year beginning the 24th of October. Arrangements have been made so that Southern fairs form a chain, starting at Richmond and ending at New Orleans.

Rev. Dr. Burrows recently stated that if the entire population of the globe estimated 1,400,000,000, were divided into families of five, the State of Texas alone could give each family half an acre of land to live upon.

CANON FARRAR'S NEW BOOK.—A few weeks ago, when Canon Farrar was in this country, tens of thousands of people paid as much as one dollar each to hear a single lecture delivered by him, and were well pleased with what they got for their money. Several of the important of those lectures and addresses with other papers are now published by John B. Alden, of New York, and can be had in a very handsome cloth-bound volume, for the price of 40 cents. Some of the lectures are also published separately in his Elizabeth Library, in which form the lecture on Dante sells for 3 cents; on Temperance, 2 cents; on Ideals of Nations, 2 cents; Thoughts on America, 3 cents. The millions of intelligent people who admire Canon Farrar and who were not able to hear him lecture, will be delighted to find his brilliant, scholarly and eloquent thoughts placed in this handsome form within their reach. The publisher's illustrated catalogue, 132 pages, is sent to any address on receipt of 4 cents; or condensed catalogue free. John B. Alden, Publisher, 393 Pearl St., New York.

Was It Cancer?

I have been taking B. B. B. for six or seven weeks for something like cancer on my neck, and I would not take ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS for the benefit I received.

I had previously tried various so-called blood remedies, but the B. B. B. is the best, the quickest and the cheapest blood purifier I ever used. I refer to any merchant of Griffin, Ga.

Congressional Work.

SENATE.—April 28.—In the Senate today, Mr. Call, rising to a question of privilege, read a published statement purporting to have been made, he said, by the receiver of the Florida Railway and Navigation Co. The statement related on Mr. Call's course in the Senate in connection with the claim of the company named to certain lands in Florida. Among other statements in the article was one to the effect that when asked why he (Mr. Call) had pursued the course he had in opposition to that company, he had replied that he was obliged to do so, because he had no money. The article further stated that when Mr. Call was in Florida he had no money, but that now he was building a fine residence in Washington.

Mr. Call, with great warmth and indignation, denounced the whole article as "an absolute falsehood and foul slander." He denied that he was "building a fine residence in Washington." For many years, he said, a person standing in a near relation to him had had property in charge of Hon. James M. Baker, and his successors, in trust and trustees. That gentleman was now Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Florida, and was formerly Judge of the Supreme Court of that State. The trustee had decided to change the location of the investment to Washington City, and the transaction had been effected through D. G. Ambler, President of the National Bank of the State of Florida, at Jacksonville, and J. J. Daniels, a prominent lawyer in that State. That was probably the transaction Mr. Call said which had been used as an apparent basis for the slanderous statement.

The Senate passed another lot of bridge bills, only one of which affected the South, being a bill authorizing the erection of a bridge across the Tennessee river in Perry and Decatur counties, at such point as may be selected by the Nashville, Jackson & Memphis Railroad Co., for the location of its line.

The Postoffice Appropriation bill was taken up. Some debate arose on the amendment proposed by the Senate Committee appropriating $800,000 for carrying South and Central American, Chinese and Australian mails, and authorizing the Postmaster-General to make after due advertisement contracts for five years with American steamships at a rate not to exceed for each outward trip one dollar per nautical mile of the distance by the most direct and feasible course between terminal points.

Mr. Plumb explained the purpose of the amendment. It was similar in character, he said, to the provision of last year's bill, to which the Postmaster-General had not given effect. Mr. Plumb, in a set speech of considerable length, advocated the amendment and argued to show the neglect of our opportunities for extending our commercial relations, and concluded with an appeal to Senators to aid in doing something that would lift American commerce to its proper plane, and urged that this great work would be impossible so long as an insular feeling continued—a feeling of isolation that seemed to have taken possession of our people.

Mr. Frye supported the amendment in a long speech in which he discussed the tariff and labor questions and argued that mail facilities lay at the root of commercial activity, making many citations from commercial statistics to show the popularity of American goods in South America. He said that one-half the English goods sold to South America were fraudulently marked "American manufacture," so as to secure a more ready acceptance among the people.

An executive session was held and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Hatch, of Ill., from the committee on agriculture, reported a bill defining butter, and imposing a tax upon and regulating the manufacture, sale, exportation and importation of oleomargarine. Referred to the committee of the whole. The bill is very long, comprehensive and stringent. It proposes an Internal Revenue tax of ten cents per pound upon artificial substitutes for butter, regulates the manufacture of such substitutes and prescribes severe penalties for imposition upon the public of such substitutes as the genuine product of the cow.

The river and harbor bill was again taken up in committee of the whole.

Mr. McAdoo, of N. J., moved to strike out the appropriation for the improvement of Gasconade river in Missouri. It was, he said, simply an obscure creek, which should be macadamized and a good country road made of it. The motion was lost.

A paragraph making an appropriation for the improvement of Yellowstone river having been reached, Mr. Beach, of N. Y., said that three years ago he had tried to catch fish in the river, and his efforts had been as fruitless as this appropriation would be to improve its navigation. The Yellowstone was a beautiful river. Its waters were like those of the broad Juniata, and as they leaped tumultuously over the gravelled bed, they beamed in the sunshine with a silvery gleam which attracted and fascinated the eye. [Applause and applause.] But the course of the stream was crooked, and the swift current threw up sheets. [Here he was again greeted with applause which lasted so long that he was compelled to yield the floor and obtain leave to print his remarks in the Record.]

Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, offered an amendment to the Missouri river section, providing for the expenditure of the appropriation by the Secretary of War, without the intervention of the Missouri River Commission. He attacked the Commission, charging that their salaries, amounting to $192,000 per annum, were more than one-third of the entire appropriation made in the section under consideration.

The House got no farther than this with the bill. Discussion upon Mr. Hepburn's amendment used up the remainder of the day's session. Pending a vote upon the amendment the committee rose and the House adjourned.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. Mr. Manning will Resign.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—When the President called upon secretary Manning a day or two since, the question of the secretary's resuming his duties was discussed. Mr. Manning spoke of the serious nature of his attack and what a narrow escape he had made, and then told the President candidly that it was best for him not to go back in the treasury. The President, of course, regretted this decision, but he could not gainsay the arguments of the secretary. It was understood, however, between them that Mr. Manning will not at present send in his resignation, but will give the President ample time to look around for a proper successor. Assistant secretary Fairchild, who has been acting as secretary during the illness of Mr. Manning, may possibly be appointed, although it is reported in inside circles that the President contemplates selecting some one who will be acceptable to the stalwart element of the Democracy, which is now thoroughly dissatisfied.

Ward Politics.

Why is it John O. Gardner don't look after his own ward—the 5th? They may want him up there. The 3rd ward Republicans will take care of themselves without Gardner, Bishop, or Jack Smallwood. They are all half breeds or mugwumps.
