It is a peculiarity of the temperande scople that they are constantly agitaocure the enforcement of those already a existence.

In Kinston, when cider gets hard, dealers syrup it and call it sweet cider. There is nothing like keeping within the letter of the law. This is a sweet old world anyhow.

It is said that Sheriff Sutton has put his fences in such excellent political repair as to make him sure of re-election. There is no telling where the wind will come from that is to carry these down; It is better for office seekers to investigate their records before nomination than it is to have some one else make an investigation after nomination. This suggestion applies here as well as else where.

It is said there is a detective on the watch looking out for violations of the local option law. As he has a keen eye and a wonderful nose, it would be well for all hands to be on their guard for a few weeks.

The La Grange boys and the Kinstor boys played a match baseball game here last Wednesday. The military street was taken out of La Grange; but there is no disgrace in the defeat-that come of playing the game at all.
