Close of Professor Hawsei's Singing School.

The closing exercises of Prof. Hawser's singing school took place at the Board of Trade rooms Wednesday night. Owing to the threatening weather, but few spectators were out to hear the pupils exercise their vocal organs. Like regular school commencements, so the Professor says, his close failed to acquit themselves as credityention at Bayboro tomorrow for the ably as they were capable of, and had good singing when such voices as that of Miss Sallie Faison and a few others take part," was heard.

This ends the second term of Prof. Hawser's singing class in our city, and we regret that enough names could not be secured to induce him to remain and teach another session. As an evidence of his proficiency in teaching this much neglected art, he has been requested to portar. He has also supplied several return in the fall, when it will be more convenient for many to take lessons.

THE JEWELS.

The Jewels were in session yesterday morning and an unusual full panel present. Various topics were discussed and decided, mostly of a political character.

The coalition movement was unani, mously approved, doubting Thomases convinced and penitent Peters forgiven.

The panel is interested to know who the junk dealer is that puts one cent stamps on effete campaign documents to work them off on unoffending cits zons. The wrong done to the Franklin family is too great; Benjamin's pictures should be kept for a better use than chaperoning hideous cuts of Blaine and and we will all enjoy it. lack of cents it may develop. The Argus was criffclsed and its "mares' nest" investigated; a letter in it four years old makes that quite a necephoet; but enterpriso is surprising. It was thought that Mr. Wood's card would enable it to pass on without longer waiting on anybody.

Betting was begun but was quickly checked when a party pulled out the money and proposed to put up or shut up, the latter being more convenient to most of the members was adopted.

"A squirty pusscent of a squirt" was a political distinction applied to a man by an expert in the coinage of words, but loses its force by its novelty. Washington, July 26.—In a supplement of the position in the montary report to that of July 1. Prof. Dodge of the agricultural department, calls attention to the fact that the area of corn is steadily increasing; the increase since 1879 having been about 30 per cent. and the present area being about 70,000,000 acres. With reference to wheat his things there is a reasonable prospect for an increase of about 80,000,000 bushels above the official estimate of 1885. The winter wheat area already assures nearly enough for home consumption and seed. The average exportation of wheat and flour for the Appointments in the Postal Service.

Washington, July 20.—The Postmaster-General has prepared a statement of the number and nature of the changes malle in the railway mall service during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1886. The number in the service July 1, 1886, was 4,583, and the number June 30, 1886, was 4,563. The total appointments during the year were 1,87. Since March 4, 1885, the total appointments have been 2,060. Of these Eclaware received 9, Mareland 37, New North 120, Virginia 40, West Virginia 80. appointments in the Postal Service.

in opposition to the electrogramme bill, said that he was against it mainly because it breathed of internal revenue. He said if there was one thing more than mether that the people of Virginia, from one end to the other, despised and reproduced it was the internal revenue system, and, representing such a constituency, he could never by voice or enlargement of it. If there were fraud and deception in the manufacture of pleomargarine he would assist in any legislation designed to correct that, but never in the way of taxation.

The amendment to the eleomargarine bill reducing the tax to two cents will necessitate sending the bill back to the House, which, in the present condition of business, puts its ultimate fate in some doubt. The friends of the measure realized this and made every effort to prevent any change in it as it came from the House. They were strong enough to defeat every attempt at amendment except in the reduction of the tax. There has been quite a con-siderable lobby at work for the bill, and as a half loaf is better than nothing, they will advocate the prompt agree-ment to the reduction by the House. As intimated, Senator Gorman voted for the bill and Senator Wilson against it. KANSAS PERSONALITIES. Both the Kansas senators are very much given to the use of offensive per sonalities and coarse insinuations as to the motives of others when debating measures which they do not favor. Mr Plumb is quite fluent, but not so cultured as his colleague. He wields the reapons of denunciation and innendo like a broadax while his more polished and oratorical colleague cuts with his grim irony and malice like the keen edge of a rapier into the very quick of his victims. Every now and then the objects of these attacks turn on their assailants, and, smarting with indigna-tion and recentment, give them such a dressing down" as is appreciated high ly by all who listen. A few days ago Senator Conger, of Michigan, who is abundantly able to take care of himself when he gets ready, administered to Mr Plumb such a lively trouncing as can not fail to be remembered by that senatorial bully for some time to come Yesterday Senator Miller, of New York, aroused almost to fury by the criticisms of Mr. Ingalls on his advocacy of the oleomargarine bill, "went for him in a style which sent the blood fairly dancing to the sallow complexion of the latter. Today, in the House, Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, chairman of the committee on significantly who had been coupled with Mr. Miller by Mr. Ingalia in his strictures, denounced his state-ments as unblushing falsehoods, and concluded with this remark that he "would leave vulgarities and personal-ities to flow from the mouth of the Senator from Kansas-that womb of slan der and detraction." Subsequently to who had been advised of them, got up didate for Sheriff of Craven. Oh, see here, now, Sheriff, a joke's a joke, but this thing is either going too far or adfar enough. Make it the Presidency and we will all enjoy it.
