ROY DROWNED.

On Sunday evening last, John W. Forman, a white boy about ten years old, son of Mr. James Forman of this city, was drowned near Stinson's saw-mill. A crowd of small boys were present playing on a plank near the water, when a younger brother of John's fell into the river. John, responding to the nobler instincts of his nature, leaped in to save his little brother, who by John's aid and the other little boys present was saved. But John, by some unaccountable means, the water not being over waist deep to a man, was drowned.

The little boys gave the alarm, and Eveline Parsons, a colored woman living near by, hastened to the spot and with the aid of David Hines, col., succeeded in getting him out of the water. The colored woman says he showed signs of life after being taken out. Had artificial respiration been applied properly no doubt he could have been revived. But no physician reached the spot in time to apply the proper treatment.

Dr. Bates summoned a jury of inquest on Monday morning and viewed the body. They returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

Mr. Forman, the father of John, was absent at the time, having gone down to the banks sometime ago to engage in fishing.

THE COLORED NORMAL SCHOOL.

The present session of the colored normal school will close next Thursday. The attendance, we learn, has been very good and a good corps of teachers has done most excellent work.

Besides the lectures delivered daily by the teachers on various subjects, Rev. L. C. Vass and Clement Manly, Esq., have each delivered interesting and instructive lectures on special subjects.

On yesterday Mr. John C. Dancy, col., of Salisbury, talked to the school on matters of interest generally to the colored race. His remarks on industrial training was the most impressive portion of his talk, being practical and to the point. While he pointed out to his hearers with great pride and satisfaction the progress made by his race in acquiring knowledge of books, he forcibly reminded them that education does not mean that one must quit work. The head, the heart and the hands must all be educated, and the education that produced idleness was not the education needed, but that which taught habits of industry. He is a good speaker, and his talk on this occasion made a good impression.

BISELL 30.

There being no election, the chair ordered a second ballot, which resulted: Moore 14, Wood 1, Bissell 39, Wooten 9, E. W. Bissell was declared the nominee, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous.

Geo. L. Hodges and Frank King were put in nomination for Register of Deeds. The ballot resulted, Hodges 61, King 2.

Geo. L. Hodges was declared the nominee, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous.

Messrs. John T. Gray, C. A. Dudley, T. S. Rouse and Col. N. B. Whitfield were put in nomination for county treasurer. The ballot resulted, Gray 35, Rouse 8, Dudley 4, Whitfield 12 and G. E. Miller 4.

Jno. T. Gray was declared the nominee and on motion his nomination was made unanimous.

Dr. J. K. Kirkpatrick was nominated for coroner by acclamation.

E. P. Loftin was nominated for county surveyor by acclamation.

Geo. H. Rountree, Esq., moved that a committee be appointed to inform M. A. Gray and the other gentlemen of their nominations. The motion was adopted and the chair appointed Geo. H. Rountree, W. G. Taylor and E. S. Rountree.

The committee performed their duty and brought in Mr. Gray, who in a neat and forcible little speech accepted the nomination and promised to do his duty in the canvass.

The other candidates also came forward, except Geo. L. Hodges, who was busy issuing marriage licenses, and accepted the nominations tendered them.

Mr. J. C. Kennedy, whose name was before the convention for the nomination for the House, came forward to the stage and made a very earnest, patriotic little speech, promising to do all his power for the Democratic party and the nominees of the convention.

Mr. J. Q. Jackson, by request, introduced a resolution requesting the board of county commissioners to take steps to submit the question of selling the county's stock in the A. & N. C. Railroad to the people to be voted in the election in November.

Mr. J. C. Kennedy being called upon, gave his views in regard to the matter. He thought if there was any probability of leasing the road it was bad policy to sell, on the other hand, if it was to be a political machine the county ought to get rid of her stock, and the sooner the better.

The question being open for discussion to all present, J. K. Uzell, Esq., opposed the resolution as unwise. He did not want it made an issue in the coming campaign.

N. J. Rouse, Esq., also opposed the resolution as unwise and hoped it would not be adopted. He thought the people were willing to leave the matter with the justices and county commissioners. He thought the railroad question a dangerous one to agitate in a campaign.

Mr. J. M. Wooten thought the county stock belonged to the people of the county without regard to party, and he did not see anything wrong in allowing the people to say what they wanted done with, and upon these grounds he favored the resolution.

Mr. Cunningham said this convention was called together as Democrats to do a certain work. If they had completed that work, he moved to adjourn.

A motion to table the resolution was carried, and the convention, after thanking the officers for their services, adjourned.

The convention was largely attended and was the most harmonious we have ever seen assembled at Kinston.
