Miss Fannie S. Myrick, of Murfreesboro, this State, is in the city, and will at once open a music school, Miss Myrick has relatives here and comes in our midst highly recommended as an accomplished musician and estimable young lady. For particulars, see adwastingment.

The President of the A. & N. C. R. K. has tendered an excursion to the business men of La Grange and Kinston to Morehead City, the latter to come off on the 6th with tickets good for return until the 11th; the former on the 7th with sides good for return until the 18th. Our friends of Kinston and La Grange can make the trip enjoyable, as the fishing sport is fine at this season.

The cargo of new steel rails brought by the Eem City is being distributed along the A. & N. C. Railroad between this city and Kinston. One thousand tons have been procured which will lay twelve or fourteen miles of track; this with the sleven miles already laid will give about twenty-five miles of new track. The best of the old rails taken up will be used to repair other portions and will enable the management to put the road in first-class order.

The beneficial effects of these mills reaches far into the country, as they furnish a market for the lumber along the creeks and rivers which is brought lown in large rafts. We occasionally see rafts of timber here from high up in Lenoir, near the Wayne county line. They also give employment to a large number of hands, Mr. Stimson's running day and night. When his dry house is complete Mr. Stimson expects to put in more planing machinery.

An Old Relie.

A Warrenton (Va.) correspondent writes: There is in possession of Mrs. Charles Payne, of Warrenton, a carved stone that possesses some historic in-terest. It formerly surmounted the entrance to Sluie Castle, one of the oldest seats of the Cumming family in Scotland, and was presented to the Hon. J. V. Brooke, Mrs. Payne's father, during his visit to Scotland, as the one best entitled to receive it. Sluis comprised all the landed estate left to the Cumming family after the fall of the Stuarts, and its latest proprietor was James Cum-ming, father of six daughters, one of whom was the mother of James Vass, a well known merchant of Fredericksburg, Va., fifty years ago, and grand-mother of Hon. J. V. Brooke. Upon the marriage of those daughters, and the consequent dispersion of the Sluie household, the estate was sub-divided, and the old manor house transformed to make way for the salmon establishments on the Findhone. The stone was treasured by the daughters up to the time of their death as a family relic. and bears on its surface the family cost of arms, with the date of erection of the castle and the initials of the founder. It was near Sluie castle, close to the town of Forrest, that Macbeth had the meeting with the witches, and a pile of stones yet marks the place.

Mr. James Vass, mentioned above, was the father of Rev. L. C. Vass, the pastor of the Presbyterian Church in New Berne, and the Hon. James Vass resigned. Mr. Manning is a native of Mr. J. P. Brogden, of Trenton, L. J. Brooke, also named, is one of the ablest Edenton, this State, and is a lawyer of Chapman, of Maple Cypress, Wm. lawyers and political leaders in Vir-

More News From Charleston.

The news received from Charleston yesterday does not vary materially from the special dispatch published in the JOURNAL of vesterday. Mayor Meadows received a telegram yesterday morning from Mantone & Co., Charleston, stating that the damages and casualties were very heavy, so much so that they were unable at that time to estimate it.

The trains have resumed regular trips through to the city, and the people are steps to cetara to business. We copy below the latest received by mail last night:

CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—A special re-port from Mt. Pleasant opposite Charleschurch which Tuesday was perfectly dry sand, is now full of fresh water. New Berne and other towns pied by a colored man that is completely surrounded by a yawning chasm extended for the News and Journal, were too your and excited to was so if was in a papers straighout the country and excited the water and masses of mud, with queer looking soft substances that have never been seen before. It is contended by many that the mud and other substances. ton, says that a sink near the German church which Tuesday was perfectly dry sand, is now full of fresh water.

The saw mile of New Berne do much to keep the old town alive during the summer season. Around and about the depot the immense mills of D. Stimson and Congdon & Son make the air ring with music from the numerous saws and planting mills. Mr. Congdon is building a wharf that will hold a miltient feet of invalor at one time. Mr. water out of these fissues in jets to a height of from fifteen to twenty feet. This was evidently the result of the cracks being filled with water and then repairs about a year, and he is building the sides opening and closing by each slarge dry house for drying lumber, succeeding shock.
