Lee and Grant

It must be admitted that when the two great captains met face to face...

For three long years the whole of the Federal government, with its unlimited resources...

The maxim, "better is the place of the defendant," is as true in war as in law...

When Grant crossed the Rapidan he found he had a different army, under a much abler leader...

This is what you all say, but every single one fails to demonstrate why or how...

Now, Mr. Editor, give us some broad and common sense views of this matter...

After the siege of Richmond began the repeated and unavailing assaults of the Union army upon the Confederate lines...

Had it not been for the approach of Sherman from the South, and the brilliant and effective campaign of Sheridan...

confidence in their commander, and in the ultimate success of his strategy...

In comparing the military career of these two men, the historian of another generation will say that they were striking alike in those characteristics...

State Regulation for Practice of Medicine

EDITOR JOURNAL:—We are glad to see the position you take in your comments on "The State Regulation of the Practice of Medicine in North Carolina..."

This is what you all say, but every single one fails to demonstrate why or how the North Carolina slips up in his solution of the problem...

Now, Mr. Editor, give us some broad and common sense views of this matter, and let us see the brighter side of this thing...

Had it not been for the approach of Sherman from the South, and the brilliant and effective campaign of Sheridan...
