Old papers for sale at this office.

J. F. Taylor's new iron store has been completed at the foot of Middle street, and he is in with a new stock of groceries.

A. M. Baker is having a big run on a twenty-nine cent shirt. The wonder is, how can such a shirt be made for the money.

Mr. John Detrick has retired from the liquor business and Mrs. Detrick has opened a grocery on Middle street at Kafer's old stand.

Auction sale today of the house and lot known as the Ann Rebecca Scott property on Craven street, at the court house at 12 o'clock.

S. R. Street, jr., received a telegram from Danville, Va., yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. M. V. Keen, a sister of Mrs. Street.

Lemir and Jones, from all reports, will give Simmons a rousing vote. He well deserves it. He will make a representative that the people will be proud of. Craven must do her duty for him.

The roof of Howard's gin caught from a spark yesterday morning and the fire alarm was given, unnecessarily, Mr. Howard says. The engines were promptly run out but the use of a few buckets of water rendered their service unnecessary.

Turning On the Light.

Geo. Allen & Co. received a lot of new street lamps yesterday, preparatory to lighting the city. After the 1st of November we will no longer walk in darkness. The streets will be lighted, and the election of the People's Ticket will light up the political skies.

On the Campaign.

Messrs. O. H. Guion and P. H. Pelletier leave for Vanceboro this morning where Mr. Pelletier will address the citizens of that vicinity today. Mr. Pelletier is a young man of energy and determination; he is a speaker of considerable force and is sufficiently posted on the issues of the campaign to make a strong speech. Mr. Guion will be at Fort Barnwell on Monday with Simmons and will organize a club. He will, as chairman of the Democratic executive committee, from now until election day, use every exertion to bring out the Democratic vote.

Hon. C. C. Clark being unwell, the eloquent Mr. Long will fill his appointment at Barnwell today. Mr. Long is one of the original advocates of coalition; he is for the interests of Craven county; his heart is in the coalition movement, and it only requires an opportunity for him to arouse the people on the subject. The other candidates on the People's Ticket will be at Barnwell today.

Personal.
Rev. L. C. Vase, who has been absent during the past two weeks at meeting of Presbytery and Synod, will return this evening and will fill his pulpit on Sunday.

O. H. Guion, Esq., and Mrs. Guion left for Washington yesterday morning. Clement Manly, Esq., has returned from the barbecue at Harper's Mill, Lenoir county, where they had a real old time Democratic gathering. Speeches were made by Messrs. Darden, Gray and Manly. It is thought that Simmons will poll every vote at that precinct since Dr. Moody has got his notes of his Kingston speech straight.

T. G. Sparrow, Esq., of Aurora, is in the city. He insists that the people in his section are entitled to a new county.

Rev. Dr. Burkhead, of Goldsboro, is in the city for a few days' recreation. He has numerous friends in this city who are deeply sympathetic with him in his recent bereavement.

H. R. Bryan, Esq., has returned from a visit to the State, work on a canal in Hyde county. The canal has been completed and the convicts are now at work on it.

Atlanta Markets Open.
Six months ago we had no demand for B. B. B. but now our retail demand is such that we are forced to buy in gross lots. We attribute the rapid and enormous demand to the comparative size and price of B. B. B. (being large bottles for $1) and its positive merit. It sells well and gives our customers entire satisfaction. Our sales have increased 500 per cent. within a few months.
For Free Trial, send for a bottle to New Berne, N. C., to H. N. Duffy and E. H. Meadows.

The Governor and The Democrats of Craven.

The News and Observer of Thursday in an editorial on The A. & N. C. R. and the Governor, begins with this paragraph:

Referring to an article in the New Berne Journal of the 10th, we would remind our contemporary that inasmuch as the existing lease of the N. C. Railroad was executed in 1871, and it is to run for thirty years, the question of a renewal does not come up until about 1900! Politics based on that would have quite a time to simmer.

The News and Observer seems to have overlooked the fact that our remarks were based upon an article which appeared in the Statesville Landmark, and upon a rumor that has been current in this community and elsewhere for some time. We presume from the above paragraph that our contemporary holds that the present lease of the N. C. Railroad cannot be renewed until the thirty years have expired. If this is true, "politics based on that" would indeed have time to simmer. But with all due respect to the superior knowledge of our contemporary, we hold that if the stockholders of the N. C. Railroad and the lessees see proper to terminate the present lease and renew it for a longer term it can be done.

But what we wish more particularly to call the attention of the News and Observer to at this time, is the relations existing between the Governor and the Democrats of Craven county. That there was some dissatisfaction with the Governor's policy in going off the line of the A. & N. C. R. to obtain the State's directors and to a distant county for a State's proxy, it is useless to deny, and this dissatisfaction was not confined to Craven county. But we know the fact that the people of this county are not trying to antagonize or in any way interfere with the Governor's policy in managing this property, they wish the road to succeed, and its stock to become of value to its owners. They earnestly desire this regardless of the fact that they thought the Governor distrusted them in making his appointments of directors.

The Democrats are trying to elect representatives to the next General Assembly, not for the purpose of antagonizing the Governor's administration, as has been foolishly charged, but for the purpose of representing the interests of the county and to bring about a better understanding between our people and the Governor. They have placed in the field two good Democrats who are capable and honest, and the candidate for the Senate, Mr. Clark, authorizes us to say that the report that he intends, if elected, to antagonize the administration of Governor Scales, is absolutely false and without foundation. He will antagonize no Democratic administration, but will endeavor to represent the interests of his people and aid in legislation for the good of the whole State. This is the attitude of the Democrats of Craven county toward the Governor. They earnestly desire his administration to succeed and will not throw a single obstacle in his way, but when they think they are wronged they will say so.

But what is the Governor's attitude towards the Democrats of this county? The President of the A. & N. C. R. is regarded as his representative and particular friend in this community, and yet it goes without denial that he is openly, avowedly and with diligence using all efforts in his power to defeat the nominee of the Democratic party in this county for the State Senate. Does the Governor approve this course of his appointee? Does the News and Observer, the recognized organ and leading newspaper of the party approve it? Is it right for the President of the A. & N. C. R., the most important position within the gift of the Governor in this section, to antagonize the party which placed the Governor in power? How can he reconcile such a step with true Democracy?

If the President is not concerned in this work to defeat Mr. Clark's election he owes it to himself and to the Democratic party of the county to publicly say so. The rumor is rife that he is engaged in such warfare. We tender him the use of our columns for denial.

Fire at Hookerton.
At 4 o'clock Thursday morning last fire broke out in Parker & Harper's store, in Hookerton, consuming their building and entire stock of general merchandise, also A. Slaughter's store of groceries and liquors, W. H. Johnson & Co.'s general merchandise, a new store just completed by Quincy Dunn, oil, and a small building used as a restaurant by a colored woman.

Parker & Harper had from $4,000 to $8,000 stock and were insured, Slaughter had a $2,000 stock, no insurance, but saved $500 worth of goods; Forrest had a small stock on which there was no insurance; Johnson & Co. had about $3,000 stock, no insurance but stock mostly saved; Dunn had no insurance. The loss is estimated at from $15,000 to $20,000.

Inconsistency.

We copy the following paragraph from the last issue of The Republican: Ore Legislative candidate on the mob ticket, Geo. Green, jr., is just as much a Democrat as Hon. O. C. Clark, he is worse, a renegade Republican, having voted at the last general election for Cleveland electors, Scales for Governor, and the whole State Democratic ticket. We can prove this and defy a denial. Can Republicans vote for such a man?

The candidates on the Hahn ticket are endeavoring to persuade colored voters of this county that they cannot vote the Clark and Stinson ticket because there are two Democrats on it. If the above paragraph is true, Mr. Green, the candidate for the Senate, ought to abandon that line of argument and place himself before the people upon his merits, just as Mr. Clark, who was brought forward by the Democrats, is doing. In National and State elections is where the party lines are strictly drawn, and a man who kicks against his party nominees in such important contests will find it hard work to prevent kicking on local issues, even though he be on the ticket.

We cannot approve the language of the above paragraph in calling Mr. Green "a renegade Republican." He doubtless felt that he was doing his duty to his country in voting for Cleveland, Scales, and the whole Democratic ticket, if he did vote it, but he ought to concede to his fellow Republicans the same right to use their discretion in choosing local officers, as he did in casting his ballot for President, Governor and other State officers, for these are expected to carry out the great principles of the party which they represent.

Mr. Green, if the charge made by The Republican is true, has set the example for his fellow Republicans that party fealty should not stand in the way if one conceives it his duty to vote for a Democrat. Upon the same principle that Mr. Green voted for Cleveland, any Republican can vote for Clark and Lane if they think these gentlemen will make better representatives than Green and Hussey. This is true, ordinarily, if there be no combination of Republicans and Democrats for a common purpose, much more so it is true when both parties have laid aside party issues and united for the common good of the county. Now we put the question to every intelligent and thinking Republican, and Democrat too, who the candidates, Clark and Lane, Greene and Hussey, are the better qualified to represent Craven county in the General Assembly? Think of it in the same light Mr. Green did when he concluded to cast his ballot for Cleveland and Scales.

COALITION.

NUMBER TWO.

The fact must not be lost sight of that the ticket headed by Clark and Stinson is not an "Independent" ticket, only in so far as it is independent of a faction of the Republican party. It is the most thorough-going regular ticket ever placed before the people of Craven county. It has been formally nominated and placed in the field by a regularly created Republican nominating convention; it has been indorsed and approved by a meeting of citizens without regard to party, and has been recommended and indorsed by the Democratic county committee and county Democratic convention. It has been presented in such a manner as to leave no chance for any good citizen, whatever his political predilections, to hang a single objection thereto. The personnel of the ticket is unexceptionable, the very best elements of both parties are selected for the offices for which they are peculiarly fitted and who stand morally, socially and personally the peers of any gentlemen in the county. This ticket has no opposition from any source, except a few obstructionists who shamelessly assume to be the Republican party of the county but who in reality are but an inconsiderable faction who seek to delude our colored citizens into opposition to our truly indorsed ticket. Craven county is no Utopia and while making a long stride toward the "Golden Era" in the construction of our ticket, it is not reasonable to suppose that all are good and governed by high and patriotic motives; there ever was, and always will be nearly as many bad men as good, in fact there is a constant warfare going on between the good and bad elements, with varying results; unhappy is that community in which the latter prevail and criminal are the good men always preponderating who permit the bad to gain an ascendancy. In the present contest there can be no excuse for apathy or indifference, there is no room for grumbling, neither good Democrat or good Republican, no matter how strict his party allegiance, can hesitate to vote for men so strongly indorsed by their respective parties.

The Coalition ticket is not a choice of two evils, it is all good, and the opposition to it only is evil. The very best elements of both parties are in the van of Coalition, and are supported by all who desire pure politics and good government.
No man who supports Coalition sacrifices life-long principles, for by the time being only drops an empty sentiment that he may perform an act of practical utility; he adopts sense for sentiment and the politics of the county may undergo a healthy cleansing operation, and the political thistles be purged and the better reformation.
It will not do to be indifferent; now is the golden opportunity, and every good citizen should seize it.

With the November number, Demorest's Magazine enters upon its twenty-third volume. If there is room for improvement, this number starts upon the new volume brighter, more interesting and more instructive than formerly. The illustrations are especially attractive.

In a recent speech at Maryville, Mo., United States Senator Cockrell said of President Cleveland: "Since the days of Washington—first in peace, first in war, first in the hearts of his countrymen—there has not been a President more honest, sincere, conscientious, laborious, painstaking and just than President Cleveland is. He is candid, truthful, firm and self-reliant. There is no kitchen cabinet. There is no back door for the entry of scheming ringsters and political jobbers. He listens attentively, hears patiently all who call and all their suggestions. And then, with all the lights before him, acts as he deems best, assuming all the responsibility."
Mrs. Mary J. Prentiss, widow of the celebrated Sergeant S. Prentiss, in an open letter to the Rev. Dr. W. H. Milburn, published in the New Orleans papers, vindicates the memory of her husband from a reference made to him in a recent address by Dr. Milburn, which Mrs. Prentiss considers "the very worst of all the calumnies ever circulated against him." Concluding her letter, Mrs. Prentiss says: "I feel that I have not long to live, and I wish before I die to bear witness to the character of my husband, which I do not hesitate to pronounce the noblest and purest I have ever known. Permit me to state to you that he was utterly devoid of selfish ambition, living only to serve his country and his fellow-men, and desiring to be remembered only by those he loved, that his fortune was lost by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States involving his title to the Vicksburg Commons; that he died of a disease inherited from his father, and that his death was hastened by the fatigue and exposure of the presidential canvass of 1848, and by overwork in his efforts to extricate himself from his financial difficulties."

In referring to the gubernatorial canvass in Tennessee a Baltimore paper wisely remarks: "The canvass now being conducted in Tennessee by the brothers 'Bob' and 'Alf' Taylor, the candidates respectively of the Democratic and Republican parties for the office of Governor, is as remarkable as it is instructive. They travel together and 'divide time' on the stump in the old-fashioned Southern way, each showing to the best of his ability that the other is sadly mistaken in his political views, but abstaining wholly from personalities not of a complimentary character. The first remark, indeed, that 'Alf' makes when it is his turn to open the discussion is 'Bob is a perfect gentleman, and I'll whip the man that says he isn't.' Bob exhibits a like fraternal regard for Alf, and in a canvass covering the whole State nothing unkind has been said by either about the other. Both are good fiddlers. Sometimes their arguments are diversified by excellent interludes of their own playing, Bob conceding that in music, but that only, he is 'second fiddle' to Alf. Campaigns in Maryland have not always been characterized by the nice sense of the proprieties that the Tennessee brothers exhibit. It might be well for our politicians to take their example to heart and learn in the conduct of a canvass to discuss principles instead of persons."
"But John P. Robinson, he sez, they didn't know everythin' down in Judee." They certainly knew little, if they did not know that the safest, quickest and most pleasant cure for croup, bronchitis, cough, cold in the chest, etc., is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.
