H. L. Hines, General Agent for Messrs. J. C. Laidley & Bro., Nurserymen of Greensboro, N. C., will offer for sale a few days a fine lot of splendidly grown Apple and Keiffer Pears, and other trees, vines and strawberry plants at very low prices. Can be found at the Gaston House. 2t

AT BELL'S, THE JEWELER—The ratatop of the Electric Bell makes you stop. Come in and be dazzled at the splendor within.

Old papers for sale at this office.

Low tide yesterday.

Cotton is booming a little.

The old water tank at the depot was torn down yesterday.

Lenoir Superior court convenes to-morrow, Judge Clark presiding.

The cold wave has arrived but its force was somewhat broken before getting here.

The cool weather has improved trade. Don your winter suits. Plenty of them in New Berne and cheap enough.

With our fine streets, fat oysters, fine fish, and a mellow turkey and chicken, mild and beautiful climate, New Berne ought to have several hundred Northern visitors this winter.

The first Monday in December is the time for the installation of the newly elected county officers throughout the State. Those who have been fortunate enough to be elected, now have another important task before them—that of giving bond.

Today is the day set apart by the Young Men's Christian Associations in the United States for the annual sermon for young men. This week is the Week of Prayer, the young men of the various associations holding daily services through the week.

W. E. Barrus, Esq., left yesterday for Hyde Superior Court.

Mr. R. W. Cobb passed through yesterday on his way to Hyde Court where he goes on the defense of that popular paper, the Messenger. He goes down with an oyster knife with a premeditated intention to stab the Far Creek oyster beds.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Guion are on a visit to Washington.

New Advertisements.

L. H. Cutler offers something of interest to house-keepers. He is always in a good humor and can make a customer feel good when he has a mind to. Alex. Justice has removed from "Commercial Row" on Middle Street to Broad Street where he is offering at low prices a choice stock of furniture.

Pelletier offer valuable real estate for sale.

A Good Winter Resort.

We publish today an article from the Baltimore Sun and Advertiser's Record on Southern winter resorts, in which the writer shows what a source of wealth the South has in this respect.

New Berne has never had her share of this wealth, owing, perhaps, to her lack of suitable hotel accommodations and the further fact that her advantages as a winter resort are not generally known.

When the Hotel Albert is completed and properly furnished so there shall be no complaints about hotel accommodations, steps should be taken to thoroughly advertise the city and this section, as to its climate, game, sports, water products, etc. The best advertisement that could be given would be an annual Fair; but we presume our people are tired of hearing about this unless something more than talk could be done, so we will occasionally boom the old town through the columns of the JOURNAL and press to luck.

But really, out of the immense travel on the South every winter, New Berne ought to be able to induce at least one hundred guests to spend four months here. These would spend between fifty and twenty thousand dollars and while here would be on the lookout for investments which would prove profitable to them and the community.

"For forms of government let fools contest." The ultimate life is enough to turn the head of the South's cough syrup, cough and cold.

If you wish a good article of New Berne, ask your dealer for "The New Berne" and you will get it.

Hard On The President.

One of the good and substantial old farmers of Craven was sitting on the steps of the American House yesterday reading a circular from a Northern seed grower with a prominent heading, "Cleveland Pea."

"I tried some Cleveland peas once," said he, "and they were no account; I am a little afraid of the name, it didn't seem to pan out much in the recent election."

This farmer is a sound Democrat and gave Cleveland a hearty support in 1884. The President ought to see the man who has given a worthless pea his name.

Church Services To-Day.

Methodist Church—Services at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m., conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. W. Crawford. Pews are alike free to all. Ushers always at the door to welcome strangers. A cordial invitation is extended to all persons to worship with the congregation. Sunday school at 3 p. m.

Christ Church—V. W. Shields, Rector. Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity. Services at 11 a. m.—Holy Baptism—and at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 4 p. m. The public is always invited to attend the services of this Church. Ushers at the doors to provide seats.

Presbyterian Church—Services by the pastor, Rev. L. C. Vane, at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. Sabbath school at 3 p. m. At 11 a. m., a special sermon for young men will be preached. A cordial invitation is specially extended to young men and youth to this service. A welcome to all.

Baptist Church—Rev. Dr. Thos. Whitfield, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 3 p. m. B. M. Gates, Superintendent. Seats free and the public cordially invited to attend all the services of this church.

Persons calling for above letters, will say advertised, and give date of list.

M. MANLY, P. M.

Mr. Hurd Speaks—The Cause of His Defeat.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 11.—Hon. Frank Hurd arrived in this city today and publishes this evening a manifesto to the voters of this district, which is commanding widespread attention. In speaking of the causes which led to his defeat, he says: "I can say nothing more than I have heretofore said, except that in the future it will be difficult for certain persons claiming to be Democrats to satisfy their party associates of their democracy when, either secretly or openly, they opposed the election of a regularly nominated Democratic candidate for Congress at a time when the fate of the party in the House of Representatives was hanging in the balance."

Referring to rumors of his intended change of residence, he says that he regards Toledo as his home, and shall remain here to practice his profession. On his favorite subject, tariff reforms, he says: "There are more earnest, determined tariff reformers in this district than ever before. The association in the State is engaged in the work of thorough organization. New quarters, eligibly located, will be established. Books and documents will be distributed. The advantages of a reading-room will be furnished. Addresses will be delivered during the coming winter by Speaker Carlisle, Col. Morrison, Prof. Sumner, Henry George, Henry Ward Beecher, Richard O'Gorman and others. Arrangements are nearly completed to begin the publication here of a weekly journal, which it is designed to make a national organ of tariff reform. The organization has already secured a township, and will be the most thorough and complete political organization ever made in the United States."

The Stock Yards Strike.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Early this evening it was stated on the authority of the packers, that the strike at the stock yards was over, and that the executive committee of the Knights of Labor had ordered the strikers to return to work. Several hours later news was received from the same source that the reported ending of the strike was without foundation.

A large number of new men arrived at the stock yards today, and several of the firms say they have all the help they need. It is announced that the packers will hereafter require of every man in their employ a written guaranty that he will give the firm three or four days' notice before leaving, and a money deposit will be required from every employee to cover his guaranty. This rule will apply to the men now at work as well as those engaged in the future.

DEATH.
At his residence in Kingston, N. C., on Friday morning, Nov. 12th, Louis H. Fisher, col., of consumption. Funeral services conducted on Sunday evening by Rev. L. B. Perdue.

The deceased, by his industry, economy and strict attention to business, had accumulated a reasonable share of this world's goods.

Southern Winter Resorts.

In the spring of 1885 a group of State commissioners were chatting together in the spacious parlor of one of their number at the New Orleans Exposition. They had been exchanging information about their respective States, and several of the Southern gentlemen had referred to the wealth of iron, coal and timber in their mines and forests, and of the prosperity that was attending their rapid development. One of the company turned to Judge Sebring, Florida's genial commissioner, with the remark: "We have you there, Judge. Iron and coal are worth more than orange groves, and will prove more lasting sources of wealth." "I don't know about that," was the quick response; "but Florida has a mine worth all of these put together." Then, as the others looked surprised, he gave them some figures that were even more startling than his statement. "Florida's mine," he said, "is its winter visitors. Sixty thousand people come there between October and May. Their average stay is twelve days, and their average daily expenditure is $10 apiece. Figure for yourselves our income from that mine." "Judge," exclaimed one of the party, "we give in. Florida has a bonanza yielding $7,200,000 a year."

Since that time it has been often said, by those to whom the statement was repeated, that it was incredible; but those who investigate the facts carefully will soon conclude that the aggregate Florida receives from her winter guests is even greater than the huge sum named. But Florida is by no means the only State that derives annually a handsome revenue from this source. From the famous Hygeia Hotel, at Old Point Comfort, southward to New Orleans, there are scores of well-patronized hotels in large cities, towns and quiet country nooks, all of which have, both regular and chance guests every winter, and if it were possible to collect accurate statistics from every one of them it would be found that fully fifteen to twenty millions of Northern money are disbursed among them every season. It is the return to the South, with compound interest, of the vast sums her wealthy citizens expended at the North for fifty summers before 1861. The great out-pouring of money is not made solely at the coast resorts. Norfolk, Virginia, gets a share of it; Wilmington, Charleston, Mobile, Pass Christian and New Orleans receive their proportions, but so also do Kittles, Greensboro, Raleigh, Charlotte and Asheville in North Carolina; Columbia, Spartanburg and Sumpter in South Carolina; Atlanta, Marietta and Thomasville in Georgia; and Chattanooga in Tennessee. There are scores of places not so well known, such as Tazewell and New Berne, in North Carolina, that are yearly visited by people who have found them pleasant spots for a few weeks of rest and recreation.

The tourists seeking a pleasant tarrying place in the South do so for many reasons. Some go for curiosity, many to escape the fierce wintry blasts, others to engage in hunting and fishing, still others to examine the opportunities for investment or speculation, multitudes because it has become fashionable, but by far the greater number because their health, or that of some one dear to them, compels the change of climate. Hence it is that the South has become the winter sanitarium of the United States. There are but two things that prevent a much greater exodus from the North. These are a lack of knowledge of where the desirable hotels are, and of the kind of recreation to be found at the many little-known resorts. The great summering places along the Atlantic coast, in the White Mountains, on the great lakes and Canadian rivers, have long been accustomed to furnish this information annually, and have reaped their rewards. Florida hotel men, very many of whom are proprietors of Northern houses, have advertised their places continuously; but aside from these and the Kimball, at Atlanta; the St. Charles, at New Orleans; and the Hygeia, very few Southern hotels are ever heard of, except by the immediate friends of those who have visited them.—Manufacturer's Record.

Tidal Wave at Nice, France.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The city of Nice has been visited by enormous waves from the Mediterranean. The water swept away quays and the promenade Anglaise plantation. Upwards of 100 people were carried off their feet, and the quays and promenade are covered with sand. The devastation wrought by the waves extends two miles along the Nice water front.

At Cannes, 22 miles from Nice, a fierce storm has been raging, and two vessels known to have been wrecked. Men standing on the quays were carried out to sea on the immense waves. The Croisette promenade was destroyed. Rain, amounting almost to a deluge, has been falling four days at the city of Aix. In Nismes two parishes are under water and a third is isolated by the flood.

Murdered by a Boy.

ASHEVILLE, Nov. 13. Tuesday, in Yancey county, a man named Pat was teasing a boy of the same name in the presence of several persons. The boy suddenly flew into a passion, drew a knife and stabbed the man in the breast. The wound proved fatal. The young murderer has been lodged in jail.

Editor Cutting's Claim.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The claim of Editor Cutting against the Mexican government for $50,000 damages on account of false imprisonment and personal indignities suffered by him, has been for some time on file in the State Department, but it has not yet been examined by the secretary, and there has been therefore no decision with regard to the disposition to be made of it.

A Wife and Dear Woman.

Miss Minnie Wallace, of Atlanta, lost her hearing, her sight and sense of taste. Sores covered her body and limbs. Her joints were swollen and painful, her limbs paralyzed, appetite lost, and she was sinking into a miserable life. Six bottles of Dr. B. B. restored her sight and hearing, relieved all aches and pains, added flesh and strength, and she is now a well woman. Write to her.

Sold in New Berne by R. N. Duffy and E. H. Meadows.

Aurora Items.

Thanksgiving turkeys will soon be in demand.
Eggs, 18c; corn, 45; cotton in seed, 25; lint, 84.
Carpenters are all busy. That looks like business.

The young men are getting ready for a tournament soon.
Some one had a chill the night of the dance. On them chills.

The doctors say it is distressingly healthy. Healthy country this.

Will the JOURNAL give us the vote entire for Congressmen in first district?

Nelson Jewell has got over the scare of the earthquake and gone to swapping horses.

Will the independents elected to the Legislature in the several counties vote with the Republicans?

Our farmers claim the largest yield of corn ever made in this section—75 and 80 bushels per acre in some instances.

The "hole hat man" has ordered a large assortment of holiday goods, toys, etc. He says "Christmas comes but once a year."

Rev. Mr. Douglass will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday next. He has done a good year's work for this people, and of course they will pay up.

Professor Bonner has a good school, and still it grows. A live teacher who is abreast with the times, and a live town and country to back it up.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ROME, Nov. 11.—The Stamp Office of the Vatican has addressed a note to England, asking for the establishment of diplomatic relations between that country and the Vatican.

ROME, Nov. 11.—The Pope has placed all the literary treasures of the Vatican library at the disposal of Father Grisar, of Innsbruck University, who proposes writing a history of Rome. The object of Father Grisar will be to confute the assertions contained in the Gregorovius History regarding the influence and temporal power exercised by the Pope in the middle ages.

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 11.—Fifteen thousand tons of coke at the Birmingham gas works are on fire. The largest gasometer in England is on the premises and in imminent danger of being exploded. The inhabitants of the entire neighborhood are in a panic. The firemen have found themselves so far unable to cope with the fire.

The Egyptian Question.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 11.—The pending negotiations between England and Turkey relative to the Egyptian question will, it is now stated, be completed forthwith. The basis of the fresh understanding will be the joint report on the condition of Egypt to be made by Moustakhar Pasha and Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, the special Turkish and English envoys respectively.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—The French press continue to discuss Lord Salisbury's declaration about the British occupation of Egypt, but all the comments are made in a very moderate tone.

The Journal des Debats says that cordial negotiations are proceeding between England and France in the direction of a friendly settlement respecting Egypt.

A Doctor's Word.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga., June 11. For ten years I have been suffering with muscular Rheumatism. Patent medicines and physicians' prescriptions failed to give relief. Last summer I commenced the use of Dr. B. B. and experienced partial relief before using one bottle. I continued its use and quickly found that it is the best and quickest medicine for Rheumatism. I have ever tried and cheerfully recommend it to the public.

The Brewers Combine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The brewers of Paterson and Newark have joined hands with those of New York and Long Island, forming a combination to maintain the price of beer and put a check on boycotting and the labor unions. Each brewer is required to deposit $15,000 in cash as a guarantee of good faith, this sum to be forfeited if the agreement is violated. It is estimated that the guarantee fund will reach very nearly $1,000,000. All existing contracts are to be carried out. The price of beer is to be $8 per barrel with ten per cent discount. If a customer changes his brewer the percentage will be only five per cent, and the brewer must pay $8 per barrel to the association for every barrel furnished the new customer. The object of this provision is to prevent rashness and competition. Should any brewer outside of the combination begin to cut prices the agent of the new association is to be allowed to meet any figure offered by outsiders, the brewer who is thus compelled to cut the combination price to be reimbursed for all losses by the association. The brewers say that there are no "politics" in the movement.

Earthquake in Spain.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A shock of earthquake was experienced in the province of Baira yesterday. Much alarm is felt in Baira in consequence.
