Light rain yesterday evening. O. Marks gives notice of Christmas

The market dock was full of small boats yesterday evening.

The Christmas turkey is beginning to put in his appearance.

The truck farmers are breaking lands and preparing manures for peas.

The weather signal flag-pole was raised at the railroad depot yesterday. It is 93 feet above the ground.

The Spectator is the name of a new paper published at La Grange. It is neatly printed and quite newsy W. welcome it to our exchange list.

Our merchants are filling their stores with Christmas goods, and people from the adjoining counties will find it to their interest to come and examine them. A walk down Pollock and Middle streets will convince any one that the goods are here, and by examination and New York. All they ask is for the people to come and examine.

The supervisors of the new road from the Trent road across to the Neuse road report that the work is progessing finely and a first-class road is being made. It will be one of the most beautiful drives anywhere in this section when completed. About twenty-five dollars are still needed to complete it, and parties who feel an interest in the matter-who enjoy a pleasant evening's drive,— should drop into E. H. Meadows' drug store and contribute their mite.

A Sportsman's Paradisc. toously in this vicinity is abundantly proven by the exhibit made at Kilburn's variety of fur tearing animals are purchased and shown in large quantities. The nimited who seeks for large game may find the surly bear not unfrequent ly, and the autlered deer in abundance. (There are more deer hides now being marketed than beef hides.) one may fairly revel in festive "coops" or cunning "possums," while foxes are more plentiful than rabbits which abound as in a primeval wilderness. The hunter for game has a fine field in the procurement they will find prices down to Baltimore of otter and mink. Specimens of the that measure six feet from tip to tip and of the finest fur.

That wild duck of every variety and wild geese are abundant on our streams and water courses is an old story. Mr. Jas. F. Green brings in a lot of them almost daily, land and water contributing to the earnest sportsman a field of operation unexcelled anywhere in the country, which should of itself contribute very materially, if the facts were known in making New Borns the headquarters for a large number of winter visitors.
