The cold wave signal was flying yesterday evening.

A lot of fine New river trout and mulletts in the market yesterday.

The market is crowded with oysters.
Messrs Moore & Brady ought to hurry up and come along.

The machinery on the Old Dominion wharf mentioned in yesterday's issue as being for Stinson's mill is for W. B.
Blades & Bro. who are erecting a dry kiln in connection with their saw mill on the South side of Trent.

Samuel Jackson requests us to state that our reporter was mistaken as to the place where Mr. Bishop's horse was deprived of a portion of his tongue. It was at Jones McDaniel's shop, and not at his.

There was a steady stream of fruit carters to the schooner Melvin yesterday.
Capt. John Richardson, the collector of customs, was down to examine the papers and collect the duty on the imports other than fruit.

Quite a number of persons were in the city from Onslow county yesterday as witnesses in the case of State and J.
A. Mattocks against A. Hahn for perjury. The case was before Justice W.
G. Brinson, L. J. Moore and Green & Stevenson appeared for the defendant, W. E. Clarke and C. C. Clark for the State. The defendant waived examination and gave bond for his appearance at next term of the court.

Wanted to See the Papers.

Capt. Abbott, of the schooner Melvin, states that on his outward trip to the West Indies, when about six hundred miles from Halifax, he was chased by a boat from a whaling vessel for five miles. When it came up it was found to be a messenger in search of a newspaper. It was an American whaler and had been on the cruise for about three years. The crew had not seen an American newspaper for ten months.
Capt. Abbott had no paper aboard but the DAILY JOURNAL which contained the notice of his clearance from this port. This he gave them.

City Finances.

The city treasurer's report for the month of November appears in this issue. The money borrowed through the summer to pay current expenses has all been repaid, and every voucher issued during the year so far has been cashd. If this plan, which was so successfully inaugurated last year, is continued for two or three years longer there is hope that the city will be clear of debt. The cash system, even if the money has to be borrowed, is far better and more economical for the city.
Treasurer Daniels pays the cash even though he should have to hunt up the holder of the voucher.

The Law's Delay.

We copy from the New and Observer today a very timely article on "Judicial Delay," written by Judge Walter Clark. The evils in our judicial system that he points out are palpable, and are felt in almost every county in the State. Men who have violated the law, or have deprived their fellow men of their rights in regard to property, often boast of the troubleless with which they outwit their victims by appeals and various subterfuges by fore justice is finally meted out. The means resorted to daily in our courts to thwart justice by delay in every conceivable way are not only a burden to the taxpayers, but contrary to the spirit of the Constitution which guarantees to every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, a remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial or delay. It is well known that appeals are often made purely and simply for delay, and the rules now governing our Supreme court are certainly very accommodating in this respect.

The suggestion of Judge Clark that opinions be certified down after being on file ten days and that the clerk of the Superior court on receiving the opinion should notify the sheriff to execute the sentence, if adopted would remedy in a great measure the evil now so prevalent.

Personal.
Dr. J. W. Sanders, Senator elect of the 9th district is in the city. He is alive to the interest of the people of his district and is endeavoring to ascertain their wishes in regard to certain questions that will be before the General Assembly.

Messrs. J. C. Bryan, E. M. Foscoe and Lewis King, of Jones, were at the exchange yesterday.

Mr. L. E. Humphrey, of Onslow, is in the city. He is thoroughly aroused on the question of convict labor to cut roads through the State lands in his section.

Mr. F. T. Patterson left yesterday morning for New York.

Mr. J. R. Franks, of Richlands, arrived last night. He brings fat turkeys, chickens and geese, which is evidence that Onslow makes something to market besides cotton.

An intelligent person when hurt will at once procure a bottle of Salivation Oil.
It is the best thing to cure swellings, burns, or wounds. All druggists sell it

A Sad Ending.

It is a singular coincidence that while Alice Oates, the comic opera singer, is reported fatally ill in Cincinnati, one of her former husbands, Tracy Titus, is in a dying condition in Chicago. Both are reported to be in want and dependent upon the charity of the theatrical profession. The Philadelphia Times quotes Mr. J. W. Allison, a former manager for Miss Oates, as recalling the following episode: "We were in Baltimore many years ago doing an immense business, and Titus invited me to a popular resort to have a cigar. I was astounded to observe that he would smoke nothing but cigars that cost a dollar each. The clever Irish boy that tended the cigar stand said at the time it was a shame for a man to thus waste his money and that he would some day need the dollars he was thus throwing away. The little Irish boy's prediction has been realized in this unfortunate ending of two lives that were never really happy. Titus had no conception of business and Alice Oates invariably followed the worst advice. Now, after handing enough money to make fortunes for half a dozen thrifty, sensible people, both are on the verge of pauper graves."

The Warm Springs Case.

A SETTLEMENT AGREED UPON.
One of the most interesting cases ever tried in the superior courts of this State has just gone off the docket of Madison superior court by compromise. About one year ago the Warm Springs hotel was burned. It was a building worth about $70,000. It was insured in fourteen companies for an aggregate amount of $99,000.

The case for trial in Madison superior court was that of the Warm Springs Company against the North Carolina Home Insurance Company, the only one of the list that was a State corporation. The suits against the other companies were brought in the United States court at Asheville and subsequently removed to Greensboro. The suit against the North Carolina Home progressed to that point when the evidence of both sides had been given and the case was about to go to the jury.
A proposition was then made by the representatives of the defendant companies, offering to pay about seventy-three cents on the dollar, and it was accepted by the plaintiffs. This will give the Warm Springs Company about $54,000 insurance money.

Wonderful Cures.

tail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: "We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's

Forty-Ninth Congress—Second Session

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Mr. Morrill presented the credentials of Senator Edmonds for the full term commencing March 4th, 1887. Placed on file.

Among numerous bills introduced and referred were the following:

By Mr. Bower.—Providing a new basis for the circulation of National Banks.
Mr. Morgan called up his resolution of December 9th, requesting the Secretary of the Interior to furnish information as to the state of facts on which the coal and iron lands of Alabama have been withheld from sale, notwithstanding the act of March 3d, 1853. Adopted.

Mr. Collum made an effort to have the special order on Mr. Logan's bill accepting land for government purposes on Lake Michigan, postponed until Wednesday next, but Mr. Platt contended that the special order for open executive sessions took precedence of it.
The Senate, at 12:50, resumed consideration of Mr. Morrill's resolution declaring the promise of making proper revision of the tariff at the present session obviously hopeless and impracticable, and Mr. Dawes proceeded to address the Senate on the subject. Mr.
Dawes advocated his own resolution, referring the subject to the Finance Committee, and he was followed by Mr. McPherson, who advocated the retention of duties on sugar, but favored their removal on salt, iron ore, coal and the coarsest qualities of wool.

Mr. Morrill moved the reference of his resolution to the Finance Committee. Mr. Beck opposed such reference, and suggested that Senators on both sides should urge on their friends in the House to pass some tariff measure so as to bring the question before the Senate in some practical manner and thus open the doors fairly to debate. He was not wedded to any scheme. He wanted taxes reduced, he believed that before this country acquired the commercial position it was entitled to it must carry its own produce on its own ships, and that it could not do so except as long as it had to pay 50 per cent. more on every bolt and every piece of cordage in a ship than its competitors had to pay. The removal of the tax on tobacco or sugar would not open a single manufacturing establishment in the United States. Such things were only suggested for the purpose of presenting anything being done to enlarge manufacturing powers and to send manufactured products abroad. Parties who owned manufactures were content with the American market. With all their pretences of aiding American labor, they intended to keep this market to themselves—charging what they liked —and to let their laborers starve rather than give them the chance for an extended market by which they could have employment twelve months in a year instead of as now four or five months. He wanted a chance to argue the question, and to show that the pro-tectionists were merely robbing the laborers, whom they were pretending to befriend. He would go as far as any man to protect American labor. He wanted to give to labor constant employment. He protested against the resolution being taken from before the Senate until he and other men who thought with him about it, had had a chance to say what they thought about it.

Mr. Morrill said he would be the last man to cut off the Senator from Kentucky from the opportunity of making a speech on the tariff. He therefore would not press the motion to refer.

The resolution was then laid over and Mr. Hoar moved to take up the bill repealing the term of office act; Mr.
Platt protesting that the special order as to open executive sessions of the Senate should take precedence of any other matter.

Pending consideration of Mr. Hoar's bill, a message from the House was presented on the subject of the death of Representative Dowdney, of New York.
A resolution was adopted for the appointment of a committee to attend the funeral—Messrs. Miller, Ransom and Voorhees being appointed such committee—and as a mark of respect for the deceased, the Senate at 8:30 p. m. adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Under the call of States a number of bills and resolutions were introduced, among them the following:

By Mr. Oates, of Ala., to prohibit the appointment of Congressional committees to attend funerals, and to prohibit the draping of public buildings in mourning except by order of the President.

Also, authorizing the appointment of clerks to Senators and Representatives who are not chairmen of committees.
By Mr. Lawler, of Ills., resolutions repealing that the rapidly accumulating surplus in the treasury is in excess of the needs of the government for its support and bonded debt; that the coast defences are inadequate to protect the lake and seacoast cities, and that nearly one million men are unemployed; and declaring it to be the sense of the House that a large proportion of the surplus in the treasury should be expended through liberal appropriations for repairing and properly equipping the coast defences, and for the construction of ships.

By Mr. Hewitt, of New York, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to anticipate payment of interest on the bonded debt of the United States and to provide for special deposits of public money.

By Mr. Cox, of New York, fixing the salary of Civil Service Commissioners at $5,000.

By Mr. Springer, of Illinois, for admission into the Union of Dakota, Montana, Washington and New Mexico.

The floor was then awarded to the District of Columbia Committee. The whole afternoon was consumed by its consideration. Librarian Hattie being recused to present a vote. Three resolutions were successful and no final action was taken.
The speaker held before the House the supplemental report from the Secretary of the Treasury relative to the collection of customs duties. It was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Adjourned.

Two charming little girls were dancing "the racket" in the streets. "What makes you so happy?" a gentleman asked. "Oh! our mas have thrown away all our horrid medicine, and we have only to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and that ain't bad at all."

Serious Accident on the Chapel Hill

The Chapel Hill train last night went through the trestle one-half mile north of the hill, the highest on the road. The engine plunged headforemost into the abyss and was followed pell mell by the cars which soon after reaching the ground were wrapped in flame. Particulars were almost impossible to obtain but we managed to gather from various sources that six or eight people were seriously hurt, among them Capt.
Brown, the conductor, Mr. W. G.
Adams, chief superintendent, and Mr.
W. A. May, the engineer. Capt. Brown was not, however, so badly injured that he could not walk about. Nobody was killed, and nobody from Raleigh so far as we could learn, was on the train. A train bearing Dr. McKee and perhaps several other surgeons, Col.
Andrews, and a force of road hands left the city about 10:45 o'clock for the scene of the accident. The railroad authorities here were absolutely dumb on the subject on the night of the accident, little or nothing could be obtained from the Chapel Hill telegraph office, the office at University station could not be raised at all, so that nothing further than what we have given could be had up to the hour of our going to press. We trust the accident will finally appear no worse than we have represented it, though the plunge into the chasm hitherto spanned by that trestle must have been awful.
