THAT CONSCIENTIOUS EDITOR.

The Washington Gazette, after promising to cease its tirade against the board of canvassers of the election returns of Craven county until the courts decided whether not they were guilty wrong doing, again renews the assault, knowing that the defeated candidates had appealed to the courts to punish the members of the board and give them their rights. It seems to be making an effort to manufacture public sentiment against the gentlemen who composed the board, many of whom are the equals, if not the superiors, of the editor of the Gazette in the rectitude of their conduct, morally, intellectually and in obedience to law. In its last onslaught against these gentlemen it says 0

If a fair vote and an honest count are denied, then there is some truth in the oft repeated assertion, by the northern press, that an election down South is a mere farce. What we want, and what an honest democracy wants, is a full, free expression of the voice of the people at the ballot box, and we want every ballot placed in the box fairly, and impartially counted.

This is precisely what every honthe one designated by law to perform that duty. This done they but we suppose no particular harm proceeded in the language of the will be done by this. Code, to ropen and canvass and judiciously determine the returns." When the James City precinct was conduct of certain parties, to show that there was not a full, free exof election are to be telerated, then indeed are elections a farce.

When the Gazette first attacked put it on its guard; but the editor was anxious to show his "backbone," was so eager to make a reputation for holdness and conscientiousness, was so infatnated with the old county officers of Craven, two of whom stand in dicted in our court for failing to perform their duties as required by law, was so solicitous about the honor of the Democratic party and the freedom of the ballot box that he could not contain himself. The JOURNAL has not made it its business to champion the action of the board of canvassers, or to ing. exult over it, because we knew that the defeated candidates were hit." irritated at what they thought to be a great injustice to them, and we know that they had their remedy; the courts are open for a peaceable and quiet solution of the difficulty. The board claims to have acted in strict accordance with law. If the law is wrong, let it be repealed or nmended. If the board wrongly construed it, let the courts construe favor by abusing and charging a body of gentlemen with perpetrat-ing a gross fraud and proclaiming himself the great champion of the rights of the people and freedom of the ballot box.

We do not doubt the patriotism, boldness and honesty of the Gazette but it ought to accord to others honest convictions until the contrary has been proven in the proper

But is the Gazette really sincere in its solicitude about the honor and reputation of the Democratic party! Let's see. In its issue of Dec. 9th, speaking of the propriety Dakota and Washington by the present House of Representatives, the bill having already passed the Senate, it says:

"A Democratic House would only follow precedents in taking party advantage of the situation, viz.; pass the Washington bill in the coming short session and find a pretext to leave the Dakota bill on the calendar. The Territory which republican shrewdness reckoned on as at least debatable ground has been carried for the democrats and elects Voorhees by an increased majority. The machinery necessary for forming the State government and electing the United States Senators can be put into operation very soon. By the 4th of next March two Democratic Senators from the State of Washington in farms, etc., in this vicinity, persons have can be in the City of Washington, ready to vote their party into a good enough

Now would any one believe, after our reading the finzette's articles on the No charge made if a sale is not effected. canvassing board of Craven county Charges moderate who a sales are made. that it would endorse or even wink at such political rascality as is here suggested! Did the editor of the azette never hear of a precedent for the action of the Craven county canvassing board! Did it never hear of precincts being thrown out on account of Irauds, intimidations and other irregularities? Now how can so conscientions an editor advocate such gross neglect of the people of a whole territory, keep them out of the Union, simply because they don't agree with him in politics. His political conscience Rock Lime. must be seared with a red hot iron.

Now we will not discuss this matter further with the Gazette. But we wish to remind it that we have nothing to do with matters between it and Mr. Longe. Mr. Longe has no connection with the JOURNAL further than to pay his est man wante. When the canvasa subscription and adjectioning bills, ing board met they first proceeded which he does promptly when preto ascertain if the person bearing sented. The Genetics reference to the returns from each precinct was him as being "of the JOURNAL" may mislead some of its readers,
